Resume of the News of the Week from All Parts of Oregon

A new creamery and cheese factory will be located in Dallas if the promoters, Peter Kurro, John Palmer and J. L. Murdoch, who have sold their creamery interests in Monmouth, are able to agree on terms with the Dallas Commercial club. The club decided to put the matter in the hands of the board of directors with instructions to make the creamerymen a proposition, which they may accept or pass up.

The extension of Clatsop county's 1916 tax roll has been completed by Assessor Leinenweber, and it is the largest in the county's history. The total is $863,524.46. The county, state and county school tax amounts to $377,530.06; the special road district taxes, $130,661.41; the city of Astoria tax is $102,666.43; that of the port of Astoria is $69,233.58, and that of the Astoria school district, $54,609.91.

The second semester at McMinnville college opened Tuesday, Feb. 6, with an enrollment of 254 students. This is second to the largest attendance in the history of the college.

Twenty-one new students were enrolled while only four left, this only more fully emphasizing the fact that the college is growing. At the present rate of increased attendance a new building will soon be required to accommodate the students.

Eighteen head of elk were in Enterprise last week awaiting shipment to Crater Lake National park and to the state fair grounds at Salem. Of these elk five are two years old and 13 are yearlings, raised from the original herd of 24, brought to the Dilly Meadows elk pasture five years ago from Wyoming. There remain 48 in pasture, 26 calves having been born during the year 1916. There are 20 or more native elk in the immediate vicinity of Dilly Meadows pasture, and an attempt will be made to get them in the pasture during the coming summer. The elk and pasture are under the control of the state game department, and the handling of the elk is directed by G. W. Mitchell, superintendent of district No. 2, who has immediate charge of pasture.

About $4,350 in money and pledges has been secured by two committees working in the interest of the Cottage Grove cannery. About $650 remains to be subscribed to insure the operation of the cannery this season.

Superintendent of Banks S. G. Sargent, in a statement issued at Salem last week, said 151 Oregon state banks out of a total of 177 operated at a profit during 1916.

Artesian water has been struck on Butter creek, 15 miles west of Echo. Water is easily reached on Butter creek at a depth of 12 or 15 feet. A farmer was having a well drilled to get water for domestic purposes when, at a depth of 77 feet, artesian water was reached. It has long been suspected that artesian water might be found in this vicinity, but several wells have been drilled at a much greater depth without success.

Twenty-six convicts of Warden Murphy's "honor gang," spreading like a fan over the rough country between the state penitentiary and the school for the feeble-minded, beat up the bushes and scoured ravines for three men who had escaped from the crew last week. After half an hour's search on the part of the pursuing convicts the three cowering fugitives were found near the school for the feeble minded, manhandled roughly by the honor men, and a tragedy might have been enacted but for the appearance of Guard Walter Thompson on the scene, who rescued the prisoners. By their quick action the 26 convicts preserved the principle of the "honor gang" intact at the prison.

At a meeting of about 20 members of the Marion County Potato Growers' association it was voted to hold another meeting soon to discuss ways and means of getting some good seed for the 1917 planting and of securing better grading of the crop for market.

A large golden eagle was caught Sunday in a trap at Fruitdale, Josephine county, by Fred Dodson. The trap was set for coyotes but the eagle evidently saw the bait and was caught. It measures six feet and nine inches from the tip of one wing to the tip of the other. It was necessary to kill the bird as it was impossible to release it from the trap.

The Eugene Chamber of Commerce has a proposition for the establishment of a big shipyard at Florence, on the lower Siuslaw river. Johnson P. Porter, of Porter brothers, railroad and general contractors, addressed the members of the Chamber Thursday night. He said that he could raise $150,000 if the people of Lane county will raise $50,000 toward the project. He also said that the big sawmill at Florence, owned by his firm, which is idle, could be used in connection with the yards.

Members of the two companies of coast artillery, O. N. G., of Eugene, are anxious to be transferred to the regular army so that in case of war they will have a better chance to see active service sooner than the guardsmen. Several have made application for transfer.

Miller French, manager of the Postum Trot farm, north of Lafayette, has in his flock of turkeys a hen that is voicing merrily the old-time slogan: "Yamhill against the world." She has a right to be proud of her laying record for she produced 31 eggs in 34 days. The hen weighs 19 pounds and is of the big Bronze variety. She took first prize at the Portland Poultry show. The hen is covering at present 22 of her eggs and eleven more are set under a chicken hen. Mr. French, who has raised many turkeys, has never before seen so prolific a layer as this blue-ribbon winner. He expects to raise 500 turkeys this year. Dr. Holt C. Wilson is the owner of the farm and resides in Portland.

"A combined system of dormitories and fraternity houses will in all probability prove the most satisfactory program of providing for student living," says President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon. "The fraternities as they are organized are a great help in solving the living problem, but the number can never be large enough to meet all demands. A word of commendation is due the fraternities for their essential democracy and for their loyal attitude in placing the welfare of the university before all other interests."

The first deed to property to be included in the Strahorn terminals in Bend was received there last week. The deed is from W. D. Cheney of Seattle, president of the Bend Park company. It is made direct to Mr. Strahorn. Mr. Cheney, who was instrumental in getting Mr. Strahorn to consider the construction of the central Oregon lines, is making a gift of such of his property as is needed for the terminals, the total amount being more than 10 acres.

Assurance of the establishment of a unit of the Reserve Officers' Training corps for the university was given by the war department in a letter to President Campbell last week. In the letter Adjutant-General H. P. McCain said: "It gives me pleasure to inform you that the application of the university for the establishment of the Reserve Officers' Training corps has been received in this office and forwarded to the commanding general, western department, at San Francisco, Cal., who will cause an inspection of the institution to be made."

The Klamath Commercial club of Klamath Falls is working for a federal building for Klamath Falls. They have had the matter up energetically for some time with Representative N. J. Sinnott from that district and also with Senators Chamberlain and Lane. Mr. Sinnott, at the request of the club, recently had the bill amended to provide for a site at this place costing not to exceed $10,000. The bill passed the lower house with that clause attached. It is now pending in the senate.

Scandinavian Ladies Meet
The Scandinavian Ladies Aid society "Dorkas" will meet at the home of Johannes Johnson, Willamette, next Tuesday, February 20, at 2 p. m.

SUGGESTS INDUSTRIES

Mrs. Burr Sees Field for Linen, Silk and Shoe Manufactories

Clackamas, Rt. 1, Feb. 12, 1917.

To the editor:
Every child born in this old world is a helpless infant, and the Declaration of Independence says all men are created equal. There is simply no chance for an argument. We all depend on others for our support until we become grown and then we begin to look around to see what this old world holds for our selves. Some choose one kind of work; some would rather travel out and find something new. But what ever kind of work we choose we must not forget that we owe others for our home and our support and in time as we drift we pay it all back again with our work and help.

It is wise for the young folk to start new industries, and as times change the old slavery way of doing things changes, too. There are plenty of good opportunities right here in Clackamas county, or in any part of Oregon, for young industries to spring up. A good linen factory would be a great help to our county. The young women could make beautiful linen cloth; the farmers could raise the flax; the young men could make the oil and feed from the flax seed, and the same could be shipped to any part of the state. The people could own their own factory and need not be slaves for any manufacturing company. Everyone who worked in the factory would be a partner in the same.

A silk factory would be a fine industry for the city folk. They could cultivate the silk worm and the farmers could raise the feed. That would open up a new industry, a new market and give employment to lots of people who are tramping the streets looking for work.

Another industry that we need is a shoe factory where beautiful cloth shoes can be made for summer wear. Leather shoes are necessary for the wet weather, but for summer wear the cloth shoes are better.

Let us all do some good thinking. Good sound common sense is what this old world needs. It isn't war that makes good times. It is peace and happiness tempered with good sound common sense, reason and good judgement.

We are all born helpless; we all go to school and it takes years of study, thought and hard work for us all to develop into sensible men and women.

A Seventy-Year Old Couple

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Carpenter, Harborsburg, Pa., suffered from kidney trouble. He says: "My wife and I suffered from kidney trouble and had rheumatic pains all through the body. The first few doses of Foley Kidney Pills relieved us, and five bottles entirely cured us. Although we are both in the seventies, we are as vigorous as we were thirty years ago." Foley Kidney Pills stop sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, swollen joints.—Jones Drug Co.

BOYS WOULD SEE WORLD

Sheriff Wilson Halts Adventure of Canemah Youngsters

The rules of the modern troubadour, the box car idol and tattered track walker, as set out for young minds in such elevating literature as Diamond Dick and "30 Years on the Plains," worked upon two Canemah youngsters on Saturday and under cover of darkness they started in search of the El Dorado that their fiction reading pictured to them. Douglas Joseph was one of the pair and the other remains unknown to fame because a loving father and mother and vigilant officers were too anxious to bring him home to give or learn his name.

The boys left home on the first lap of their journey to fame and fortune on Saturday night. Soon Sheriff Wilson was on the trail and after searching throughout the southern end of the county on Sunday he returned to the vicinity of Gladstone, where it had been reported the lads slept in a barn on Saturday night. There the sheriff found the boys, shotguns piled over a grip of clothing, asleep beneath the blankets they had carried from home.

The little fellows, each aged about 16 years, told the usual story of desire to see the world and take part in its upbuilding, just like the gentlemanly heroes of their fiction. Their ambitions were nipped in the bud, however, when the sheriff returned them to their Canemah homes to spend the remainder of the night and all future nights under the comforting protection of home roofs.

FORBES IS PEEVED

Says Portland Journal Can't Dictate to Him as to Bill

Charging that the Portland Journal was attempting to coerce him to report senate bill 3, providing for the notification of delinquent taxpayers by mail, Representative Forbes, chairman of the house judiciary committee, announced at Salem Monday night that he would not report the bill until Wednesday.

After several bills had been considered, Representative Lewis asked that the committee proceed to a consideration of senate bill 63, and gave Chairman Forbes several amendments. Forbes picked up the bill and amendments and, putting both in his pocket, said there were also other amendments, and that all would be considered tomorrow. Lewis made a motion to consider them immediately, and Forbes refused to put it, declaring that certain people interested in the passage of the bill had attempted to bluff him into reporting it today.

"This bill reached my committee February 2," said Forbes, after the meeting. "It had to be printed, and that means several days' more delay. The Portland Journal immediately commenced a newspaper campaign against me to force the bill out of my committee, and yesterday I was told that lobbyists for it would compel me to report it to the house today. Now, neither the Journal nor any other newspaper is going to dictate to me. I will report an amended bill out Wednesday morning, and not a single day before then."

The amended bill will be state wide in its application, and provides that, if after delinquent taxpayers have been notified by mail and they fail to pay their taxes within 30 days, the taxes shall be advertised. This makes advertising a penalty for the failure of a taxpayer to pay his taxes.

YOUTH RELEASED

District Attorney Lets Guardian Take Ewald Schneider from Jail

The budding criminal career of Ewald Schneider, whose robberies have had him in and out of several jails within a few months, is postponed temporarily or halted permanently. The 17-year-old youth was released from the county jail on Saturday morning and given into the keeping of his guardian, Prof. Nelson W. Bowland.

Schneider has a record as a young robber and jail breaker that goes through two states. He was committed to the state training school from this county some time ago, and after a brief sojourn at the Salem institution he made his escape. He ventured into Idaho, where a penchant for thievery led him into a store. He was arrested, but soon escaped from jail and returned to Oregon. Again in Oregon City the youth continued his career of crime. He robbed the Reddaway grocery store in this city and was arrested. He has languished in the county jail since January 1, pending the consideration of court officials.

To District Attorney Hedges the boy said he was 18 years old. Birth certificates and other verifications proved him to be only 17. In explanation the boy said he could not get tobacco if he had said he was only 17 and in order to secure the weed he lied about his age and laid himself liable to commitment to the state penitentiary rather than a return to the state training school.

The state school had first call upon the lad, but did not ask for his return during good behavior. Prof. Bowland vouches for the future of the boy and will do everything possible to keep him in the straight and narrow path. Schneider has been put to work and as long as he remains straight can stay out of jail. He has some property left to him by deceased relatives, and has an excellent chance to become a somebody rather than a jail bird if he should choose the right course.

A Woman's Experience With Grippe
When a cough or cold "hangs in," and you have aches and pains in your joints and muscles, it is likely that gripe is taking hold of your system. Mrs. J. A. Rodgers, Switzer, Conn., says: "I am susceptible to colds, often ending in gripe. In this case I have found Foley's Honey and Tar to prevent drenching colds. This sterling family remedy loosens the phlegm, stops irritation, allays soreness and inflammation and frees the air passages. Good for children.—Jones Drug Co."

Tried Fruitola and Traxo and Has Never Since Been Troubled With Gall Stones

Mrs. Mary E. Franse, whose address is West Point, Neb., Box 411, has written to the Pinus Laboratories a very strong endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo. "About ten years ago I was about to undergo an operation for gall stones when I heard of your medicine. Dreading an operation above everything I determined to try Fruitola and Traxo and have never been sorry I did so, as I have never been troubled with gall stones since." Fruitola and Traxo are compounded from the original Edsall remedies at the Pinus Laboratories in Monticello, Ill., and can be purchased in Oregon City, Portland, Canby and Hubbard at the Huntley Bros. Company's drug stores; a doctor's prescription is not necessary. Fruitola is a pure
