LIVE WIRES ELECT OFFICERS TUESDAY

OFFICERS OF RESERVE CORPS FROM THIS CITY WERE GUESTS OF HONOR

The men who have been called from Oregon City to the officers' reserve corps training camp at San Francisco were guests of honor Tuesday at the regular luncheon and meeting of the Live Wires of the Commercial club. Dr. Frank Mount, a member of the medical reserve, was included as he is expecting a call to the service within a few days. The entertainment of the guests and the election of officers was the business before the organization Tuesday.

To succeed Christian Schuebel, the Wires elected John W. Loder as Main Trunk. Mr. Loder is a charter member of the organization and has missed very few meetings. This record was mentioned in his nomination. G. A. Harding, prominent pioneer and veteran of the Civil war, was elected sub-trunk; A. A. Price, Guy Wire, and G. Fred Johnson, secretary of the Commercial club's publicity committee, Transmission Wire. Other officers are appointed by the Main Trunk.

As a feature of the report of a committee appointed to have charge of the Y. M. C. A. campaign in this county, Sergeant Olson, who is stationed here with a guard detail, spoke of the work of the association at the Mexican border last summer and expressed the belief that the moral character of the Oregon regiment as a whole was largely due to the efforts of those in charge of the Y. M. C. A.

The Live Wires for the second time in a few weeks passed a resolution endorsing Ben S. Patton for reappointment as deputy game warden for this county. Some time ago the Wires voted to ask the fish and game commission to reappoint Mr. Patton, but the resolution did not reach that body.

In connection with the entertainment of the men who are leaving for the training camp, C. Schuebel made a splendid patriotic address and pointed out the citizen's duty toward the men who leave home for any branch of service. It was Mr. Schuebel's last talk as Main Trunk and he made up for a lot of lost time. O. D. Eby, president of the Commercial club, was another speaker.

Honored guests at the meeting Tuesday were Dr. Frank Mount, medical reserve, and Cecil W. Koffman, H. E. Williams and Earl C. Brownlee.

CLUB OFFER OFF

Postoffice Ruling Makes it Necessary to Recall Bargain

Of course, the Courier regrets that all who wished to take advantage of the fine combination offer it has been making on subscriptions recently failed to realize upon the opportunity, but at the same time we are glad that a multitude of Courier readers subscribed for this paper and the four standard magazines we have been offering.

All of which is occasioned by the sad fact that it is now too late to get the four magazines in connection with the Courier. This week our agents advised us that it is impossible to sell the combination at the old price. They say that this action is made necessary by a recent ruling of the postoffice department to the effect that second class mail must receive at least 50 per cent of their regular subscription price for each subscription. This new ruling, the agency tells us, temporarily knocks out all clubbing offers, and will do so until such time as the postal officials can see the folly of their ways.

EXERCISES JUNE 8

Mr. Tooez Announces Speakers for School Year's End

The annual commencement exercises at the Oregon City high school are being planned by the school board and City Superintendent F. J. Tooez for June 8, and L. R. Alderman, superintendent of the Portland schools, has promised to deliver the annual address. The grade school passing exercises for the eighth grade will be held on the forenoon of the same day, and J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, will deliver the address. Mr. Churchill's daughter is a teacher in the local high school.

The high school graduating class includes about 77 pupils, but the list has not been entirely completed by the superintendent. Diplomas will be issued to several young men who left their studies to join the army and navy. In the grade schools more than 100 children will finish the eighth grade work.

Sandy to Hear About Bonds

Ex-Governor Jay Bowerman and State Highway Commissioner S. Benson will explain the $5,000,000 road bond bill to the people of eastern Clackamas on Monday night, the 21st, at Sandy.

Normal School Data

The summer term of the Oregon Normal school will begin June 18; the fall semester September 10. For further particulars write to the registrar.

ERICKSON STAGES WILD WEST SHOW

TAVERN PROPRIETOR SHOOTS UP CLACKAMAS RESORT IN WILD STAMPEDE

OFFICERS FIND BOOZE GALORE

Machine Load of Booze, a Still and Two Slot Machines Taken From Place

In the wake of a "high lonesome," August Erickson, proprietor of the Clackamas Tavern three miles east of Oregon City, ran wild for a few hours Tuesday evening, during which time he staged a regular European barroom, shot up his place with 30-30 bullets, drove his wife from the house and was in complete command of the fort when officers arrested him about midnight. Erickson, who was for many years a saloon keeper in Portland, is now in the county jail, sobering up and incidentally awaiting to answer several charges which District Attorney Hedges will file against him today.

From Mrs. Erickson's story of the wild escapade, her escape was miraculous. Her husband became intoxicated early Tuesday night and was abusing her downstairs when A. Savie, who rooms at the tavern and farms an adjoining piece of land, asked from his room upstairs what the trouble was. This maddened Erickson, who ran upstairs with a big cleaver, and proceeded to chop down the door of Savie's room. The latter made his escape out through a window onto the roof and thence jumped to the ground. Crazed at Savie's escape, according to the story told the officials, Erickson went back down stairs and got his 30-30 rifle. As his wife appeared he fired point blank at her from the stair way, followed her up stairs and fired three more shots, breaking two windows. She escaped by climbing out on a fire escape and running barefooted into an adjoining grove near the tavern.

Sheriff Wilson was called and he and Deputy Frost rushed to the tavern immediately. Erickson made a dash for his gun on seeing the officers, but dropped his rifle when Sheriff Wilson told him in no uncertain terms that he would get into real serious trouble if he didn't drop it quickly.

While roaming about the place the officers discovered three partly filled whisky bottles in a small cupboard off the kitchen. Erickson claimed this liquor was some he manufactured himself for his own use, and that he had no other intoxicants on the place. The explanation was not entirely satisfactory, however, so Deputy Frost was left in charge of the tavern until Wednesday morning, when a search warrant was issued.

In a cleverly concealed cache the officials found some sixty bottles of assorted whiskeys, mostly high grade liquors. The stuff was found in a concrete tub, about 3x5x6 beneath a trap door, which lay under a door leading into an adjoining room. In addition they located a complete booze manufacturing outfit and also a "beer" plant which has been operated by Erickson, with some of the "snake-bite" in bottles and barrels.

Just what charges will be brought against Erickson has not been made known, but intimations from the district attorney's office are that they will range from prohibition violation to assault with a deadly weapon. Three guns were taken from the place.

Two slot machines, in working order, and each with an abundant supply of nickels, were also taken by the officers. These were in the main parlor and admissions were made that they were used by the guests. In all probability Erickson will face a charge for keeping these machines. Two federal liquor licenses were also found in the house.

Body Sent East

The remains of Mrs. F. L. Martin, who died here on Monday last, were sent to Minneapolis, Minn., on Saturday for burial beside relatives. Funeral services were held here at the Holman parlors by the Rev. J. R. Landsborough. A son, A. L. Martin, of Long Beach, Cal., accompanied the body to Minneapolis.

I. O. O. F. Makes Plans

Local members of the I. O. O. F. will take advantage of a special train passing through this city on May 21 for Eugene, where the convention of the order is to be held. A number of Oddfellows in this county will attend during the session from May 22 to 26, and will go to Eugene on the special.

Commemorate "Mother's Day"

The Union Pacific system will commemorate "Mother's Day" this year, May 13th. The observance of this day has grown into a very pretty custom by presenting white carnations to all guests of its dining cars and hotels on that day.

SATURDAY IS TO BE FARM DEFENSE DAY

ALL AGRICULTURAL ORGANIZATIONS ASKED TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION SATURDAY

On Saturday, May 12, afternoon or evening, all Granges, Farmers' unions and other agricultural organizations are asked to open their halls for public meetings to consider the preparedness plans of the government. This day is to be known all over the state as Agricultural Defense day. Any organization not having called a meeting should do so at once. Communities having no organization should get together at the school house or other meeting place. City and country alike should interest themselves in these meetings. Conditions are more serious than is generally realized and the entire resources of the nation should be rallied to her defense.

Every person who wishes to cooperate with the government in meeting the very serious conditions that now confront our nation in regard to its food supply and crop conditions should attend one of these meetings.

The government has a special message for every farmer and also wishes to secure from each one information as to his individual needs regarding seeds, labor, crops, machinery, etc. We should recognize it as patriotic duty to cooperate with the government in every way possible. We must produce a maximum crop this year.

A service office to assist will be established in Oregon City in charge of E. B. Fitts, assisted by T. D. Case, who represent the state and national departments of agriculture. Let these men know your needs for they will be in a position to help you in many ways. They will be in touch with conditions all over the country and state and federal government assistance will come to the farmer through their office.

If no provision has been made for a local leader to take charge of your meetings on May 12, get into touch with Mr. Fitts or, better still, call on him in Oregon City.

MISS WOOSTER REWARDED

The first prize in the essay contest, directed in Clackamas county schools by the 12 disciplines of road efficiency of the Oregon City Commercial club, has been awarded to Helen Wooster, a seventh grade pupil at Estacada. The girl earned $7.50 by her efforts and her essay is a very capable argument in favor of the proposed $6,000,000 bond issue.

BUILDING WILL START

Gladstone Sure to Have New Pavilion for Annual Assembly

Everything is in readiness for the commencement of construction on the new Gladstone park chalet-auditorium and the building committee of the Chautauqua association will direct its plans so that there will certainly be a new building for the annual assembly at the park this year. The contractors have set out their stakes and grading will be started at once. A cut of considerable proportions will have to be made at the north end of the new site and then there will be sufficient natural slope to the dirt floor to make it possible to see the stage from any part of the pavilion.

The site upon which the building will be placed is about 100 feet north of the present building, which has been in use for Chautauqua purposes for 23 years. The new site is admirable for the purpose, the building committee believes, because of the contour of the land. It will be necessary to remove some of the fine old trees about the park, but enough will be left nearby to make the spot beautiful.

NO BOOSTER DAY THIS YEAR

Vote Taken by Fred Johnson Shows Majority Against Annual Event

By a Vote of 46 to 37 the business men of Oregon City Wednesday decided to abandon the Booster Day for this year. The action was not a surprise as there has been a great deal of discussion as to the advisability of discontinuing the event on account of the war. Wednesday Fred Johnson of the publicity department of the Commercial club stuck a ballot box under his arm and made a house to house canvass among the publicity fund contributors and the result was as shown above. The action does not mean that the annual event will be discontinued for good, but only for this year.

Jones' Brother Dies

James W. Jones of this city received word from Orofino, Idaho, of the death Thursday of his brother, J. S. Jones, a prominent farmer in that section. Deceased was 67 years old and is said to have one of the largest land holdings in the Orofino neighborhood. He is known in Oregon City from the visits he made here.

DR. HUGH MOUNT IS RED CROSS LEADER

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF LOCAL CHAPTER SELECTS OFFICERS

MEMBERS PLAN MUCH WORK

Classes Will Meet in Masonic Building Four Afternoons Each Week From 2 to 5 p. m.

Dr. Hugh S. Mount, well known physician of this city, will head the local chapter of the American Red Cross, which elected officers at the Commercial club Wednesday evening. Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, A. R. Jacobs; second vice-president, Mrs. L. E. Jones; secretary, Theodore Osmund; treasurer, E. G. Caulfield; directors, Mrs. W. A. Dimick, Mrs. J. N. Wisner, James Cary, T. W. Sullivan and A. A. Price. H. Leighton Kelly was chosen chairman of the publicity committee. The military relief committee was selected as follows: Mrs. L. E. Jones, Mrs. J. N. Wisner, Mrs. James Cary, Mrs. Theodore Osmund and Mrs. H. B. Dixon of Gladstone.

Dr. Mount was the unanimous choice of the meeting, although he informed the members present that he expected to enter the actual army service at once in the medical department. A committee of four members consisting of Mrs. J. N. Wisner, Mrs. Theodore Osmund, Mrs. James Cary and Mrs. Linn Jones, which has been taking a special course in lectures and demonstration work under the direction of Miss Fuziar, a San Francisco expert, who has been lecturing in Portland recently, will have charge of the organization of classes for instruction in surgical dressing and bandaging. These classes will meet in the Masonic building from 2 to 5 o'clock on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Mrs. V. Harris has been appointed instructor of the knitting department.

GRILLS CHANGE HOURS

Potato Planting Plans Seem to Have Fallen by the Wayside

The Girls' Honor Guard has announced a change in its meeting night from Thursday to Tuesday, and the organization will meet at the Masonic hall instead of the Commercial club as heretofore. The usual drill will be held. The guard is planning for a dance in the near future and this and other matters are expected to call out a maximum attendance at meetings in the near future.

According to the reports of committees in charge of the agricultural activities of the guard, the potato planting work planned is probably doomed to failure because the girls cannot get land for their crops. Several pieces of property have been offered for such use, but in each case it is either untillable or so far away that cultivation by the girls in their spare time is impossible. Recently the girls secured and prepared a large number of seed potatoes, but have had no opportunity of putting them in the ground.

BREAD GOES UP

Bakers Announce Raise in Price to Keep Up With Their Costs

Effective Monday, the price of bread has soared in Oregon City in keeping with the flight of prices in the larger centers. The 5-cent loaf will be discontinued entirely and in its place a 10-cent loaf will be sold. A wrapped loaf, slightly smaller than the unwrapped loaf, will be sold for 10 cents and the large size 15-cent loaf is an innovation on the local market. The large loaf will be wrapped.

The bakers point out that, where as flour was formerly $4.50 a barrel, it is now $13.50, and sugar has advanced from $4 to $8.50, the 5-cent loaf had to be cut in size until it cannot be called a loaf any more, and it cannot be made smaller without injuring the quality. Special efforts will be made to promote the sale of the new 15-cent loaves.

GRANGE PLANS CAMPAIGN

Farmers From All Over County Take Part in Food Preparedness Work

Grange and other agricultural organizations of the county sent representatives to Oregon City today to meet with E. B. Fitts of the Oregon Agricultural college, who has been chosen to direct the food preparedness campaign for this and Washington county. A large crowd met at the Commercial club rooms at one o'clock, where the plans were detailed for increasing the food production of the county.

The publicity department of the Commercial club has offered to cooperate with the plan in any way possible and will assist in maintaining an office here during the summer months for those who have charge of the campaign.

GUARDS TAKE KROKER AND SAY HE IS SPY

GERMAN WITH ILLEGAL INFORMATION TURNED OVER TO FEDERAL OFFICIALS

The suspicious actions of Edward Kroker, alleged German reservist, caused Corporal Thomson of company D to arrest the man Friday at Estacada. Upon searching the man the soldiers found what they supposed to be binding proof of his guilt and immediately summoned Sheriff Wilson. Thursday night Kroker was brought to this city and District Attorney Hedges made very short work of turning him over to federal authorities at Portland.

That Kroker has been doing spy duty for the German government seems certain to officials here. Upon the man were found a pass into Mexico and some South American currency. Officers believe he has recently been in Mexico and South America. Kroker also had a notebook in which he had listed the names of most of the important army posts in the United States and he did not attempt to explain the matter Thursday.

When Kroker was questioned Friday by Captain Harry Hulse, of company D, summoned from Portland, and Corporal Thomson, his captor, he said he was in the Estacada country for a fishing trip. The corporal, however, testifies that fishing was not occupying much of the man's attention. Kroker told the officers that he had taken out his first papers at Newark, N. J., and, of course, denied any intimation that he was a spy. The theory that Kroker is demented is laughed at by officers, and in their certainty that he is very sane and has much improper knowledge, they have been careful to see that federal authorities have all the details of the case.

NATION WILL BE AID TO FARMS IN STATE

BOYS MORE USEFUL ON FARMS NOT TO BE DRAFTED, PRES. KERR IS ADVISED

President W. J. Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college, after a two-day conference with government officials, left Washington for home Monday bearing assurance that not less than $50,000 of federal funds would be allotted to Oregon for the employment of 18 county agents and 23 assistants to cooperate with agents already in the field lending aid to farmers and striving to increase Oregon's crop production this year.

This allotment is contingent upon an appropriation which congress is expected soon to make. Some of the best equipped farmers, as well as graduates of the Oregon Agricultural college, will be employed, and under this plan every county in Oregon will have at least one agent, and the larger counties two each.

Professor Kerr, at a joint conference with the secretary of war and secretary of agriculture, was told that under the new conscription plan young men of draft age who are useful on farms will not be accepted for army service, but will be given some insignia indicative that their work on the farm is regarded by the government as every bit as important as service they might render under arms. It was shown that 1100 of the 1700 men who entered the Oregon National guard were from the farms, a fact the cabinet officers deplored, but one they may not be able to correct very extensively.

Professor Kerr was told, however, that National guardsmen who are farm specialists probably would be relieved from duty as asked, to return either to act as county agents or to operate their own farms.

Calling on Secretary Lane, Professor Kerr urged that the 640-acre grazing homestead law be suspended during the war, as it is seriously interfering with stock growing and has caused much complaint among cattle and sheep men, whose range is being cut down.

Senator Lane said he had no authority to suspend the law. Congress alone can do that, he explained. Professor Kerr, in conference with the adjutant-general of the army, promised to keep the students at the Agricultural college under military training to the end of the term. He asked for additional equipment for the college, especially machine guns and three-inch field pieces. Nothing can be done now along this line, but assurance was given that the equipment would be sent by the opening of the fall term.

Desertion is Charged

Desertion is the charge made in a divorce complaint filed here Thursday by M. L. Morris, who seeks separation from Mrs. Ella P. Morris. The couple were married at Portland in 1907, and the wife left her husband in April, 1916, the complaint says. There are no children and Mr. Morris agrees to an equitable division of property.

The Oregon City Courier and the Oregon Daily Journal (except Sunday) for $4.75.

PREPAREDNESS IS THEME OF TALKS

AGRICULTURE CAMPAIGN GETS BIG RECEPTION FROM PUPILS AND ALL

WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL STOP

Instructors With Train Do Good Work in Preaching for More Farm Work

Representatives from the Agricultural college were speakers at the high school Monday morning. The boys of the upper three high school grades were addressed in Room 9. The first year high school pupils and seventh and eighth grades from the city schools occupied Room 10.

Prof. Lamb began his talk by telling about poultry raising in Europe at the present time. He stated that there are about 100 breeds of chickens, the general purpose chicken being the better for most persons to raise. He recommended in this condition the Plymouth Rock, Rhode Island Red and Wyandottes, which, while good layers, are of sufficient size to be valuable for table purposes. He gave instruction in feeding fowls, stating that green foods are necessary and that 30 kale plants furnish green food for an ordinary flock for one year.

There should be 2 lots in connection with poultry raising, one for gardening, the other for chickens, alternating these lots every year. The average hen lays about 80 eggs a year, but should lay more than 100 in order to be profitable, as her cost is approximately $2 per year, he said. Trap nests are of value in finding out, which hens lay the most eggs. In addition to green foods, it is necessary for the best results to feed some meat, buttermilk, or sour milk. He recommended the preservation of eggs in "water glass" for winter use.

Prof. Brown in his address on gardening said one should have: A good plan; good seed; good fertilizer, and good care. Space should not be wasted in planting. Berries and permanent crops should be planted on the side of the garden. Crops should be rotated. The garden for home use should grow vegetables which cost the most, but for marketing only staple vegetables. Seed should always be tested before planting, using care to select seeds acclimated to Oregon. He spoke of diseases and suggested the following solution in which to soak seed: 4 ounces corrosive sublimate, 40 gallons water; immerse for 1½ hours.

Miss Zoa Brown, head of the domestic science department of the high school, introduced to the girls and visitors present, Miss Turley of the Agricultural college, who gave a very instructive talk on food conservation. As the meat supply for the ensuing year may be small she urged the substitution of milk, cheese, eggs and nuts, which have practically the same food value, for meat. She also pointed out the many ways of food waste in the home, and urged each one to do her share in economizing.

Then Miss Helen Cowgill, also from the Agricultural college, demonstrated the various steps in the cold pack method of canning. She also suggested that the school girls and Honor Guard girls can enough fruit and vegetables to furnish the community's needs. In concluding she announced that the college would gladly send any information desired on the food question.

It is the opinion of every member of the Southern Pacific O. A. C. food preparedness campaign party that the day here was one of the most satisfactory days of the tour. The audience at the high school in the forenoon seemed to display an interest far greater than usual.

During the four lectures—by Professor Brown on gardening, by Professor Lamb on poultry, by Miss Cowgill on home canning and Miss Turley on domestic science—there was not a person, young or old, in the room who was not deeply interested. It may just be possible that the lecturers, after two hard weeks, had become a bit stale. When one gives the same lecture from two to four times a day for two weeks it seems that staleness would creep in, nine cases out of ten.

So perhaps it was a day's rest that caused the rejuvenation, that made the sun shine brighter, that brought audiences and speakers into closer fellowship. During the afternoon the meetings in the cars were well attended and just as well received as at the high school in the forenoon. "There was less use of our coming here than most places we have visited," said one of the party, "for these Oregon City people have their school garden plans well developed, and not only this city but every community in the county will do its full share in the food campaign."

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses were issued here Tuesday to Madis Myrl Bonney and Ona Klinger, of Molalla, and to Dorothy Burgess and Jasper L. White, of Oregon City.

ENDEAVOR SOCIETY ELECTS AT MEETING

SECOND ANNUAL CONVENTION AT GLADSTONE IS SUCCESS. SEVERAL SPEAK

The Clackamas County Christian Endeavor union held its second annual convention at the Gladstone Christian church Saturday and Sunday with an attendance of over 70 delegates, from Estacade, Springfield, Wichita, Jennings Lodge, Parkplace, Gladstone, Clackamas and Oregon City.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Jennie Mullan, Wichita; 1st vice-president, Lorraine Ostrom, Jennings Lodge; 2nd vice-president, George Woodward, Oswego; secretary, Lewis Jones, Estacade; treasurer, C. N. Harlow, Oregon City; missionary sup't, Miss Marian White, Oregon City; evangelistic sup't, Miss Anna Rineason, Gladstone; Quiet Hour sup't, William Kessi, Jennings Lodge; secretary of Campaign for Millions, Miss Shirlee Swallow, Milwaukie; lookout sup't, Lorraine Ostrom; publicity sup't, William Miller, Oregon City; advisors, Dr. Roy A. Prudden and Rev. J. A. McCallum, Oregon City, and Rev. O. L. Curtis, Gladstone.

An unusually large delegation was present from eastern Clackamas. Although they have been in the union only a short time, they are confident of establishing Christian Endeavor firmly in their district.

Among the main features of the program were discussions of Christian Endeavor methods, led by Miss Estella Ford, Miss Eleanor Ewing, Miss Shirlee Swallow, Lloyd Carrick and G. Evert Baker, and speeches on Bible study by Dr. W. T. Milliken, Oregon City; "Looking Up," Rev. E. Gilbert, Oregon City; "Looking On in Christian Endeavor," Lloyd Carrick, Portland; "A Challenge to Young People," Rev. A. J. Sullens, Portland; "Christian Endeavor Progress," G. Evert Baker, Oak Grove; and a decision service led by Dr. George B. Pratt, Portland.

Entertainment for the delegates was provided by the people of Gladstone. The Ladies' Aid of the Christian church served a salmon dinner Saturday evening which the young people will long remember. Special musical numbers were rendered by the Gladstone orchestra and Homer Hollowell.

TEACHERS TO MEET

Plans for Clackamas County Day Are Expected to Take Shape

A teacher's institute is to be held on Saturday at the Eastham grade school building, under the direction of the Clackamas County Teachers' association, of which J. R. Bowland of this city is secretary. All county teachers have been requested to attend the institute and help in plans for Clackamas county's participation in the coming convention of the National Education association. A committee planning for a Clackamas county day in connection with the convention will report at the meeting Saturday. O. M. Plummer of Portland has been asked to attend and aid in completing the plans of this committee.

Topics for discussion will be announced soon, according to Robert Goetz, of Milwaukie, president of the county association. The committee in charge of Clackamas county day at the convention is composed of F. J. Tooez, Oregon City; A. K. Wilson, Oswego; Walter Givens, Estacade; F. M. Roth, Canby; C. E. Spence, Hoff; Harvey Starkweather, Milwaukie, and O. D. Eby, Oregon City.

SIX ARE CALLED

Service at Presidio, San Francisco, is Lot of Local Men

Oregon City's quota of student officers, ordered to report for the officers' reserve corps training camp at San Francisco this week, was placed at six when H. E. Williams, Arthur Caylor, Earl C. Brownlee, Cecil Koffman, Lloyd Harding and Hugh D. Broomfield received instructions. Mr. Williams, who is exalted ruler of the Oregon City lodge of Elks, has been in various branches of the military service for 16 years. He was formerly captain of a Portland company in the Oregon national guard. His business partner, Ben Beard, has also applied for admittance to the training camp. Arthur Caylor is night editor of the Morning Enterprise and was the second active man on "newspaper row" to be called. Broomfield is a Reed college student, and is a son of the Rev. Thomas Broomfield of Gladstone.

Lloyd B. Harding, instructor in the Oregon City high school, left for the training camp Monday night. Earl C. Brownlee, associate editor of the Courier, left Wednesday. On Thursday Cecil W. Koffman and Arthur Caylor will leave and on the following day Mr. Williams and Mr. Broomfield will depart. Other Oregon City men expecting the call are H. Leighton Kelly, Harry G. Smith and Ben Beard.

Would Appoint Guardian

A petition was filed in the county court Tuesday asking the appointment of a guardian for W. T. Tinsley of Parkplace, who is said to be an incompetent.
