BOYS OVER HERE—OVER THERE

Mrs. Vertie M. Todd, of West Lynn, has received the following from her son, Albert, who has been in France, and is now on his way home to the west:

"Dear Mother:
 I'll write you a few lines to let you know I am all right, and expect to be home by the last of this month. Will land sometime at Philadelphia, Pa. Will be in Camp Lewis before very long.

"ALBERT."

Private Charles Richardson, who is with Headquarters Troop Third Corps writes the following letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Richardson: Nemred, am Rhein, Germany, April 25, 1919.

"My Dear Father and Mother:
 Just a few lines this morning to let you know that everything is all O. K. Hope all of you are in good health.

"We are having some good weather here at present.
 We have eight Bush League baseball teams organized among the Corps troops. We play our first game this afternoon.

"I haven't heard from you for quite a while, but I think some mail is due here this morning. Perhaps I will have some.

"Sergeant Moody sends his best regards to you.

"The Third Army is staging its carnival now in Coblenz, the date for this being April 23 to 27. I went yesterday, and had a fine time. Met some of the boys out of the old D Company. 'Red' Nelson is only a short distance from here. I haven't seen him so far, but expect to soon.

"Give everybody in dear old Oregon City my best regards. All the Oregon City boys send their best regards.

"Lots of love,
 Your loving son,
 "CHARLES."

Private Charles Richardson,
 Headquarters Troop Third Corps,
 A. P. O. 754, American Exped. Forces.

Harvey Boylan, son of Charles Boylan, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Boylan, arrived in New York from France a few days ago, according to word received by relatives here. The young man was but 15 years of age when he entered the service and is with the 147th Infantry.

Boylan is well known in Oregon City, where he made his home for some time.

Charles Richardson left Oregon City on the day war was declared, and was a member of Company D, 162nd Infantry. He left for France December 28, 1917. He was later transferred to the Army of Occupation, and has had much experience since going overseas, and has been in some of the heaviest fighting in France.

Henry Wilson, son of the late Joseph Wilson, of this city, and a well known Oregon City boy, who enlisted when war was declared and who has been in England serving his country, was honor guard for the President. His many friends are glad to welcome him home to civil life. Henry was with Company G, 162nd United States Infantry.

The following letter was written by the young man May 9 at Camp Merritt, N. J., to Mrs. Beck, of this city:

"Dear Mrs. Beck:
 Pardon me for not writing to you sooner, but was unable to find the time, as we had so much work to do.

"I suppose you have heard that we are back in New Jersey. We left Liverpool April 18 and went to France where we picked up another detachment at Brest. We will entrain for Camp Lewis on the 12th of this month, and it is rumored we will go by way of Portland. If nothing happens we will be near home by the time you get this letter."

H. L. Scheer, of Twilight, has received an interesting letter from his son, Albert Scheer, who is with Company G, 109th U. S. Infantry, and is on his way home from France. The letter is as follows:

Somewhere on the High Seas, April 27, 1919.

"Dear Father:
 I'll write you a few lines to let you know I am well, and trust you folks are the same.

"Well I am on the high seas sailing along. We have been on the water for five days, and have not been seasick yet. All we can see is just sky and water. There is one sailor on this boat from Portland, Oregon. We had a nice talk together and he knows some of the people whom I know.

"It will not be long before we are home again, if the Lord is willing. I am going to send you a picture of the ship that we sailed on. Her name is the Main, and it is a nice ship too. We get good eats and have good bunks to sleep in.

"I suppose you are anxious to have me home, so I can tell you about the war and some of my experiences. I don't like to talk about it very much. I tell you I was in some awful hard and bloody battles in the Argonne Forest. We fought in one battle three days steady. That was the battle of Apremont, and that is where I got my two Germans and a machine gun and lots of bullets. I can tell you some stories about that battle that we were in that would make a fellow feel cold, but we won the war. You can have somebody to feel proud of now.

"I guess by the time you get this letter we will be in Camp Lewis. 'One of the sailors killed a shark last night. It was about 30 feet long. 'Gee, I am feeling good. 'God be with you always, and with best love from me to you all. 'From your soldier son,
 "ALBERT SCHEER."

First Class Private Wallace McCord, who was among the 18th Engineers Railway Company arriving home a few days ago, says the Oregon Boys' New York Home at 425 Seventh Avenue, New York, N. Y., is a 'God send' to the boys arriving from overseas. Wallace says he was one of the boys of Oregon City visiting the place, and was given a most cordial welcome by the reception committee. He says the women there are just like your sisters, after being in France, and they can't do too much for you. 'We were made to feel at home, and we certainly did, for the big reception home is most inviting, where home papers can be found, and chairs and couches are provided for the comfort of the boys, also stationery to write on. Adjoining the reception room is a good sized pantry, where we were, and others, are given the privilege of 'helping themselves to the good things to eat. We can make our own sandwiches, and help ourselves to the good things on the shelves. Even boys from other states, remarked of the hospitality of the Oregon headquarters and said it beat anything.

He also says the $50 sent last week by the committee from the Victory Ball will be greatly appreciated at headquarters.

Private McCord speaks highly of the young women in charge of the headquarters, and especially of Miss Peggy Curtis, a well known young newspaper woman of Salem, who has been in New York for some time, and is a friend to all Oregon boys coming across. McCord says, 'She is certainly a fine girl, and a regular Westerner, and immediately makes friends with our boys.' McCord was in New York four days, and each day the Oregon headquarters were visited. He was in France 21½ months.

While in France McCord visited Miss Mollie Rose, a former Oregon City young woman. Miss Rose, who was formerly book-keeper for the Huntley Drug Company, is holding a similar position with the Y. M. C. A. and is stationed at Bordeaux.

Sergeant Major Charles Moulton who recently returned from overseas service, has taken up his residence at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. L. E. Moulton, of Fern Ridge. The many friends of the young man are giving him a most cordial welcome, and are glad to see him back again, after going through some of the largest battles in France.

Sergeant Major Moulton left Oregon City to enter the service September 5, 1917, and was assigned to the 361st Infantry at Camp Lewis. He left Camp Lewis June 23, 1918, on his way to France. After arriving at Camp Merritt, N. J., he remained there until July 6, 1918, when he left for overseas duty. He arrived in Glasgow, Scotland, July 17, after an enjoyable voyage.

Arriving at Southampton, England, Moulton's company proceeded to La Harve, France, and later transferred to Le-envisigny, a small town, and here is one of the largest training areas—Chaumont. He remained there until called to the front. He was held in reserve at St. Mihiel from September 11 to 18th inclusive, then to the Argonne Forest, near Epinville, and where he was in the front line attack from September 26 to October 12. Here he was able to dodge the bullets and flying shrapnel, and came out of the battle without a scratch.

In one of the battles Moulton was in there were 344 of his regiment killed and 1400 wounded, and he believes he was one of the luckiest men of his regiment to come out without a scratch.

Moulton received two promotions while in France. Entering the service as a private, his first promotion was a corporal at Camp Lewis, then again was promoted, this time to sergeant. Color sergeant and sergeant major were the offices promoted to while the young man was overseas.

Before entering the service Moulton was practicing law, and will probably resume his practice in the near future.

Charles Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Mueller, of Mulino, was in Oregon City Tuesday. He has received his honorable discharge from the service, and is glad to be home again. He came across on the 'Imperator' and enjoyed the trip home. Mueller was engaged in some of the largest battles in Europe. Among these was in the Argonne Forest and his regiment held the lines for three days at St. Mihiel, France. He was also stationed at Lise, Belgium.

William Watts, who has been with the Canadian army in the Medical Detachment since the war started, has received his discharge from the service. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Watts, of Beaver Creek. His brother, George, is still in the service, and is with his company in Germany. Also is Humphrey Parry, of Beaver Creek. These young men were together when arriving in France, and were continually together until January when they were separated, but are happily together again, and expect to make the trip to the United States together in the near future. These two young men are with the 318th Engineers, and with the Medical Detachment. John Watts, who was in the service, but was disappointed in not being able to go overseas, has received his honorable discharge, and returned to his home at Beaver Creek.

Ted Miller Home From Overseas

Ted Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. H. Miller of this city, who has been with the 98th Aero Squadron, stationed in France, returned to Oregon City Thursday. Ted, who was connected with the Oregon City Courier when entering the service, left here in August, 1917, and has been in France almost two years. He has thoroughly enjoyed his experience since being overseas, but has been among the boys of Oregon City anxious to return home since the armistice was signed.

Miller had telegraphed his parents that he would arrive in Portland at a certain time, and many friends had planned to go to Portland to give him a reception on Friday, but in the meantime the train had gained on the schedule to arrive, and reached Portland Thursday.

Shortly before the arrival of the train in Portland, Ted managed to get a wire to his parents here, and the trip was made in time to reach the train at the Union depot. Among those accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Miller by automobile on this short notice were Rev. and Mrs. Seeman, Mrs. E. L. Shaw, Mrs. A. McDonald, Miss Ruth Miller, Curtis Miller, Mrs. Frank Schoenborn, Mrs. H. S. Anderson, Mrs. W. C. Green and Leslie Wiveslek. Ted was given a great ovation upon his arrival in Portland by his Oregon City relatives and friends, and has been warmly received since arriving home. He made the trip from France on the Manchuria.

He has visited many sections of France, and brought home a number of souvenirs which he purchased to remember the time he spent in France.

Lieutenant Beard In Army Hospital

Lieutenant Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beard, and a former Oregon City young man, is still confined in a hospital in New Jersey. He has been there for some time, and is suffering from infection of the jaw. He was in some of the hardest drives in France, and was with his company in Belgium when the armistice was signed. He became afflicted while in France, and was in several large hospitals in that country before being sent back to the United States. He is in the hands of specialists in New Jersey, and is looking forward to the time when he will be able to return to his Sellwood home. His brother, Henry, who was also in the service, has returned home, and has resumed his position as shipping clerk for the Weinhard company.

Russell Fauley Is Injured at Brest

Russell Fauley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fauley of this city, met with a painful accident while working at Brest waiting for a transport to the States.

A blast in a quarry was set off without warning and a large piece of rock struck him, making a large cut and fracturing his right jaw. He was taken to the hospital in Brest where he remained two weeks. He is now in an evacuation ward, hoping to return to the States in a few days. Upon arriving in the States he will be placed in a convalescing ward until he fully recovers from the accident.

Russell Fauley enlisted August 2, 1917, in the 98th Aero Squadron and was sent to South Antonio, Texas, for four months, then to Camp Mills, New York, leaving the States in November, 1917.

While in the Oregon City high school he was prominent in athletic circles.

SIX GRADE TEACHERS ARE SELECTED FOR POSITIONS NEXT YEAR

Six grade teachers, Mrs. Eula Creech, of Stayton; Grace Duncan, Wilma Duncan, and Grace Wilson, of Newberg, and Jessie Bowland and Afah Mass, of Oregon City, were elected Monday to fill vacancies in the grade schools of Oregon City for the next school year. Miss Mass taught here last year and has been in the East since last September. Miss Bowland is now teaching the grade vacated by the resignation of Miss Lucille Roe. Three grade positions are yet to be filled, besides two high school vacancies and a supervisor of music.

The Price of Bread

Newspaper publicity through the columns of the Enterprise prevented the Portland bakers from increasing the price of bread in Oregon City.

Our own bakeries stiffened their backs and would not consent to the advance of one cent a loaf demanded by the bakers of Portland, who ship every day hundreds of loaves here for local consumption.

Oregon City grocers who buy and sell Portland bread declined to be goaded by the Portland ox and flatly refused to agree to the rise.

The net result is that residents of this city are able to buy bread for 10 cents a loaf.

There is a moral to this story. We have bakeries here—good ones. These establishments pay rent, employ labor, maintain their families, and do their part to build up Oregon City, and they make good bread.

The way to help your own town is to patronize its local factories—large and small.

The dollar that goes out of Oregon City does not return, but the dollar spent here for home made products goes into the local channels of trade.

Think it over when you buy your bread today.

FRED ARMSTRONG IS GIVEN WELCOME ON ARRIVAL IN PORTLAND

Fred Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Armstrong of West Linn, passed through Portland Friday on his way to Camp Lewis, where he will receive his honorable discharge. Armstrong was met in that city by his parents and other relatives, and also by Mrs. Harvey of Canemah, and he was given a most cordial reception, and his train remained in Portland until 11 o'clock.

Fred Armstrong has the distinction of being one of the first boys of West Linn and Oregon City to place his name on the list of volunteers at the recruiting office in Oregon City, enlisting April 1, 1917. He left Oregon City August 9, 1917. He left New York for overseas duty in December, 1917, and since that time has been in England and France, most of the time in England. He was with the Second Battalion of the 162d Infantry, and although anxious to return home, never said a word of complaint has the young man made. He is the picture of health, and has gained over 20 pounds in weight since leaving here.

Armstrong and his brother, Ralph, who recently returned from the navy, are to be given a big reception at the home of their parents upon the return of Fred from Camp Lewis. At that time a garden party is being planned, and a large number of Clackamas county's enlisted young men will be among the guests of honor. Plans are being made for about 200 people to attend. A similar affair was held at the Armstrong home when the young men departed for the service.

Picnic At Eagle Creek Enjoyed

The picnic held by the Eagle Creek Grange Saturday was attended by about 300 and a good time was enjoyed by all. Addresses, music and a dinner featured the day.

The principal speaker was Judge G. W. Stapleton of Portland, who spoke on the difference of the farmer and the city man, giving the former the advantage in all respects. He highly commended the club work of the county. C. Schuebel also spoke on the measures to come up before the voters in June.

Miss Marie Anthony gave a demonstration of the iceless refrigerator and the fireless cooker and Miss Snedeker spoke on the club work.

ARTHUR V. DAVIS IS HOME FROM FRANCE AFTER LONG SERVICE

Arthur Vernon Davis of the 324th Bakery company, has been home for about two weeks. He was in the service in France 18 months, seven of which were in the trenches.

The family at home had anxiously waited nine months to hear from him and repeatedly wrote cards and letters but none ever came back and no word was received from him tho he says he received their letters and answered them all.

He has seen some real service, having been gassed and been behind the German lines for a number of days and escaped without being even seen. He has just recovered from an attack of pneumonia which followed the influenza.

He is glad to be home again with his Oregon City friends and thinks Oregon the best place of all.

BURGESS FORD GIVEN CITATION FOR BRAVERY

In recognition of his bravery in going over the top with the Infantrymen of the Ninetieth division, in the St. Mihiel drive and carrying on his work in the midst of severe losses, Burgess F. Ford of 1030 1-2 Belmont St., Portland, is one of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries with the division cited and especially commended by Major General Henry T. Allen, who commanded the division at St. Mihiel.

Mr. Ford and eight of his fellow secretaries were with the infantry battalions in the fighting of September 12 to 19. All received citations. Mr. Ford's work in No Man's Land, in the midst of the drive, won him special commendation.

Nine secretaries were with the infantry battalions and two secretaries (F. A. Dawes and B. F. Ford) actually went over the top with the assault battalions and carried on their work in the midst of the severest losses.

Mr. Ford is well known here where he has visited many times. He was a resident of Stayton when entering the Y. M. C. A. as secretary. Mrs. H. A. Safford and Miss Sadie Evelyn Ford, of this city, are sisters of the young man.

Thirty Years Ago Today

Taken From the Oregon City Enterprise Thirty Years Ago

The Imperial mill has closed down temporarily on account of scarcity of wheat.

James Chase has built a fence around the property occupied by the Ackerman family.

William Pratt caught a 29 1-2 pound salmon at the falls Tuesday.

Captain Califf has built a small barn on the lot north of his house.

Charman Brothers have a crew of men busy at their brick yard in the northeastern part of the city.

Cherries are ripe, so are strawberries.

The postoffice is likely to be moved to its old stand on Monday next.

The new steamer built by Wheeler & Crouse was successfully launched at the new shipyard at New Era Saturday evening. A large audience witnessed the beautiful sight. This is the second boat these parties have built at that place.

The Warner Grange will be represented at Hillsboro on the 15th by Arthur Warner, L. N. Andrews and J. Casto for the purpose of organizing what is known among grangers as a business council.

Was It a Ghost?—Considerable excitement was caused last Thursday about town by the report that Robert Stewart, who went over the falls the day before, had been heard to call for help. It seems that G. E. Hayes and Will Hedges were returning home about 9 o'clock in the evening from down town. When over half way up to Canemah they heard a cry or shout seemingly from the direction of the falls. They stopped and listened, and heard it repeated. They then called and thought they were answered. Rushing back they told W. E. Pratt what they had heard, but he scouted the idea of Stewart's being about the falls and alive. Hedges and Hayes then went on to the sawmill, got a boat and went up opposite the falls and called with all their might. Once they thought their calls faintly answered but heard nothing further in response to their calls they returned. Some supposed that an undercurrent had thrown the man on a ledge of rocks back under the falls and that he was imprisoned there and calling for help. Various schemes were suggested for his relief but it was not generally believed that he was there and alive, and nothing was done.

GARY MOTOR TRUCKS WIN IN ROAD WORK COMPETITION

GARY 3½ TON TRUCKS

Three Gary 3½-ton Trucks, purchased by Kay County, Oklahoma, for public road work—after a competitive test with five other leading makes of trucks.

We now have twenty trucks on the way like those shown above, all equipped with 3½ yard steel lined bodies, with Hydraulic Hoist, that we are bringing in for road construction work. These will be sold under the factory's absolute guarantee for the full period of one year.

GARY steel products lead the world. GARY Trucks are in the same class. Don't chance an unknown quality.

REPORT OF W. C. NORRIS CO.

Here is the report of the W. C. Norris Motor Sales Company, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, on the three trucks shown above, and covering their experience with motor trucks in general and GARY Trucks in particular.

"We have just closed the deal with the County Commissioners of Kay County for three GARY 3½-ton trucks. We competed with five other makes, and outperformed them all. The performance of the trucks we frankly state is marvelous. The 'H' and 'HU' 2 and 2½-ton models with four speed transmission outpull, overpower and outclass everything in their rated capacity; while the 3½-ton is even greater in pulling power and load carrying capacity. We consider your worm drive, semi-floating Sheldon Axle as the only safe and sure form of construction for hard usage and to withstand the strain and abuse to which a truck is subjected in the oil fields and kindred lines of work. Our observation, experience and knowledge of actual results in meeting oil field requirements, with heavy loads and no roads, convinces us that GARY TRUCKS can be relied upon in every instance and will deliver a long life of service at a nominal upkeep and low cost of operation. We are for the GARY TRUCKS strong and shall concentrate our future efforts exclusively on the GARY line.

R. C. NORRIS MOTOR SALES CO.
 (Signed) N. D. Southerland, Gen. Mgr.

Note: The W. C. Norris Motor Sales Company are a million dollar concern, and one of the largest in Oklahoma. After several years' experience with other lines of trucks, they have dropped them all and rely exclusively on GARY Trucks for heavy duty oil field work and for all purpose usage.

There is a Gary Truck for every purpose, one to five-ton sizes. All of the highest quality of design and construction. Certainty of Service is our slogan, and as WEST COAST FACTORY AGENCY we shall always be prepared to supply any duplicate part that may be required, and do any repair or service work necessary.

BREWSTER-BRIDGEPORT GROWERS, INC.
 Producers, Packers and Shippers of Fine Apples.

Gentlemen:
 The 2-ton Gary Truck that we purchased from you in June, 1917, has been in service continuously since that time, and during the busy months of the fruit season we have operated the truck 24 hours a day. We have no trouble requiring no repairing or duplicate parts and did not have the truck in the shop until we sent it in to have the new tires put on.

We consider this a wonderful record and evidence of the highest standard of design, material and workmanship, to outwear a set of solid tires over rough roads, without having any repairing to the mechanical parts of the truck.

The truck has been handled by one of our former teamsters, without truck experience, and he worked the truck over the rough roads that one will find mostly in our section. The GARY has the power and never fails to deliver the load. We think it is the best truck built, and give it our unqualified endorsement.

Yours very truly,

 Mansfield, Wash., January 29, 1919.

Gentlemen:
 You want to know how we like the 1½-ton Gary Truck we bought in Spokane last July. We are more than pleased with it. We thought at the time we had bought the best, but we really got more than we expected.

We have done lots of hauling and the truck is in just as good shape as ever. We have done more hauling than trucks lots larger, and with less expense.
