Upper Garfield, April 26, 1917

Taxidermist Tom Carter, has just finished making into rugs the two large congers that were killed by A. G. Ames, in this vicinity last winter.

The Garfield Grange held one of its regular semi-monthly meetings at the hall last Saturday evening, for the young people, who spend the time playing games and having a social time. Some improvements are being made by setting out trees and erecting a flag pole in the grange yard and otherwise beautifying the place.

Millard Sarver has purchased a Chevrolet, which he will use to give the new baby and mother an outing.

Continued rain is preventing the farmers from doing their plowing and other farm work necessary, this time of the year, and it is to be hoped that better weather will soon be here.

Mr. Bohler and family of five boys and two girls, are the latest arrivals in this district, having commenced building a home on a forty acre piece of land in section five, just east of the Markwart place. It is said that other new families are expected to settle here sometime during the coming summer, which is very pleasing news, as there is plenty of unimproved land here and all are welcome. The more the merrier.

Although the creeks are all pretty well up with the water now, the fishing is unusually good in most of them, and some very good catches of trout have been reported by the local fishermen.

Tom Carter and H. A. LaBarre succeeded in planting a few acres of spuds last week between showers.

On account of the special tax of ten mills voted in district forty-nine not being collected this year, occasioned by the budget meeting being held before the proper time and therefore declare illegal, we are much disappointed in view of the fact that there will not be funds enough to put down the amount of crushed rock on the Rawlins and Kemp Lemon roads that was anticipated. We understand and hope it is true that a request has been made to the county court to give the district some financial aid this year, to get as much improving done on these roads as possible in order that they may be in condition to travel over next winter.

While there has been a number of chicken houses raided in this part of the county. There has also, disappeared from Log La Barre, two halfers, two years old, and as they have not been seen or heard from since search has been made of the entire country, it looks very much as if some one has been after fresh meat, as will as chicken. It certainly is a mystery what has become of them.

Arthur Bowman, and Marie Smith of the Sarter school, received county championship spelling diplomas, at the recent contest in Estacada.

Mr. and Mrs. Markwart, and family spent Sunday visiting with Mr. George Cook and family.

ROBBERS LOOT STORE AT WILSONVILLE AND MAKE THEIR GET-AWAY

WILSONVILLE, Or., April 25.—(Special).—Unknown burglars Tuesday night forced an entry to Hayden's store here and carried away 21 pairs of shoes.

Officers on the look-out for the men are baffled. They believe that the robbers are members of a gang which is passing through the country. Similar burglaries have been recently reported at Hillsboro, Aurora and other towns.

The men entered the store through the use of a pass key. Apparently they had little trouble in getting in although the door was thought to be securely locked.

H. D. Hayden, the owner, in making a survey of his stock upon discovery of the robbery, stated that he believed nothing but the shoes, which in this time of war prices represent a considerable haul, had been taken.

MACKSBURG.

MACKSBURG, Or., April 26.—Pres. Wilson's appeal to patriotic citizens to work with renewed energy on account of the war, has found an echo in every rancher's heart. The high cost of living, however, had antedated the president's injunction by sending us to that best of all earthly friends, Mother Nature, for help in combating this octopus—remorseless Cost. For weeks we have been watching the lowering skies and listening to the falling rain, impatiently longing for the sunshine to put the soil into shape for work.

Now, it has come, forty-eight hours surcease of the rain, with the bright sunshine of a day that is longer than the night, aided by brisk winds have set the plows going, the atmosphere is redolent with the scent of newly turned earth, and vocal with the song of birds—two spring-like conditions for which we have waited long. Soon the seed will be in a soil moist enough to put the summer drought far away.

This moisture, combined with the late spring warmth must cause rapid germination and growth. The children, even, are vying with each other in getting every possible benefit from the soil and are insisting upon apportionments of ground for themselves. Not a square foot of available land will go to waste.

The desire for more area to plant has resulted in many a fertile spot being cleared of its rubbish and fenced by children's unaided hands, and will be planted and harvested by them alone.

Like the ever-increasing size of an Alpine snow-ball, seems the growing interest in the Tax-payers' leagues. A new league was formed last week at Needy. Carl Hilton was chosen president and Ernest Wirner, secretary. The regular monthly meeting of the Eby league was held at their school house on Friday evening. The usual interest was shown and the following resolutions adopted: First—Commending the action of the county assessor in refusing to raise the farmers' taxes; second, condemning the six million bond issue; third, condemning increase of county officers' salaries; fourth, condemning school supervisor system. All of the leagues held large and earnest sessions at their regular places of meeting.

Frank Hilton with his son, Ivan, has been for a few days, staying at his ranch here, with the view of negotiating a sale of the place.

Patrick Gibson has returned home from Bend, where he has been staying for some time.

Frank Schultz, though still suffering from a sprained knee, is going about the ranch.

HAZELIA.

(By Hattie E. Wanker)
