CAPTAIN JOHN ROTH FUNERAL MARKS END OF MILITARY CAREER

The funeral services of the late Captain John O. Roth, United States Army, were held from the Canby Methodist church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Snyder and Rev. Spees officiated, and appropriate musical selections were rendered. The church was filled to capacity with many friends of the deceased and family, who came to pay their last respects to the officer.

The floral tributes were in great profusion. Among these was a handsome tribute from the Shriners' Lodge of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, of which Captain Roth was a member, and where he was formerly stationed. The Masonic order of this city also sent a beautiful piece, and a number came from Camp Lewis, Wash., where Captain Roth has been stationed, and where his death occurred from pneumonia.

Among those attending the service and from the army was Major Ball, who accompanied the remains here with the bereaved family.

A military funeral was given. Captain Roth at Camp Lewis, previously to the body being shipped to Canby for burial.

Captain Roth was laid to rest in the family lot in Zion cemetery. Many friends followed the remains to their last resting place.

Captain Roth was a native of Cincinnati, Ohio, and came west with his parents. He was 45 years of age at the time of his death, and has had years of army experience, joining the colors in 1895, and was rapidly promoted in rank until he received his captaincy a number of years ago. He has been stationed for some time at Camp Lewis, and when taken ill was connected with the quartermaster department. His family has been residing at Murray, Wash., near Camp Lewis, while Captain Roth was stationed at the latter place.

Captain Roth is survived by his widow and four children, of Murray, Wash.; two brothers, Fred Roth, of Springfield, Oregon; Frank Roth, who is in the army, and stationed at Vancouver barracks, Wash.; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Baker, of Springfield, Oregon; Mrs. Bessie Grazier, of Aurora, and Mrs. A. M. Vinyard, of Canby.

WOMEN SERVE LUNCH.

The women assisting in serving the refreshments at the Live Wire meeting were Mrs. J. Fuller, Mrs. Adam Knight, Mrs. E. G. Robinson, Mrs. W. H. Blair, Mrs. Grant White, Mrs. Roy Vinyard, Mrs. Sheldon, Mrs. M. J. Lee, Mrs. Annie Knight, Miss Lorraine Lee and Miss Helen Bittner, of Portland.

The tables were unusually attractive. Places were marked for eight, and preparations were made to accommodate 72. Each table was centered with large bowls of Caroline Testout roses, and at each side were large bowls filled with luscious berries.

Canby provided her best berries for the occasion, and the visitors thoroughly enjoyed the treat.

LLOYD KENDALL BREAKS LEG.

Lloyd Kendall, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kendall, who is employed by the Canby meat market, met with an accident Tuesday when a horse he was riding fell, throwing young Kendall to the ground. The horse fell in such a manner that it struck Kendall's leg, breaking the bone near the ankle.

Dr. H. A. Dedman was summoned, but owing to the swollen condition of the foot, it will require several days before the broken bone can be set. An X-ray was taken Wednesday morning.

BURGLARY OF CANBY BANK IS ATTEMPTED BUT SUSPECT ESCAPES

On Tuesday evening an attempt was made to enter the Canby State Bank and several residences, including those of Mr. Zollner and Mr. Vinyard, but the man made his escape, although search was made later for him.

The man was first seen trying to enter the bank by the front door, and a telephone call was at once made for the police, but the would-be burglar was "wise," for he heard the call, and made his escape.

The man was described as being tall and slender, and is believed to be a "dope" fiend, who was seen in Canby Tuesday afternoon.

FORMER CANBY WOMAN

MARRIES OREGON CITY MAN

The marriage of Mrs. Alice Roth, of Aurora, formerly Miss Alice Carpenter and William Nelson, surprised their many friends in this city and Aurora. Wednesday, at 10:30 o'clock, June 10, even surprising their witnesses, Mrs. Bertha Hurst, of Canby, and William McFarland, of this city, who were invited to take an automobile ride to Vancouver. The plan was well carried out by Mr. Nelson, who had invited Mr. McFarland to go to Vancouver to look after a business proposition. After their arrival Mr. Nelson and his prospective bride led Mr. McFarland and Mrs. Hurst to the court house. When the license was secured by Mr. Nelson, and Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. Hurst asked to witness the ceremony, the surprise was complete.

Following the marriage the bridal party enjoyed a luncheon, and later motored to Oregon City.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson have taken up their residence at Canemah, where they are at home to their many friends.

The bride has resided for some time at Aurora and is a daughter of Mrs. Carpenter, well known pioneer resident of that place. She has for the past year been employed by Swenders Blue Print Co. of Portland.

Mr. Nelson has resided in Oregon City for about 13 years, where he has been in the blacksmith business during that time.

HAMPTON WRITES OF MANY EXPERIENCES IN DISTANT ALASKA

Merrill Hampton, who is in Alaska, having accompanied Walter Deuel, also of this place, writes some of the experiences he is having in the north. The following interesting letter has just been received by Miss Rena Hutchinson:

EKUK, Alaska, May 31, 1919.

"Dear Rena:
"I am sure a long ways from dear old Canby and the few friends I had when I was there, and a few words from a good friend sure would be welcome in this 'God forsaken country'."

"I used to read stories about the place, and I used to think I would like to come up here, but now that I am here, I don't think so much of the place."

"I first will tell you where I am located at the present time. It is called Ekuk. It is nothing but an Indian village and fish canneries. It is located in the southwestern part of Alaska on Bristol Bay, which is a part of Behring Sea."

"Walter Deuel is up here with me, and he wishes as much as I do that he was back in the state. Poor Walt, I guess he misses the little dancing parties every Wednesday and Saturday evenings. The only pleasure we have up here is eat, sleep and work. Call these pleasures if you want to, but I don't, but we did have a good time coming up on the boat. It was a little four-masted sailing schooner, but it sure could travel if we had a fair wind. We made the trip up here, a distance of about 3200 miles, in one month. Believe me, land sure looked good to this 'bird' after a month of nothing but water every direction you looked."

"Following the marriage the bridal party enjoyed a luncheon, and later motored to Oregon City."

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson have taken up their residence at Canemah, where they are at home to their many friends."

The bride has resided for some time at Aurora and is a daughter of Mrs. Carpenter, well known pioneer resident of that place. She has for the past year been employed by Swenders Blue Print Co. of Portland."

Mr. Nelson has resided in Oregon City for about 13 years, where he has been in the blacksmith business during that time."

"The Indian village I told you was here is decreasing in population miles per hour. The poor people have the 'flu,' and are dying off like rats. When we got here there were 13 dead out of 45, and there have been five more since. They had a bunch of huskies—sled dogs, and they were tied up and almost starved to death. We turned them loose. The first thing they did was to jump at each other, and we saw a real old Alaska dog fight. Two of them were killed and eaten by the rest of the dogs before we could scatter them. We almost had to beat their brains out with a club before we could get them separated. There is one pup here, which I will 'swipe' when I start back for home."

SCHOOL MEETING HELD.

At the school meeting held at the Canby high school building Monday, Harry Gilmore was re-elected director, and William Knight, re-elected as clerk. Mr. Knight has the reputation of serving as clerk of a school district longer than any man in the United States, and no man is better posted on school matters than this pioneer of Canby.

Farm Bureau Notes of Interest

Edited by R. G. Scott, County Agent.

HIGH PRICED JERSEYS.

When Frank Doerfler paid $5100 for a three year old Jersey cow at Ed Carey's sale, a good many people thought that he was making a fool of himself. The same might be said of Frank Laughary who paid $2100 for a two weeks old bull calf which is a full brother to the high priced cow.

But it is significant that these men are not millionaires. They have made their money with Jersey cattle, and they have faith in the business. In the first place, these animals which brought an average of about $1150 each at this sale are all heavy producers, or will be when they mature. They make enough butterfat in a year to pay ten per cent on the investment, besides the value of their offspring. There will never be a time when animals like these are cheap, because there are very few that can equal them in production, and there is an unlimited demand for heifers and bulls of this stock. It is practically impossible to get a bull of the St. Mawes breeding for any price.

Clackamas County is fortunate in having several animals of this breeding. In the Monitor section P. J. Anderson has a splendid bull, 4 years old, which is getting some fine heifers. At Wilsonville, Raymond Seely has a young bull of this line; also Mr. Lawrence of Springfield. Anton Malar, near Sandy, bought a three months old heifer at the Carey's sale for $725. Her full sister sold for $1500 to a buyer from California. The three nearest dams of this heifer average 727 lbs. of butterfat. With this backing of high producers, this heifer is sure to make a name for herself.

One of the significant features of the sale was that Hood Farm and other Eastern buyers bought some of the best animals. It means that Oregon has been able to produce Jerseys that stand with the best in the world.

It means that there is a chance for Oregon breeders to get the best possible stock right here in their own State. Any of the best Jersey herds are within a days drive, and it will pay anyone to go to some of these herds and see for himself what really great milk machines have been developed.

There are already about fifty farmers in Clackamas County who own at least one registered Jersey. By combining to hold sales, and by testing their herds so that buyers may know what their cows will do, there is a big future for Jersey breeders. There is a sale for grades as well as registered stock. When any one locality is known as a place where a carload of good grade heifers can be bought, that locality is going to get a better price for its stock than where there are only a few. The section around Monitor and Oak Lawn promises to be just such a Jersey center.

With two herds of registered Jerseys there, owned by P. J. Anderson and J. W. Exon, and the other farmers going in together to buy two registered bulls from high producing families, the time is near at hand when there will be greater cream profits and a side profit from surplus heifers sold. That this is a good dairy section may be known from the number of silos. There are 21 silos within a square mile, and the first silo was built in 1901. This year there are several more to be built.

MITES AND LICE

Now is the time when the little "cooties" on the hens and young chicks do their greatest injury. Many a hen is too busy looking for her "boarders" to bother about laying eggs. Many a chick is being drained of its vitality by mites and lice. The mites sleep in the day and feed at night, while the lice are at work all the time. To kill the mites, spray the poultry house with a mixture of kero-

sine and carbolineum, equal parts; or with one part kerosene four parts crude oil. See that every crack and crevice is filled with spray. Do the work in the morning so that the building will be dried at night.

For lice, use sodium fluoird. Lay the fowl on a bench or table, and apply the sodium fluoird to the skin of the bird a pinch at a time, one on the head, one on the neck, two on the back, two on the breast, one below the vent, one on the tail, one on each thigh, and one on each wing when spread out. It means a little work; it will take some time and patience. But remember how old biddy must feel with the constant irritation from the parasites. And think of the eggs that you should get which you are not getting because the mites and lice are eating them before they are made.

HOW ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS?

Down in Josephine County recently there was a public demonstration of tuberculosis cattle. They had been tested and found guilty, and although they appeared to be in perfect health, and the owner had been using their milk for his family, when they were slaughtered tubercles were found in several parts of the body and udder.

How about it? Does it pay to take chances with this disease that annually kills more people than all other diseases combined? Milk is too valuable a food to have it spoiled by carrying tuberculosis. Human beings are too valuable to risk feeding them germs. Any herd of cows that has a registered animal in it can be tested by the Government tester. It will pay owners of grade herds to have the test made at their own expense. The state veterinarian will do the work for nothing, but he is very much overworked and it will take him time to keep this great white plague from our livestock and our families should get in touch with the county agent.
