OREGON CITY, OREGON, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1919.

ESTABLISHED 1866

CONGRESS FOR ROAD PROGRAM IS PROJECTED

Clackamas county will hold a road congress within the next few weeks for the purpose of formulating a definite program for permanent road work, and, under the terms of a resolution adopted last week at a conference at Monitor, the road committee of the Commercial Club will call a general conference of at least three representatives from each of the 57 road districts, after consulting with the county court.

The people of Monitor and those living between that town and Barlow are clamoring for the hard surfacing of the 11 miles of road between Barlow and Monitor, and appeared before the county court Wednesday, backed by a delegation from the Oregon City Commercial Club, and asked that the road be designated as one for early improvement. Judge Anderson intimated that the time had come for the county to definitely specify those roads to be known as main county highways, and to prepare for their improvement in a definite way, taking each road as unit.

J. W. Egan, chairman of the Monitor delegation, authorized the statement after the hearing that the court had agreed to designate the road as the Clark-Monitor Market Road, probably including the first market road to be designated in the state. Surveys and estimates will follow.

It has been suggested that the boundaries of the four road districts in which the Monitor-Barlow highway is located be changed, to bring the road into one district, so that the people directly interested might levy a special tax for its improvement. This is only one of a number of similar situations.

It is expected that the road congress to be held here will consider a plan for raising money for permanent highway improvement. Bonding of the county has been proposed, and under the provisions of the six per cent indebtedness amendment adopted by the people at Tuesday's election, Clackamas could bond for about $1,000,000, but the voters of this county voted heavily against the amendment, which may be taken as an indication of their real sentiment on the question of bonding for roads.

An alternative suggestion has been advanced that the people vote a special levy of about five mills, to which the county would add two mills under the market road bill enacted Tuesday, and 11 mills will produce about $330,000 annually. Five more mills would raise a total of $440,000, exclusive of funds from special taxes and monies expended by the state highway commission and the federal government.

FEDERAL JUDGE BEAN GRANTS NEW TRIAL TO P. W. MEREDITH

PORTLAND, June 4.—P. W. Meredith, Clackamas county farmer, convicted June 6, 1917, of violating the Espionage act, won a victory in federal court Tuesday morning when Federal Judge Bean stayed judgment when he set aside the verdict and granted a motion for a new trial. The decision was reached upon the showing made by defendant's attorney, W. S. U'Ren, that the conviction was not supported by the evidence and that the defendant did not intend to interfere with the operation of the military or naval forces of the United States.

Meredith was accused of advising young men acquaintances not to enlist in War Savings Stamps and of trying to return the stamps and get his money back.

Subsequent to the trial the espionage act was amended by congress, providing punishment for persons who attacked government bonds and War Savings Stamps would by such interference with the conduct of the war and lend aid to the enemy. Judge Bean held that inasmuch as the indictment was returned before the act was amended, the verdict was not in accordance with the meaning and scope of the original act. The decision virtually means that Meredith is cleared of the charge.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Irene P. Deroy, of Oregon City, arrived today from France on the steamer Canada and is at Camp Mills.

Will Represent America In the League of Nations

RAYMOND B. FOSDICK

One of the permanent American officials in the League of Nations will be Raymond B. Fosdick, a New York lawyer, Mr. Fosdick, who during the war was chairman of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, received a cable from President Wilson asking if he would accept a position as representative in the Secretariat of the League. He replied in the affirmative. The exact position to which he will be appointed has not been made known.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT IS FINALLY PASSED

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Action by congress on equal suffrage, subject of a fight of 40 years' duration, ended late today in adoption by the senate by a vote of 56 to 25 of the historic Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment resolution.

The proposed amendment, adopted by the house by a vote of 304 to 89 May 21 as the first act of the new congress, now goes to the states, ratification by legislation of three-fourths of which is required for its incorporation in the federal constitution.

RAILWAY MERGER IS PROPOSED BY DIRECTOR HINES

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Director General Hines outlined to the American Short Line railroad association convention here today his plan for a solution of the railroad problem, under which the railroads would be consolidated into from 12 to 20 great systems under government regulation sufficiently definite as to attract private capital and affording protection to the weaker roads. The only alternative to such regulation, he declared would be public ownership, for under any other plan private management would be doomed to ultimate failure.

The director-general said each system must be made up of some of the stronger roads and some of the weaker ones, be of highly competitive character and have government representation on its directorate.

A workable basis on which a proper return on the valuation of the railroad properties could be ascertained, was essential, Mr. Hines declared, that excess earnings should be divided between the railroad and the government.

PROMISES ARE BROKEN CLAIM OF SHIPMEN

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Pacific coast shipbuilders who have had frequent conferences during the last few days with the shipping board relative to the reinstatement of steel ship contracts that were cancelled, feel that the board has broken faith with them as well as contracts.

The result probably will be another public meeting within the next two or three days of the shipbuilders and all of the senators and representatives from Oregon, Washington and California, before which Chairman Hurley and his aides will be summoned.

Some of the members of Congress who attended last Wednesday's hearing were indignant today when they learned that all of the good promises made by Chairman Hurley and his director of operations, John H. Rossetter, at the public hearing had brought nothing more than the same old unreasonable propositions which were presented to the builders before that meeting took place.

$5,000,000 BOND BILL DEFEATED IN STATE

The rural vote of Oregon Tuesday rallied to defeat the $5,000,000 reconstruction bill. Portland and Multnomah county gave the bonding proposition a favorable majority of nearly 400.

The bill appears definitely to be defeated.

The same fate was accorded the constitutional amendment enabling the people to adopt the bond bill, but the enabling amendment is defeated by a much smaller majority.

The amendment authorizing the location of a reconstruction hospital at a place other than the state capital was approved, but the hospital appropriation was lost in the bonding bill.

All other measures and amendments were carried in the state except the lieutenant-governor amendment.

The Roosevelt highway and market roads tax bills have majorities in excess of 20,000.

WARDEN AND PAROLE OFFICER QUIT PRISON

SALEM, OR., May 30.—R. L. Steiner, warden of the state penitentiary and Joseph F. Keller, state parole officer, both submitted their resignations to Governor Olcott today. The warden's resignation becomes effective immediately, at his request. Mr. Keller will remain as parole officer at the penitentiary until July 1. He has been installing a new system of records in the parole office which has been evolving out of ideas gathered from a number of states. At the request of Governor Olcott the parole officer will remain at the prison until July 1 to complete the new record system. His successor has not yet been selected.

Superintendent R. E. Lee Steiner, of the Oregon state hospital for the insane, will succeed Warden Stevens at the penitentiary, only temporarily, however. State Treasurer Hoff was called in and an agreement reached that Superintendent Steiner may resign from the staff of the state hospital to take over the reins at the penitentiary until such time as a permanent selection may be made of his successor. Dr. Steiner will then return to the hospital.

CONRAD OLSON TO CODE LAWS

SALEM, OR., June 4.—Conrad P. Olson of Portland was named code commissioner today by Chief Justice McBride.

Under an act passed at the last legislative session the supreme court is authorized to have a complete codification made of all Oregon laws. An appropriation of $5000 was made for the work. At the time the bill was before the legislature it was understood that Mr. Olson would receive the appointment.

COMPTON SUCCEEDS J. KELLER

SALEM, OR., June 4.—First Lieutenant Louis H. Compton of Salem, recently returned from overseas, bringing with him the croix de guerre awarded by Marshal Pétain of France for bravery in action, will be state parole officer to succeed Joseph F. Keller.

ROAD BONDS ARE AUTHORIZED IN MANY COUNTIES

All counties in Oregon which voted on measures providing for bond issues for road construction decided to authorize the issuance, in the election Tuesday.

Yamhill county, in which an active campaign has been carried on for the issue, gave the measure a majority of 2774. Construction amounting to $360,000 was authorized.

Tillamook county voted to issue bonds in the amount of $430,000. The vote in Linn county on $600,000 was almost two to one for the measure.

The $850,000 market roads measure was passed in Marion county by a substantial majority. Malheur county authorized a $230,000 issue by a two-to-one vote.

Morrow, Benton, Polk, Deschutes, Baker, Lake and Jefferson counties voted road bonds.

COMMITTEE WILL ASK STATE AID ON BRIDGE

The state highway commission will be asked to pay two-thirds of the cost of a new suspension bridge across the Willamette river, leaving one-third, or approximately $90,000 to be borne by Clackamas county, according to a report made Tuesday by C. Schuebel, chairman of the Commercial club bridge committee. At a meeting of the commission to be held in Portland next week, a formal request will be presented by the local committee. It is understood that Chairman Benson, of the commission, considers such an argument reasonable, and the proposal will have the sanction of the county court. It will be presented to the commission that while a new bridge is needed, that Clackamas county, if left to meet local conditions, would spend not to exceed $100,000 for a bridge to replace the present worn out and inadequate structure, and that the state should bear any additional cost for a larger and more elaborate bridge to form a link in the Pacific highway which is a state road. The highway commission will come to Oregon City on Wednesday of next week and look over the conditions in the south end of the city, where it is proposed to make a new entrance into town, coming down the east side of the Southern Pacific tracks at an elevation from Canemah and entering the city through an undergrade crossing, abandoning the present Canemah walk. State Engineer Nunn thinks the proposed route would be the cheapest, and the choice of that location would remove the necessity for an overhead crossing at the Northern entrance to Canemah.

POLICE PROBE BOMB OUTRAGES IN MANY CITIES

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Every government agency today was at work in an attempt to run down the perpetrators of the second nation-wide bomb plot within five weeks. With the May Day conspiracy frustrated through the watchfulness of a clerk in the New York postoffice, the second which resulted last night in what almost proved to be a successful attempt upon the life of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, and the dynamiting of 10 houses and churches in widely scattered sections of the country, has started the machinery of the government to run down the radicals suspected of the plot.

The terrorist who planted the bomb at the home of the attorney general was himself blown to pieces by the force of the explosion.

TAX BILL FOR MARKET ROADS IN FAVOR HERE

Every measure on the ballot at Tuesday's election was rejected by the voters of Clackamas, save the market roads tax bill. The vote on the Roosevelt highway bond bill was very close, but the people went heavily against the reconstruction program, the lieutenant governor amendment and the state bond payment of irrigation and drainage district bond interest. Even the six per cent county indebtedness for permanent roads amendment lost in Clackamas. The complete return from the 81 precincts of this county follows:

Six per cent county indebtedness for permanent road amendment—yes 1454, no 2265.

Industrial and reconstruction hospital amendment—yes 1234, no 2521.

State bond payment of irrigation and drainage district bond interest—yes 1272, no 2478.

Five million dollars reconstruction bonding amendment—yes, 1128, no 2664.

WIRES ELECT OFFICERS AT TUESDAY LUNCH

Wallace Caulfield, President of the Pacific Highway Garage, was chosen to head the activities of the Live Wires of the Commercial Club Tuesday. A. E. Rugg being selected as cab-trunk, L. A. Henderson as trans-sion wire, O. D. Eby as guy wire, Rev. C. H. L. Chandler as insulation wire and Dr. L. A. Morris as feed wire. An effort was also made to thrust the honor of main trunk line on A. R. Jacobs, but he pleaded that the problem of working out the plans of the housing committee of which he is chairman, was enough for one man. E. E. Brodie was re-appointed as a committee on progress.

O. D. Eby, chairman of the bean committee, reported that he was about to sell the Live Wire beans for 6 cents a pound. Last year the Wires rented a farm in the Mount Pleasant district and planted and harvested about a ton of beans as a demonstration.

A. A. Price, O. D. Eby, A. C. Howland and T. Osmond were appointed to take up with the business interests the proposal of the firemen to hold a Fourth of July celebration, with a view of ascertaining the sentiment among the merchants.

Contracts were awarded to the lowest bidders for the new school building to be erected at West Linn by Union High School District No. 3. Proposals were opened by the school board Wednesday night and contracts awarded to the following: Building, F. C. Gudhart, $38,353; Plumbing, A. L. Howard, $2500; Heating, J. Daugh, $4500.

Chosen Unanimously by Women to Represent Them in the League of Nations

JANE ADDAMS

At the International Congress of Women held in Zurich a resolution was adopted unanimously demanding representation for women in the League of Nations, and that Miss Jane Addams of Chicago be the first woman representative, was passed unanimously.

AMENDMENT IS PROPOSED TO AID FISHERMEN

In an effort to have their privileges restored the Clackamas County Fishermen's Union, headed by Charles Gates, have drafted a proposed amendment to the constitution, which they want submitted to the voters of the state at the next general election.

Abolishing the state game commission is favored by the local fishermen, using the county unit control plan for enforcing the state game laws, and they are endeavoring to enlist the aid of the Rogue River and Reedsport fishermen in the support of the proposed amendment.

The amendment would also provide for the appointment by the governor of a curator to have charge of the hatcheries and propagation work.

The proposed amendment follows: Article XI of the constitution of the state of Oregon shall be, and hereby is, amended by inserting the following section in said article XI, and it shall be designated as section 2 of article XI:

Section 2.—The state of Oregon may interest itself in the conservation, propagation and protection of commercial fish, game fish and game birds and animals. For this purpose the taking of commercial fish and the storing and preparing thereof for food or for other commercial purposes, and the appliances used therefor may be licensed, regulated or prohibited. The right to hunt, pursue, take or have in possession game fish, game birds or game animals may be regulated, licensed or prohibited.

The license fees provided for to be paid for fishing for commercial fish, for the appliances for taking commercial fish and the appliances and business of preparing commercial fish for food may be fixed with reference to requirements for propagation of commercial fish and for enforcing the laws relating to the protection of commercial fish and the collection of such licenses.

The license fees for hunting or shooting game birds or game animals shall be $1 for each such license, and the fees for taking or fishing for game fish shall be $1 for each such license. No license relating to game fish, game birds or game animals shall be effective outside the county in which it is issued. All licenses required under authority of this section shall be issued by the county clerk of the county where the license is to be used. The license fee for non-residents of the state shall be $5 for each county.

All officers or deputies required to enforce the law for any of the purposes named in this section, including the regulations of hunting or fishing, or the conservation of commercial or game fish or animals or birds, except sheriffs or constables elected by the people, and their duly appointed deputies, shall be appointed by the county courts or commissioners court of the county wherein such officer or deputy is required to work.

Each county clerk shall file a statement in writing with the secretary of state each month, showing the amount of all license fees collected by such clerk preceding month under this section, and with such statement shall send the secretary of state—per centum of all fees collected for licenses relating to game, game fish, game birds and game animals, and—per centum of all fees collected for licenses relating to commercial fish. The license fees retained by the county clerk shall be used to defray the expenses of enforcing the laws and the provisions of this section, applying the same to that branch from

HOWELL IS SELECTED TO SUCCEED H. A. RANDS

William H. Howell was Wednesday night elected a member of the board of water commissioners of Oregon City for a three year term, after the council, by a vote of four to four tied the score between Mr. Howell and Christian Schuebel, who was nominated by Councilman Green, while Councilman Kelly presented the successful candidate's name. Mayor Holman voted for Howell.

The election took the supporters of Mr. Schuebel by surprise, as it had been reported that Green, Krueger, Scott, Bridges and Albright were solid for Schuebel, while Kelly, Tobin and Woodward were just as firm for Howell. After the election it was stated by two of the Schuebel adherents that Councilman Albright had switched to Howell, but a secret ballot, as is the custom, failed to determine this point.

Mr. Howell's position, as a member of the water board, will be somewhat unusual. He will succeed Harold A. Rands July 1. The new member was for many years superintendent of the water system, during the time that Oregon City's water supply was obtained from the Willamette River and filtered by a mechanical process. Mr. Howell was a firm believer in the purity of the filtered product and fought against the abolition of the filters and the new source of supply from the South Fork of the Clackamas river. After the people of Oregon City and West Linn voted bonds to bring water from the mountains, Mr. Howell was retained as superintendent for a time, but was eventually discharged. He will have as his associates on the board John Lovell, the chairman of the board, and M. D. Latour, the secretary, the latter having been handed the delicate job of removing Mr. Howell from the water board pay roll.

Councilman Kelly made an earnest plea against any delay in letting a contract for paving portions of Fourteenth and Washington streets, connecting Main street with the Abernethy bridge, but the matter was left in the hands of the committee to whom it had been referred. Councilman Tobin explained that the county would probably furnish machinery during the summer for scarifying and rolling the street, while Mr. Bridges spoke of the possibility of securing asphaltic concrete pavement, laid by the county, at a less cost than that proposed by J. W. Moffatt, who has offered to put down a concrete pavement for $1.50 a yard. Mr. Kelly voiced the opinion that a failure to close with Moffatt might result in the city having no paving done at all.

Ordinances correcting the plat of Mountain View Park cemetery and deeding lots 1 and 8, block 16th to George Broughton were passed, and ordinances providing for the sale of Lot 6, block 138, for $400, to W. J. Wilson, and for the lease of the lower floor of the city hall to Frank Busch and Sons for five years at $60 per month were read first time, and will come up for final passage at a meeting to be set. The fountain at the top of Slinger Hill was ordered moved to a place to be designated by the Humane Society, that organization having asked the council to move the fountain.

The offer of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. to install traffic signs at street intersections where cars pass, without cost to the city, was accepted, and phones were ordered taken out of the fire houses to cut down the expense of the budget figures.

MANY ALIENS ARE OUSTED BY SOCIALISTS AT CHICAGO SESSION

CHICAGO, May 30.—Ten members of the national executive committee of the socialist party are in session here, and today it was announced that 25,000 of the extremist wing of the party had been suspended by vote of the committee. Further announcements were that the committee had decided to call the national convention for Chicago August 30 and to start nationwide meetings on July 4 to demand Eugene Debs' release from prison and to issue statements giving Socialist views on the peace conference and other subjects.

According to Adolph Germer, the party's secretary, who asked election of the expelled members, the ousted unit are members of the Russian, Lithuanian, Ukrainian, Lettish, Polish, South Slav and Hungarian branches, who "made no pretense of obeying the party platform."
