

LOCALS

Harold Hadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Hadley, of this city, is among the Oregon City boys, who are glad to be back home and out of the service. The young man, who has been stationed in England, is wearing three gold stripes, also a red stripe, the latter showing his discharge from the service. He says he is more proud of the red than the others, for this stripe allows him to be back home again. Hadley has been with Company G, 162nd Infantry, and left here in April 1917. His brother, Chester, was in France the last time he saw him, and was with Captain Eldon Blanchard, of this city. He, too, has been stationed in England and went to France at the same time Harold Hadley left. The brothers had hoped to come home at the same time, but this was not their luck.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Green were the happiest people in this city Tuesday morning. One of the reasons for this happiness was the arrival of a grandson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green, at the hospital of Mrs. Barlow. He made his appearance Monday evening and weighs seven pounds. His name is William Carl Green. Another reason was a telegram received Tuesday morning from their son, Clyde Green, who arrived at Camp Mills Monday night from France. He is in the best of health and is longing to reach home. He has been in Europe for a year.

Mrs. W. B. Shively, of Portland, accompanied by her father, Mr. Peter son, and sister, Miss Goldie Peter son, and by Mrs. Shively's daughters, Elizabeth and Margaret, were in this city Wednesday. A CHALLENGE

The Barclay school base ball team claims the championship of the county and have issued a challenge to any team who dispute this claim. The local boys have played eight games and won all by good scores. They have a fast bunch for a public school and practiced hard all during the season and play a nice game both in the field and at the bat.

Live Wires are Stalled
Tin Lizzie Is On Job
All Praise Henry Car

The Ford automobile proved a mighty machine Wednesday, when some of the members of the Live Wires, who had been to Portland, in the interest of the Mount Hood loop road, became stalled at Gladstone. These men, being anxious to return to their duties in this city had gotten that far when the Hudson car owned by M. D. Latourette was stalled at Gladstone, caused by the battery failing from the car. William McMahon, who recently returned from France where he has had all kinds of experience handling Huns and bally automobiles of various makes, was the "angel" that appeared. Bill tried to do the repairing act, but thought it easier to tow the big car into this city, so secured ropes and tied the machine to his Ford, and with the Live Wires in the Hudson rushed the car to a garage where it was repaired. The way the Ford rammed right along with its burden, was not slow, and upon reaching this city the Live Wires gave Henry Ford the highest praise for making such a valuable "automobile".

The party in the Latourette Hudson were M. D. Latourette and the wheel, E. E. Brodie, A. A. Price, C. Schubel and L. E. Jones.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Weston, Miss Maude Perkins, of West Linn, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith and daughter, Miss Mabel Smith, of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Simpkins and children, Loren and Velma, of Spring Valley; Mr. and Mrs. W. Chinn and Jasper Dean MacFall, an address of welcome by Gilbert L. Hedges, and a talk by E. E. Gilbert.

JUDGMENT IS ASKED
ON A BALANCE DUE
FOR BUILDING HOUSE

A. J. Brugger filed suit Saturday against W. L. and Olive Brugger to collect a balance he alleges is due him for building a house for the defendants.

He alleges the defendants and he entered into an agreement for him to build the house on their property for $4225.00, they to have the privilege of making changes in the original plans and to pay for the extra cost.

He alleges they made many changes and he could not complete the house in the given time and the whole bill came to $5422.85 and they have paid $4267.50, leaving a balance of $1155.35.

He asks for a judgment for this amount and interest at 6 per cent from November 28, 1918 and attorney's fees.

REV. MILLIKEN
RESIGNS FROM LOCAL CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Milliken, who is in his eighth year as pastor of the First Baptist church, of this city, presented his resignation as pastor at the prayer meeting held in the church Thursday evening. This came as a surprise to the members of the church, and with deep regret, for he has worked diligently in building up the church here, and has a host of friends throughout the county. This resignation will go into effect about August 1st, and at which time Rev. Milliken will take up his duties as pastor of the Highland church of Portland.

Rev. Milliken came to Oregon City eight years ago from Detroit, Minn. He has been one of the most active workers in all patriotic drives carried on in the county, and is an active member of the Loyalty League of this city. His sons, Wesley and Frank, who were in the service, the latter in France, also displayed their patriotism at the time the United States entered the war, by enlisting.

TRIP OVER HIGHWAY AND STRAWBERRIES
ARE MUCH ENJOYED

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Weston and Miss Maude E. Perkins, of West Linn, accompanied by their house guest, Miss Mabel Smith, of Salem, motored to Portland Saturday morning, where they were joined by Miss Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith and others. The party left Portland at 10 A. M. for a trip over the highway, partaking of lunch at the Latourette falls. They then proceeded to Bonanza and visited the fish hatchery, and proceeded to Hood River arriving there at 5 o'clock. Mr. Smith visited his sister, Mrs. Frank Witham who has a beautiful home in Hood River valley, about two miles from the city.

The party was agreeably surprised when reaching the destination, when Mr. Witham gave them a strawberry feast. After the berries were enjoyed games were played until a late hour.

In the party were also Robert Hopling, of Salem, a returned sailor, and Lloyd Larkin, of Salem, who recently received his discharge from the army, and who introduced some interesting games they learned while in the service.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Weston, Miss Maude Perkins, of West Linn, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith and daughter, Miss Mabel Smith, of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Simpkins and children, Loren and Velma, of Spring Valley; Mr. and Mrs. W. Sunday morning the party was taken to the Witham strawberry patch, and shown how the soil in that section is irrigated.

The party returned home Sunday evening.

SPRINKLING RULES ARE DETERMINED BY WATER COMMISSION

The water board is preparing to establish rules governing sprinkling, in accordance with its usual custom. Sprinkling hours will be from 6 to 8 A. M. and from 6:30 to 9 P. M. and one half of the city's consumers may use water for sprinkling or irrigation on one day and the other half on alternate days, except that all may sprinkle on Sundays. This will permit water users to sprinkle four days each week, half of them being permitted to use water on Monday, Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays, and the other half on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Sprinkling through hose is limited to the use of a nozzle with a three-eighth inch opening, and if left running a regular lawn sprinkler must be provided. The sprinkling season opens June 1, and the usual sprinkling fee must be paid in advance.

GEORGE STOREY AND
WILLIAM FINNUCANE
ACQUITTED BY JURY

After thirty minutes deliberation Thursday by a justice court jury George Storey and William Finnucane were found not guilty of illegal fishing.

They were arrested on complaint of Deputy Fish Warden Cornell several days ago and given until Thursday to plead. They were represented by Attorney Brownell.

The trial consumed over an hour and the court room was crowded as people were interested in the trial. A number of people have been arrested recently for illegal fishing and the majority have paid fines under protest.

IN SOCIETY CIRCLES

The marriage of Miss Marie Jane McLarty, of Bolton, and Ellis Leonard Jones, of Clackamas, was solemnized at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McLarty, at Bolton Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. W. T. Milliken, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated. In the presence of many relatives and friends.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Naomi Armstrong sang "Because," and as the bride party entered the living room Miss Martha McLarty rendered Lohengrin's Wedding March.

The bride was given away by her father, H. D. McLarty, and she was prettily gowned in white embroidered Georgette crepe. She wore a large white crepe hat to correspond with her gown, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's maid, Miss Edith Ballard, was becomingly gowned in pink satin with overdress of white net. Her white hat was touched with pink and her flowers were pink carnations.

James McLarty, brother of the bride, was the best man.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served.

The color scheme of the living room was pink and green and snowballs and festoons of white were used intermingled with foliage. The dining room was in yellow and green. Scotch broom and yellow streamers with ferns were used most attractively.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones have taken up their residence at Bolton, where the bridegroom has a prettily furnished cottage.

The bride is one of the popular young women of Bolton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Jones, of Clackamas. The following were those witnessing the ceremony: Mrs. W. Wing, Weldon and Chester Wing, M. L. Jones, Mrs. J. Jones, Mrs. J. Lauder, Mrs. Ward Jones, Mrs. F. Robinson and daughter, Margaret, Edmond Dickson, Miss Ella Cross, Miss Jewell Hooker, Miss Gladys Triffler, Miss Harriet Phillips, Miss Neats Bonde, George Doty, Dan Hogan, Miss Naomi Armstrong, Miss Urcil Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. August Rakei, Mr. and Mrs. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris, became the bride of Edward J. J. Stanley, of Rapid City, South Dakota. Rev. E. E. Gilbert, pastor of the M. E. church officiated.

The bride, who was handsomely gowned in cream colored silk, carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The bride's maid, Miss Edna Prior, of this city, wore a becoming gown of pale blue messaline, and carried pink roses.

The best man was Claude Harris, brother of the bride.

The affair was very quiet and attended by relatives and a few intimate friends.

Following the marriage ceremony the young couple left on their honeymoon, and upon their return will be at home to their friends after June 10 at Lewton Heights.

Miss Clara Fullam entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Fullam at Redland Friday evening in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Senn, of California, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Fullam, for several months, and who leaves for her home this week. The evening was enjoyed in dancing and refreshments were served. The Fullam home was decorated with ferns and flowers.

Many were in attendance, and those going from this city were Mrs. M. E. Dunn, Mrs. James McFarland, of Powell River, B. C., Miss Alberta Dunn, Miss Irene Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davenport, Miss Erma Calava, and Mrs. D. Forest Harbaugh, of Portland.
