

CLEAN SWEEP SALE

Values that will seem impossible owing to the advance in price of all raw materials

Busch's Great Carpet Sweeper Special

An easy-running, clean-sweeping vacuum sweeper that will give good service for years. It is six inches high at the highest point, yet this extremely low height has been made without sacrifice in either suction or sweeping qualities. The case is of selected, reinforced hardwood, finished in mahogany with nickel trimmings. Size 6 inches high, 18 inches long, 10 1/2 inches wide. The sweeper brush is of genuine bristles, driven by four rubber-tired wheels operating positively on both forward and backward strokes. Axle rod is mounted on roller bearings, which insures easy running. The air box is nailed and set with hot glue under high pressure, and the similar method of attaching the bellows insures no leakage and a strong suction. The litter pans are large and roomy, and the dirt comes out at a tap without soiling hands or clothing.

The regular price of this sweeper anywhere is $7.50. Buy one today for only - - - $4.95

G. R. HYSLOP,

Care of O. A. C., Corvallis.

Whenever practicable, the housewife should dry her winter supply of fruits and vegetables and the following suggestions may be of assistance in two very valuable articles of food that are usually canned.

String Beans should be prepared as for cooking and then dried in the sun or a warming oven. They will keep nicely all winter and are very delicious, but they must be soaked over night before using. By parboiling the beans before drying, they require less cooking afterward.

Rhubarb should be cut into short lengths and dried in the sun or a warming oven.

For canning rhubarb, cut into pieces 1 1/2 inches long, scald 1 to 2 minutes and cold dip, then pack tight in sterilized jars. Three pounds will fill a quart jar. Make a syrup of one cup sugar to 1/2 cup water. It will be sufficient for one quart. Fill crevices with syrup, put on cover, partially tighten and sterilize 20 minutes.

It is very essential that eggs for cold storage or preservation in water-glass should be clean, yet they must not be washed. They must not be allowed to become damp, either by allowing rain to fall upon them, or by storing them in a place which is alternately damp and cool and dry and warm. It is almost impossible to cold-store an egg which is allowed to become moist on the surface. Washing removes the mucous coating on the shell, thus allowing bacteria to penetrate the shell more easily. Dirty eggs should be discarded.

The eggs should be stored in a clean container in a dry, cool place.

Eggs collected in case lots for a central cold-storage plant must never be stored, even for a short time, in the vicinity of a moisture condensation which appears on the surface of the eggs and causes bacterial growth.

—T. D. Beckwith, Professor of Bacteriology at O. A. C.

He Almost Fell Down

A. M. Hunsucker, Bogue Chitto, Miss., felt so grateful because of being freed from pain and distress that he wrote the following letter: "I was suffering from rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, also dizziness; would almost fall down at times. I started taking Foley Kidney Pills and two boxes gave me entire relief." Disordered kidneys give warning by pains in side and back, rheumatic aches, sore muscles, swollen joints, puffiness under eyes, tired and languid feeling.—Jones Drug Co.

HOMEDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn, who have been on the sick list, are getting along nicely.

Henry Hornshuh of Portland was visiting his brother Edward Sunday.

Mrs. Hassler and Mina Blumh were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Gwillin Monday.

T. Blackburn was doing some farming for C. Mayfield this week.

Mrs. Christina Blumh is making her home with her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Harris, at Lone Oak Farm.

"Patriotism" and "Charity" begin at "Home." Some people have to go on the house-tops to proclaim both, but when a poor old cripple comes to their door and asks for a quarter or a dime they cold-bloodedly refuse. Brother don't wait until you get to Belgium to do your "little bit." Do it NOW. Yesterday is gone forever, tomorrow may never come, but today is yours; use it.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harris will entertain the 500 card club at their home Saturday night.

A. P. Hassler had the misfortune to lose a calf; bloated in the clover field. Homedale needs a hospital?

Miss Ida May is at home with her parents at present.

Miss Beulah Hornshuh, who has been in California for the past four months, is expected to arrive home this week.

C. Muralt has been doing some plowing for the Honor Guard girls. You're right in it, Christ!

We miss Lulu, but Homedale joins in their heartiest and best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous wedded life.

FIGHT AUTOCRACY WITH HOE

E. C. Dye Addresses Mt. Pleasant Community and Commercial Clubs

Last Saturday night, the Commercial club and Mr. Pleasant Improvement clubs were addressed by E. C. Dye, at request of Mr. Case, in the absence of Prof. Fitts. The speaker thought it wise to show the relative importance of the war in history, and food preparedness in the waging of the same. He explained that all the entente allies, or four fifths of the inhabitants of the globe, and three fourths of its area were practically under republican forms of government, whereas in 1776 only a few free cities, together with the Swiss and Netherlands had freedom in the limited sense of being protests against autocracy. These were the only permanent results of centuries of effort, including especially the abortive attempts of Greece and Rome. In 1776 Rousseau and the French writers had prepared the minds of the people for freedom but had not told how it was to be done, and he made the mistake of teaching that the people should choose the government and then give it absolute power. The crafty Napoleon, in the guise of furthering freedom, got control first of France, and then of Europe, and when the time was ripe, switched the government into an autocracy. Meanwhile the United States had freed itself, and invented a system of government by the people in which they retained checks upon the government. This idea was soon adopted by France, and the American idea of a government for the people with checks by them, has accomplished the results set out hereinbefore.

The principle at stake in 1917 is whether this movement should stop, or not. America says it shall not. The Kaiser says it shall. If he wins this war it is quite possible that the old conditions would be brought back. The Kaiser, by his educational system, compulsion, and playing upon the hearts and sympathies of the Germans, both at home and abroad, has misled them. Mr. Dye asserted that the real interests of the Germans as individuals lay in seeing that democracy survived, as the Kaiser had already robbed them of a large share of their liberties, and would take more when he got a chance. The pressure of population and democratic spirit in Germany had done the most good for Germany, and the Kaiser has usurped the credit for the same.

Finance, food, fighters and fighting equipment will win the world war. America must feed the entente allies, besides itself, in the face of a serious food and labor shortage. The winter wheat crop is 25 per cent short, and that would feed 20,000,000 people, one fifth of our population, one year. Plant wheat, he said, and where you can't plant barley in preference to other grains. Grow all that can be grown to feed man and beast. The master crop should be potatoes, as they are heavy and the railroads will be shortly taxed to the utmost. Store all that can be stored, feed all the waste to some animals, and don't destroy breeding animals. He explained the state and county work, and the clearing house for seeds, labor, equipment and expert advice located at the Commercial club publicity department in Oregon City. Everybody should call there to get pointers, literature and census blanks so that the government may not miscalculate.

DULL AND SHARP SHOOTING PAINS

Michigan Lady Suffered Such Pains In Back and Head, But Says Cardui Stopped These Bad Spells.

Palmyra, Mich.—Mrs. Chas. T. Fuller, of this place, writes: "In 1911 I got run-down, and I suffered great pain...with both dull and sharp shooting pains...also back and head. I was weak and could only drag around, and should have been in bed, for I really wasn't able to be up. At times I would have spells that would be so bad I'd have to go to bed, and suffered intensely....

I decided to try Cardui, and saw a great improvement in less than a month's time. I used 7 or 8 bottles and was stronger....I got so much better that my strength returned and my work was easy for me. Cardui did me a world of good. It built me up in health and strength. I haven't had one of those bad spells since. I haven't had to take any more medicine since or have any doctors either and have been able to do my work right along....I recommend it to other women highly as the best medicine I know of for women who suffer from female trouble."

If you suffer from female troubles, follow this advice. Get a bottle of Cardui today and give it a thorough trial. It should help you, as it has helped thousands of other women in the past 40 years. At all druggists.
