BOYS OVER HERE—OVER THERE

Mrs. J. N. Farr, of Molalla, is in receipt of a letter from her son, Corporal Arthur Farr, a former Oregon City boy, and still in France.

Nice, France, April 18, 1919.

"Dear Folks at Home:

"Wednesday morning, and I just dropped in the K. of C. hall here in Nice, so thought I would drop you a line.

"We went to a dance last night at the hotel Balmain in Mentone, the town where we are stationed, and got up at 6:30 this morning, and had breakfast at 7 o'clock, and caught a train for this place, but just how we will spend it is uncertain as yet, suppose by dancing a little this afternoon in the 'Y', and just looking the town over in general. Sure is the wonderful part of all Europe or in this area.

"Yesterday we went up on a cog tramway, almost straight up to a little town by the name of La Turbi, a one tiny stronghold of Augustus Caesar. Saw the ruins of a town that was built in honor of the soldiers for conquering the tribe around there that used to massacre the people on their way from Rome. This is located in the mountains about 400 feet above Monte Carlo, built 13 years before Christ. Julius Caesar failed to conquer these tribes, but his brother Augustus did, so that is the reason of the statues and pillars. Was 400 feet high with his own statue of 45 feet on top. This was mostly of marble, but the marble has all been taken away now and distributed among all these towns.

"I was also through the Prince of Monaco's palace, and his museum and fish aquarium, and it is wonderful.

"I also got the history of the great city of Monte Carlo and the gambling. Went through it on Monday morning and this while on our way to Grasse, we made the trip by automobile, and was sure some trip. We came back over the mountains 4000 feet above sea level. We had the snow clad Alps to our left with the sun setting and the Mediterranean sea on the right, a great distance below, with a full moon coming up and showing its beams on the snow. This was a beautiful sight. The road was constructed by Napoleon's soldiers for military purposes.

"We leave here Friday night at 9:30.

"Well, folks, good bye for this time.

"Many regrets you are not here enjoying the sights with me.

"Your son,

"ARTHUR.

"Corporal Arthur Farr,

"Company E, C. R. O. Battalion."

Mrs. George Randall, of Oregon City, Route 1, is in receipt of the following letter from Madam Reabier of Contres-Loiet-et-Cher, France, a friend of Mrs. Randall's brother, Albert George Haas, who is in France: Contres-Loiet-et-Cher, April 27, 1919.

"Dear Madam:

"Your dear brother gave us your address and he said he would be pleased if I would write to you. He is a friend of my brother, an comes very often when he is in Contres for dinner and to pay little visits.

"The spoke about fishing and hunting together, and were very pleased.

"Now your brother is at the post office at Saint Oignan, and he cannot come so easily. He came yesterday and left today after dinner at two. He is all right and well, but he is longing to see his parents and all of you. He is always happy to speak about you all here where he feels at home. My dear mother is always pleased to see him, as he is just the same age as her son, who was killed in the war. My father died from grief and now my mother lives with my older brother, so you see we have a quiet life here now.

"I am not always here, only from time to time, when I have holidays for I am a lady professor in Paris but when I am here I do things easier for I speak English.

"I say these matters to you, because I think you want news about your brother. I have had mine in the army too, and I feel how anxious you may be.

"I hope you will soon have the pleasure to see Sergeant Haas, and will find him well and always a good man. While here we have learned to esteem him very highly and that is why I write you dear Madam.

"Please receive the best wishes of all my family and believe me sincerely friendly.

"MADAM REABIER

"Contres-Loiet-et-Cher.

The following letter has been received by Mrs. E. Dungey, 1308 Third street, Oregon City, from her son Corporal Walter Dungey, who is with the Headquarters Detachment, Dauphine Leave Area, France: Grenoble, Isere, France, April 16, 1919.

"Dear Mother:

"I have just received your letter of March 20, where you thought I would be home before long, and there would be no more writing. Well, just keep on writing, for I don't know when I will be home. This leave area is supposed to close up next month, and the chances are good of going home from here.

"The weather stays cold and damp, raining a good deal, and not far away in the foot hills the snow still hangs on.

"There are not so many men coming here on leave now, and guess they are commencing to go home.

"I have quit building now, and in fact have torn down some that was put up three or four weeks ago, so that means we will not be here long.

"I am still in good health and outside of being stiff from playing ball, I am O. K. We used to play 'catch' in the street in front of our quarters, but they made us quit. The reason was a Frenchman stuck his nose in too far and got hit on the nose with the ball, thereby breaking his nose.

"I hope you are all doing fine, and mother, not worrying at all, and enjoying all there is in the place to see I am going to try and see all there is here.

"Goodbye. Love to mother and the rest.

"CORPORAL WALTER DUNGEY,

"Headquarters Detachment,

"Dauphine Leave Area,

"A. P. O. 923, A. E. F."

W. MONTGOMERY IS BACK FROM FRANCE AFTER LONG SERVICE

Sergeant Willard Montgomery, son of Mrs. John Montgomery, of West Linn, one of the four sons to enlist surprised his many friends in this city Sunday when he appeared on the streets. Willard left in September, 1917, for France, and has been stationed in Paris for the past fourteen months. He has been base censor in that city and has seen much of the European countries, but says "Oregon for me every time." His brother, Richard, is still in Europe, and when last heard from was with First Division, Army of Occupation. He has seen some of the worst fighting, and was in the trenches for nine months, during some of the big battles. Their father, John Montgomery, died in January of the present year.

SERGEANT STROHMEYER GLAD TO BE BACK IN GOOD OLD OREGON

Sergeant William Strohmeyer, who has been with the 18th Engineers Railway Company, has received his honorable discharge and returned to Oregon City. "Bill's" many friends in Oregon City are giving him the "glad hand" as welcoming him home. He left here in 1917, and says there is no place like old Oregon on the map. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Strohmeyer, of this city.

Alphonse Moulton Back From France

Tuesday was a great day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Moulton, of 1504 J. Q. Adams street, when their son, Alphonse Moulton, returned from France, after an absence of 18 months. He saw six months continual service at five different fronts—Alsace, Chateau-Thierry, Somme, Meuse and Argonne, with only 9 days' rest. He was with "The Terribles" 32nd Division, so called by the French for their bravery in breaking all of Von Hindenburg's lines, even to the Kaiser's best standing army. They were given the arrow as a signal emblem.

General Foch shook hands with each member of the 32nd Division at parting.

Alphonse is slightly wounded in one hand and leg by shrapnel. He returned to Camp Lewis Tuesday evening to await discharge.

ESCAPED HUN BULLETS IS SEVERELY INJURED IN SAWMILL ACCIDENT

L. Husbands, a well known young man of Clackamas county, whose home is at Union Mills, and who has been in some of the big battles of France, coming back without a scratch, has not fared so well since returning. On Thursday while employed at the sawmill at Union Mills, a large log accidentally rolled on his foot, badly crushing it, and breaking the toes. He suffered untold agony until taken to the Oregon City hospital, where his injuries were attended by Drs. H. S. and Guy Mount, who are endeavoring to save the foot.

ARTICLE ON HEIRLOOM RECALLS DAYS OF HARDY PIONEERS

The old world isn't so large, or else the newspapers cover much of the world, for a recent article in the Enterprise, of this city, and the Oregonian, of Portland, has brought a number of letters to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blossom, of this city. This was concerning a cane, an heirloom in the family of Mr. Blossom, which came over in the Mayflower.

A letter dated May 8, written by Dr. J. Christopher O'Day, of Honolulu, Hawaii, is as follows:

Mr. W. E. Blossom,

611 Center Street, Oregon City Or.

Dear Mr. Blossom:

"I have just read in the Oregonian the little notice of your receiving the heirloom cane of the Blossom family."

"I can hardly tell you the many, many things this brought to my memory, but that which should be of interest to you, I will take time to tell you.

"When I was a very young boy my father was one of the pioneers of the oil industry of Pennsylvania. The opening of the Bingham lands in McKean county was immediately followed by a rush into the wilds of North-western Pennsylvania.

"My family was with the first, and soon a new town sprang into being. This town took its name from a nearby settler, Daniel Rew, and was called Rew City. In due time a post office, then a narrow gauge railroad and with the opening of the surrounding lands for oil prospectors and a telegraph office were established. To me, as a boy, fell the honor of being the first Western Union messenger boy of the new town.

"Even today my memory holds the names of the prominent men to whom I delivered telegrams. Your brother, H. S. Blossom, had opened up a tract some three or four miles distant from the town. As I am writing this I vividly recall my old delivery book, upon which your splendid brother many times receipted the deliveries of a 'dispatch.' That was the name in those days.

"On one occasion I had to deliver a message to him late in the evening and your brother asked, 'Johnny, do you know anything about the Mayflower?' After telling him what little I knew of it and the wonderful people it brought here. He then told me of the first Blossom family, who were with them. Then going into an adjoining room, he returned bearing the very cane that is yours today.

"The past eight years I have been living in Portland. Am very well known there, and expect to visit that city the coming summer.

Sincerely yours,

J. CHRISTOPHER O'DAY.

It was also through the columns of the Oregonian when the article appeared, that the broken piece from the cane has been found in the East.

HELMETS GIVEN TO LARGE SUBSCRIBERS IN VICTORY LOAN

The Fifth Victory Loan helmets allotted to Clackamas county by the United States Treasury Department for the two largest individual subscribers to the loan in that county have been awarded to Dr. M. C. Strickland and H. C. Stevens. These two gentlemen having had the honor of being the two largest individual resident subscribers in the county. Dr. Strickland subscribed for $10,000 worth of bonds and H. C. Stevens subscribed for $10,500.

G. C. Fields, of Portland, placed his subscription within the county for $12,500 worth of bonds, but owing to the fact that he is not a resident subscriber county headquarters deemed it out of order to count this subscription. Mr. Fields is a Clackamas county man and his interests are here but his non-residence barred him from participating in the contest.

These helmets were procured by the Germans when they neared Paris for their triumphal march through the city, and afterwards were captured by the Americans.

PIG AND CORN CLUBS MEET SATURDAY AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

The first general meeting of the Pig and Corn clubs of the county was held here Saturday afternoon at the Commercial Club rooms. Miss R. P. Snedeker, club leader, presiding.

There were about 75 boys and girls in attendance and the leaders of each club made short talks on the work.

Grant B. Dimick spoke on the value of the clubs and the profits of the work of the children.

O. M. Straughan, of Estacada, made a brief talk on cultivation, speaking principally on thinning the crops. L. J. Allen, of Corvallis, spoke on judging hogs and those in attendance made a trip to the farm of George Debock and the boys practiced judging.

County Agent Scott also spoke on cultivation and choosing the seeds for planting.

These clubs are formed by the various schools and the pupils are taking much interest in the work.

The Sunday Newspaper

Resolutions condemning the publication of Sunday newspapers were adopted in St. Louis at the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, and members of the church are called on "not to subscribe for, read or advertise in it."

One man, Rev. Dr. John A. McCollum, of Philadelphia, refused to be stampeded, and stated he had seen one-half of those attending the assembly reading Sunday newspapers at the hotels. "The Sunday paper," said he, "is just as necessary as the Sunday trolley which you attempted to condemn several years ago."

Narrow visioned people have never been able to understand the Sunday morning newspaper. They decline to listen to the explanation, submitted times without number, that most of the work on the Sunday newspaper is done on Saturday and that in all except the large cities the custom is to omit the Monday morning edition, so that the workers may spend their Sundays in rest and in church attendance, if they so desire. The Sunday newspaper all over the country circulates more widely than does the week-day paper, which indicates a more spirited demand from the people for the Sunday edition. In the large city the Sunday paper is out before midnight Saturday, and in the smaller cities the Sunday edition is out of the way within a few hours after midnight, at the latest.

The general assembly is not keeping pace with the times. The Sunday paper, published for the most part on Saturday, goes into hundreds of thousands of Presbyterian homes, where it is welcome and where it will stay.

PLAYERS INJURED IN OREGON CITY-MOLALLA CONTEST AT CANEMAH

With scores of 3 to 1 in favor of Oregon City, the game between the high school teams of Oregon City and Molalla came to a sudden termination in the last half of the second inning at Canemah Field Friday afternoon. Austin Locke was the first man at bat, and he hit a pop fly into the diamond between the home plate and third base. In the absence of coaching both Catcher, Granquist and Third Baseman, Glutch, of the Molalla team started after the ball and met with a crash. Three of Granquist's teeth were knocked out, and in the collision, Glutch's nose was badly cut, a vein being severed. The game was called off and will be played next week.

Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, came down from Salem Tuesday for a conference with County Superintendent Callavan relating to some reported irregularities in the handling of school funds in the Estacada district, it having been reported that the directors have loaned district funds, taking an individual note therefore.

NATERLIN CONTENTS NEW LAW INIMICAL TO COMMON INTEREST

OREGON CITY, May 27.—(Editor of the Enterprise.)—Altho the Willamette river, above Oswego, was literally full of fish, very few fish were caught by either net or hook. The net fishermen, restricted from fishing above Oswego, caught in the neighborhood of 15 tons in comparison to the average of 200 tons in other years. This means a loss of about $25,000 to Clackamas county fishermen.

The hook and line fishermen altho they fished where the fish were the thickest, did not get 2 per cent of the fish they used to catch in the same locality when the nets were operated. This proves again that net fishing makes hook and line fishing better, for it seems that the nets stir the fish up and cause them to bite the spoon. In former years anglers have caught as high as 500 pounds of salmon in a day, after the net season opened.

The Multnomah Angler's Club, who is mostly responsible for the restriction to net fishermen, thought if they would pass such legislation all they would have to do is to come up to Oregon City and catch as many fish as they wanted and then to go home. They have learned their mistake for never before have so many anglers been out fishing after May 1st as this year, and so few fish caught.

The net fishermen were strongly opposed to such legislation for they wanted real protection of fish. They believe in allowing the needed amount of salmon to reach the spawning grounds, but are opposed to the letting of all the fish go to the spawning grounds. They are opposed to the sending of the Willamette river salmon on spawn to other rivers and are strongly opposed to let the salmon that do not go over the falls, to die in the tail races, while people of Clackamas county and other counties pay exorbitant prices for fish shipped in from California or Washington.

In former years people of this locality would have come to the river and bought all the fish they needed at a very reasonable price, but this year fishermen were forbidden to sell fish to the public.

Summing up the whole matter we have fish here in our river; if caught by hook and line they cannot be sold; the net fishermen are not allowed to catch them; the fish will either get to the spawning grounds (which if they do, their spawn will be taken to other rivers) or die in the millraces and tailraces, while people are hungry for fresh fish. In a few words they are taking away our fresh fish supply to other rivers.

ANTON NATERLIN.

Martyrs of Yesterday

By June McMillan Ordway

The filming of a drama the scenes of which were laid for back in the dim past of our beloved Oregon is a great undertaking and one of which all Westerners be proud. This is being done very successfully by Mr. Raymond Wells, the author and Mr. Lewis H. Moonaw, head camera man at the studio of the American Lifeograph Company at 13rd and Halsey streets, Portland, for the Multnomah Film Company. This historic drama is based on the Whitman massacre of 1847. One scene filmed recently included the Lewis and Clark banquet at St. Louis, showing the rich gowns of the lady guests, beautiful table ware in all its brilliancy, and gaily beaded Nez Perce Indians are also shown in the background.

It is to be hoped that this instructive, beautiful picture which is nearing completion may be seen all over America, yes, and still farther away from Portland where it was written.

GARY MOTOR TRUCKS WIN IN ROAD WORK COMPETITION

GARY 3 1/2 TON TRUCKS

Three Gary 3 1/2-ton Trucks, purchased by Kay County, Oklahoma, for public road work—after a competitive test with five other leading makes of trucks.

We now have twenty trucks on the way like those shown above, all equipped with 3 1/2 yard steel lined bodies, with Hydraulic Hoist, that we are bringing in for road construction work. These will be sold under the factory's absolute guarantee for the full period of one year.

GARY steel products lead the world. GARY Trucks are in the same class. Don't chance an unknown quality.

REPORT OF W. C. NORRIS CO.

Here is the report of the W. C. Norris Motor Sales Company, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, on the three trucks shown above, and covering their experience with motor trucks in general and GARY Trucks in particular.

"We have just closed the deal with the County Commissioners of Kay County for three Gary 3 1/2-ton trucks. We competed with five other makes, and outpulled them all. The performance of the trucks we frankly state is marvelous. The 'H' and 'HU,' 2 and 2 1/2-ton models with four speed transmission outpull, overpower and outclass everything in their rated capacity; while the 3 1/2-ton is even greater in pulling power and load carrying capacity. We consider your worm drive, semi-floating Sheldon Axle as the only safe and sure form of construction for hard usage and to withstand the strain and abuse to which a truck is subjected in the oil fields and kindred lines of work. Our observation, experience and knowledge of actual results in meeting oil field requirements, with heavy loads and no roads, convinces us that GARY TRUCKS can be relied upon in every instance and will deliver a long life of service at a nominal upkeep and low cost of operation. We are for the GARY TRUCKS strong and shall concentrate our future efforts exclusively on the GARY line.

R. C. NORRIS MOTOR SALES CO.,
(Signed) N. D. Southerland, Gen. Mgr.

Note: The W. C. Norris Motor Sales Company are a million dollar concern, and one of the largest in Oklahoma. After several years' experience with other lines of trucks, they have dropped them all and rely exclusively on GARY Trucks for heavy duty oil field work and for all purpose usage.

There is a Gary Truck for every purpose, one to five-ton sizes. All of the highest quality of design and construction. Certainty of Service is our slogan, and as WEST COAST FACTORY AGENCY we shall always be prepared to supply any duplicate part that may be required, and do any repair or service work necessary.
