The dead: Reuben Tucker of Portland.

The dying man is Jim Rastis, a Greek railroad laborer.

The other wounded men are John Perosiles and J. E. Rorgas, both Greek railroad laborers.

At 12:15 this morning, Tucker with his face covered with a handkerchief, walked into John Kondilos pool room. He stood the three Greeks, the only occupants of the room at the time of his entrance, against the wall at the point of a gun and started through their pockets.

After the robber searched one of the men, Rastis drew a gun and began shooting. The outlaw returns the fire and both men emptied their weapons. The three Greeks were dropped on the spot, but Tucker, shot through the chest and abdomen, made his way out of the rear door and died in the alley where he was found later by Marshal Fuller.

CLERKS IN BUTCHER AND GROCERY SHOPS WANT A 9-HOUR DAY

Clerks in groceries and meat markets, who have been working 10 hours a day from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., are seeking to obtain a 9-hour day, and have circulated a petition among their employers and within their own ranks that has been signed by nearly all of the establishments. It is intended to make the new arrangements effective November 1, and some of the clerks of the merchants who declined to sign the agreement say that they will not appear for work until 8 o'clock, and their bosses may hold down the job up to that hour if they desire to open before 8 a. m. The petition was not presented to stores in the outlying districts nor to some stores that employ no help. The movement is backed by Carl Koellermeier, George R. Mielke, W. V. Ruconich, Henry Hoffman, Alvin Davis, Harry C. Lewis, L. R. Nobel, T. G. Coffey, D. C. Kruger, H. M. Robbins, Homer Selby, G. C. Young, J. H. BOND ISSUE IS NOW UP TO VOTERS OF COUNTY

Clackamas county will hold a special election on Monday, November 24, to vote upon the question of issuing $1,700,000 for the paving of 145 miles of road. The county court Monday afternoon issued the order for the election upon petition of 1303 registered voters, who have signed the petitions circulated throughout the county. On the basis of 4729 votes cast for Justice Johns at the last election, 1183 signatures were required, or 25 per cent in order to make the calling of an election mandatory. It was pointed out that not more than 100 names had been secured in Oregon City, the remainder being names of farmers.

The action of the court will probably mean that their electors will not be confronted with alternative issues and that the proposed scheme of Charles E. Spence, master of the state grange, to submit at the same election a proposition to levy annually a 7 mill tax, under the "pay-as-you-go" system will be deferred until a later election, as will the proposal to issue bonds to the value of $150,000 for the construction of a new bridge across the Willamette river at Oregon City.

The bond issue provides that $105,000 shall be diverted for a new bridge, but the balance of the $1,700,000 must be used on county roads, radiating in to nearly every nook and corner of Clackamas county. Under the terms of the proposed issue, the entire sum realized must be expended for hard surfacing road, the grading and base to be done at the expense of the road districts through which the roads are to go.

MOONSHINE EQUIPMENT CAPTURED BY SHERIFF

Sheriff Wilson, Deputy Meade and two federal officers captured two Austrians Friday night, on the Lake road about a quarter mile from Milwaukie, confiscated one of the best equipped "still" that the officials have ever seen, destroyed 450 gallons of "raish mash" by pouring kerosene over it, and brought Matt Barleisch and Mike Sinich to Oregon City and placed them in the county jail.

The pair, who live in Portland, have been operating for some time on Sam Vissis' place, where they had rented a small house for their plant. They had been in the habit of running out to Milwaukie in a high powered car and working under cover of night, and the officers had been watching the place for several weeks.

A federal charge will probably be lodged against them.

Liggett Critical of Court Findings

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24—Lieutenant General Liggett is on record as severely criticizing the court-martial acquittal of Private Clyde O. Day, now in civil life, who was charged with deserting on the eve of departure of his regiment for overseas.

Day was charged with deserting from Spokane. He was caught at Billings, Mont.

The finding states there was insufficient evidence to convict. Liggett produced what he says is sufficient evidence to result in a finding of guilty. Day, however, was acquitted.

DIRECTORS FOR CHAUTAUQUA IN FAVOR OF ROADS

Fourteen of the 16 directors of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association were re-elected at the annual meeting Friday afternoon, and Mrs. Mattie Sleeth, state president of the W. C. T. U., and J. H. Zehrung were added to the board. The other directors chosen are H. E. Cross, C. H. Dye, W. A. Hantley, L. A. Adams, George Armstrong, Mrs. F. S. Hutchins, Emma M. Spooner, C. Schuebel, Geo. A. Harding, E. D. Yoder, R. L. Holman, E. G. Crawford, Helen D. Manley, and Mrs. W. C. Barzee.

The profits from the last session amounted to $3500 and the association has a cash balance of $1800, with many improvements paid for. The year just closed was the best financial year the association has had. The directors recommended that hard surfaced roads be laid in Gladstone park, and the installation of children's playgrounds was discussed.

COAL MINE OPERATIVES WALK OUT NOVEMBER 1

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—The last government effort to avert the coal strike set for November 1 failed utterly tonight and 600,000 miners will quit work on the very eve of winter with the nation's bins running dangerously low.

Even an appeal from President Wilson was not enough to bring peace to a conference that was torn and on the breaking point half a dozen times during the day. Charges and counter-charges flew thick and fast as the groups of operators and miners filed out of the meeting which began somewhat hopefully four days ago.

While the operators announced that they had accepted the president's offer to wipe the slate clean and negotiate a new wage agreement, the miners charged that the operators had bolted without the consent of Secretary of Labor Wilson, the storm center of an extraordinary fight to save the country untold distress and suffering.

Surrounded by a score of miners, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, hurried out of the hall and halted long enough to announce that the strike order stood and that the miners would walk out after a full day's work on the closing day of the present month. The final breaking up of the conference, Lewis said, meant that official notice of the failure would be sent forthwith to the unions everywhere to order the men out of the mines at the appointed hour.

PROPOSAL OF SPENCE EMBRACES ROADS IN NORTHERN CLACKAMAS

The Spence proposal for the levying of a 7-mill road tax annually for 10 years to permanently improve Clackamas county roads, as a substitute measure for the $1,700,000 bond issue, petitions for signatures upon which are now being circulated, covers additional roads in District No. 1.

Provision is made under the millage scheme to pave the new highway around Gladstone park, about three-quarters of a mile; the road from Stanley station west to the pavement now laid, about one-half mile; the Clackamas and Rock Creek road from the end of the pavement at the rifle range to connect with the pavement near Baker's bridge; on the Lake road, beginning at the Carver railway crossing at the top of Rusk hill and running to Eighty-second street, and the unpaved stretch on the Island station hill near Milwaukie. The substitute plan also covers the Bull Run pipe line road, which was sought by John M. Mann, commissioner of public utilities at Portland, to be designated as one of the roads for improvement under the bond issue.

Discussion of the road measures was held Friday night at Wilsonville where L. L. Porter and C. Schuebel were the speakers, and a meeting will be held tonight at Stafford, where O. D. Eby will deliver an address.

American People Should Economize Says Mr. Palmer

BOSTON, Oct. 25—"The great underlying causes of the war are boiling in America now more strongly than they were boiling when our boys were across the seas," Attorney General Palmer declared today in an address before the state fair price committee.

"If American people would understand that thoroughly, they would enter on a campaign of construction, saving and economy which would result in winning this other great war, which is not merely against high prices, but is a war against hunger and starvation in the cities and towns of our beloved land."

Filipino Concert Ends With Fight

Filipino concert and dance in Woodman hall last night terminated in a free-for-all fight with the result that C. Artiga and Clinton Warren were taken into custody by Officer Cooke, and were released from jail on $30 bail when friends came to their rescue. Warren explained that his companion who had been to Moose hall with him, was accused by one of the Filipinos of having stolen an overcoat from Woodman hall, and this charge was the basis for a fray in which a number of young men participated. One of the Filipinos was said to have been armed with a long knife but a search by Cooke failed to disclose it.

ROAD PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

Residents of the Stafford district heard a discussion of the road problem in Clackamas county Saturday night, and talks were made by L. L. Porter, O. D. Eby, C. Schuebel and C. E. Spence, the latter taking issue with the proponents of the bond plan and talking in favor of the direct millage tax scheme. Meetings will be held this week in George and New Era.

FIRE DESTROYS CITY'S PUMPING PLANT AT CANBY

Fire started in the pump house on the Canby water works Monday afternoon at about 5 o'clock, and when discovered the building was a mass of flames. Firemen, aided by Canby residents, saved the tower with the tank which contains the water supply. The machinery, however, was badly damaged.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is believed it started near the gasoline engine used in operation of the plant.

The water works were built at Canby about three years ago, the water being secured from two large wells where the plant is located. The property is owned by the city.

It will be several days before machinery can be installed, so that folks who do not happen to have wells may be inconvenienced for lack of water.

Judge Stipp Must Solve Ford Riddle

When is a Ford not a Ford? That is a question that will have to be decided by Justice Stipp. It will not be a matter of law, but one of mechanics. Perhaps the Ford annual joke book will give the judge a tip as to how to render a correct decision in the case.

Ross Hunter is the owner of a car sometimes alluded to as a Tin Henry. One day something went wrong with the machine, and the auto was taken to the Oregon City Auto company for an overhauling. But when Hunter got Old Trusty on the road again, she failed to live up to her reputation as a speeder.

Then it was decided to take the car to a Portland garage. And the men there diagnosed the malady as a broken crank shaft.

In the meantime the Oregon City concern submitted its bill for services rendered in the amount of $75.50. Of this amount Hunter paid $60.

Acting on the findings of the Portland establishment, he filed suit against the Oregon City company claiming $146 damages on the ground of misrepresentation and fraud. But the defendant contends that the crank shaft was in perfect condition when the car left the shop. And so a counter suit has been filed for the rest of the money due on the bill, namely $16.50.

Now Judge Stipp is surely confronted with a puzzle. If a decision is to be reached at all, he will have to assume a role other than that of a jurist in order to determine the truthfulness concerning said crank in said shaft.

When is a Ford not a Ford. Answer: When it has a crack in the crank shaft. At least that is the answer the plaintiff would give if questioned.

Judge Stipp says he will hand down his decision in a few days. The case was heard before him Monday.

BROWNELL PAYS GREAT TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT

Paying a high tribute to the late Theodore Roosevelt, at the regular session of the Elks held Friday night, Senator George C. Brownell gave an address, lasting over a half hour, which held the members attending spellbound. The senator compared the lives of Roosevelt and Wilson, and claimed that if he were to vote which was the greatest statesman, he would have to cast an even ballot. Citing Roosevelt as a man of rugged, strong and fighting nature, he claimed that the life of the colonel was an ideal example of real Americanism. He said that the only difference between Roosevelt and President Wilson was temperamental, and that both had strived to attain the same end in different ways—democracy.

Judge T. E. J. Duffy, who is now holding court in place of Judge Campbell here, also spoke at the meeting, and carried a message from the Bend lodge to the Oregon City Brothers. Judge Duffy claimed that in the near future, the Bend lodge would build a hunting and fishing resort near the headwaters of the Metolius river, and that it would be a monument to the activities and endeavors of all Elks of the northwest.

Next Friday evening, about 30 new candidates will be initiated into the order, and a special feast ceremony will be put on by a special team organized for the purpose.

NEW HAWLEY PLANT COSTING $150,000 NEARLY COMPLETED

Work, which has been under way the past summer and early fall in the enlargement of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company's plant, providing for the accommodation of six more grinders and water wheels at an expenditure of nearly $150,000, is expected to be completed within another week. This additional equipment, which will mean increasing the force of employees from 25 to 50, will give the mill a capacity of 100 tons of wood pulp a day.

For many months the company has not been able to take care of the demand upon it for paper because of lack of wood pulp.
