

YOU Are Our Very Best Asset

Yes, we value you more highly than our entire stock of costly jewelry.

Our store with its beautiful fixtures might burn tomorrow.

Or a flood may scatter broadcast our expensive diamonds and precious gems and still we would not be ruined.

For we would have left your confidence in us, built up by years of honest merchandising.

Money will replace gems and jewelry but no money can buy that confidence in us, established through years of painstaking efforts, once it is destroyed.

And so we guard it zealously. Only jewelry of the best quality—the satisfaction giving kind—is shown, and our business is conducted under the policy:

MAKE EVERY CUSTOMER A
SATISFIED ONE

Just remember this the next time you desire something in jewelry.

Burmeister & Andresen
Oregon City Jewelers Suspension Bridge Corner

The HALLMARK Store

COUNTY AND CITY LOCALS

J. B. Forsythe, of Clackamas Heights, was a county seat visitor the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cartledge entertained at their home guests over the week end Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nichol, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Dr. Frank Mount enjoyed a visit from his mother, Mrs. Judge Mount, of Olympia, Washington, during the week.

Mrs. Belle C. Williams and Reese E. Williams, of the county seat, obtained a marriage license in Vancouver, Wash., last Saturday.

Mrs. A. I. Hughes, of Logan, was in the county seat the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank George, of Tacoma, spent the week-end in Oregon City visiting friends.

J. C. Pollanz, of the county seat, has been granted a federal patent on a device for utilizing waste products from the paper mills.

The Rev. R. L. Dunn, of Gladstone, has returned to his home after a visit with his sister in Washington.

Mrs. Allan E. Frost, wife of one of the former owners of the Courier, returned to Corvallis this week after visiting friends in the county seat.

Miss Alma Moore, of the county seat, is visiting with relatives at The Dalles.

Dr. Thomas J. Fox, a former corner of this county, but now in Portland, was among the week's visitors in the county seat.

Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Meyers, who have been living in Portland for some months, have returned to Oregon City for the winter.

Misses Ethel and Gladys Corcoran, of Tacoma, accompanied by Mrs. H. K. Jessup, of Seattle, were week-end guests of friends in Oregon City and Oak Grove.

"Printing with a punch"—at the Courier.

Residence 612 Center St. Phones: Main 1101 M. 172

Dr. A. McDonald
Veterinary Surgeon
Office, Red Front Barn
Phones: Main 116 B-9 OREGON CITY

THE Stetson
Towner hears many compliments about his taste in hats.

There is something about the appearance of a Stetson that inspires respect, even among those who feel that a Stetson is too good for them to wear.

Price Bros.
HALLMARK STORE
OREGON CITY, ORE.

AS THEY TEACH IT

One Reason why "Graduate Journalists" Have Such Hard Times

A whole lot of our colleges and universities are now teaching what they call "journalism." And they are turning out young men and young women, who, after taking two or three years or terms in these courses of journalism feel that they are ready and fitted to take command of any paper there is from the Oregonian up to the Sandy News. And when these same young "graduate journalists" get into the newspaper game they begin to get hard bumps—for the simple reason that their heads are full of theory, and that they don't know the practical side of the game.

The schools where journalism is taught are trying to remedy this. Some of them are publishing newspapers, and compel the student journalists to do the work. Others send their students out to "cover" assignments along side of real newspapermen. And some times this effort at practical work succeeds, and sometimes it doesn't.

This week the students of journalism at the University of Oregon were told of some of the evils of trying to smooth over the subject of "English in high schools by disguising it under the name of 'preliminary journalism.'" And after being told the whole inside of the matter, they were ordered to write the matter up. They struggled with it, and finally one of the future editors got something down on paper that conveyed the idea, and then another future literary genius put a "head" on it. In the newspaper world a "head" is that funny assortment of capital letters at the top of the column that may, or may not, tell you what the subsequent reading matter is about. And the head that the "student journalist" put on the story was as follows:

JOURNALISM TOO EARLY
DANGER TO PROFESSION

Do you wonder, gentle reader, that a real newspaperman groans every time a "graduate journalist" comes into the office and strikes for a job?

TOO BUSY TO PLAY

United States Marine Corps Only
Branch of Service "On the Job"

Because every man of their less than ten thousand is absolutely needed at his post at home or abroad, the United States Marine Corps will not be represented at this year's military show at Madison Square Garden, New York.

The army and navy will be represented as usual, but the little Marine Corps, which is neither of these, and yet both, cannot afford to send even a squad to the 1915 tournament.

The "soldiers of the sea," 9921 strong by law, form the first line of the national mobile defense, and the navy yards of the United States have been almost stripped of Marines to furnish the landing forces for ships, the expeditionary forces for Haiti, the legation guards at Peking, China, and Managua, Nicaragua, as well as manning the permanent frontier defense posts at Guantanamo, Cuba, the Philippines, Guam, and the Hawaiian Islands.

Congress, at its next session, will be asked to increase the Marine Corps by 1500 officers and men, and it is believed that the request has strong backing in the ranks of the security leagues who wish to see the first line of defense strengthened so as to insure an adequate number of Marines at home in case of necessity.

OUT FROM UNDER

Head of Northwestern Association Goes Through Bankruptcy

Jesse Hazel, president and general manager of the so-called "Northwestern Association," which has been "developing" land near Redland, this week went through bankruptcy proceedings in Portland. Hazel says that his liabilities are about $27,000, and the liabilities of himself and the Northwestern Association are about $88,000. He denied having any personal assets.

Hazel has been defendant in a number of suits filed recently, some to collect money which it was alleged he owed; and others filed by people who declared that they had been misled as to the intentions of the Northwestern Association when they sought to purchase land under its requirements. The Northwestern Association has been offering land near Redland on long-term sales, and its contracts lead buyers to think that when the land is delivered it will be found to be "orchard tracts" in good growth and condition.

Pig Club Plans

Plans for pig club work for the coming year are well under way and the leader has received many applications for membership. Sow and litter, and pig raising contests will be held. The use of pure bred sows for the former will be encouraged, and those entering the pig raising contest will be urged to select sow pigs for breeding purposes. Home butchering will be another feature of the work this year. Those seeking membership should write L. J. Allen, O. A. C., Corvallis, Oregon.

all this to escape the odium of boarding with a farmer and his family in a little old shack full of dirty country children.

Say, brother farmer! we are not even prepared to board a school teacher!

Don't you think it is about time we turned our attention to the fact that we are getting so little from our labor that we are totally unprepared to have a nice home with time to enjoy it. Are you ready to vote bonds to build other people fine homes? And do you want to pay the bills of national state and county grafters to build machinery to kill us while we fight the other fellows' wars?

P. W. MEREDITH.

More Than 15,000,000 Visitors Have Beheld Wonders of Jewel City. Art Smith, Famous Bird Man, Performs Daily In Closing Month—800,000 Feet of Free Motion Picture Film Shown Daily on Exposition Grounds.

THE last is best of all the game." This is the principle by which the Panama-Pacific International exposition has worked for the months of October and November with the view in mind of keeping up the public interest and drawing record attendances until the very last minute of the very last day, Dec. 4.

Thus far over 15,000,000 visitors have clicked the turnstiles that grant entrance to the Jewel City. It is the desire of the Exposition directorate to be able to boast of 18,000,000 by the time it has taken its place in the world of happy memories.

ART SMITH, WHO WILL FLY EVERY NIGHT AT THE EXPOSITION.

ART SMITH, the greatest master of the air in the direction and control of an aeroplane, dates his return to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition from Nov. 7. He will remain in San Francisco until the close of the Exposition, Dec. 4. The boy aviator, who is barely twenty-one, holds the world's record for making twenty-three consecutive loops in the air in his aeroplane. His homecoming will be celebrated by tens of thousands.

For that reason all sorts of special days with elaborate and entertaining programs have been arranged. Something new will happen every day. Many of these events will take place in the beautiful courts of the Exposition. Some of them will take place in the exhibit palaces themselves, where everything is and always has been free. The various state buildings have also planned days and affairs which will enliven the social atmosphere throughout the Exposition "dog days."

One of the leading attractions in the exhibit palaces and state buildings is the moving pictures which are shown every day in the week from 10 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the evening. Eight hundred thousand feet of film are shown daily in these free-moving picture theaters, films which in their educative influence answer the purpose of four years' academic study. Every department of living and of science exploited. Manufactures and industries, such as the making of shoes and paper, the cutting of timber and its subsequent manufacture into artistic furniture, the making of steel, the mining of iron, gold, silver, copper, shipping and commerce are detailed at length on films of unusual clearness and interest.

Every state in the Union is shown at its best. Magnificent mountain and valley scenery, torrential rivers, cascades and ocean shores, automobile drives and railroad trips constitute a scenic tour that is incomparable.

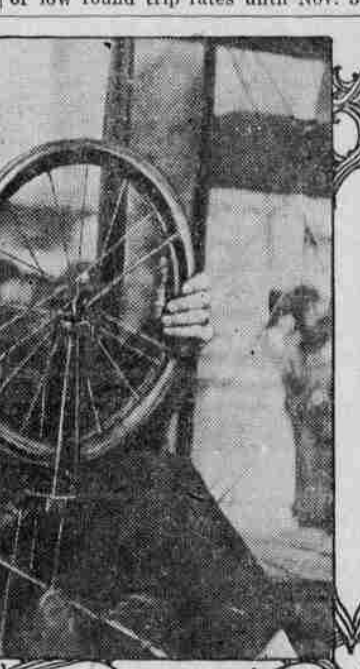

Eastern and middle western visitors are now flocking to San Francisco for the various live stock events which are scheduled to last until the end of the period. At the close of the Society Horse Shows, Oct. 15, the cattle, sheep and hog shows were begun, to be followed by the poultry and dog shows. From all over the country agriculturists will find their way to Congress Hall at the Exposition, where there will be congresses and conventions with lectures, stereopticons and moving pictures, combining to form a college in agriculture, stock raising and horticulture which no farmer can afford to miss.

There will be aviation exhibits every day in the future, as there have been in the past. At present Charles Niles and Silvio Petrossi are taking turns in affording sensations to the exposition populace. Beginning Nov. 7 the universal favorite, Art Smith, will again fly up into the clouds and perform strange and hair raising gyrations both afternoons and evenings.

Edward Lemare, the great London

organist, will play his daily program at noontime in Festival Hall, and for the modest sum of 10 cents this world renowned musician and genius may be heard in classic score.

Instead of thinning out the attendance the last weeks have seemed to gain, owing, no doubt, to President Moore's proclamation that under no circumstances will the exposition last one minute after midnight on Dec. 4. Eastern and middle western travelers to the exposition can avail themselves of low round trip rates until Nov. 30.

ART SMITH, WHO WILL FLY EVERY NIGHT AT THE EXPOSITION.

ART SMITH, the greatest master of the air in the direction and control of an aeroplane, dates his return to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition from Nov. 7. He will remain in San Francisco until the close of the Exposition, Dec. 4. The boy aviator, who is barely twenty-one, holds the world's record for making twenty-three consecutive loops in the air in his aeroplane. His homecoming will be celebrated by tens of thousands.

able to boast of 18,000,000 by the time it has taken its place in the world of happy memories.

For that reason all sorts of special days with elaborate and entertaining programs have been arranged. Something new will happen every day. Many of these events will take place in the beautiful courts of the Exposition. Some of them will take place in the exhibit palaces themselves, where everything is and always has been free. The various state buildings have also planned days and affairs which will enliven the social atmosphere throughout the Exposition "dog days."

One of the leading attractions in the exhibit palaces and state buildings is the moving pictures which are shown every day in the week from 10 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the evening. Eight hundred thousand feet of film are shown daily in these free-moving picture theaters, films which in their educative influence answer the purpose of four years' academic study. Every department of living and of science exploited. Manufactures and industries, such as the making of shoes and paper, the cutting of timber and its subsequent manufacture into artistic furniture, the making of steel, the mining of iron, gold, silver, copper, shipping and commerce are detailed at length on films of unusual clearness and interest.

Every state in the Union is shown at its best. Magnificent mountain and valley scenery, torrential rivers, cascades and ocean shores, automobile drives and railroad trips constitute a scenic tour that is incomparable.

Eastern and middle western visitors are now flocking to San Francisco for the various live stock events which are scheduled to last until the end of the period. At the close of the Society Horse Shows, Oct. 15, the cattle, sheep and hog shows were begun, to be followed by the poultry and dog shows. From all over the country agriculturists will find their way to Congress Hall at the Exposition, where there will be congresses and conventions with lectures, stereopticons and moving pictures, combining to form a college in agriculture, stock raising and horticulture which no farmer can afford to miss.

There will be aviation exhibits every day in the future, as there have been in the past. At present Charles Niles and Silvio Petrossi are taking turns in affording sensations to the exposition populace. Beginning Nov. 7 the universal favorite, Art Smith, will again fly up into the clouds and perform strange and hair raising gyrations both afternoons and evenings.

Edward Lemare, the great London

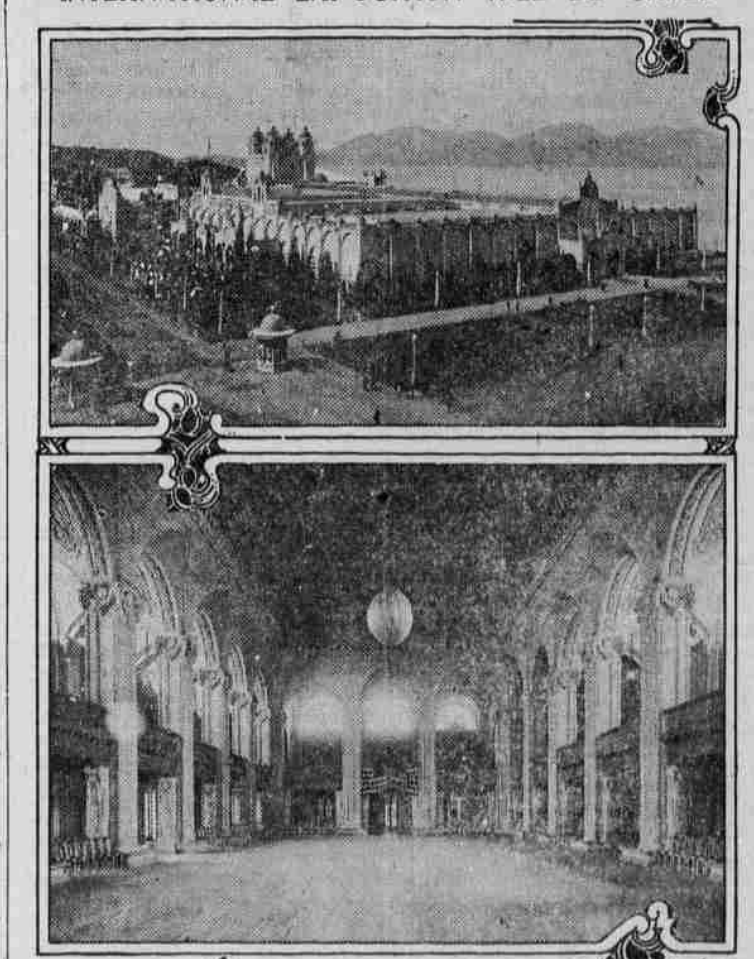

ONLY A FEW DAYS BEFORE THE GREAT FAIR CLOSES

"It is the Marvel of the Age," Says Thomas A. Edison, "Every One Should See It."

It is only a few days before the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco closes forever on Dec. 4. The great men of the world have acclaimed its wonders. President Arthur Twining Hadley of Yale university said of the Exposition that it was the most wonderful and beautiful Exposition in the history of the world. Thomas Alva Edison, the world famous inventor, said of the Exposition that it was the marvel of the age and that every one should see it. When asked what he considered the most interesting aspect of the Exposition Mr. Edison said: "The Exposition is a composite wonder and no two men will have the same estimate of it. The triumphs of science on exhibit, however, are the most significant note of the Exposition, showing all the evolutions of creative genius. They will endure when the beauty of the Exposition is forgotten. I have already said that machines, not men, should carry on warfare if it has to be carried on. The marvels of mechanical achievement on display here convince me that I am right."

commutation tickets that take one right to the entrance of the exposition. Rates for accommodations have gone down considerably owing to the return of the coast vacationists to their homes which, naturally, has decreased the demand except in the larger hotels, where the rates remain the same as scheduled at the beginning. Many visitors prefer to take rooms and procure their meals at the exposition. Every day thousands of merry-makers may be seen picnicking on the lawns, in the courts or on benches in the gardens, eating their lunches and often their dinners out in the sunshine on the lagoon borders or listening to one of the many fine bands which discourse both popular and classical music for the delectation of the populace at the noon hour and again at the dinner hour.

MIGHTY CALIFORNIA BUILDING AT PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION WILL BE SAVED

Above—California building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the largest building ever built by a state or a nation at an Exposition. Below—Imposing ballroom in the building, where notable functions have been held this year.

PLANS are under way to preserve the great California building, reproducing the architecture of the California missions and housing the most notable collection of exhibits of the Golden State ever assembled. Aside from five acres of space filled with exhibits of California products, it is the headquarters of the women's board of the Exposition and also of the administrative offices of the Exposition. In this building are many restaurants, large reception halls and ballrooms, one of which is shown in the picture above.

ADVICE FROM GEORGE

Courier Reporter Told to Migrate, Far From Hereabouts

A humble Courier reporter, but a small cog in the machinery that weekly gets out this public intelligencer, was going home on the interurban car last week when the great and only George C. Brownell strode down the aisle, invited the reporter to sit beside him, and paid his fare. Having gone through these preliminaries, George put a seraphic smile upon his face, and looking at the advertisement of a brand of tea that decorates all cars, unbundled his soul as follows:

"If I were you, young man, I'd leave Oregon City and go away. I'd go either to Alaska, or perhaps to San Francisco. It seems to me that a young man like you could find a career in either of those places."

Seeing as George had paid the reporter's carfare, the advice was taken in silence—but the reporter is still wondering what he did to George to make that great man suggest that he go so far away.

We take particular pains with the stationery we print for our customers.

Granges Show Wisdom

The local Granges in California are starting something the Navy League of the United States doesn't like by passing resolutions asking that every congressman and senator of the state be asked to work and vote for a bill at the coming session of congress wherein and whereby the United States government shall be authorized and empowered to manufacture its own powder and munitions of war; and to build and operate its own merchant marine vessels, and make it a crime, for any one else to engage in, or manufacture, or sell said powder. If all state Granges and the national Grange would take this action, the cry for preparedness would not be so loud.—(Benton County Courier.)

As Others See Us

The people of Oregon City will be asked to change the charter of that city so as to permit one man to conduct the affairs of that municipality. It might be a good thing for Woodburn to follow suit, yet one year is not long to wait and in that time we can learn how Oregon City gets along under a business manager, provided the charter amendment proposition carries.—(Woodburn Independent.)

WILSON NOTE "HARSH"

Germans and British do not Approve of American Complaint

British newspapers call President Wilson's note to Great Britain "harsh" and German newspapers are displeased with it because they say it carries no threat.

These two receptions accorded the protest of the United States against the interference of neutral shipping by the English "blockade" both show that the temper of the American people is little understood by the two big foreign powers. In his note the President objects to England's methods of attempting to get evidence that goods shipped from this country is contraband of war, and the President also refers to Britain's blockade as being "ineffective."

American papers unite, both republican and democratic, in declaring that the President's utterances exactly express the view of American citizens. Apparently Great Britain has forgotten former history dealing with the times when she interfered with American commerce; and as for Germany, apparently the subjects of the Kaiser think that because no "threat" is contained in the message that the United States is just "bluffing."

As the Courier recalls history, this nation never "threatened anything—it stated its views, and when they were just and reasonable, saw that other nations yielded to them. The great motto of early American days, familiar both in East and West—"Don't monkey with the buzz saw"—cannot exactly be said to contain a threat, but its finality is definite and certain; and people who disregard the warning usually wish they hadn't. The Courier has an idea that the present note from this nation to Britain partakes of some of the same attributes as the time-honored motto.

TOWN HELPS MERCHANTS

Missouri Community United in Battle Against Mail Order Houses

Every farmer within 15 miles should be asked to become a member of the town commercial club, and the club should see that as many of the farmers as possible participate in the club's social affairs, says George E. Hardy, the new executive secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, who spoke to the commerce students of the State University recently.

Trenton, Mo., has a commercial club that sent delegations to all the farm homes of the tributary territory. The farmers joined the club. When the commercial club had a social evening—and it saw that a good many were held—farmers stopped work a little early and came.

"Mail order business has been practically driven from the Trenton territory," said Mr. Hardy.

Accurate appraisals of land for newcomers, under commercial club direction and with commercial club guarantee, was another innovation suggested by Mr. Hardy.

JIM HILL LIKES IT

"Empire Builder" Says Electricity Can Even Now Milk Cows

James J. Hill, premier railroad organizer and financier, paid a glowing tribute to electricity when asked what he thought of the plan to devote the week of November 29 to December 4 to a celebration of the return of good times and to be known as "Prosperity Week." Said Mr. Hill:

"Electric energy can be carried anywhere. It has therefore, taken the place of millions of human hands. Nor is there any ascertained limit to which its uses may be put. A great transformation has been wrought in the lifetime of a single generation.

"Railroad engines, streetcars, elevators, all sorts of light power machinery, are now fitted with electric motors. The mysterious force is busy about our houses, lighting, sweeping, washing, cooking, heating and performing deftly and quietly scores of lesser tasks. The country calls for it. Much of the manual labor about the farms might be performed by this subtle agent that already knows how to milk a cow."

"Printing with a punch"—at the Courier.

BAD STOMACH TROUBLE

Yields to Delicious Vinol

Shreveport, La.—"I had a bad stomach trouble for years and became so weak I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was poor, my food would not digest, I bloated and was very weak and nervous. I tried many remedies without help. I saw Vinol advertised and tried it, and now my stomach trouble is completely cured and I am well."—E. L. MARSHALL.

Vinol is guaranteed to tone up the tired, over-taxed and weakened nerves of the stomach and create strength.

HUNTLEY BROS. CO.,
Druggists
Oregon City, Oregon

Oregon City could not possibly be worse off, no matter what the change in government. For four years the management of that city has been continuous vaudeville.—(Benton County Courier.)

Office phones: Main 50, A50; Res. phones, M. 2524, 1715 Home B251, D251

WILLIAMS BROS. TRANSFER & STORAGE

Office 612 Main Street

Safe, Piano, and Furniture Moving a Specialty

Sand, Gravel, Cement, Lime, Plaster, Common Brick, Face Brick, Fire Brick

W. S. UREN, formerly of Oregon City

FRANK C. HESSE

Phone Main 6376

U'REN & HESSE

Attorneys at Law

DEUTSCHE ADVOKATEN

ROOM 506—OREGONIAN BLDG.

PORTLAND, OREGON