SPURIOUS RAPE SEED
Large Quantity of Turnip Seed Is Being Offered for Sale
Under normal conditions the United States has received a great part of its supply of winter rape seed from the Netherlands, but owing to the restrictions placed on the export of this seed during the past year other sources supply have been sought. This has resulted in seed of several types of plants being imported under the name of rape from countries not usually contributing to our supply.

Approximately 95,000 pounds of seed of turnip rape, or enough to sow 19,000 acres, have been imported since April 1, 1915. This so-called turnip rape is not rape at all, but a turnip without the thickened root of the garden turnip and is cultivated for its oil-bearing seed.

The plants are winter annuals, with a growing period similar to that of winter rape, not blossoming or seeding the season in which the seed is planted. The leaves the first year are radical (growing from the root), forming a rosette on the ground as distinguished from winter rape, which produces a stem often 2 feet high the first season. The leaves of turnip rape are bright green in color, thin, rough and hairy, while the leaves of winter rape are smooth, fleshy, and covered with a grayish-green bloom.

The seeds of turnip rape are usually smaller than those of winter rape, with more deeply marked network and often are of a grayish-black color. The seedlings of the two plants can be distinguished definitely by the fact that all the leaves of turnip rape grow from practically the same point, forming a rosette, while there is a space or interval between each successive two leaves of winter rape, a definite stem being thus formed. These differences can be observed when the seedlings are about two weeks old, or as soon as the second and third true leaves appear. While turnip rape is said to be hardy and to grow on poorer land than winter rape, it gives less forage and that of a poorer quality than winter rape.

As the seed of turnip rape is being offered for sale throughout the country at the present time, under the name of winter rape or dwarf Essex rape, farmers desiring to seed rape should be on their guard against purchasing seed of turnip rape in place of that of the true winter rape.

LAND SHOW IS ON
Resources of State Well Shown at Exhibit in Portland's Armory
Nearly all of Oregon's counties are represented at the second annual Manufacturers' and Land Products show, now being held in Portland. The exposition covers more than 75,000 square feet and every foot is covered with the products of the factory, forest, fields and streams. The arrangement of grains, grasses, fruits and vegetables is more attractive than similar displays at the Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul land shows in recent years.

Factories of Oregon, retailers and jobbers in general have made an excellent showing. The exposition closes November 13 and low fares over all steam and electric lines serving Portland are offering inducements for people living within a radius of the exposition city to see the big display.

"There were a number of persons gathered at the Monmouth station last Friday evening, destinations varying, and all awaiting the four o'clock train. They waited and kept waiting, but there was no train. A party waiting at Independence finally made inquiries of one of the engineers, but it was the other fellow's time for service, and he had gone down town and forgot to come back, so the train didn't run."

MRS. MABEN WAS MADE WELL
By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It.

Murfreesboro, Tenn. — "I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me. I was a sufferer from female weakness and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. Doctors did me no good so I tried the Lydia E. Pinkham Remedies—Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. I am now well and strong and can do all my own work. I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and want other suffering women to know about it."—Mrs. H. E. Maben, 211 S. Spring, St., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why Lose Hope.
No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

The Dawn of a New Hope
FOR YOU who have long suffered from so-called incurable diseases and ailments; trying every means and paying out money indiscriminately without results, here is a cheering message to direct you to the road that leads to relief and ultimate recovery:

Chiropractic Adjustment
Chiropractic is based upon the knowledge of the brain, spinal column, spinal cord and the nerves emanating therefrom. Pressure on a nerve at the opening where it leaves the spinal column, will cause disease in that organ or tissue at which the nerve ends. The Chiropractor adjusts with his own hands and WITHOUT DRUGS OR KNIFE, the displaced vertebrae, which relieves the pressure and enables Nature to restore normal conditions—Health.

The beneficial results which Nature produced after the Chiropractor adjusted the cause in some long standing obstinate ailments, demonstrate the merits of Chiropractic.
