GOVERNOR PARDONS
FRIAR BOOTLEGGERDISTRICT ATTORNEY GILBERT L.
HEDGES OPPOSES LENIENCY TO BOOTLEGGERS

Larry M. Sullivan, former proprietor of the Friar's club, who was convicted with Martin Denny for bootlegging, was pardoned by Governor Withycombe Monday. In a letter to District Attorney Gilbert L. Hedges, who prosecuted the case, Governor Withycombe says he granted the pardon because he believes Sullivan has suffered enough and because of the disgrace suffered by the bootlegger's family. Pressure was brought to bear on Mr. Hedges, he said this week, to recommend a pardon for Sullivan, but this he refused to do, saying that he believed "the only way to stamp out persistent bootlegging is to put the bootleggers behind the bars."

Mr. Hedges was in Salem Tuesday at a meeting of district attorneys, and called on Governor Withycombe to discuss the matter.

Sullivan was under sentence of 30 days and a fine of $250 and costs pending a decision of the supreme court. His appeal was denied recently and he would have commenced serving his sentence as soon as the mandate was returned here. He is to pay $100 at once and $50 a month until his fine is paid.

HUSBAND THREATENED HER,
SAYS WIFE IN COMPLAINT

Alleging that her husband threatened to "get her" even if he was put in jail for it, Pearl Collins started suit for a divorce from John Collins in the circuit court here Friday. Judge J. U. Campbell issued an order restraining Collins from going into the home in Milwaukie or in any way molesting his wife.

Mrs. Collins' complaint states they were married in Vancouver, Wash., July 4, 1901, and that he began using abusive and vile language towards her in 1902. She asks $40 a month for the care of four children and wants the husband to continue to pay $13 a month on the home in Milwaukie, which is valued at $1,350, and on which they have paid $850. He is capable of making $70 a month, she alleges.

Two divorces were granted by Judge Campbell Friday. Ida Wood was given her freedom from Collis Wood and she may resume her maiden name, Ida Gentner. Evora Smith was divorced from Chas. Smith and her maiden name, Evora McFerron, is restored to her.

JACKSON'S CHAUFFEUR FINED

Elven Speeders Plead Guilty Before
Justice of Peace

Eleven speeders, all of whom pleaded guilty, were arrested on the 82nd street road by Motorcycle Officer H. E. Mendes Sunday. The chauffeur of Mrs. C. S. Jackson, who was riding with him, was fined $7.50 following his plea of guilty in Justice of the Peace John Kelo's court in Milwaukie Tuesday. The others arrested were: E. F. Aplan, Portland, J. N. McKay, St. Paul, Ore.; C. C. Goldsburg, Salem; E. L. McDougall, Portland; J. A. Shaw, California; A. J. Welton, Portland; C. A. Sletten, J. W. Hill, Archie Robbins and J. H. Bell, all of Portland.

SOLDIERS SAVE BRIDGE

Brush Fire is Extinguished by Third
Oregon Guardsmen

A brush fire which threatened the suspension bridge over the Willamette river here was extinguished by soldiers of the Oregon National Guard stationed at the government locks last night. The men whose prompt action probably saved the bridge are Privates Pepping, Skinner, Johnson, Loop, Jayn, Farrum, Rogers, Huddleston and Roberts. The fire apparently started from a lighted cigarette butt carelessly thrown from the bridge into the brush.

I. W. W. CREW STRIKES

Ruth's Crew Ordered Out by Portland
Headquarters

Nineteen members of the I. W. W., employed on the steamer Ruth, of the Crown-Willamette Paper company, quit work Monday morning and a new crew was hired at once. The I. W. W. quit on orders from their headquarters in Portland and said their action had no bearing on local conditions. The object of their strike is not known.

OREGON CITY HOST
TO BUYERS TODAYTWO BOATS CHARTERED TO BRING PORTLAND VISITORS
TO SEE THIS CITY

Today is Oregon City Day of Buyers' Week and it is expected all of the visiting merchants in Portland this week will take advantage of the invitation to visit this city by steamers which have been provided for the trip by the merchants here. The visitors will be shown through the paper and woolen mills and lunch will be served at Library park.

The journey will be made in the steamers Ramona and Grahama, with a combined capacity of 700 passengers. The Ramona will leave the Taylor street dock on the West side promptly at 1:15 and the Grahama will start from the Municipal Dock No. 2, adjoining the Supple & Ballin shipyards.

There will be a delegation of 25 Oregon City businessmen on each ship. The local party will leave this city for Portland Thursday noon by special car. Two bands will be with the party. Judge Grant B. Dimick will make the welcoming address to the visitors at Library park.

TRAINING SCHOOL BOY IS GOOD WORKER, SAYS FROST

Charles Meisenheimer, 15, who ran away from the state training school for boys about two months ago, was brought to this city yesterday and taken to Salem by Constable Jack Frost, who caught the boy at Union Mills, where he had been working.

Constable Frost said an effort would be made to have the boy paroled. The neighbors at Union Mills said he was a good worker and needed only a chance to make good. Meisenheimer's father was murdered when he was a baby and his mother died a few months later. With three brothers and a sister he was placed in an orphan's home and later sent to a family near Mulino. His two older brothers are in some branch of the United States service, and his sister expects to graduate from high school this year and become a teacher. The youngest brother is still an inmate of the home. Constable Frost attributes the boy's trouble to the influence of an older boy who spent a term in the training school.

EXTENSION DIRECTOR TALKS

U. of O. Man Tells Teachers How to Render Service

Earl C. Kilpatrick, director of the extension division of the University of Oregon, spoke at the teachers' training school in the Barclay school building here yesterday afternoon.

"The teacher who expects to render worthy and helpful community service should enlist herself in the district in which she is working for the period of the war," said Professor Kilpatrick, "and she must be present in both body and spirit. It is to be a vital force. She should unpack her trunk and stay there. She must be a mixer; prepare for leadership and then assume it."

Johnny Lewis, who gained fame as a boxer, has been ordered to Bremerton to enter the navy as a pipe fitter. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lewis, of this city, and volunteered some time ago. Johnny recently returned from southern California and Mexico, where he had boxing engagements. He says the game is goal in the south.

BORING DEATH IS
SOLVED BY JURYMYSTERIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES CAUSE EXCITEMENT IN VILLAGE

BODY FOUND IN BLOOD POOL

Elmer Hickey Falls From School
House Roof While Wife is Visiting Mother

Whether Elmer Hickey, of Boring, accidentally fell from the roof of the school house building on which he was working Saturday night or was pushed with murderous intent was a question until it was decided by a coroner's jury Monday afternoon. Hickey was found with his neck broken at noon Sunday by his son-in-law, Hobart Beers, and two boys, Louie Maulding and Royce Childs.

Hickey was last seen talking to his wife and William Elkins at five o'clock Saturday evening, as he was painting a section of the west side of the school house roof. His body was found beneath the gable of the east side of the roof, which he had not yet commenced painting. Elkins and Mrs. Hickey left for Battle Ground, Wash., a few minutes after they were seen talking to Hickey and the peculiar circumstances surrounding his fall and the fact that no search was made for him until nearly noon Sunday, coupled with ugly rumors regarding the relations of Elkins and Mrs. Hickey, caused Sheriff W. J. Wilson to conduct a full investigation into the death. Sheriff Wilson believes Hickey fell from the school house roof in an attempt to remove two wasps' nests from beneath the gables.

Hobart Beers and his wife, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hickey, were in the Hickey home, Mrs. Beers being confined to her bed with sunstroke. They claim they thought Hickey went into the woods to help fight forest fires which have been burning lately and that they did not start a search for the missing man sooner Sunday morning because Mrs. Beers was afraid to remain in the house with a boarder whose name neither of them knew.

Mrs. Hickey and Elkins, with Renzie and Archie Hickey, sons of the dead man, went to Battle Ground, Wash., Saturday evening ostensibly to visit Mrs. Hickey's mother, Mrs. W. H. Manwell. A telegram addressed to the latter had not been delivered when Sheriff Wilson left the scene of the death Sunday night. Sheriff Wilson would not call a coroner's jury until the testimony of Mrs. Hickey and Elkins could be given.

Hickey was a member of the Odd Fellows, who will have charge of the funeral. The corpse was taken to the Carlson undertaking establishment at Gresham.

Hickey is survived by his wife, two sons and daughter. A sister, Mrs. Nancy Rich, lives at Boring and another sister, Mrs. Lydo, in San Diego. Tom Hickey, a brother, lives in Vancouver, Wash., and another brother, William Hickey, resides in Portland. A coroner's jury at Boring Monday, after an exhaustive investigation, agreed that Hickey came to his death as the result of an accidental fall from the roof of the school house. Mr. Hickey carried $1,000 life insurance in the United Artisans.

FIRE THREATENS WOODS

Sparks From Logging Engine Cause
Damage at Boring

Fire which started from sparks of a logging engine near Boring burned two carloads of logs and a carload of ties and threatened for a time to spread over a large area of woods but was finally gotten under control Saturday night. Work in the camp was resumed yesterday and the burned track of the logging road repaired.

MANY ORDERS ISSUED

Judge Campbell Reopens Court After Month's Vacation

Many orders were issued Thursday by Judge J. U. Campbell who has returned to the circuit court bench following a vacation during the month of July.

Joseph Meindl was allowed judgment for $1,250 with interest at eight per cent from April 1, 1915 and attorneys' fees and costs against O. W. Eastham et al on a note with security on the easterly 55 feet of lot 1, block 67 of Oregon City.

The demurrer of the city of Canby in a suit for damages brought by Peter Hornig was overruled and the defendant allowed until September 1 to plead.

Bessie E. Baser et al., defendants in a suit brought by Louise Armstrong and others are given until August 12 to plead.

The sale of property in the estate of David Turney, against Roscoe and Gail Frost, was confirmed.

Charles McCann, of Dallas, Ore., was appointed administrator of the estate of Sarah Jane McCann, who died at Milwaukie May 4, 1917. The property is valued at $3,000.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN DO
THEIR BIT FOR RED CROSS

Fourteen members of the Presbyterian church did their "bit" at Red Cross headquarters in the Masonic building Thursday afternoon. The local chapter is preparing a box of necessary articles to be sent to Europe and they wish to have it ready in two weeks. The box will contain 16,000 articles and help of other patriotic women is urgently needed to complete the work in time.

Members of the Girls' Honor Guard are helping the Red Cross women on Monday evenings when the work accomplished is sent to the hospital corps of the Third Oregon at Camp Withycombe. Dr. Marcellus, of the regimental hospital staff, has written a letter of thanks to the society for the bandages and dozens of other articles sent to his corps. There are still 100 yards of gauze to be made into bandages and the society will welcome more help. Women who are not members of the Red Cross society but who wish to help the work are invited to attend the meetings on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, or the evening meetings.

90 PER CENT OF SPEEDERS
PLEAD GUILTY IN COURT

Nine more alleged speeders were arrested yesterday by Motorcycle Officer H. E. Mendes. Out of nearly 225 arrests made by Mendes not a single one has been lost. About 90 per cent of those arrested pleaded guilty. Those caught yesterday are: S. E. Brune, Woodburn; E. S. Friend, Salem; J. P. Carney, Portland; Earl Crofts, Portland; O. J. Shay, Salem; F. E. Smith, Sutherland; E. E. Carlson, Salem; W. H. Kline, Corvallis, and Geo. Bannon, of this city.

OUR CLUBBING OFFER

The attention of Courier readers is called to the exceptional value offered in our clubbing arrangement with the Oregon Farmer. By renewing your subscription to the Courier for one year or by starting a new subscription for one year, the subscriber may have the Oregon Farmer mailed weekly for the same price; that is, both papers for one year for one dollar.

This offer may not continue for long, as rapid rises in the price of paper may force us to put up the price. So, if you wish all the county news, truthfully told, and a farm journal that deals with the problems offered in Oregon, send one dollar to the Courier and we will do the rest. Write your name and address plainly.

TOO MANY RELATIVES

Husband Says Wife's Folks Caused
Marital Troubles

In a complaint for divorce from Florence Fisher which he filed here yesterday, August Fisher says his wife had too many relatives, who interfered with his domestic happiness. The Fishers were married in 1912 and have two children. He asks the custody of the children.

Mrs. Rhoda Lewis claims desertion as the cause for her suit for divorce from J. H. Lewis. Lewis, according to the complaint, deserted his wife in March of this year while they were living in Vancouver.

Joseph Fisher Hurt

Joseph Fisher, an employee of the Crown-Willamette paper company, was injured yesterday when 1100 pounds of paper fell on him. His back and both legs were injured and he was removed to his home in Gladstone.

WOMAN KILLED ON
PERILOUS GRADEMISS OLLIE MARQUISS, EUGENE
NURSE, LOST LIFE ON NEW ERA HILL

CAR OWNER MAY DIE ALSO

Brother of Dead Woman Driving
When Machine Plunges Down
15-Foot Embankment

When an automobile driven by Maurice Marquiss, of Eugene, got beyond his control on the Pacific highway just out of New Era at 11:45 Sunday night and plunged over an embankment, Miss Ollie Marquiss was killed and the other five members of the party motoring from Eugene to Portland were more or less seriously injured.

The grade is considered one of the most perilous on the Pacific highway and it has been the scene of three other serious accidents recently. The state highway commission let $30,000 worth of contracts at its meeting Tuesday to eliminate the grade.

Maurice Marquiss was the first to recover his senses after the machine plunged over the embankment and he ran to New Era to summon aid. Miss Marquiss lived about an hour and a half after the accident, although in rolling over and over the automobile struck her on the base of the skull, causing a compound fracture.

Oregon City was asked for assistance and a horse and buggy were sent at first. Later cars were sent by the Ambulance Service company, of Portland, and the injured people were brought to the Good Samaritan hospital. Miss Marquiss' body was taken to the Holman parlors at Oregon City. Dr. H. Dedman, of the Clackamas County hospital, rendered first aid.

The accident came when Maurice Marquiss at the wheel started to put his foot on the brakes and the protruding sole of his shoe struck the accelerator and the burst of speed was too great for the brakes to counteract. The machine rolled over three or four times and striking the fence running along the right of way of the Southern Pacific railroad, righted itself but completely reversed and ran backward down the hill to the foot, where it stopped, its engine still running.

Mr. Matlock is a member of the prominent Matlock family and he is the proprietor of a grocery store at Eugene. He was thrown free of the car and against a small tree, striking it with his back.

Mrs. Marquiss is the mother of Mrs. Matlock, Miss Marquiss and B. J. and Maurice Marquiss, who were in the car. She spent last winter in California with Miss Ollie Marquiss.

Miss Marquiss was a graduate nurse of the class of 1913 of the Good Samaritan hospital and after her graduation she remained in Portland until last year, when she returned to the family home on the Marquiss farm near Eugene to care for her mother. Besides the relatives in the car she is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Bertha Brumley and Mrs. Harold E. Hunt, of Portland; Mrs. Guy Garrett, of Meedford; Lawrence Marquiss, of North Bend, and Dr. Floyd Marquiss, of Los Molinos, Cal.

Mr. Matlock is widely known throughout the state. W. F. Matlock, a brother, was formerly mayor of Pendleton, and Les Matlock, another brother, owned the Perkins buffet in Portland until a few years ago. Other brothers are at Pendleton and Heppner.

B. J. Marquiss is agent for the Southern Pacific company at Irving, Lane county.

Justice of the Peace John N. Sievers, in the absence of Coroner Hempstead, called a jury to pass on the accident. It was decided that the accident was unavoidable. Maurice Marquiss, brother of the dead woman, was the only member of the party able to give testimony.

E. D. Matlock is not expected to recover. His back is broken just below the neck and he is completely paralyzed below the fracture, his physician said last night. Mrs. Sarah Marquiss, mother of the dead woman, and B. J. Marquiss are steadily improving and in no danger. Mrs. Marquiss was bruised about the body and her son had three ribs broken.

TEACHERS' COURSE OPENS

Normal School Instruction Given at Barclay School

The teachers' training course for Clackamas county teachers opened at the Barclay school house in this city Monday afternoon under the direction of E. E. Calavan, county school superintendent. Normal school instruction is given at the course. All teachers of the county who have not had 27 months' experience or who are not normal school graduates must attend the course, says Superintendent Calavan.

LOCKS HERE TO BE IMPROVED BY U. S.APPROPRIATION OF $80,000 IS PASSED BY CONGRESS TO DEEPEN CHANNEL

The news that congress has passed the river and harbors bill, carrying an $80,000 appropriation for the improvement of the government locks here was received with considerable satisfaction. If this money is available at once the work can be done this fall when the water is at its lowest level during the year. The specifications call for deepening the lower locks to a depth of eight feet at low water. The lower locks are 40 by 210 feet, but the work would cover an area of about 40 by 350 feet, because the approach would necessarily have to be deepened.

The specifications originally called for deepening the channel, but through a technicality the money was not appropriated by congress at the time the government took over the locks and an additional appropriation was necessary to complete the work, as at present the channel is only 20 inches deep at low water and renders the locks useless during that time.

LAZELLE WILL RECOVER
FROM ACCIDENT RESULTS

Mr. and Mrs. George Lazelle, of Twilight Farm, near this city, are in the Oregon City hospital as the result of an automobile accident at 14th and Main streets Sunday night when their machine hit the 9:15 car for Portland. Mr. Lazelle is suffering from a fracture of the skull and his wife is painfully injured. For a time his life hung in the balance but his physician said this morning that he would recover. He is resting comfortably at present.

JUDGE EXPLAINS ROAD LAW

All Changes Must be Made at September Term of Court

All changes in road district boundaries must be made at the September term of the county court, said County Judge H. S. Anderson Wednesday in explaining the working of the new road legislation enacted at the last session of the legislature.

"The law concerning the establishment of road districts is not materially changed," said Judge Anderson, "except that all cities are made separate road districts, which cannot be divided or made a part of any other road district."

"Road district meetings which are called for the purpose of voting special taxes must be held in November and since the methods of calling such meetings has been changed, it will be necessary for the district attorney to send new instructions and blanks to the supervisors of district in time to arrange for the meeting."

"It will be the policy of the county court," he said, "in the future as in the past, to encourage local interest in road improvement by authorizing the expenditure of special taxes upon such roads as the taxpayers may designate in the minutes of their meetings."

"The appointment of an engineer or a roadmaster is authorized by the new law, which also provides for the appointment of any assistants that may be necessary. The court has the supervision of all funds to be spent on road work, whether derived from special or general taxes."

"Because road-making is becoming more and more a matter of operating machinery and expensive equipment, it will be the aim of the county court," says Judge Anderson, "to employ competent men to use the road-making machinery of the county, to the end that more systematic work may be done on the various lines of travel."

MRS. BURT IS 89

A delightful social time was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. N. L. Burt of Lower Logan, July 24th, when a few friends of "Grandma" Burt decided to remind her of her eighty-ninth birthday anniversary.

The feature of the event was a cake decorated with eighty-nine candles, which delighted "Grandma" Burt.

Many dainty and useful gifts were received by her. Dainty refreshments were served, after which the following guests departed, wishing "Grandma" many more happy birthdays: Mrs. John Heschopp, Mrs. John Boss, Mrs. John Shuttle, Mrs. J. K. Muir, Mrs. Henry Kohl and baby, Charles, Mrs. Carl Montgomery and baby, Inez, Mrs. Bert Corless, Mrs. Lucy Sherwood, Mrs. Carl Fallert, Mrs. W. L. Burt, Mrs. Lawrence, Misses Lucy Sherwood, Edith Wells, Rose Schlappe, and Messrs. Arthur Burt, Raymond and Clifford Corless, Walter Lawrence and Claymont Fallert.

Girls Wear Pantalettes

Now they're doing it in Oregon City. Girls employed in the Oregon City Manufacturing company's woolen mill here are wearing pantalettes, following the example of women in other cities whose photographs make them appear more comfortable. The girls here claim they are safer around machinery than skirts.
