Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lehman had as their guests Saturday night and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shipley and son, Lowell, of Oswego.

James Tiedeman, formerly of Hazelia but now of Oswego, was in this neighborhood Saturday.

We are very glad to know that all who have been ill with diphtheria here are better and all hope there will be no new cases.

Remember Literary at Hazelia, February 17. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

There will be preaching service at Hazelia on Sunday, February 25, at 5 o'clock. The change was made as it was more convenient for the minister and most of those who attended.

Max McMahan of Oswego was in this neighborhood Saturday.

A large crowd attended the funeral of the late George Prosser.

Mrs. George Wilson was a visitor in Oswego Saturday morning.

Albert R. Boutz visited with friends in Portland Sunday evening.

Program given by Oswego grange Saturday: Talks on the lives of Washington, Lincoln and Longfellow; song by the grange, the "Wild Bird," from the grange melodies; paper on "Responsibilities of Parents," Mrs. C. T. Dickinson; recitation, "Sheridan's Ride," Mrs. S. S. Boutz; paper by C. T. Dickinson; humorous reading, L. M. Davidson; Scotch song, A. R. C. Mackenzie; recitation, "Darby and Joan," Mrs. Frank Whitten.

STONE

The farmers in this section made good use of the fine days last week. Grant Mumpower and John Hatton were quite busy spraying their peach orchards. Mr. Mumpower sold some 2400 boxes off of his orchard last year.

John Hatton has been building chicken houses for his brother Frank the last few days. The latter expects to do quite a business in chicken raising the year.

Carver is about to be on the map. A real estate office is nearly completed and there is strong talk of a hotel being built soon. We understand that the Pete brothers have taken the town site in hand and are doing a great deal of hustling towards trying to build up a city here. And why not, with wour trains daily from Portland and the most beautiful scenery? Why shouldn't it be a beautiful little city?

Mr. Byers has been having some very expert trimming done on his orchard and has also been spraying. Mr. Byers has one of the finest orchards in Clackamas county.

Charlie and Owen Hatton have finished hauling spuds to Oregon City. Two and a quarter per hundred and sacks furnished is not so bad just for potatoes.

A new shiny cook stove found its way into the home of Mrs. Effie Hatton last week and there is such a lot of recipes Mrs. Hatton has discovered she wants to try.

Bakers Bridge grange met Saturday, February 10, with a majority of members present, and quite a number of visitors. There were several applicants for membership. "The Home" was the ladies' part of the evening program, and good roads were discussed by the men. A very enjoyable time was had by all.

Frank Hatton has purchased a 1 1/2 horsepower gasoline engine to run his pump, as there hasn't been wind enough the past month to turn the windmill.

The Mothers' club met at the home of Mrs. D. Watts February 7. After the business meeting a program and discussion of current events was held. The Mothers' club is to have an apron sale on the afternoon of February 21 at the home of Mrs. Ray Dallas. There will be several numbers on the program. The Mother's club extends a welcome to all those who wish to come.

Mrs. L. E. Patterson visited her mother at Sellwood Sunday and her sisters, Mrs. Lillie Orr and Mrs. Louie Daue. The latter were called home on account of the illness of their mother, Mrs. Holcomb.

FOR SALE—Lots or acreage. I will sell from one lot to 14 acres, all in one tract; in Oregon City, 1/4 mile from courthouse, jitney service, in city limits; city water and electric lights. Some of these lots face Molalla avenue and some face on Mt. Hood street. If you are thinking of establishing a permanent residence in Oregon City you cannot afford to pass up this opportunity. Price right—D. Grady, 515 Mt. Hood street, Oregon City.

STAFFORD

We are enjoying beautiful February weather, equal to a year ago; bright sunshine with mercury at 45 degrees above, while a recent letter from Burns, eastern Oregon, mentions incidentally that the weather was somewhat cold, 33 degrees below zero nearly all the month of January.

A little mistake was made in last week's paper in saying that Mr. Harrison, who died very suddenly on Wednesday the 31st, was a soldier of the Civil war, although he was in government service at the time he lost the use of his arm, and received a pension.

A household of invited guests, your correspondent among the number, took dinner with C. Thompson on Sunday in honor of his birthday. It was a complete surprise to him. Mr. Thompson has been deputy assessor for this district for a number of years and by his courteous manner and efficient work has made many friends. He is an old resident on the place where he and his good wife welcomed friends on Sunday last. Music and the buzz of conversation made time fly until all were invited to the dining room to partake of the bountiful dinner prepared by the capable hands of the daughters and their mother. A beautiful birthday cake adorned the center of the table, and was made more beautiful by 73 pink wax candles. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, their children; Mrs. Inza Wood and husband and little daughter, of Willamette; Mrs. Ruby Kolemeyer, husband and two children, Constance, the youngest daughter, Roy, Victor and Clarence; Mr. and Mrs. Aden; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellingsen; Alfred Sharpe and mother; Ed Sharpe and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Seedling; Mrs. Gage, son, John, and wife and two boys, Roy and Arden, of St. Helens, and Mrs. Wood of Wilsonville.

Potatoes keep piling up on Tiedeman's corner waiting for the trucks to take them to market, which still keeps up. This is a boon to the hard working farmer, but a luxury to the poor in cities.

LEATHER GOES DOWN

Local Store Will Sell Shoes and Overcoats at Half Price

We would not attempt to ask our readers if they are in need of shoes. But we have an idea that there are hundreds of people in Clackamas county who could find a very good use for shoes, or an overcoat, if they could buy at half price. But half price for shoes is a dream—usually. In these days of soaring prices merchants seldom sell anything at half price. Usually it is double price. But Miller & Obst have solved the problem. On Friday and Saturday they will sell a special shipment of standard styles and standard makes of shoes at exactly half price. In addition to the shoe sale this enterprising store will sell overcoats at half price. There may be slight reason for reducing the price of overcoats since the season for heavy covering is passing, but buyers who are alive to the needs of the coming year won't neglect an opportunity to buy when they can do so at half price. Miller & Obst invite a thorough inspection of the shoes and the coats on sale. Read their display advertisements on different pages in this issue.

PARKPLACE

Mrs. Ben Rivers, who has just undergone a very delicate operation at the Oregon City hospital, was brought home Sunday. She is unable to see anyone yet, but is improving. Her husband will return to their home in Alaska this week, and as soon as possible Mrs. Rivers will follow.

Mr. Brown, who has been very sick, is recovering rapidly and is able to be out of bed nearly all day. Their daughter, Mrs. Cunningham of Sheridan, Ore., is still visiting here.

Little Frances Crookshank of Portland, who has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Coffey, went home Sunday. The little girl was just over the measles, which she came down with after coming to her grandmother's. Frances is suffering from the after effects of infantile paralysis, and can hardly walk alone.

The regular meeting of the Parkplace grange will be held on the last Saturday of the month. There is to be an extra good program, which is open to everybody. Besides a good musical program, Mrs. Talbot of Portland will give an illustrated lecture on "The Montessori Method of Raising Children." Judge Anderson will give a short talk on "County Government." Miss Anderson is to give a reading. Does this sound interesting? You are welcome. The program will be as near one o'clock as possible.

Mrs. Brayton's little grandson, William Blood, is here visiting and will attend the Parkplace school for the rest of the school year.

The Parent-Teachers' will have their business meeting on Friday of this week. Mrs. Waldron of Portland, the chairman of the association, will give a lecture.

On Washington's birthday there will be a social at the school house, and a very good program. The school children will give part of the program assisted by outside talent. Come and have a good time.

DAMASCUS

Mr. Elliott has been moving ornamental trees from his old place to the lot where he has recently completed a new dwelling house.

Mr. Colter sold fifty hens, which brought him fifty-four dollars.

Mrs. Carlson was visiting Mrs. Hall Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz and daughter, Elsie, have gone to Yamhill to attend the funeral of Mrs. Schwartz's brother, who was accidentally killed in a logging camp.

The Parent-Teachers held their meeting at the school house Friday afternoon.

Quite a few of the young folks attended the dance at Eagle Creek Saturday evening.

Frank Krotsch and mother were Portland visitors one day last week. Miss Gladys Burr was shopping in Oregon City last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Royer gave a social at their home Saturday evening. Refreshments were served and all had a good time.

Mr. Kersting was out buying young pigs one day last week. Mr. Kersting is a progressive farmer and believes in doing things right.

Theodore Tomoge and wife, from Oregon City, are visiting with Mrs. H. Bock.

Mr. Carlson is slashing the brush around his farm and is preparing to blast out the stumps.

While blasting powder is pretty high priced it is quite a labor saving device. The way our fathers cleared up the farm was with a grubhoe and an axe and lots of hard work.

Mr. Farmer, Attention!

Last Saturday we had a big shoe sale. We placed on sale all of our odd shoes at one-half price and sold more shoes than we ever sold in one day in Oregon City.

WE STILL HAVE A FEW PAIRS LEFT

and to completely close this stock out, we will on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 16 and 17

SELL THESE SHOES AT

EXACTLY HALF PRICE

Now if you really want a shoe bargain you can not ask for a better opportunity. These shoes include such makes as Florsheim, Nettleton, Regal and other standard makes. Below we list the sizes we have in these shoes:

3 pairs size 5	6 pairs size 5 1-2	6 pairs size 6
4 pairs size 6 1-2	4 pairs size 7	3 pairs size 7 1-2

BORING

Otis Rich's baby boy, Donald, has the whooping cough. Donald is the fine fat grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers.

Mrs. Nancy Rich is having Frank Irvin do plowing.

Jess Hiett's little boy was kidnapped from the Kelo school and was recovered at Portland.

Dork Hiett's little children have the measles. Look out for measles.

Mr. Lang, the cream man at Boring, has a baby girl.

Mr. Popom had the misfortune to have a heavy cordwood sled pass over him, bruising him pretty badly.

Mrs. Veth came out to her farm a few days ago.

Would-be County Recorder Clarence Strucken and J. W. Strucken were in the assessor's office one day last week looking over the books. Mr. Strucken says he is well pleased with our present county assessor, W. W. Everhart, and hopes he does as much as Mr. G. F. Johnson would had he been elected to the place.

Julius Timmerman has bought a fine, big, white horse of Mr. Friel.

Mr. Peterson came out to his fine farm near Boring Tuesday and went back to Portland Wednesday. He said he was going to rent his place at Boring to Sarah Merriek.

Julius Timmerman has added a race horse to his stock. The animal was bought from J. T. Friel of Charvillat.

EAST CLACKAMAS

It seems as though we are going to have representatives from Italy and Japan in our community for neighbors. They know a good thing when they see it.

Mrs. M. Schuren and daughter, Martha, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Blake.

Mrs. M. Tong was a Portland visitor last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. J. Welch, who has been visiting relatives at The Dalles the past month, returned last Saturday evening.

Mrs. M. S. Shearer was shopping in Portland last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Shearer were visitors with A. Heinrich last Sunday. Misses Theoline Larsen and Clara Knutsen were visitors at Cedar Springs ranch last Sunday.

L. Rasmussen says he is the busiest man on the line these days. He has just enough exercise to keep up a good appetite.

The Clackamas debaters will be out to wallop our debaters next Saturday evening.

H. Vanwater was transacting business in town last Monday.

The farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather and are getting their plowing done.

The social given by the ladies of the E. C. S. C. last Saturday evening was a success both socially and financially. We were treated to some very fine music by Miss Martha Schuren and L. Kelnhofer, after which a light lunch was served.

MOUNT PLEASANT

The manager of the Central Point phone company, W. Randall, has a crew of men overhauling the line, setting new poles and putting it in first class order.

Since our last letter Mount Pleasant has lost one of her most esteemed citizens in Mr. Jenkins. It was sad to lose a man as true as he was.

The managers of the Commercial hall have made some needed improvements with a fire escape and walks. The Mount Pleasant Parent-Teachers are well pleased with what they have accomplished toward the school.

J. J. Cooke, postmaster at Oregon City, spent Sunday calling on old friends at Mount Pleasant. He always brings the cigars.

The slogan is, "We want no fight with Germany or any country."

Miss Ernestine King leaves this week for Astoria to be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Lue Williams.

Miss Leona Kellogg of Oregon City spent the week-end with her father, E. E. Kellogg, on the farm.

Several of the young folks attended the basket social at Twilight last Saturday evening.

E. L. Camp is confined to his home with rheumatism.

Charles Brown is building an extensive hen house and has ordered four thousand baby chicks.

The Electric Chafing Dish

When Unexpected Guests Arrive

The Electric Chafing Dish is the hostess' friend when unexpected guests arrive. Dainty sweets are easily prepared with this convenient device. It affords all the advantages of easy operation—the turn of a switch and it begins to work. Any electric lamp socket can be used for supplying the Electric Chafing Dish with current. In addition to the advantages of quick service and cleanliness, the operation of the Electric Chafing Dish is not confined to one part of the house, it can be used wherever a lamp socket is available—the hostess need not leave her guests, to prepare the dish she wishes to serve.

An Electric Chafing costs little to operate and can be secured in various sizes
