

HARVEY G. STARKWEATHER

Who Seeks the Democratic Nomination for Governor
at the Primary Election, to be held May 17, 1918

HARVEY STARKWEATHER represents the highest type of citizenship; a native son of a pioneer family, who by his untiring efforts has risen from a obscure farmer boy to a place of prominence in the agricultural, educational and business world, and who has been instrumental in securing the enactment of some of Oregon's most important legislation.

A man, who if elected, will administer the affairs of the state in a clean, judicial manner and keep the office free from petty personal prejudices and political bickerings.

It is my sincere admiration for Mr. Starkweather and my desire to promote a clean and efficient administration of our state's affairs that prompts me to contribute this page in the interest of his candidacy.
