FORTY-NINTH YEAR—No. 1.

OREGON CITY ENTERPRISE

The Panama-Pacific Exposition opens February 20.

OREGON CITY, OREGON, FRIDAY, JANUARY 1, 1915.

ESTABLISHED 1866

COURT MAY NAME A ROAD MASTER

MATTER WILL COME BEFORE COMMISSIONERS DURING JANUARY TERM

HOBSON'S APPOINTMENT IS LIKELY

New Office Would Have Complete Jurisdiction Over Construction and Repair of All Roads and Bridges

The appointment of a road master with practically full control of road matters in the county instead of a road engineer is being seriously considered by the county court. In case the step is taken, it is reasonably assured that Road Engineer Hobson will be named for the place.

Taxpayers at the annual meeting called to discuss the budget left the office of a road engineer entirely in the hands of the county court. It had been suggested that the office be abolished but the taxpayers refused to sanction the step. The only recommendation was that the engineer, if one be employed, be paid from the road and not from the general fund. The court will take definite action in the January term.

If the office of road master is created as much power in road matters as possible will be left in his hands. He will have jurisdiction over the road supervisors and will devise methods to keep the main traveled roads of the county in first-class condition. All county road equipment, rollers, scrapers, and crushers will come under the direct control of the road master who will aim to keep them busy as much as possible.

The state law in defining the duties of the office is in part: "The county road master shall have power to determine when and in what manner the road supervisors of the several road districts shall expend the tax apportioned to their several districts and the instructions of said road master in all matters relating to the construction, improvement or repair of the public roads and bridges shall be implicitly obeyed by the said road supervisors. It shall be the duty of the road master to assist the county court to prepare the specifications to govern the work to be done under contracts hereinafter provided for; superintend all work done upon the roads and bridges in the county whether done under contract or under the road supervisor; to make recommendations to the county court as to the method to be adopted for the construction, repair or improvement of roads or bridges."

Two years ago the Live Wires recommended to the county court that a road master be appointed and the year following Mr. Hobson was named road engineer, an office differing materially from that of road master.

Mr. Hobson, who has served a year as road engineer, is known to favor the construction of oil-bound macadam and it is understood that if he is made road master, he will carry out a program of trunk lines built of this material. During the last year several miles of oil-bound macadam have been laid under the direction of Mr. Hobson, including the Milwaukie-Sellwood road.

The county court would always act in an advisory way to the road master. The relationship between a superintendent or a manager and the board of directors has been suggested to show the relations between the court and the proposed office.

HIGH COURT GRANTS APPEAL OF LEO FRANK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—United States Supreme Justice Lamar this afternoon granted the application of Leo Frank for a review of the latter's conviction on a charge of murdering Mary Phagan at Atlanta, Ga. Justice Lamar's action automatically stays the execution of Frank, set for January 22 by a Georgia court.

Better Mail Service At Eagle Creek Is Refused By Postal Authorities

Pleading that the condition of the national finances is such that expansion in rural mail service is not possible at the present time, the postoffice department has refused to grant the petition of residents of Eagle Creek that better service be established.

Congressman Hawley took the matter up with the fourth assistant postmaster general and urged that the proposed changes be made but met with a flat refusal. Mr. Hawley repeated his request and received the following letter from J. I. Blaklee, fourth assistant postmaster general:

"I am in receipt of your letter of the 16th instant, again urging an increase in the frequency of service on rural route No. 1, from Eagle Creek, Oregon, from three to six times a week

LINN COMMISSIONER LIKES ROADS HERE

The warmest praise was expressed by T. J. Butler, county commissioner from Linn county, when he was shown over Clackamas county roads this week by Judge Anderson, Commissioner Mattoon and Smith and Road Engineer Hobson.

Mr. Butler approves the plan of the Clackamas county court of building bitulthie macadam. Linn county up to the present time has followed a policy of building roads with gravel. Each winter the gravel sinks out of sight and a new application is necessary before the road is in good condition. Mr. Butler intimated that Linn county may try out the oil-bound macadam road which has been laid here.

Donations of cash should be sent to the First National bank, to the Bank of Oregon City or to the Morning Enterprise.
Donations of clothing, groceries or other supplies should go to the Masonic building, where they will be cared for by George Seacrest, the elevator operator, or Miss Pratt in the recorder's office.

More money will soon be urgently needed by the Co-operative Relief committee or the local charity movement will be seriously crippled.

Although a few donations are still received, the expenses of the committee are rapidly reducing the amount of money in the hands of the committee at the bank. Between 40 and 50 families are dependant on the committee for support and other homes appeal for help although not entirely destitute. The expenses of the committee averages about $10 a day. For a 10-day period ending Tuesday $98.60 was spent.

From four to six men are employed each day under the direction of Street Commissioner Babcock. The head of each destitute family is given three days work a week and paid $1.50 a day in groceries.

The committee has found a number of families that are in need of dishes and Mrs. A. McDonald, chairman of the organization, is making an effort to supply homes with such articles as cups, saucers and plates.

Contributions received Wednesday, other than money, are: A box of oranges from Mr. Romig, a sack of flour from Theodore Osmund, and a box of clothing.

After donating $450,000 to the Tumalo project, Oregon is to be generously given the same amount out of $12,000,000 collected from sales of Oregon public lands.

COUNTY SUED FOR $2000 BY LEVINGS

DETECTIVE FILES ACTION ON CONTRACT IN JULY BY COUNTY COURT

SPECIAL ATTORNEY TO BE EMPLOYED

Court Intends to Oppose Vigorously Attempt to Collect Sum—Bill Was Presented During the November Term

An action for $2,000 was filed in the circuit court Wednesday afternoon by Detective L. L. Levings against Clackamas county for services rendered in the Hill murder case from July 23, when a contract between the county and the detective was signed, to November 1.

The suit is based on a contract which was signed by Judge Anderson, of the county court, and Commissioner Smith the latter part of July. Under the terms of this document, the county agreed to pay Levings $2,000 for professional services in the Hill case up to November 1. The detective alleged that he worked continuously during that period but makes no mention of any evidence he may have secured.

Levings presented his bill to the county court at the November term but the court delayed action until the regular session in December when it was disallowed. The bill, it is said, read "for professional services as per contract" and made no mention of the details of the work done by the detective. Levings was in Oregon City several times during the month of December and at one time threatened to sue the county unless his bill was allowed. He is represented by Logan, Smith & Fitzgerald a Portland legal firm.

The contract was signed upon the recommendation of District Attorney Hedges and Sheriff Mass. Only one copy of the document was prepared and it was left in the hands of Levings until early in December when it was turned over to the county court. The contract has not been placed on file in the clerk's office.

Owing to the fact that District Attorney Hedges has taken a stand in favor of the bill, the county court will probably employ special counsel, according to a statement of Judge Anderson Wednesday night. Every attempt will be made by the county to defeat the suit.

PRESIDENT WILSON
IS 58 YEARS OLD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—President Wilson was 58 years old today. He spent most of the day getting accumulated correspondence out of the way. The cabinet was expected to call at the White House in a body at 6 o'clock this evening and extend congratulations.

ESTACADA MAY SEEK OREGON CITY WATER

It is reasonably certain that Estacada will make an attempt to secure water from the pipeline connecting Oregon City with the south fork of the Clackamas, if that line is built.

There is considerable dissatisfaction in the eastern Clackamas town over the present source of water. The matter has been discussed frequently in the last few months. The Estacada Progress says in its last issue:

"The sentiment seems to be growing each day in favor of the early building of this line and Estacada people are vitally interested as it is likely that arrangements will be made to furnish this city with good water from the same pipeline and its construction will probably give employment to local men."

OREGON BUILDING AT FAIR OPENED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—As Oregon was first with her great excursion in 1911 to select the site for her building at the exposition, and as she was first to break ground for the new building in the excursion of the Rosarians in 1912, and first to complete her building ready for turning over to the state commission, so today the Rosarians held the first elaborate formal dedication ceremony that any state organization has yet held for its building.

President Moore, of the exposition, in his address before the Rosarians and others who attended the ceremony of dedication in the auditorium of the Oregon first floor.

SALOON OWNER MAY FACE LIQUOR CHARGE

BOYS SAY THEY SECURED LIQUOR
FROM BARLOW—SEVEN AR-RESTED IN MOLALLA

Owners of the saloon at Barlow, one of the few remaining in Clackamas county may face a charge of selling liquor to minors in the circuit court following the arrest of seven men and boys at Molalla who say they secured liquor at the place. The case will be reported to District Attorney Hedges.

Two minors, Forest Reynolds and Felix Beatty, signed affidavits that they secured liquor from the Barlow saloon. This testimony will be used against the saloon owner. The five others who were arrested with the two boys are G. F. Douglas, Mark Hungeat, Frank Young, Oren Giger and Coon Doyer.

The saloon at Barlow is the only place of its kind south of Oregon City. Canby, Molalla, and New Era have each been dry for several years.

WASHINGTON ASKS BETTER TREATMENT

AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC NOTE IS MEANT FOR NATIONS IN TRIPLE ENTENTE

POLICY OF BRITISH IS ATTACKED

Trade With Austria and Germany Sure to Follow if Request is Met—
Improvement at Once
Object of Letter

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The United States government dispatched today a long note to Great Britain, insisting on early improvement in the treatment of American commerce by the British fleet. It gave warning that public criticism was general over unwarranted interference with the legitimate foreign trade of the United States.

The document, constituting the strongest representation on this subject made by the United States to any of the belligerents since the outbreak of the war was called to Ambassador Page to be formally presented to Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary.

Its preparation was begun a month ago. Solicitor General Johnson, counselor Lansing and Secretary Bryan and finally had the personal attention of President Wilson, who revised its phrasing with minute care.

As the detailed point of view of the United States in numerous specific cases of detentions and seizures of cargoes had been set forth in a series of emphatic protests, most of which have gone unheeded, today's communication was couched in general terms, covering the entire subject of the relations between the United States and Great Britain as affected by the latter's naval policy considered highly objectionable by this government.

Since France has adopted practically the same decrees on contraband as has Great Britain, today's note is virtually a statement intended for all the members of the triple entente.

The note declares at the outset that the representations are made in a friendly spirit, but that the United States considers it best to speak in terms of frankness, lest silence be construed as an acquiescence in a policy which infringes the rights of American citizens under the laws of nations.

The document points out that complaints on every side and public criticism in the United States hold the British policy as directly responsible for the depression in many American industries, a situation the seriousness of which must be apparent to Great Britain.

Reimbursement alone for cargoes unlawfully detained or seized, it states, does not remedy the evil, as the chief difficulty is the moral effect of British practice on American exporters, who are restrained by it from taking risks or hazards which in no case ought to surround legitimate trade between the United States and other neutral countries.

W. V. S. CELEBRATION AT MOLALLA FEB. 2

February 2 will probably be the date of the celebration at Molalla in honor of the coming of the Willamette Valley Southern.

That date has been suggested to Judge Grant H. Dimick, president of the road, and met with his approval. The Oregon Agriculture college glee club will be in Molalla on that date and will be able to assist in the celebration. A special train will probably be run to Molalla from Portland and Oregon City on the day of the celebration.

Poles are erected on the right-of-way of the new electric line and wires strung past Molalla.

SETTLEMENT OF CLAIMS EXPECTED

WASHINGTON EXPECTS THAT BRITAIN WILL CONCEDE
MANY POINTS

CARGO OF COTTON IS INSPECTED

Officials Show no Irritation and Cooperation Between United States and Great Britain Has Already Begun

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—While the American note to Great Britain, concerning interruptions of the commerce of this country, continued today to absorb official Washington, there was manifest a tone of confidence that the numerous difficulties which had arisen in the last five months eventually would be amicably adjusted.

Already the discussion had turned to measures which the United States could properly take in co-operation with Great Britain to reduce to a minimum the necessity for extending search on the high seas. It became known that agents of the treasury department acting in co-operation with the state department in one case, already had inspected a cargo of cotton, which inspection had satisfied the British embassy and facilitated the progress of the shipment to its destination.

The belief was held in official quarters that a mutual understanding might be reached whereby legitimate cargoes could be certified before their departure from this country and thereby made immune from detention.

High officials of the Washington government were somewhat surprised that the American note has been regarded as "brusque" in some London quarters. They said the British cabinet, which has it under consideration, after a single reading of the document must be convinced that the United States had spoken in the most friendly spirit, though none the less earnestly and emphatically, on points on which it considered itself thoroughly justified under the laws of nations.

There is nothing of a peremptory character in the note nor is it phrased in tones of irritation, according to those who are familiar with its contents. They say it is a matter-of-fact and frank statement of the difficulties experienced by American shippers, and the failure of the British government to meet the various protests which have been made.

In all, it became known today, 30 American ships and cargoes, their value totaling millions, have been detained. The American note points out specifically, however, that reimbursements for previous damages alone cannot cure the situation, as the activity of the British fleet has restrained many exporters, whose business has become stagnant for fear of the numerous technicalities and risks involved in shipments.

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 30.—Asserting that G. F. Booth, who was declared elected mayor of Turner, following the election of December 7, did not receive a majority of the votes and that H. R. Crawford had a majority of two, M. A. Nicely has filed a petition to have the circuit court here decide the question.

MILWAUKIE WATER PROJECT HALTED

INJUNCTION, SIGNED BY JUDGE
ANDERSON, PRESENTED TO CITY COUNCIL

TOWN AND OFFICIALS DEFENDANTS

Three Points are Made in Complaint for Injunction—Amendment
Passed March 18, 1913,
Is Quoted

A temporary injunction, signed by County Judge Anderson Monday afternoon, restraining the Milwaukie city council from signing an agreement with the city of Portland to secure Bull Run water, was served on the council when it met in a special session Monday night by Sheriff Mass.

The suit was brought in the name of Fred W. Birkenmeier, a Milwaukie property owner, and the town of Milwaukie, Mayor Felix Mitchell, Councilmen Ray Albee, Charles H. Counsel, P. King and Herman Loding; Recorder D. P. Mathews and Treasurer A. L. Holstad are named defendants.

The complaint alleges that the contract between Milwaukie and Portland and the resolution passed by the Milwaukie council authorizing the mayor and the recorder to sign the contract conflict with a charter amendment and are not valid. The contract and the resolution are based on an amendment passed by the voters March 18, 1913. This amendment states that "the council has power and authority and shall within 10 days from the passage of this act notify in writing the owners or the agents of the several water companies then operating in Milwaukie its desire to purchase their or either of their water works" and that "the value of each will be determined by arbitration."

This clause has been violated, claim the opponents of the plan to bring Bull Run water into the town. No notice was served on either the Milwaukie Water company or the Minthorne Springs Water company, both of which hold franchises to sell water in Milwaukie and have been doing business several years.

It is also claimed that the proposed contract is against the wish of a majority of the voters of the town. At an election held August 22, 1912, the voters turned down a plan to supply Milwaukie with Portland water by a heavy majority.

Twenty thousands dollars worth of bonds have been sold to the Lumberman's Bank of Portland by the city of Milwaukie to meet the expenses of establishing the new water supply and the complaint charges that such an expenditure is unauthorized and unlawful.

An agreement has been reached between the Milwaukie council and Portland officials whereby the Clackamas county town was to secure water from the Portland mains. Under the contract, Milwaukie would pay Portland over meter rates and an interest on the money spent by Portland to establish connection with the Milwaukie water system. At the present time two private companies, The Milwaukie Water company and the Minthorne Springs Water company, have water systems in Milwaukie.

U'ren, Schnebel & Hesse appear for the plaintiffs.

COUNTY COURT CUTS BILLS FOR BRIDGES

Bills for the construction of the Barton bridge across the Clackamas and the Meadowbrook bridge across the Molalla river were checked over by the county court Tuesday afternoon.

Bills for the two bridges total $21,247. The court refused "extra" amounting to $593 on advice of bridge engineers. C. H. Pursell, chief bridge engineer for the state highway commission, appeared before the court.

The two bridges are among the best road bridges in the county. Both are of steel construction.

Stupendous Palace of Horticulture, Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915

THE Palace of Horticulture of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is the most striking architectural triumph ever created for any Exposition. Whether the sweep of the Exposition's 635 acres is viewed from the distant hills or from a nearer view, this commanding edifice attracts early attention and admiration.

The great dome is the largest hemispherical glass dome in the world. It is 185 feet high and has a diameter of 152 feet. It is crowned by a mammoth basket. Surrounding this dome are the apses that give the Saracenic influence, and these are of a marble whiteness and surrounded by beautiful sculptured figures of young women.

In a general way the palace follows the ideas incorporated in the mosque of Sultan Ahmed I. The decorations and rich ornamentation have the French renaissance feeling. The numerous smaller domes that surround the building have latticed work, where rare vines and flowers will bloom to give added beauty to this building typical of plants and flowers. The extreme length of the palace is 600 feet and the width 300 feet.

Wholesale Merchants Ship Goods Through Oregon City Postoffice

Groceries, drygoods, and hardware in large quantities have been shipped through the Oregon City postoffice during the last month by Portland wholesale firms. In almost every case, Lake county has been the destination of the shipments.

It is nothing unusual now to see a large automobile truck back up to the postoffice and unload a varied cargo of merchandise, including everything from brooms to axes. The goods are weighed and sent on their destination. The reason that the shipments are not made through the Portland postoffice is that Oregon City is one some nearer Lake county than Portland and postal rates on 100 miles is saved by mailing the goods here. No package may exceed 50 pounds and each must bear the name and address of the consignee. The shipments although they principally consist of staple groceries, are sent as ordinary parcel post matter. The postal rates are considerably under the express or freight rates.

Postmaster Randall takes a practical view of the situation and believes that Oregon City merchants should take advantage of the situation. "If Portland business men can ship their goods to Oregon City by automobiles merely to gain advantage of a local condition, I believe that Oregon City merchants should be able to derive profit from the same source," he said.
