TRAPS LARGE BEAR

The following bear story is vouched for by your correspondent: On last Thursday morning, Henry Aschoff, of Marmot, went to his new trap a short distance from his house and found therein a cub bear. He neatly roped the youngster, led him to the house built a strong pen for him and turned him loose to amuse himself. The next morning, having nothing better on hand, Mr. Aschoff went again to his trap, and this time found a large, yes, a very large black bear. After sizing him up carefully, Mr. Aschoff decided this fellow was a wee bit too large for a pet, so with a well directed shot, he put him out of commission and carried him home horseback. We await with interest the result of Mr. Aschoff's next visit to his bear trap.

REAL WINTER HERE

Sandy experienced its first touch of winter weather Saturday night when snow enough fell to whiten the ground. By morning it had changed to a half and half mixture. Sunday night broke cold and clear and all the puddles showed a thing coating of ice. Snow to the depth of several inches was reported from the surrounding country and the government camp reported a 12 inch fall Sunday morning. This is unusually early for snow or freezing weather in Sandy.

A RUDE CHALLENGE

The "Rude" is the only spreader made that will spread a high arched or heaped load full seven feet wide and spread it evenly on the ground.

By dynamometer or scale test it has proven to be the lightest draft spreader made.

These are facts which we challenge our competitors to disprove by tests in the field.

Come and see the Rude. Ask the users in Clackamas County about it.

Dwelling Burns
On Pheasant Farm

The dwelling house on Rabb's pheasant farm two and a half miles above Aschoff's together with all household and personal effects, was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon about 6 o'clock. The fire was discovered shortly after it started, but in spite of the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Rabb and two hired men, it spread so rapidly that the occupants barely escaped with the clothing they had on. Among the personal effects was one diamond ring valued at $500. It is possible that Mr. Rabb will rebuild.

OREGON CITY TO HAVE FOUR ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES THIS YEAR

Oregon City will be given a real treat in the way of entertainment this season as the result of an arrangement with Ellison-White, chautauqua managers, who are backed by twenty Portland people.

Four programs have been planned. The first event, which takes place on the evening of December 3, will be a concert by the Buckley-Osborne Trio. The trio includes David Campbell, pianist; George
