GEO. STEELE KILLED FALLS UNDER TRUCK

AUTO TRUCK RUNS OVER BOR-
ING MAN, BREAKING HIS NECK

George Steele, old resident of the Boring district, who lived at Haley Station, was instantly killed Sunday when his auto truck ran over him. He was 72 years of age, and had just recently learned to operate the truck, which he used to haul stuff from Portland to his farm.

Sunday, on the return trip from Portland, as he neared his home, the engine became stalled on a steep hill near his place. He got out to crank the machine, but failed to put on the emergency brake. When the engine started, the vibration caused the machine to start down the hill, and when found by a neighbor, Mr. Steele was doubled up under the rear axle, dead. Coroner Johnson and Dr. Hempstead arrived upon the scene early Monday morning, and found that the man had been killed by a rear wheel of the machine passing over his neck. The watch carried by the unfortunate man was found upon his person and had stopped at 9:09 p. m., about the time the accident occurred.

Deceased was a native of Nova Scotia, and resided in California for some time, later coming to Portland to live, where he resided until about four years ago, when he moved to Haley Station. He is survived by his wife and a brother at Palm Beach, Florida. Funeral arrangements have not been made as yet.

THREE ARRESTED FOR DELINQUENCY OF MINORS

George and Arthur McKinnis and Cecil Stewart were arrested Friday on the complaint of contributing to the delinquency of minors, and Sheriff Wilson brought the trio in from Canby on a warrant from the district attorney's office. The minors in question are three young Oregon City girls, aged 15, 16 and 17 years and are daughters of well known people.

It is alleged that the boys invited the girls out for a joy ride in their machine, which lasted all night Thursday, and two of the girls were afraid to come home and ran away. The girls were brought in by Juvenile Officer Church, and after confessing to Deputy District Attorney Barker, warrants were sworn out for the young men. The young men had a hearing before Judge Sievers Friday, and waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to the grand jury. Stewart was released on $250 bonds, and the other two are being held.

DEBOK GETS VALUABLE SWINE FROM THE DALLES

George DeBok, of Willamette, a breeder of prize swine, has just returned from The Dalles, where he attended a sale of Duroc-Jersey swine, purchasing two of the most valuable of the lot. The sale was on the C. R. Doyle farm, and attracted a good deal of attention. Mr. DeBok purchased gifts of the Duroc breed, and plans to exhibit them at the county and state fairs this year. In former years he has carried off most of the prizes with his swine. He went to Barlow Saturday morning to attend a horse sale at that place.

AURORA-SALEM HIGHWAY WORK IS STARTED SAT.

Work on the Pacific Highway between Aurora and Salem was started last week, when a crew of men began operations on the Dick farm, south of Aurora. The big mixing plant will be located on the Dick farm. The $2000 scoop, which scrapes the gravel from Pudding river into the bunkers, has arrived from Portland, and that work will commence soon.

DEDMAN, OF ALASKA, ON VISIT HERE—RUNS HOTEL

George Dedman, formerly a school teacher in this county, but now engaged in the hotel business at Skagway, Alaska, is visiting his brother, E. P. Dedman, of Clackamas. Mr. Dedman owns a large hotel at that place, which is a center for tourists in Alaska. He will visit with his brother, Dr. H. A. Dedman, of Canby, before returning north.

Sues on Note

H. C. Stevens entered suit Friday against Agnette M. Fernman, R. C. Fernman, and the Bank of Mount Angel, to collect on a note for $600, given by the Fernmans November 28, 1914. The note was to run three years at seven per cent interest. A mortgage on Clackamas county property secured the note. Stevens claims that nothing has been paid on the note except the interest to May 28, 1918, and he asks foreclosure of the mortgage to satisfy his claim. He also asks that the claims of the Bank of Mount Angel to interest in the property be set aside. The plaintiff states that $60 has been paid as fire insurance, which he is asking for, along with $100 as attorney's fees.

FARMERS ATTEND "WIRES" MEETING

DRIVE FOR LIVESTOCK SHOW
STARTS WITH A FLOURISH;
BREEDERS INTERESTED

PROMINENT MEN UNDERWRITE

Clackamas County People Back Up
Exposition Which Will Benefit
County Generally

The Live Wire luncheon and meeting Tuesday was turned over to the livestock men and farmers of this county, and about 80 farmers, livestock men and Wires gathered around the table.

O. M. Plummer, general manager of the Pacific Livestock exposition, was the principal speaker on the program, and was secured by the Live Wires to come to this city and explain the purpose of the livestock exposition to be held in Portland this year, and the big drive for funds to erect an exposition building, to be the largest of its kind in the world. Mr. Plummer said that all money raised outside of Portland for the exposition building and the financing of the exposition, would be matched by a like amount by the Portland business men. He pointed out the advantages to Clackamas county which would derive from the exposition, and in a forceful manner convinced those in attendance how the exposition would help each individual business man.

Mr. Plummer is out to raise a fund of $250,000 for the building and exposition, and has already raised over half this amount in the different counties in Oregon. The quota for this county will be $2500, and at the end of the meeting, Mr. Plummer called for prominent men to underwrite this amount for this county. The amount was promptly vouched for by Grant B. Dimick, W. P. Hawley, Jr., George W. Buck, The Bank of Oregon City, Bank of Commerce, A. T. and J. Hughes, John T. Whalley, A. R. Jacobs and M. D. Latourette.

When the exposition building is completed and the fund raised for its maintenance, it will be the largest and best exhibition of its kind in the Pacific Northwest, and will attract some of the most noted livestock men in the world, according to Mr. Plummer. Already the big Guernsey, Jersey and other breeders of fine cattle have contributed large amounts toward the success of the movement. Mr. Plummer was accompanied to this city by C. M. McAllister, field agent for the Portland Union Stockyards, and Geo. A. Pierson, president and general manager of the yards. Both men made excellent addresses in favor of the big exposition.

Mrs. A. I. Hughes, who has made Clackamas county famous for its fine Guernsey pure bred cattle, also addressed the assembly and related her experiences in introducing the Guernsey breed in this county. Mrs. Hughes last year shipped the first carload of pure bred Guernsey cattle ever shipped from the Northwest.

Among the well known breeders of this county who attended the meeting were: George W. Buck, R. L. Badger, A. A. Spangle, W. F. Harris, Mrs. A. I. Hughes, J. W. Smith, also John Hoffmeister, of Damascus; J. T. Whalley, of Portland.

MILLIKEN AND KELLOGG RETURN HERE WITH 69th

Frank Milliken, youngest son of Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Milliken, of this city, arrived in Portland Wednesday with the 69th Coast Artillery, and was here for a few hours late yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon, visiting his parents. He left for Portland to join the company the same evening, where they will proceed to Camp Lewis to be mustered out of the service.

SOLDIER SUES FOR DIVORCE AFTER COMING FROM FRANCE

Leon T. Draper, recently mustered from the service after returning from overseas, has entered suit for divorce from Lena Draper. He alleges that she associated with other men while he was in the service, and asks a divorce and the custody of the minor child of the couple. Judge Campbell Tuesday ordered the child placed in the father's custody for the present time.

Jess and Ronella Dunmire were declared owners in fee simple of 80 acres of land in Clackamas county Friday in a decree handed down in their suit against Lizzie Janet Mann.

LOYALTY LEAGUE TO HOLD BIG MEETING

EACH BRANCH IN COUNTY IS REQUESTED TO SEND DELEGATES

Representatives of all the Loyalty leagues in Clackamas county are requested to attend a mammoth meeting at the court house next Saturday morning. The purpose of the meeting, according to Judge Anderson, is reconstruction work for the coming year, and a review of work done by all leagues in the county during the past year.

Judge Anderson asks that each branch of the Loyalty league send in delegates and representatives to this meeting, as it will be one of the most important gatherings of the League since its origination. "Be sure and send a delegate," says the judge, as the different branches of the League will be instructed through him or her. An excellent speaker has been secured for the occasion, and a fine program is assured.

Remember the date—NEXT SATURDAY, 10:30 a. m.—at the court-house in Oregon City.

STATE CRIMINAL CASES TO BEGIN NEXT MONDAY

The Spring criminal docket opens Monday morning in the circuit court and criminal cases will occupy a large part of the week before Judge Campbell and the circuit court jury. Four cases have been set for trial, and several others which have arisen during the past week, are awaiting grand jury action.

The case of State vs. C. M. Hall is set for 9:30 Monday morning. The action is one of obtaining money under false pretenses. Hall is said to have purchased a valuable Belgian stallion from a Clackamas county farmer and giving in payment therefor a bogus check for $500.

Lawrence Forsythe is to be tried on Tuesday on a burglary charge. He, with "Slim" Brown, is accused of having robbed a garage in the Beaver Creek country some time ago. They were jointly indicted by the grand jury and Brown, who was held in jail in default of bail, escaped some time ago by sawing the bars of the jail. Forsythe is to be tried alone.

Wm. Covell is to be tried Wednesday on a statutory charge, his 12-year-old daughter being the prosecutrix. Covell formerly lived in Canemah. His wife died during the first influenza epidemic.

The bigamy case brought against Wm. Lindau is to be tried Thursday. Lindau is alleged to have changed wives some time ago and the prosecution was brought at the instance of the wife he attempted to discard. Following the criminal trials the grand jury will probably be called as a full docket of bindovers is awaiting the consideration of this body.

BROKE INTO BAKERY— TWO BOYS ARRESTED

Lester Murphy and Lyle Hadley were arrested by Night Officer Cooke late Monday night, charged with breaking into the Peerless bakery on Seventh street.

Officer Cooke, while making his rounds, saw someone in the building Monday night, but thought it was one of the firm working late. Upon closer investigation, and upon calling for an answer from the inside and receiving none, he was convinced that there was something wrong. He entered the bakery, and found the two boys trying to hide inside. When searched, the boys had nothing on their persons, and were taken into custody. They are about 18 years of age, and made their entrance to the bakery by the use of a skeleton key.

There has been an epidemic of small burglaries by boys in this city during the past few weeks, and the officials are resolved to put a stop to the practice, if the force has to be doubled.

M'KALE FOUND GUILTY; END OF CRAWFISH CASE

Thos. MacKale, W. I. Hutchinson and Jennie Davis, the trio who were arrested at the famous "Crawfish House" some time ago on the charge of bootlegging, and who put up $1500 bail to appear for trial here yesterday, did not appear. MacKale was the only one of the three to appear, and Judge Seivers will sentence the man today. Hutchinson sent a physician's affidavit to the court showing that he was confined to his home in Portland on account of sickness. MacKale, at the trial yesterday, pleaded guilty as charged.

SOLDIER RECORDS DISCHARGE PAPERS WITH CITY RECORDER

The first discharge papers of a returned soldier to be placed on file here were filed Tuesday with Recorder Noe. The discharge papers of the soldiers are being sent to Washington, D. C., to secure the $60 bonus allowed by the government, and the young man who filed his Tuesday took this means of recording his, in case they might be lost in the mail.

GOV. WITHYCOMBE DIES SUDDENLY

OREGON'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE
SUCCUMBS TO HEART
TROUBLE MONDAY

OLCOTT BECOMES GOVERNOR

People Shocked by Death of Man
Who Guided State's Destiny
Through Strenuous Days

Oregon's war governor has passed beyond, but his record will be entered upon the pages of the state's history recording deeds accomplished during the great war period, which called for a steady hand and a level head during the chaos of war times in this state.

Governor James Withycombe died at his home at the state capital Monday night at 8:45 o'clock. His death was due to heart disease, after having been confined to his bed for several days. His son, Earl, his daughter, Mabel, and his wife were with him at the time of his death. His death came as a great shock to the people of Oregon, although aware of his critical illness.

Governor Withycombe is survived by his widow, and four children: Harry Withycombe, of Harve, Mont.; Robert Withycombe, superintendent of the O. A. C. experiment station at Union, Ore.; Earl Withycombe, of Salem, Ore.; Miss Mabel Withycombe, of Salem.

Governor Withycombe was born at Tavistock, England, March 21, 1854. He lived in England until 17 years of age, when he came to America. He engaged in the livestock business in this country, and in 1875, four years after coming to this country, he married Isabel Carpenter, of Farmington, Oregon. He was elected governor of Oregon on the Republican ticket at the regular election in 1914, and after serving one term, was re-elected to the office during the last election, in 1918. He was a candidate in 1906 for the governorship, but failed to secure the nomination.

It is interesting to note that Governor Withycombe was the only Republican governor of Oregon that ever served two terms in that office, and also the only Republican governor during the last 12 years. While his enemies were bitter in their attacks upon his administration, Governor Withycombe served the people of Oregon well, and was always first to encourage progressive ideas and better conditions for the state of Oregon.

The funeral services of the late governor will be held today (Thursday) at two o'clock, from the First Methodist church at Salem.

Governor Ben W. Olcott

Ben W. Olcott is now governor of the State of Oregon, having succeeded the late Governor Withycombe according to constitutional provision. His term will expire in 1921. He was a candidate against the late Governor Withycombe during the last election. Having been defeated, he resumed his office of secretary of state. He will take the oath of office following the funeral of the late governor. Mr. Olcott is also still secretary of state, and by constitutional provision, can still retain that office, appointing a lieutenant to take care of matters for secretary of state.

Although this holding of offices has no parallel in the history of the state, Olcott's friends claim that he will be fair and impartial during his administration of the two offices. It is held by some that giving such power to one man makes it possible to build up a strong political machine during the next year.

Mr. Olcott has been an efficient secretary of state, however, and promises to make good as governor of the state of Oregon.

Bank Hires County Agent

To advise its patrons on farming and livestock matters the First National Bank of Richmond Center, Wisconsin, has employed a county agent. Several other banks have adopted this plan of increasing their own business by helping that of their patrons.

C.-W. COMPANY GIVES "SAFETY FIRST" SHOW

ACCIDENT PREVENTION GIVEN
BY MEANS OF MOVING PIC-TURES AND LECTURE

The Crown Willamette Paper company, under the supervision of H. H. Mathieson, the company's "Safety First" expert, gave an interesting moving picture entertainment Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Busch hall. The object of the pictures and entertainment was for the purpose of interesting the company's employees in the prevention of accidents, and the general public was privileged to attend the show. The films shown depicted scenes of accidents where "Safety First" was not recognized, and also pictured how accidents could be prevented by careful thought beforehand.

Mr. Mathieson, the expert on prevention of accidents, has been in this city about a month, coming here to put on a "Safety First" campaign in the Crown Willamette mills. He claims that the "Safety First" idea not only applies to factories and large manufacturing plants, but it applies to municipalities and small communities as well. "Thinking, Acting and Talking Safety First" is Mr. Mathieson's motto, and he proves that where the idea is practiced in large Eastern cities and communities, accidents seldom occur.

At the show given by the company last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, a film was shown entitled "The Making of Newspaper," and most of the scenes in the picture were taken at the Canas and West Linn mills. The school children of this city attended the show on Wednesday afternoon as guests of the Crown Willamette company, in order to introduce the "Safety First" idea to the youngsters, who will in turn interest the older folks in this city and county. As one prominent citizen remarked: "If the 'Safety First' idea was practiced around Oregon City, there would be fewer accidents, less hospital bills, and court dockets would not be so bulky."

DELIVERY SERVICE IS STARTED IN COUNTY

R. L. MATSEN TO SERVE CITY
AND RURAL DISTRICTS;
AT BRADY'S STORE

R. L. Matsen has established the Matsen service delivery system in Oregon City, which aims to deliver to people in the country districts as well as in the city. Once a week Matsen will cover the main roads out of Oregon City, and deliveries will be made more frequently if the traffic warrants it. Matsen is also planning to bring the produce of the farmer into town, thus saving the farmers trips to the city in the busy season. He has been recently mustered from the aviation service, is a nephew of James Brady, of the Brady Mercantile company, and will make his headquarters at that store.

LIGHTS NEAR COUNTY JAIL WINDOWS PREVENT ESCAPES

Since the sensational escape from the county jail of "Slim" Brown, who sawed his way through the barred window of the bastille, lights were placed Friday on the north and south sides of the courthouse jail, so as to enable the night officers to see clearly the windows as they make their rounds at night. Another attempt was made by one of the prisoners the first of the week to saw his way through the same window as Brown did, and the authorities immediately took steps to prevent further attempts.

Before, on the north side of the jail especially, it was very dark, and a prisoner could almost work on the bars without anyone seeing him from the street. Some officers claim that Brown was aided from the outside of the jail at the time of his escape, owing to the darkness surrounding the windows from the courthouse lawn.

SCHOOLS RAISE $135 TO GO TOWARD ARMENIAN FUND

School children, contesting for the flag offered by the local banks, have turned $135.00 into the Armenian Relief committee. As all school reports are not in as yet, it is not known to whom the flag will be awarded. It is to be given to the school collecting the most money for the fund. Dr. R. A. Prudden, chairman of the committee, reports $3767.59 of the $5500 quota, collected. The Twilight Dorcas society sent $5 into the committee Friday.

Two Men Hurt

G. W. Stevens and August Boettchi, employees of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company, sustained scalp wounds while at their work at the mills Tuesday from a flying block of wood, which struck both men on the head. The block struck Stevens, bounced off, hitting Boettchi. The men are receiving medical attention and are resting nicely.

STANDPATTERS TO RULE G. O. P. PARTY

REACTIONARY "OLD GUARD" WINS PROGRESSIONS WITH PROMISES OF FAVOR

SENATE RULES TO CHANGE

Progressives To Be Humored to Keep Party Together; Will Have No Real Power in Senate

Gradually the Republicans of the Old Guard type in Congress are convincing the "Progressive" Senators and House members that chairmanships of committees and similar honors that go with the majorities are better than the principles they stood for back home. That brings about a remarkable situation in Washington. It is not a question of standpatter or Old Guard now, but what can be done to give Senator Penrose and Uncle Joe Cannon and their sprightly cohorts more power.

A Republican caucus has agreed to make certain changes in the rules of the Senate to satisfy Senator George W. Norris, who led the fight against the Old Guard in the House ten years ago. Senators Penrose, Lodge and Smoot are camouflaging artists of the first rank. They can make an ambush look like a health resort to ambitious Progressives. They have their full crew at work now. The Senate rules are to be "liberalized." They are to be enforced by the Penrose-Lodge-Smoot group.

To onlookers in Washington the striking fact of the contests between Republican leaders in Congress for the leadership is that it is not a question as to whether or not the Old Guard or Progressives will dominate. It is conceded that the Old Guard shall boss the House and the Senate. The cunning leaders of the Old Guard claim the credit for the victory at the polls in November, and are going to take the fruits of it. They concede nothing to the Progressives. They will club them if necessary. The attitude of Senators Penrose, Smoot and others of the Old Guard in the Senate is that of the man to the stray dog baying at the moon from a spot near his window.

No matter who is elected Speaker of the House, he will be of the Old Guard, or the Aldrich-Cannon type of Republican of fifteen years ago. All the warnings of the Pinchots and other followers of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, the original Bull Moose, cannot prevent the gobbling up of the Progressives in the House and Senate. The House Republicans are considering Representatives James R. Mann, of Illinois, Frederick C. Gillett of Massachusetts, and Nicholas Longworth of Ohio. All of these men are of the reactionary Republican class. Former Speaker Cannon is virtually managing the campaign for Mr. Mann. Mr. Gillett is supported by New England manufacturers and others who favor a high tariff wall. Mr. Longworth was never in sympathy with the Progressive programs of his distinguished father-in-law.

Not a single Progressive is running for the Speakership. The Ways and Means Committee of the House, where all tariff and revenue legislation originates, will be headed by Representative Joseph W. Fordney of Michigan, or Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, or Representative J. Hampton Moore, of Pennsylvania, or some other reactionary leader. There is no show for any Progressive leader of the House. All of the first rank committees in the House will be headed by men whose sympathies were with Speaker Cannon and his little coterie of reactionaries.

ASKS FOR ADMINISTRATOR OF $5000 ESTATE HERE

Laura Newell filed for letters of administration in the estate of D. Newell in the probate court Saturday. There are several heirs to the estate, which consists of real and personal property in Clackamas county valued at $4000, and real property in Douglas county valued at $1000. Letters of administration are also asked by Frank Ziegler, of Multnomah county, in the estate of Ellis F. Potter, deceased. Personal property in Clackamas county, consisting of horses, cattle, grain, and a Ford machine, form the estate, which is valued at $500. Ziegler is a creditor of the deceased and the heirs to the estate have waived all rights.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB IS ORGANIZED SEVERAL DIST.

Organization of the boys' and girls' industrial club work has been completed in the following districts by A. L. Olmsted, county leader of the work: Rural Dell, Bear Creek, Echo Dell, Clairmont, Lone Elder, Macksburg, Mark's Prairie, and West Linn. The young people are manifesting much enthusiasm over the work, and Mr. Olmsted hopes to have one of the best juvenile exhibits at the county and state fairs.

COUNCIL MEETS AND CLEANS UP BUSINESS

LIBERTY TEMPLE TO BE MOVED;
JITNEY QUESTION IS AGAIN AGITATED

The regular meeting of the Oregon City council took place last night with Mayor Holman presiding, and Councilmen Tobin, Woodward, Green, Albright, Kruger, Kelley, Scott and Bridges in their seats, also City Attorney Story and Recorder Loder. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Street committee approved the matter of the arc light at 18th and Harrison, if same could be installed without expense to the city. The council granted the transfer of the permit of the Chase & Linton company to the Oregon City Gravel company for use of the site at 14th street. Council also granted the salaries of Police Chief Woodward and Superintendent Christianson to be paid twice a month instead of once a month. Also allowed all city employees to draw part of their salaries any time during the month.

A boat house permit at the foot of 4th and Water streets, was again granted to George Brown for the year 1919, at the license fee of $40 for the year. Six arrests, 17 traps served was the report of Chief of Police Woodward.

Report showed $170 received during the month of February, which went into the general fund.

Another petition was presented to the council last night, signed by 100 citizens, calling for a special election for the purpose of voting on the operation of jitneys in the city. The petition called for the election without expense to the city. The council voted more time to consider the matter. Jack Albright was sponsor for the petition. Mrs. Andrews called the council's attention to the poor condition of the street near Mr. Pleasant, and she was advised that the council had the matter under consideration.

The Liberty Temple, which now stands in the middle of Seventh street, will be removed in thirty days according to the decision of the council last night. A petition asking for the removal of the building was presented, signed by many merchants on Main street. The City Recorder was instructed to inform Mr. McBain, who owns the timber and windows of the building, to remove the structure. Mr. McBain claims that he is willing to remove the building at any time.

Report of the finance committee was read and adopted. Street Superintendent was instructed to investigate the condition of the park benches and also benches on the stairway of the city.

Chief of Police Woodward was instructed to enforce the city ordinance in reference to begging in the city. Many complaints have come to the council regarding this matter. Councilman Tobin objected to the large expenditure on streets by the council, and it was decided to hold the expenditures down until permanent street work was started.

The billiard license of F. D. Cox was transferred to F. D. Rohberger, the new owner of the parlors.

FIRE COMPANY ELECTS ITS OFFICERS MONDAY EVENING

Ed Lavier, of Cataract Host Company, was elected fire chief at the election held in this city Monday, defeating Fred McCausland, of Hose company No. 3, and Harry Williamson, of Fountain Hose company. There were 85 votes cast, making the election one of the heaviest in years. The candidates ran evenly, the final count giving Lavier 36, McCausland 24, and Williamson 25. William Knopp, of Greenpoint Hose company, had no opposition for the office of assistant chief. William Cannon and F. T. McGahey were the only candidates for fire commissioners, with three to be elected. The name of William Estes was written in, and he was elected as the third commissioner. Lavier was fire chief two years ago.

DR. LOUISE RICHTER TO ADDRESS WOMEN AND GIRLS

Dr. Louise M. Richter, who has been in the United States service during the war, is to address a mass meeting of the women and girls of Oregon City at the Congregational church Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The meeting is under the auspices of the Oregon Social Hygiene society, and is part of a government program to educate the people of this country towards the suppression of the social evil. The government has organized a corps of 150 women physicians throughout the country to lecture among the women.

JUDGE DISPOSES OF 116 CASES FROM COURT DOCKET

A record was established in the Circuit court here Saturday when Judge Campbell eliminated 116 cases from the court docket, and 10 state cases by request of the district attorney's office. These cases have been on the docket for some time, and Saturday Judge Campbell got busy and cleaned up the schedule.
