Alfred Bigger, who has been in France, a member of the Eighteenth Engineers, who arrived in New York about two weeks ago, passed through Portland Wednesday afternoon on the hospital train, and was en route to Camp Lewis. Bigger proceeded the Eighteenth Engineers to the United States, as he was suffering from ear trouble. He will be stationed at Camp Lewis for a few days, he believes, before receiving his discharge from the service. Bigger had intended telephoning his parents in this city when arriving in Portland, but upon their arrival in that city, he was unable to leave the train owing to government orders, and telegraphed his parents upon his arrival at Camp Lewis. He says the hospital train was greeted by many along the route from the East, and given a most cordial reception. The sick and injured soldiers aboard were presented with flowers and good things to eat, and the men could not ask for better treatment than the attendants on the train had given them.

Alfred Bigger, who has been with the 18th Engineers Railway, and recently returned from France, surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bigger in this city Saturday by arriving at the family home. He is still in the service, and is stationed at Camp Lewis, where he is receiving medical attention. He has been suffering for the past month with ear trouble, but as he is rapidly recovering expects to receive his discharge from the service in a short time. Bigger was on the hospital train that arrived in Portland a few days ago, and says the trip over the continent was brightened by the kindness extended by the Red Cross and the big-hearted people. Nothing was left undone, and the men were showered with delicacies and flowers. Bigger was one of the first young men leaving Oregon City, and has gone through many hardships since leaving here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hammond and children, of Gladstone, spent Sunday on their 15-acre tract of land they purchased last week. This land, which is one of the most sightly in the Sandy country, and near Firwood, has an elevation of 1500 feet. A number of years ago it belonged to Mr. Pridemore, now manager of the hotel at Government camp, who later sold it. It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond to spend the week-ends at their place, and a portion of their summer outing. A small house is prettily located on the place. William Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond, who has been spending the winter with his grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. P. K. Hammond, in Ashland, has returned to his home at Gladstone.

Mrs. John R. Humphreys, who accompanied her sister, Mrs. S. R. Crockett, and also her niece, Miss Bernice Halley, of Houlton, Maine, to Victoria, B. C., returned to Oregon City Sunday morning, after a most delightful trip. Mrs. Crockett and her niece, Miss Halley, have been visiting in this city, and are now on their way home. They are at the present time visiting relatives and friends in Montana, and will go by way of the Canadian Pacific. While here they visited many scenic points, among these over the highway, also in the Hood River country. While in British Columbia they visited with friends and relatives, and also spent some time in Vancouver, B. C., and Seattle, Wash.

Joseph Scherzinger, a well-known young man of Oregon City, who has been in France and Belgium for the past nine months, arrived in Oregon City Monday. Scherzinger was with Company C, 364th Infantry, and was mustered out of service at Camp Kearney, Cal., where entered the army. It was while employed in California he entered the service, and was for some time stationed at Camp Lewis. He is the son of John Scherzinger, of this city, and his many friends are giving him the glad hand.

Corporal Fred Gio, who has been in France for over two years with Company E, 411 Telegraph Battalion, Signal Corps, has returned to Oregon City. Mr. Gio has resumed his position as lineman with the Pacific States Telephone company, having been connected with that company for some time before entering the service. He was one of a hundred men selected to go overseas for the signal corps work. He is the son of Mrs. M. Gio, of Fourteenth and Washington streets.

Charles Graham, who has been with the 316 Sanitary Training company stationed in France, surprised his many friends Monday morning, when he arrived here. Charles is in the best of health, and says he will be glad to settle down in the little city by the falls again, although he has had much wonderful experience since going overseas. He will resume his position with the Huntley Brothers Drug company, and for the present is visiting his parents at Oak Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Anderson of Maple Lane, were in Oregon City Tuesday. They have recently heard from their son, E. B. Anderson, formerly in the Confederation business here, and now engaged in the livestock industry in Eastern Oregon, saying he and his family are delighted with that country. Anderson has 75 head of stock, and is preparing to ship much of this to the stock yards in Portland. He is also engaged in growing grain.

Victor Johnson, who was with the 18th Engineers, and recently returning to Clackamas county, was in Oregon City Tuesday, where he visited Deputy County Assessor W. B. Cook. Johnson is well known in Hazella, where he has a host of friends, and where he is visiting. He was one of the first Clackamas county boys to respond to his country's call. He has been in the service for 22 months. His parents reside in Sweden.

A picnic was held on the school ground of Linn's Old Mill School District No. 21, the smallest school district of the county, last week. There were 24 attending, and a most delightful time was had. The men were invited from their day's labor in the fields and on the road to partake of the dinner at noon. This was greatly appreciated by those being lucky enough to partake of the feast. The day was spent in games and music. The teacher is Mrs. Lester Royle, formerly of this city, but now of Maple Lane.

Mrs. W. A. Fish of Woodburn, Route 3, was in Oregon City Saturday visiting her mother, Mrs. Helen Elliott, also of Woodburn, Route 3. Mrs. Fish was formerly Miss Willa Elliott. Suit Is Entered To Collect Note

James A. Ruby entered suit Thursday against Carl O. Sophia, C., and C. O. Young to collect a promissory note for $4,500 given May 11, 1911. The note was made by Carl and Sophia Young and S. O. Young claims some interest in property on which a mortgage was given to secure the note. This note was to be due May 11, 1917, and the plaintiff alleges nothing has been paid except the interest to March 1, 1916, and that the defendants have failed to pay the last half of the taxes for 1916 and for 1917-18. He claims he was compelled to pay these amounting to $101.03 and asks for a settlement of the full amount of the note and the reimbursement of the taxes and $350 attorney's fees. He asks for foreclosure of the mortgage to settle his claim.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF OREGON CITY DIES SATURDAY MORNING

Mrs. Clara Moore, widow of the late Alexander B. Moore, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Draper Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, after an illness of several months. On February 21 Mrs. Moore was stricken with apoplexy, and was recovering from the effects of this until a few days ago when her heart became affected, causing her death. Mrs. Moore's maiden name was Clara Buckles, and she was the daughter of the late John and Sarah Buckles. She was born in Illinois, December 7, 1844, and at the age of 22 years married Alexander Moore, October 11, 1866, at Lawrence, Kansas.

On September 13, 1879, Mrs. Moore accompanied her family to Oregon City, where she has since made her home. She has been an active worker of the Red Cross branch of this city, and delighted in making articles for the comfort of the soldier boys. She was also an active worker of the Meade Relief Corps. In her girlhood days she was a member of the Christian church, but upon her arrival here she became a member of the Baptist church, and was one of the most active workers. She was also a member of the Ladies' Aid Society of that church.

Mrs. Moore is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. W. Draper of West Linn; a son, Bert Moore, of Portland; eight grandchildren, Mrs. Ernest Moser, of The Dalles; Jack Draper, who is on a submarine chaser and is still in the service; Leon Draper, who has recently returned from France, and is now in California; Dale Draper, who was also in the service, and now of West Linn; Nell Allan Draper, of West Linn; Harold A. Moore of Portland; Mrs. Clara Moore Watson of Vallejo, California; and two great grandchildren, Lucile Draper of Oregon City, and Ernest Moser, Jr., of The Dalles. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. J. C. Woods of Astoria; Mrs. Cora Snyder of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Etta Walker of this city; a brother, Charles Moore, of Kansas. The husband, A. B. Moore, died 14 years ago, and her son, Charles, died ten years ago.

MOUNTAIN VIEW MAN DIES FRIDAY MORNING AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

James Parrish, a resident of Mountain View Addition, this city, died at his home Friday morning at 2:30 o'clock, after a few hours' illness. Mr. Parrish had visited a nearby store early in the evening, and also several of his neighbors, and was enjoying the very best of health at that time. About 11 o'clock he was taken ill, and his wife summoned her niece, Mrs. Raft, who resides in an adjoining residence, who called the family physician, Dr. M. C. Strickland. Dr. Strickland pronounced the illness double pneumonia. Mr. Parrish was born in Illinois, January 28, 1842, and came to Oregon City with his wife 15 years ago.

Palmetto Plant Mystifies All

A palmetto plant at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hammond at Gladstone is puzzling many of the florists of the county, and several of Portland, owing to its blossoming. This is the second year the plant has bloomed, and there are now five blossoms that are formed of hundreds of smaller blossoms, these being about the size of a pin head. They are of a lemon color, and adds to the attractiveness of the plant. The plant itself, stands about five feet high, and is about ten years old. Many inquiries have been made by Mrs. Hammond regarding the blossoming palm, but so far she has been unsuccessful as to be informed as to what variety this palm is.

MANY FRIENDS MOURN FOR JOSEPH ALLEN WHO DIED IN FRANCE

Joseph Steven Allen, youngest son of George and Katie Allen, of this city, reported to have died in France of scarlet fever and bronchial pneumonia, April 23, was born at Gray Eagle, Minn., January 20, 1896. He came to Oregon City about 13 years ago with his parents, and resided here until entering the United States Army four years ago August, 1919. He was stationed for some time in the Philippine Islands, and before going to France enjoyed a two weeks' furlough with his relatives here. He was stationed for a brief time in California and in Arizona.

After arriving in France the young man had gone through some of the biggest battles, and had spent much time in the trenches. He was a member of the 15th Cavalry, Troop M, and had been in France over a year. Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. George Pendleton of Hubbard, Oregon, and Mrs. H. H. Wallace of Oregon City; a brother, W. M. Allen of this city. The young man is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Fessler of this city. The father, who was stricken with paralysis two years ago, is almost helpless, and the mother is prostrated over the son's death, and a nurse is in constant attendance.

Several letters were received from the young man last week, where he spoke of being in the best of health, after recovering from influenza. These letters were to the Pendleton family at Hubbard, also to the Allen and Fessler families, one of these arriving the day the telegram was received, and was being read when the sad word came of his death.

The young soldier had a host of friends in this city, who had hoped for his early return to Oregon City.

SUIT DISMISSED

The suit of John Schuttel against Joseph and Marie Aerni was ordered dismissed in the circuit court Wednesday as that court decided they have no jurisdiction over the question involved. The parties in the case are neighbors and the suit was over the division line between their places. This court would have had jurisdiction over the question to the title of the property but not the dividing line.

MRS. M. E. STEVENS IS LAID TO REST IN CLACKAMAS CEMETERY

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Mary Etta Stevens, wife of N. B. Stevens, of Clackamas Heights, near Oregon City, were held from the Christian church of Gladstone Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. Bean, pastor, officiated. Shortly before the death of Mrs. Stevens she arranged for her funeral services, and requested that the pastor of the Christian church take for his subject the 14th chapter of John, and the choir sing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Nearer My God to Thee." Her requests were granted and the services were largely attended by the many friends and acquaintances of the deceased. The interment was in the Clackamas cemetery.

There were many friends who followed the remains to their last resting place. The pallbearers were Mr. Nealey, Fred Mathies, Jr., Henry Muender, George Tyack, Charles Mann and Mr. Bryant.

Mrs. Stevens' maiden name was Mary Etta Andrews, and she was the daughter of C. C. and Della Andrews. She was born at Marion, Linn county, Iowa, February 22, 1859. On January 27, 1889, she married N. B. Stevens at Quasqueton, Iowa, and to this union there were born four children, three sons and a daughter, the latter dying in infancy. After residing in Iowa for some time, Mrs. Stevens accompanied her family to Oregon, arriving in Oregon City about 1912. She has since made her home on Clackamas Heights near the Holcomb school house.

She became a member of the Methodist church 25 years ago, and in 1918 joined the Christian church at Gladstone, and since that time has been one of the active members. She was a woman who delighted in doing good for others, and was always ready with a helping hand to give aid when opportunity was given her. Her cheerful and sunny disposition had won hundreds of friend, who learned with deep regret of her death, which occurred Monday morning, after a ten-days' illness of pneumonia.

Mrs. Stevens is survived by her widower, N. B. Stevens, of Clackamas Heights; three sons, Arthur L. Stevens, of Gladstone, Clarence C. Stevens, of San Francisco; Orval A. Stevens, of Knappa, California, all of whom were here for the funeral services. She also leaves three grandchildren, George, Clarence and Edwin Stevens, of Gladstone; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Flemming, of Marion, Iowa; two brothers, W. W. Andrews, of Troy Mills, Iowa; F. M. Andrews, of Central Point, Iowa. A sister, Mrs. Rachel Stevens, died two years ago.
