opened in an uncertain tone in the gathering at Minneapolis. It has ruthlessly torn the mask of hypocrisy that United States had put on to announce its purpose and aim in this war. Every demand of that character was simply a veiled declaration that the American people as well as the American government, were deliberately lying about their aims. No war in the history of the world was ever entered into with a more explicit statement of what were its aims. This every pacifist knew and the repetition of the mission was

Search of Huckleberries

Four berry pickers who are prominent Oregon City citizens turned to huckleberry picking and mountain climbing for diversion for the week-end. Loaded with everything to make their jaunt and search for berries a success, Deputy County Clerk Fred Miller, Deputy District Attorney Thomas A. Burke, Attorney Charles T. Siewers and George Hall on Saturday evening went to the base of Wildcat mountain, in the Mount Hood country. The following morning they climbed the mountain, making, according to their own
