Church is Dedicated at Special Service

The new Nazarene church was dedicated Sunday morning with appropriate services. Rev. Davis, of Portland, officiated at the services, and a number of selections were rendered by the choir.

One of the features of the service was the raising of money to assist in paying for the construction of the edifice. The amount needed, $920, was needed in 15 minutes. The cost of the entire building was about $1800. Some of the work was donated. B. Erickson and W. E. Bissell, who assisted in constructing the building, are now putting the finishing touches on the interior. The pews were also made by these men.

Rev. Butcher, who has been pastor of the Nazarene church, will leave shortly for evangelistic work.

There will be services held in this church as follows: Sunday school, 11 a. m.; morning service, 11 o'clock; evening service, 7 o'clock.

Friday evening, October 24, the Canby high school auditorium was the scene of a social gathering in honor of the freshmen with seniors, juniors and sophomores as hosts and hostesses.

The evening was given over mainly to the playing of games, originated by the specially appointed committee, and singing of catchy songs. Lastly but not least appreciated, "cups" were served in the form of cider and pumpkin pies with whipped cream.

CITY COUNCIL TO MAKE PLANS FOR ERECTION OF PUMP BUILDING

A number of councilmen met Monday evening to take up the subject of the water system, which is now in a serious condition, due to the pump house being destroyed by fire Monday evening. The water supply is about exhausted in the big tank, and the repairs must be made immediately.

The committee on fire and water was instructed to get the necessary material for operating the plant and to get it into operation immediately. The cause of the fire is believed to have been due to an overheated belt on the wooden pulley, as the fire seems to have originated near the ceiling.

The regular meeting of the council will take place on Monday evening at the city hall.

Herd of Deer Seen
Near Roaring River

The sight of about 150 deer at close range was the experience of a party of hunters who returned recently from a trip near Three-link lake six miles from Roaring river on the upper Clackamas. John and James Hatton and Ed. Hutchins were members of the party and in the mountains they encountered a snow storm, which appeared to bewilder the deer. The animals mostly does and fawns, came within a stone's throw of the hunters, in a band. The party had no difficulty in getting the limit and also shot a bear.

SPEAKERS MUST HELP TO PUT ACROSS BOND ISSUE PROPOSITION

Realizing the benefit that will result in the immediate construction of hard surface roads for Clackamas county, which can be brought about only by the passage of the $1,700,000 bond issue, speakers are arranging a series of meetings to speak in favor of the proposition.

The speakers include George C. Brownell, Grant D. Dimick, O. E. Eby, George E. Hayes, Gilbert L. Hodges, L. L. Porter, Rev. Carl J. Renhard, C. Schuebel and E. E. Brodie.

During the campaign there will be a pressing demand for other speakers to interest themselves in the matter. As there is an organization in each of the 134 school districts, it is imperative that mass meetings be arranged to include every district.

It is requested that any person desiring to help in the campaign in the way of speech-making send his name to M. D. Latourrette, chairman, or W. B. Cook, secretary.

HELPS PAY FOR GOOD ROADS

In 1918 Nearly 91 Per Cent of Motor-Vehicle Tax Was Applied to Highway Improvement.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The increase in motorcar registrations and revenues in the United States during the past dozen years represents some interesting comparisons. This is especially true in respect to the use made of the revenues. In 1906 the total registrations were approximately 48,000 cars, paying a gross revenue of about $103,000, or roughly the same as the returns from the District of Columbia for the year 1918.

Furthermore in 1906 the gross registration revenues represented less than three-tenths of 1 per cent of the total rural road and bridge expenditures for that year. In 1918 the motor-vehicle revenues represented approximately 21 per cent of the total road and bridge expenditures for that year. Furthermore, while in 1906 practically none of the motor-vehicle revenues were applied to road construction or maintenance, in 1918 nearly 91 per cent of the gross returns, or $46,935,691, were devoted to this purpose in 46 states, and of the total amount applied to road work 77 per cent, or $36,161,473, was expended more or less directly under the control or supervision of the state highway departments.

Bless the Babies

One hundred and twenty-five babies, dependent and abandoned, were cared for last year at the Albertina Kerr Nursery Home at Portland. At the beginning of the year there were 51 babies at the institution and during the year 74 were admitted. Forty-four came to the home from abandoned mothers, 57 from unmarried mothers, five from divorced fathers, eight because of abandonment by both parents and nine from unfit homes.

One year later there were 46 tots in the home, and during the interval 35 were released to mothers, nine to fathers, 10 to both parents, 16 were adopted, one sent to the feeble-minded school, and eight died.

There are now 44 little ones being cared for, and the society has been compelled to refuse to admit many cases on account of the inadequacy of the buildings, consisting of a little two-story house and cottage on Fourteenth street between Washington and Alder. The society has therefore launched a campaign to raise $60,000 for a new building on a site that has been donated, and this community has been asked to subscribe about $1500 toward the amount required.

O. D. Eby, L. A. Henderson and C. W. Robey have been placed in charge of this local campaign, and the women of the city will assist. The institution is deserving and every citizen ought to dig down deep and help to the limit of his ability.

IN SOCIETY CIRCLES

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Harrington, of Gladstone, Sunday afternoon, October 19, when their son, George W. Harrington, married Mrs. Blanche Irene Hamilton, of Minneapolis, Minn. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Milliken, pastor of the Highland Baptist church of Portland. Only relatives of the contracting parties attended the marriage, which was a quiet affair owing to a recent death of the bride's father in the East.

The ceremony, which was performed at 3 o'clock, took place in the living room, prettily decorated with autumn leaves and bright red rosebuds. These were artistically arranged on the curtains and about the room, while the mantle was banked with scarlet autumn leaves. An arch was formed of rosebuds and autumn leaves, where the happy pair was married.

The bride was attired in a handsome gown of tricot, and her corsage bouquet was orchids and Ophelia roses.

Miss Iva Harrington, sister of the bridegroom, wore a pretty gown of purple velvet and her corsage bouquet was Cecil Brunner roses. She wore a handsome necklace of platinum, studded with diamonds, a gift of the bridegroom and bride.

T. S. Rawlins, of Gladstone, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Harrington, mother of the bridegroom, wore a handsome gown of plum colored satin, and her corsage bouquet was Cecil Brunner roses and heliotrope.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served.

The dining room was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Pierce and two children, of Olympia, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Rawlins and son, of Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. E. Harrington, Miss Iva Harrington and Master George Harrington, Jr., of Gladstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrington are to spend their honeymoon in California, and will later go East, where they are to remain for a few weeks before taking up their residence in Portland.

The bride recently arrived here from Minneapolis. She is an accomplished young woman, and the daughter of the late Mr. Hamilton, a prominent lumberman of Minneapolis.

Mr. Harrington is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, well known pioneers of Clackamas county. For some time he served as deputy tax collector of Clackamas county, and for the past three years has been traveling representative of the Dupont Powder Company, recently resigning his position with that firm. It was while on one of these business trips and attending a convention of salesmen in the East he met and won his bride.
