

About the State

Resume of the News of the Week from All Parts of Oregon

La Grande, Ore.—Phantom ships are not uncommon, but the woods about Elgin, this county, contain a phantom girl in overalls. Not only has excitement and curiosity been rife, but sympathy is becoming general at what appears to be the deplorable plight of the unknown girl. The Elgin country was first aroused a week ago when a wild-eyed girl in overalls was seen running through the timber several miles west of the town, in the vicinity of the tollgate road. At sight of any one the child runs screaming to hide, and nearby farmers report hearing her cry all through the last two nights. Many attempts have been made to capture the terrified girl.

Cottage Grove, Ore.—The deal for the sale of the Oregon Pacific & Eastern railway, which had been in abeyance for some time, has been closed and J. H. Chambers, of this city now has a controlling interest. The deal, as first contemplated, was for the sale of the road to Mr. Chambers and L. S. Hill, but the burning of the mill of the Brown Lumber company, in which Mr. Hill sustained a heavy loss, made it necessary for him to give up his part in the plans.

Salem, Ore.—The valuation of the properties in Oregon for rate-making purposes of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company is $12,429,507, according to an order of the public service commission issued Thursday. This is a valuation of the properties actually used and useful for the convenience of the public, including a due allowance for working capital, stores and supplies, the valuation being as of December 31, 1916.

Prineville, Ore.—Farmer Smith, well-known agriculturist of the O.W. railway system, was in Prineville last week attending the fair. Mr. Smith has traveled much over the state during the last few weeks, and says that the supply of hay is much better than is generally reported. The exceptional season for the production of alfalfa has more than offset the shortage caused by the drought on dry lands, and he believes there is as much hay in the state as usual.

Redding, Ore.—Mrs. Lawrence Redding, wife of a well-known Elgin farmer, snatched her 10-year-old daughter "from the jaws of death" at the home of a neighbor recently. The child fell into a well concealed by weeds and was about to sink for the third time when her mother rescued her. The well is 17 feet deep and has 10 feet of water.

Portland, Ore.—Mrs. Edna Gregory of Pendleton, Ore., was Saturday convicted by a jury in the federal court of having sent candy containing poison through the mail to Mrs. May Carter. Mrs. Gregory was said to have confessed to officers who arrested her, but at the trial she repudiated the alleged confession. Jealousy was the supposed motive in the case.

North Bend, Ore.—The C. A. Smith, 260 feet in length, 49-foot beam and 20-foot depth of hold, slid from the Kruse & Banks ways last Tuesday before the largest crowd ever assembled here to witness a launching. Miss Adeline Smith, daughter of the owner, was sponsor for the new craft, and christened the vessel with champagne. The colors of the Smith company were used in the decorations.

Baker, Ore.—Last month was the rainiest September on record, according to reports of the weather observer here. The total precipitation was 2.44 inches, while the nearest approach to this was 2.31 inches in 1895. Farmers and stockmen say that if part of this rain had come in July it would have been worth $2,000,000. Fall plowing and seeding, however, have been greatly benefited, and it is expected that the effect will be felt next spring.

Newberg, Ore.—With an exceptionally large freshman class and more than the usual number of former students on hand Pacific college has opened under favorable auspices for the year 1917-18. Present indications are that the attendance may pass that of last year, which was the best the college has ever known. Extensive improvements have been made in the old college building which add much to the effectiveness of the science work and double the accommodations for men in the dormitory.

Roseburg, Ore.—District Attorney George Neuner has returned from Salem, where he had a conference with Mr. Williams, special representative of the department of justice, the United States attorney general, Attorney General George M. Brown and L. A. Liljequist of Coos county, in reference to the continuance of the land grant case of Douglas county versus the Southern Oregon company, which involves the Oregon & California Railroad company. Mr. Neuner was assured that every effort would be made to obtain a settlement with the Southern Oregon company, and in the event an agreement is reached a bill will be presented to congress as in the O. & C. case, and the government will, upon passage of the bill, immediately pay the taxes.

Salem, Ore.—The public service commission Friday in the 6-cent fare case of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company denied the application for an increase in fares save as to unlimited tickets and school children's tickets, the new fare for unlimited tickets, being placed at 5 cents each and for children's tickets at 4 cents each. The present tariff for unlimited ticket book containing 50 coupons, each good for one ride with full transfer privileges, is $2.25, and the tariff for children attending public, private and Sunday schools is $1 for a book of 33 coupons.

La Grande, Ore.—A petition was filed Thursday with the county court asking for formation of a drainage district, the boundaries of which include 44,000 acres of the richest land in this valley. Owners of more than 25,000 acres signed it. Practically all the land has been farmed for years, but as the Grand Ronde river and Catherine creek have a flat grade crops have been destroyed about every four years. This season's wheat yield, lost through spring floods, would about pay the whole project, it is claimed.

Prineville, Ore.—When F. Fred Hoelscher returned from San Francisco last week he brought the tidy sum of $900,000 in certificates of deposit and drafts, property of the Ochoco irrigation project, of which he was the official representative on this occasion.

Wasco, Ore.—Uncle Sam's draft orders were temporarily suspended Wednesday in the case of Ernest Manning of Wasco. He was scheduled to leave for Camp Lewis, but the state stepped in to back up his request for a short respite. As farewells were being said at the depot to other Sherman county youths on their way to war, Mrs. Manning gave birth to an eight-pound boy. Mr. Manning will not have to leave for Camp Lewis for about 10 days.

Hood River, Ore.—The grade of the new Hood River boat road has been completed and the road is open for traffic. The county court announces that a gravel surfacing will be placed on the new road at once. The road, about a third of a mile in length, connects the city with boat landings on the east side of Hood River. It also is used by apple growers shipping their low-grade stock to canners and processors in Portland and The Dalles.

La Grande, Ore.—O. H. Taylor, a signal foreman, and his wife were killed in a rear collision between two freight trains on the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company's line near Kamela early Sunday. They were sleeping in a car attached to the forward train when the collision occurred. The cars took fire and their bodies were partly cremated. An open switch was said to have caused the collision.

Milton, Ore.—Messrs. Washburn and Cox are realizing splendid returns from their bean field near Weston. The crop is turning out possibly better than 500 pounds to the acre. With the present price they will realize better than $50 per acre. According to the government department of agriculture, bean hay is a profitable commodity, there being slightly more nutrition in this feed than in wheat hay.

Freewater, Ore.—E. P. Jensen who owns a large prune orchard at Ferndale, received returns on a carload of prunes shipped to Cleveland. Mr. Jensen will net $1028, or $80 a ton.

BANK OF OREGON CITY ANNOUNCES NEW PLAN TO PURCHASE BONDS

The opportunity to subscribe for and purchase a $50 Liberty Bond of the Second Liberty Loan of 1917 on small payments as $5 a month is announced by the Bank of Oregon City.

The plan is designed to permit those who have not the available cash to undertake the regular 90-day payment plan, and for those who feel that they cannot afford to reduce their existing cash reserve too much at one time. In other words, it is purely and simply a pay-as-you-save system whereby a little more economy and the saving of the nickels and dimes will enable whoever is patriotic in action as well as word and thought to support their government financially and to back up those boys who will all give their time and many their lives for the cause—morally.

In the first place subscribing for a Liberty Bond does not mean giving anything, nor does it mean a sacrifice in any way—unless one calls it a sacrifice to curtail needless and heed-

AN OPERATION AVERTED

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides and periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I soon noticed a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. Thos. McGowan, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

less expenditure and extravagance. A Liberty Bond purchase means lending a few dollars on security of 250 million dollars in value—the safest in the world and at a reasonable return of four per cent interest. In simple terms the plan is this: One makes a first payment of $5 on a $50 Liberty bond. He receives a receipt card upon which the first and subsequent payments of $5 each month are recorded. At the end of ten months the subscriber receives a fully paid up Liberty Bond. Now, still further. Even though the government stipulates that if a subscriber does not complete his payment he incurs the risk of forfeiture of the money he has paid in and the bond, too, The Bank of Oregon City has eliminated all such possibility by agreeing that in case the subscriber through any cause whatsoever fails to complete his payments, instead of losing the money he has paid in, this will be kept on deposit to his credit for a reasonable period and then returned to him or at his option continued on deposit at a reasonable rate of interest. One may get full details of the foregoing plan by calling on or writing to The Bank of Oregon City.

COUNTY DELEGATE TELLS OF W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

(Mrs. R. M. C. Brown)

The 34th annual convention of the W. C. T. U. for the state of Oregon was held in the first Presbyterian church of Albany October 2 to 5. Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, president, in charge. One hundred and twenty-two delegates registered the first day and seven more the following day. Eleven unions failed to send delegates. The first day was devoted to reports of unions. In the evening the welcoming address was given by the mayor of Albany. The response was by the president of the state W. C. T. U.

After a short program of music and song Mrs. Thompson of The Dalles, a member of the legislature last winter, gave an eloquent address on the drafted soldier. Her patriotic appeal was enthusiastically received by the large audience. Thursday forenoon was taken up by the election of officers.

The officers are as follows: state president, Mrs. Ward Swope, of Portland; vice-president-at-large, Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, of Portland. Mrs. Kemp could not accept re-election as president as she had been appointed a member of the Food Commission board. Mrs. Jolly was elected treasurer; Mrs. Mears recording secretary; Mrs. Tutill, corresponding secretary. Other minor officers were distributed to various unions in the state. The W. C. T. U. reported a splendid showing in Red Cross work; $4872.42 had been taken in by the state department in the work of different branches of the order and a free will offering was asked for to assist in crushing out the different vices that menace our boys and girls. Over $600 was given in a brief half hour. A spirit of enthusiasm was

LOAN

"The Second Liberty Loan of 1917"

Buy a Liberty Bond and Help Win the War

BONDS will be dated November 15th, 1917.
 BONDS will run to 1942, but may be redeemed any time after 1927.
 BONDS will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and up.
 BONDS will pay 4 per cent interest, beginning November 15th, 1917.

Subscriptions for bonds opened October 1, 1917 and will close October 27, 1917

Payments for bonds can be made as follows:

Initial payment	2 per cent upon application
First installment	18 per cent November 15th, 1917
Second installment	40 per cent December 15th, 1917
Third installment	40 per cent January 15th, 1918

Make Your Application TODAY with your local banker
 LIBERTY LOAN SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED
 BY US FOR UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WAR
 BONDS. No charge for our services.

A UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BOND IS A SANE AND SAFE INVESTMENT

The Bank of Oregon City

Bank of Commerce

First National Bank

TOWER'S FISH BRAND REFLEX SLICKER

Waterproof Absolutely!

It's loose fit and "good feel" put you at ease on any job that turns up.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

A. J. TOWER CO. BOSTON

prevalent throughout the entire convention.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church served dinner and supper and the homes of the city were open for free lodging to all delegates. The hospitality of Albany is surely not to be forgotten and along with the W. C. T. U. entertainment was the banquet given by the citizens to 600 soldiers on their way to American Lake, who stopped off and marched to the armory to be seated at well-filled tables. They were entertained by the Albany bands and short addresses during the meal hour.

We hope every union in Clackamas county will take on new zeal and work harder than ever, and our own local union come out in stronger force than ever. We have a fine list of members and good workers and while some few may think we can not do much without their help just come out and look on, if nothing more.

Mrs. Andrews, the county president, Mrs. Eberly, county corresponding secretary, Mrs. Brown, county treasurer and Mrs. Tully of Molalla, represented the local unions of Oregon City and Molalla at the convention.

FIGURES SHOW $2.00 A BUSHEL NOT EXCESSIVE

Now that the government has fixed the price of wheat, both for the 1917 and 1918 crops, the question of actual cost of production becomes more interesting than ever. What is the average cost of producing an acre of wheat? Is a price of approximately $2 a bushel too much? Let us see. A few years ago the cost of wheat was figured at from $10.50 to $12.50 an acre, with a few estimates running above or below these figures. That costs have greatly increased since the beginning of the European war all must admit.

In round numbers the cost of an acre of wheat averaging 15 bushels is now $20, with the chances for still greater cost in 1918.

land, $4.50; taxes, 25 cents; upkeep, 30 cents; seed (1½ bushels) at $2.25, $3.37; use of machinery, 80 cents; 1½ pounds of twine at 17 cents, 26 cents; threshing-machine hire at 5 cents, 75 cents; coal, 15 cents; marketing, 80 cents; fertilizer, $4.00. Total, $20.24.

That these figures are conservative appears upon the closest and most critical study. For instance, the first item, that of man labor, is certainly within reason. We very much doubt if farm labor can be had at 15 cents an hour. The same conservatism applies throughout, whether the item be cost of twine, threshing bill, or taxes on land. Some may question the wisdom of figuring in fertilizer cost, as not all farmers use commercial fertilizer for wheat. This is quite true, but all wheat takes plant food from the soil.

A 15-bushel crop of wheat removes, in the grain alone, 17.5 pounds of nitrogen, 2.25 pounds of phosphorus, and 4 pounds of potassium. Buy these ingredients in the form of commercial fertilizer and see how much you will have left out of $4. So with a 15-bushel crop next year, and with a price of $2 a bushel, the wheat grower may realize $9.75 an acre more than his wheat cost him, provided he has no bad luck. On a 40-acre crop this is $390. This is less than the price of a good team. Surely it is not too much when we remember that the wheat grower takes his chances against hail and storm, Hessian fly, and winter-killing—Farm and Fireside.

War Gains Him a Mother

Alvin Stanley, private in 12th company, coast artillery corps, and secretary of the army Y. M. C. A. club at Fort Baker, overlooking San Francisco bay, has just learned after twenty-one years that he has a mother. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, his father died when he was 14 months old and he was adopted by a kind family. He knew nothing of his mother until last week when he received a letter addressed to "My own dear son." For years she had been searching for him. She appealed to the government and learned of his whereabouts through his enlistment papers. She lives in Kansas City and he had lived in Des Moines, Iowa, less than 200 miles from her. He will secure a furlough and go to Kansas City to be clasped in her arms.

The Whole Neighborhood Knows

Mrs. Anna Pelzer, 2526 Jefferson St., So. Omaha, Neb., writes: "I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar as a sure cure for coughs and colds. It cured my daughter of a bad cold. My neighbor, Mrs. Benson, cured herself and her whole family with Foley's Honey and Tar, and everyone in our neighborhood speaks highly of it." This reliable family remedy masters croup. It clears the air passages and eases the gasping, strangling fight for breath.—Jones Drug Co.

Viewers See, Read

A petition for a new road in the Springfield country, running a mile west from its starting point at the Riverside school, was referred to viewers by the county court Thursday. The court is holding its regular monthly session. A petition signed by those interested in the Hanson road was not allowed after the remonstrances were read.

Mrs. Keffer Charges Desertion
 A divorce complaint filed here Monday by W. J. Keffer charges Olive M. Keffer with cruelty and desertion. The couple was married at Hillsboro on May 10, 1913, and the husband says his wife left him on April 7, of this year and failed to return.

Judge J. U. Campbell Monday signed a decree separating Amanda V. and David H. Looney. Custody of a minor daughter and property title was awarded to Mrs. Looney.

Oregon City Courier

Makes Clubbing Arrangement With

The Oregon Farmer

Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measures Oregon farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE OREGON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE OREGON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE OREGON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Oregon agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE OREGON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Oregon. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.

Two Papers for the Price of One

Oregon City Courier, one year - $1.00
 Oregon Farmer, one year - 1.00

$2.00

Our offer, both papers for one year - $1.00

OREGON CITY COURIER