News of the Week from War Zones of Europe and Mexico

Severance of diplomatic relations with Germany was formally announced to the country and the world by President Wilson at a joint session of congress Saturday at 2 o'clock.

The United States stands on the verge of war, with all the historic precedents of centuries pressing it forward. Fervently invoking the guidance of Almighty God in the step he had taken, President Wilson detailed to congress why the United States could not continue relations with a warring power which repeatedly invades its sacred rights and takes the lives of its citizens.

Calm, with a sense of right in what may prove the most sombre moment of American history, the president stood in the historical hall of the house of representatives and with senators and representatives before him, spoke the words which may carry the country into the world conflict, not for aggression and not for power; only for law and humanity. Silent and attentive, the grim company of the nation's lawmakers listened with rapt attention while President Wilson told of America's course in the now unsuccessful diplomatic struggle to dissuade Germany from her campaign of ruthlessness.

Peaceful continuance of German-American relations after the departure of the respective embassies at Washington and Berlin in the sense indicated by President Wilson in his address to congress appears to be very slight, judging by all the information, some of the highest authenticity, gathered by the Associated Press. It was stated positively in high political circles that the German orders for the conduct of a submarine war could not and would not be modified; that German determination to enforce the prohibited zone order was absolute and final, and that the only security for shipping was avoidance of the prohibited zone.

The American steamer Housatonic, sunk off Land's End, England, by a German submarine Saturday, was given warning and provision was made for the safety of the crew. Germany, in this case, has not violated her pledge to the United States. American Consul Stephens, at Plymouth, sent the following dispatch to the state department: "American steamer Housatonic loaded with a cargo of wheat for the British government, torpedoed by German submarine 12:30 February 3. Vessel warned and towed crew of 37 rescued by submarine and towed for 90 minutes toward land. Submarine fired signal to British patrol boat, which subsequently landed crew at Penzance."

Grimly preparing and with an air of conviction that the nation's course will be shaped immutably for it as Germany makes effective her announced measures of unrestricted sea warfare, the United States has begun a tense vigil that may be broken momentarily or may be long drawn out. Despite the severance of diplomatic relations, President Wilson believes his long struggle to preserve the country's peace has not yet been lost. He still hopes not only that hostilities will be avoided but that other neutrals, adding their voices to that of the United States, will unite the major moral force of the world to compel peace in Europe.

Germany Sunday acceded to the American demand for the immediate release of the 72 Americans taken from ships sunk by the raider in the Atlantic and brought to a German port aboard the steamer Yarrowdale.

President Wilson has suggested to all the other neutrals that they break off diplomatic relations with Germany as the United States has done and has instructed all American diplomats in those countries to report immediately how the suggestion is received. The opinion in diplomatic headquarters Washington is that European neutrals at the very doorstep of Germany will hesitate to take such a step. The effect of the suggestion in other countries is being eagerly awaited. The president's invitation to neutrals to follow his action was contained in instructions to American diplomats to announce the break with Germany to the governments to which they are accredited.

Precautions taken by New York state and municipal authorities in the face of the international crisis were directed Monday mainly toward transportation lines and munition centers and public buildings and utilities. About 3000 men of the national guard are under arms. This force is aided in guard duty by several thousand municipal policemen, railroad detectives and special officers employed by the public service commission.

Nearly 2000 officers and men, remnants of the crews of the 25 German merchant ships which were laid up at New York at the beginning of the war, are virtually prisoners today on board their vessels. The federal authorities explained that the German seamen were "not forcibly detained, but simply requested" to remain on their ships. Members of the crews, however, who returned from shore leave Sunday and Monday were notified that if they went aboard they would have to stay there.

A call has been issued to 300,000 high school boys in the country by the American defense society, urging them to enroll at once for military training, it has been announced. Enrollment will be in an organization to be known as training detachments of the Junior American Defense society. The step was taken after a conference between Major-General Leonard Wood and the military education committee of the society.

A solemn warning for every person to desist from utterances against the sovereignty of the United States at this time was issued by United States Attorney Reames at Portland Monday. At the same time it became known definitely that arrangements have been completed for the cooperation of the federal government, the city and police to deal promptly and vigorously with all persons heard to give voice to incendiary or treasonable expressions.

An army of 4,778,050 men between 18 and 45 years old fit for military service is available in this country, according to the estimate of an investigating staff of the executive committee of the New York city committee on national defense, made public Sunday night. A still greater number might be put under arms in a serious emergency, according to the committee's report, by the recruiting of older men, by the lowering of physical standards and by the employment of women in occupations now open only to men.

Chapters of the Red Cross throughout the United States Monday had orders from national officers to prepare immediately for relief work.

President Wilson at conferences Monday with Secretary Baker of the war department and Secretary Daniels of the navy department discussed expediting legislation to empower the government to take possession of ship yards, munition plants and other facilities for hurrying the work of preparedness if it became necessary.

The interned German gunboat Geier was set on fire by her crew, according to Honolulu authorities. The Geier, of 1604 tons, was interned here shortly after the war began. She was built at Wilhelmshaven in 1894.

New objections from Japan to the language of the Asiatic exclusion section of the vetoed immigration bill were disclosed in the United States senate Monday when Senator Reed, fighting the proposal to repass the bill over the president's veto, announced that he had been authorized by the state department to say that the Japanese embassy had called attention to the provisions. The bill as finally passed was thought to meet all objections.

The note of protest which Brazil will dispatch to Germany in answer to her declaration of unrestricted submarine warfare has been completed, but will not be sent until after an exchange of views between some of the American governments. President Braz will summon a special meeting of the cabinet to discuss the situation. Reuter's correspondent says there is reason to believe the reply of the Brazilian government to the German note respecting naval warfare will be in harmony with the attitude of the United States.

Troop A and Battery A, of the Oregon national guard at Calexico, Cal., have everything packed, every record up to date and all has been done that can be done to be ready for entraining. Some apprehension was felt this morning that it may be several days before trains for the transportation of the men of the Oregon and Washington national guard and equipment can be secured. The officers have been advised that rolling stock is obtained from the railroads with the greatest difficulty.

Major General John J. Pershing

rode out of Mexico at 10:05 a. m. Monday at the head of more than 10,000 soldiers of the American punitive expedition. General Pershing crossed the boundary at the border gate a length ahead of his staff officers, with Lieutenant J. L. Collins, his aide de camp, and Captain William O. Reed, his intelligence officer, riding next. As he crossed the line General Pershing saluted as the guards at the gap in the barbed wire fence presented arms.

SUMMER HOMES PLATTED

Zigzag River Bank in This County Will be Summer Colony

The forest service has just platted one hundred and eighteen lots suitable for summer homesites on the Zigzag river, a half mile from Rhododendron tavern, on the Oregon national forest, according to the announcement of District Forester George H. Cecil, Portland, sent to the Courier this week.

This action is in accordance with the government's policy of promoting the recreational use of the national forests by making particularly attractive residence sites available for lease. This group of lots is called the Zigzag tract and lies 44 miles east of Portland on the main automobile road to Mount Hood and a half mile from the Still Creek area, where choice lots have all been taken by the public. The road is paved for half the distance to the tract. Every lot in the Zigzag tract fronts on the river and is well shaded by native trees, fir, hemlock, cedar, pine, maple, alder and cottonwood. The tract contains a park set aside for the common use of summer residents. In this park is a shallow pond for children's water sports.

There is good fishing in the small streams near by. The region also furnishes fair hunting, although deer and bear are not as plentiful as in more remote places. Native pheasants are found right on the tract. Huckleberries are plentiful within easy walking distance. Mountain climbing can be indulged in to any extent from short trips up the nearby peaks to a real climb to the snow-capped summit of Mount Hood twenty miles away.

The old Oregon trail, now moss-grown and no longer used as a road, can be plainly traced through the tract on the north side of the Zigzag river. Marks on the trees and rocks along the trail can be seen, mementos of the hardy pioneers who came to the Willamette valley by this historic route.

The national forests are coming into general use as public recreation grounds. Roads, trails and telephone lines built by the forest service give easy access to many beauty spots. Forest officers are always ready to give information about the forest regions. Anyone wishing to know more about these summer-home sites should apply to the supervisor of the Oregon national forest, Beck building, Portland.

DIMICK DEMAGOGIC

Chapman Says Clackamas Senator Fights in Deadly Earnest

However much we may think of his statements as opinions, C. C. Chapman often has something of interest in his Oregon Voter. Mr. Chapman has been at Salem throughout the present session of the state legislature and has been able to keep closely in touch with the various members and their works. Of Senator Walter A. Dimick of Clackamas county Mr. Chapman says:

Dimick of Oregon City, think what you will of his demagogic charlatanism, is the ablest debater on the senate floor this session. He is much feared by his colleagues, because he is keen, resourceful and fearful. Unlike Moser, he does not try to please, and he is not making new acquaintances. He is an inexorable cross-examiner, shoots a rapid fire of questions, is full of information and fights in deadly earnest for or against. And

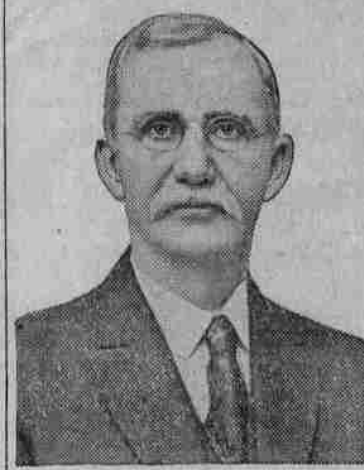

MRS. KIESO SICK SEVEN MONTHS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Aurora, Ill.—"For seven long months I suffered from a female trouble, with severe pains in my back and sides until I became so weak I could hardly walk from chair to chair, and got so nervous I would jump at the slightest noise. I was entirely unfit to do my housework, I was giving up hope of ever being well, when my sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and today I am a healthy woman able to do my own housework. I wish every suffering woman would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find out for themselves how good it is."—Mrs. CARL A. KIESO, 606 North Ave., Aurora, Ill.

The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory, many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills. Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Only Successful Remedy for Creating Gall Stones

Mr. W. C. DILLEHAY

Oregon City, Portland, Canby and Hubbard at the Huntley Bros. Co.'s drug stores; a doctor's prescription is not necessary. Fruita is a pure fruit oil that acts as an intestinal lubricant and disintegrates the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, discharging the accumulated waste to the surface's intense relief. One dose is usually sufficient to indicate its efficacy. Traxo is a tonic-alternative that is most effective to rebuild the weakened, rundown system.

A booklet of special interest to those who suffer from stomach trouble can be obtained by writing to the Pinus Laboratories, Monticello, Illinois.

Fruita and Traxo Brought Relief After Doctor Said Nothing But Operation Would Help

In the opinion of Mr. W. C. Dillehay, 513 Morton St., Nashville, Tenn., Fruita and Traxo is the only successful remedy for gall stone trouble. In a letter to the Pinus Laboratories Mr. Dillehay says, "After a leading Nashville physician had failed to relieve my wife, and we were told an operation was necessary, I heard of Fruita and Traxo and we decided to at least give it a trial. I gave her this medicine as directed and after four doses she was relieved of nearly a quart of gall stones, conclusive evidence that an operation was by no means necessary."

Fruita and Traxo are compounded from the original Edsall formulas at the Pinus Laboratories in Monticello, Ill., and can be purchased in stores; a doctor's prescription is not necessary. Fruita is a pure fruit oil that acts as an intestinal lubricant and disintegrates the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, discharging the accumulated waste to the surface's intense relief. One dose is usually sufficient to indicate its efficacy. Traxo is a tonic-alternative that is most effective to rebuild the weakened, rundown system.

he doesn't fight simply to make a personal record in the senate, but follows his legislation through both houses. This 'I-passed-it-through-the-senate' buncombe doesn't satisfy him a particle; he doesn't quit until after the governor has signed the bill and it is filed with the secretary of state beyond legislative recall.

Dimick's baneful influence manifests itself mainly in two ways—against efficiency in the name of economy, and against invested capital under the guise of protecting taxpayers from being robbed. Were his instincts constructive instead of destructive, his sheer ability and force would make him one of the strongest men of the state, and it may get him there anyway, for he is an indefatigable worker and has indomitable courage.

MINISTER LEAVES

Farewell at Springwater for the Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Aue

A farewell party was given Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Aue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tenny at Springwater last Thursday evening, when about 45 of the people of this section gathered to bid the Presbyterian pastor and his wife, who have been here for the past five years, good-bye, on their departure for their old eastern home. Rev. Mr. Aue, who is a noted violin player, and his wife have been great favorites in this locality. A final farewell gathering was also held at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, when the congregation presented the minister with a handsome Bible, and Mrs. Aue with a fine pair of Oregon woolen blankets. Later a musical program was rendered in the Grange hall and a banquet was served. Mr. and Mrs. Aue have gone to New York state to the bedside of Mrs. Aue's father, who is very ill.

Desertion in Charge

Kate F. Connor last Thursday filed suit for divorce from Harry H. Connor, alleging desertion. The couple married in Oregon City on October 27, 1910. There are no children or property rights and Mrs. Connor asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Kate F. Fleck.

Judge Campbell Thursday signed three divorce decrees, Ernestine and J. H. Wallace, Ruth and Frank Hansen and Clarie C. and Bert Howard. Mrs. Wallace will resume her maiden name, Ernestine Eggers, and Mrs. Hansen will also have her former name, Ruth Haagney, restored to her.
