

NEWS OF THE COUNTY AND SUBURBS

Local and County Items of Interest to Courier Readers

LOGAN

Harding Grange held an interesting meeting on the sixth, the program being mostly of a patriotic nature. Judge and Mrs. H. S. Anderson were present and the former explained the national, state and county arrangements for food conservation and the reasons therefor. There was a general discussion of the subject and also of the Red Cross work. A committee was appointed to arrange for an entertainment to raise funds for Red Cross purposes and $10 was voted for the same use. R. J. Werner, county agriculturist, was present and explained his objects and how he hoped to accomplish them. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Steinman and Mrs. L. McConnell from Eagle Creek.

Mr. Carver is working on his rail road bridge just below the Baker bridge and this seems to guarantee the continuance of the road up Clear Creek, an event long deferred.

City people should have gold crowns on their teeth to chew pork that brings the farmer 20 to 22 cents per pound.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson from Eagle Creek, have been visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. S. G. Kirchheim.

The writer's two acres of alfalfa looked pretty dry after the crop was removed, like most everything else, but since the rain the ground is covered with a thrifty light green carpet that is very pleasing to eyes that have looked for such a sight for several years.

Calculations are being made to sow considerable fall wheat.

Jacob Gerber and his little granddaughter, Genevieve Davey, were out from Gladstone on a visit last Sunday.

Fellow correspondents, we must not so many of us get tired at the same time as we did last week. Stir up some kind of news and if you can not think of anything else, give a few jabs at the kaiser's solar plexus and teach him that the proper kind of culture grows in America and is not spelled with a "k."

Mrs. Earl Gerber is visiting her parents in southern Oregon.

Samuel Gerber, Fred and John Moser are in the mountains hunting.

Mrs. Bert Corless was run down by a cow recently but Mr. Corless came to the rescue before serious harm was done.

The baby daughter of Oscar Benson was badly scalded in the face by pulling a kettle off the stove. A doctor was called to attend the case.

Frank Kohl writes his brother interesting letters from the training camp in New York about the experiences of himself and comrades in camp and in visits to Gotham.

William McCubbin has not yet been called to the colors, we believe. S. E. Gerber has started back to his Idaho mines and took a young doggy along to train up to a life of usefulness for himself and partner.

George A. Kohl is the first to sow fall wheat.

E. C. Gerber is running machinery for the Warren Paving company.

STAFFORD

We are happy to state that your correspondent from this place has returned from her sojourn of two months in Tillamook county, where she has been detained by the twin sisters, Pleasure and Business, all through the heat of a Clackamas county summer. She still looks back with a sigh to the foggy nights and cool mornings which kept vegetation green and thrifty and the balmy days tempered by a delightful sea breeze. Everything seems prosperous over there and numbers have subscribed for the federal land loan, which runs for thirty-six years and pays for itself in the end.

The people have gone extensively into diking and ditching and improving the country generally. Their herds of dairy cows look sleek and fat and bring a good income, with apparently little work, comparatively. Cheese factories are to be seen every few miles, where whole milk is delivered daily. Tillamook cheese has a wide reputation for its excellence all over the Pacific slope. At Sheridan we stopped and got a basket of prime tomatoes of a Mr. Shortridge, who said he had sold $500 worth to Uncle Sam and had as many more on the vines, delivering them to a nearby factory.

I find that Stafford is rapidly going back on the butter man and selling his milk to the Newberg condenser, thereby eliminating the cleansing of separators, and leaving the women more time to work for the Red Cross.

The Ladies' Circle has made various things at their own expense, for the "boys" and if they prove satisfactory they stand ready to continue to do their bit.

Most everyone has got new cars since we saw Stafford last.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Widdle, in his new car and alone, was seen going towards Portland.

Those who have no cars can be counted more easily than those who have.

Mr. Nussbaum, who has been under the doctor's care, is better.

Mrs. Harrison's son, Harold, who has been very low with typhoid fever in the Oregon City hospital, is reported some better but still not out of danger.

Mr. Aerni's family has moved to its new home beyond Oregon City. The son, Earnest, remained to dig the potatoes. We hear that the principal of the school, Miss Reonde, and her aunt, have leased the Aerni house for the school year.

Mrs. Gebhardt has sold the 30 acres bought of I. P. Gage in 1911, to Adolph Delkar, consideration $5000.

The Ladies' Circle will meet with Mrs. Fred Elligsen on Thursday the 18th.

Mrs. Elligsen has been caring for her daughter's family at Woodburn while the daughter was in a hospital. The daughter, Mrs. Seeley, has recovered sufficiently to be brought home, and Miss Lillian Tideman has gone to keep house for her. Mrs. Elligsen came home Sunday.

H. Frenzel has rented the Crossa place on the corner, together with the store, for three years, and the owner of the Milan place, from which Mr. Frenzel moved, is offering the place for sale.

Mr. Schatz and wife motored to Sheridan on Thursday last to visit his brother and mother, returning Friday.

CHERRYVILLE

Cherryville is on the map with over five miles of plank road from Alder creek bridge to nearly the west side of the road district.

The Sandy road district is connecting up from the east side of Firwood to Beaver Creek.

A great many thousands dollars have been wasted on dirt roads, which in wet weather are worse for being worked, and in dry weather are all right any way, except for the dust. C. W. Miller (Dad), has charge of the road workers and is on the job with his men, and is surely laying down a long stretch of plank in good shape.

It will take all this month and nearly every day fit to work to complete the plank laying as it is difficult to get men to work at $2.00 in these days of the high cost of living. So far that has been the price paid and only $2.50 a thousand for hauling the planks and some of them seven and eight miles. Mr. Shipley, living on a ranch near Marmot, has had the job and if the weather had not been so favorable would very favorably, would very likely have lost on the contract.

The writers who commend the Marmot roads into the mountains ought to be compelled to drive over them and they would quit writing about the superiority of that route over the main auto road leading through this place.

The writer recently went over the Columbia highway on a bright, beautiful day and can truthfully say that nothing that has been told or written about this grand scenic highway which is probably not excelled in the world—has been exaggerated. It is thronged with thousands of people every day in good weather and especially on Saturdays and Sundays. Having been across the country from east to west, the writer does not hesitate to say that this was the most delightful trip he ever took.

The vine maples present a perfectly gorgeous appearance this fall, having been turned to a brilliant red by the hot sunshine and absence of frost up to this writing.

Percy Shelly has sold out the mail route from Sandy to Zig-zag and Welches. The new mail route men are Hazel, Wander and Senteke, of Sandy. They are prompt and accommodating young men who make the trip in schedule time daily. The post office at Zig-zag has been discontinued although the bondsmen still run the office at the home of Jack Greenwood near the Zig-zag forest station, for a short time.

And still the war goes on but the end is in sight and the downfall of the German army and the end of the Hohenzollern reign is drawing near.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

Wiley May, an old resident of this place, is very ill at his home on Duane street with little hope of recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Staben and children of Echo, Ore., are visiting Mrs. Staben's sister, Mrs. Chris Blum, and family. John Heft, a brother of Mrs. Blum's arrived from Yakima, Wash., and is spending a few days here while looking after his farming interest at Beaver Creek.

Mrs. J. P. Roehl, of Mulino, returned to her home last Saturday after visiting in West Linn and Oregon City the past few weeks.

Mrs. Amanda Hickman and granddaughter, Wanda Hickman, visited in east Portland last Sunday.

Mrs. Ed May was called to eastern Oregon last Saturday by a dispatch announcing the serious illness of a daughter-in-law. Mrs. Jennie E. Carr, of Portland visited Mrs. R. M. C. Brown last Sunday.

Twenty five years ago life seemed quite different to what it is now. Women wore bustles; nobody swatted the fly; nobody wore white shoes; nobody sprayed the orchard. Young men had livery bills; cream was five cents a pint; nobody cared for the price of gasoline; everybody came to the postoffice for their mail. The hired girl got $1.50 a week. Nobody listened in on the telephone. There were no sane fourths or electric meters. Straw stacks were burned instead of baled. Women didn't try to see how little they could wear and yet be well dressed. But we are progressing.

CANBY

Dave Fancher visited John Burns and wife last Sunday. Mr. Fancher is going to Seattle. He has a brother who lives near Seattle.

William Draper is working for Mr. Mace, doing some farm work. William Draper and Alfred Robbins called on Mr. Deeken last Sunday.

Harry Cochran has just finished digging his potatoes. He has the best potatoes in this neighborhood as far as is known.

Mrs. Rape is staying with her son at present.

William Porter, who has been in Yamhill county for some time, is at home at present.

Fred Howard has moved back to Canby again.

"Grandma" Wheeler, who has been visiting friends in Portland for some time, has returned home.

Harry Cochran has been doing some carpenter work for Mr. Chubb. Mr. Chubb lives on the farm known as the Wells' place near the Oak Grove school house.

Ernest Clare was in Canby one day last week.

Harry Smith is the leader in these parts in having the best patch of corn.

Frank Zollner is busy these days sawing wood with his gasoline wood saw.

Bob Hilton is digging his potatoes. This place is well supplied with small potatoes this year.

Mr. Toogood and family were visiting Mr. Hilton and wife last Sunday. Mr. Cobbs of Portland, was in these parts a few days ago. He owns some land along the Molalla river.

John Evans and his son-in-law, Clarence Mallet, are going to build this fall on the land they purchased some time ago.

EAST CLACKAMAS

Mary Rypczynski was a week-end visitor with her sister, Mrs. L. Kelnhofer.

J. Welch is thinking of borrowing a set of teeth if he can. Then he will get ahead of the dental trust, doncher know.

The ice cream social given by the ladies of the E. C. S. C. at Mrs. L. Rasmussen's was a great success both socially and financially. The "parcel post" brought the cash receipts up to and beyond expectations.

Charles Pluffer has been painting at the Zigzag farm for G. H. Haberlach, Jr.

Mrs. E. R. Boyer and daughter were Portland visitors last Friday, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Kelsner over night.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Kelnhofer have moved into their new house in the past week and are at home to their friends now.

Miss Minnie Hemrick visited with her sister, Mrs. G. Haberlach, last week as she had to quit teaching for a while on account of her health.

See This All-Record Brunswick Phonograph

The joys of owning any phonograph are many. These joys are multiplied many times by owning a Brunswick. Come and let us explain its many points of exclusiveness—of originality and superiority.

With the ordinary phonograph you are confined to one make of records. With The Brunswick you can play any record of any make. Heretofore the wonderful Pathe Records have not been available to the public, but now, with The Brunswick, you can enjoy these world masterpieces. Best of all is the fact that any record of any make is given new tonal values with The Brunswick. The scientifically constructed, wooden-walled sound chamber is responsible for this. No metal is used in its construction, therefore no metallic or nasal sounds.

There are other added features that will interest you—the new designs in cabinets (the rare woodwork and finish), the perfect control, the automatic stop, the supermotor, etc. But come see for yourself.

The model illustrated is $175. Other models from $30 upward.

Hear It Play These New Pathe Records

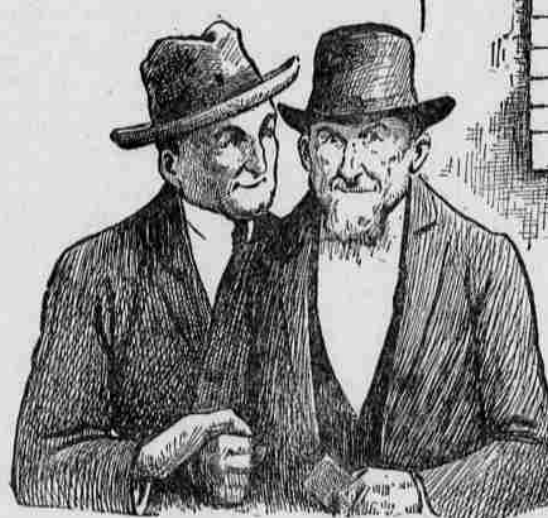

Remember The Brunswick plays any record. If you already have a collection of records you can play them with a new delight on The Brunswick. Or if The Brunswick is your first phonograph, you have the world of music to choose from. We want you to hear these new records.

PLAY TIE GAME

Oregon City High Team Runs Up Against Fast Estacada Eleven

The Oregon City high school football team played its first game Friday when it met the Estacada high school eleven in that city. The score, after an interesting scrimmage which was replete with minor errors, was a tie—six to six. The Oregon City team made its score in the first five minutes of play and Estacada crossed the goal in the second quarter. Oregon City claims that penalties were responsible for the Estacada score. Jake Risley, star last year with the University of Oregon team, was the referee.
