

State Hospital at Portland

For the purpose of enabling the legislature to establish an industrial and reconstruction hospital at Portland, a constitutional amendment has been proposed for submission to the voters at the special election, June 3rd. The amendment provides that the legislature may, without requiring a ratification by the electors of the state, establish such a hospital in some other county than where the seat of government is.

The real purpose of the amendment, of course, is to permit the legislature to establish a hospital at Portland with funds of the state. Our constitution does not permit any state building to be erected outside of Marion county, except for the institutions established prior to January 1, 1907.

The framers of the amendment would open a way to place a hospital at Portland, and believe that city is a proper place for such an institution. There is a measure on the ballot at the special election in June that appropriates $350,000 for this hospital, but the appropriation would not be legal, if made, unless the constitution should be amended to establish the hospital at Portland.

If you believe that a state industrial and reconstruction hospital should be located at Portland, if established at all, you should vote for the amendment, No. 302 Yes.

If you believe that all new institutions should be located at the seat of government, you should vote No. 303 No.

The proposed amendment makes no appropriation. It simply legalizes the site at Portland, in the event money is appropriated at this election, or at any future time.
