LET 'EM ALL GO!

Governor Withycombe, in pardoning Larry Sullivan, notorious bootlegger, gave as his reason Sullivan had suffered enough and that Sullivan's family would suffer disgrace. LORD HELP US.

Larry Sullivan is one of the remaining powers of the "old gang" and in his day was a powerful ward heeler. His connection with brewery and liquor interests and grafting police kept him out of jail for a good many years, and in return, his support kept many of the old corrupt ring in power. In his last escapade, he attempted to evade the law, relying upon his old affiliations and resources to get him clear. But he ran against a snag in the form of Attorney Gilbert L. Hedges, who fearlessly did his duty and pushed the case to the limit, resulting in a conviction for Sullivan on more than one count.

Sullivan made his brag during the trial that he would never see the inside of jail, and no doubt he had some grounds upon which to stand on this, shown later by letters to District Attorney Hedges recommending his pardon.

If the Governor can see fit to pardon Sullivan—in face of the conclusive evidence of his guilt and his past record, then we say LET ERICKSON GO—LET WILBUR GO—two cases parallel; two cases up on the same count—but not as bad.

The pardoning of Sullivan has surprised many people—it came so unexpected. The editor of this paper is still WONDERING—?

Sometimes conscience is fear of getting caught.

One thing about the motorcycle, it never tries to sneak up on anyone.

The writer wants to know if you ever saw two good looking women who were friendly.

Isn't it too bad that the people best qualified to run a newspaper are engaged in other activities?

The loudest critic of the newspaper is generally a fellow who owes four years subscription or reads his neighbor's paper.

Women have been asked to abandon "style" on account of the war. They have abandoned almost everything else, but there's a limit.

A California county discovered a shortage of about $4,000 "due to lack of system." Most people experience a money shortage because of the system.

The navy has rejected girl stenographers on account of flat feet. We fail to see how flat feet will interfere with typewriting, but if it's an act of reprisal for the elongated flat heel shoes, we are for it.

COUNTRY CALLS YOUTHS TO ENGINEERING SERVICE

The most lucrative, as well as the most patriotic service young men can perform for the next ten years or more is training and practicing engineering, says J. A. Waddell, Consulting Engineer, New York.

Mr. Waddell is well known in Portland business circles, where he was supervising engineer of the great Columbia interstate bridge and also the O. W. R. & N. railway bridge across the Willamette. A summary of his reasons for the statement follows:

More than half of the world will have to be reconstructed after the war. America's railways and bridges will have deteriorated from over use and lack of upkeep.

This reconstruction is almost wholly the work of engineers.

European engineers are being killed off by the thousands and large numbers of American engineers serving in Europe will be killed or incapacitated for work.

The supply of new engineers in the warring countries has been cut down fully one half by the call to arms, just at the time when it should be doubled.

The demand for technical specialists by munition factories and ship yards has already taken all available men, and will become more insistent as the call increases for more ships, guns, ammunition, aeroplanes, automobiles, and other war supplies.

Lack of trained men will make this country miss the golden opportunity for largest service in the world's reconstruction work.

With an adequate supply of properly trained young assistants the old engineers of the country could do five or more times what they are now doing by managing the European engineering work through their assistants.

Engineering for the next ten years or more will be the most lucrative of all professions.

"It is thus evident," says Mr. Waddell, "that we must manage not only to prevent any falling off in the attendance at our technical schools both during and directly after the war, but also greatly to increase it."

This can be done, he thinks, by urging more young men to go to college and by showing their parents that it is their duty, both to the boys and to their country, to send them; by inducing freshmen with aptitude for technical courses to take them; by having drafted students assigned to some branch of engineering service where they will be more effective and also get experience for future work; and by granting government aid to youths of special ability but insufficient money for college work.

Mr. Waddell concludes his statement by imploring all youths ready for college to take up some branch of engineering or technology unless unfitted for it, and by entreating parents to induce such youths to choose these subjects for their life work. This for the good not only of the country, but also of the young men themselves.

SUMPTER, OREGON, IN MASS
OF FLAMES—LOSS $200,000

Just before going to press, we learn of a ravaging fire in Sumpter, Oregon, which has placed that town in a mass of smoking ruins. Hundreds are homeless and food and tents are being sent from Baker, Ore., to relieve the suffering inhabitants.

Every business house is destroyed and the fire fighters are dynamiting the large buildings to keep the flames from spreading to the woods near the outskirts of the city. The fire, according to reports, has completely wiped out the town, and owing to the small amount of insurance carried, probably will never be rebuilt.

The blaze originated back of the kitchen of the Capital hotel, and owned by A. J. Denny, and, fanned by a strong wind, was soon beyond control. The fire department and citizens did heroic work, but after 30 minutes, the water supply gave out, leaving the fire fighters powerless. As a last resort, the fighters dynamited the Sumpter drugstore, one of the principal business blocks of the town, but to no avail.

As far as known, there have been no fatalities reported or serious injuries. Aside from a few who were able to save their personal effects, the entire population is destitute and in dire need.

Owing to the limited wire communication between Baker and Sumpter, many of the details are lacking at this writing.

HERE'S A COMMUNICATION
WE'RE GLAD TO PUBLISH

Editor Courier, Dear Sir: Please send me LAST week's issue of the Courier if you have any, as we failed to get ours. I am saving names of the boys from Clackamas county who go to the front and I would like the Courier, as it has the most information. Your subscribers certainly appreciated the names and draft numbers of all the Clackamas county boys. It's the only one I have found so far with a complete list.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. NEWT. CRITESER,
Canby, Ore.

RESCUE SOCIETY NEEDS AID

Superintendent Appeals to Mothers and Sisters of Oregon

To the Mothers and Sisters of Oregon.—It will be needless for me to go into detail and explain to you the problem of feeding 35 girls and 60 babies. The task is difficult at any time, but a tremendous burden at present. I appeal to you to remember the girls and babies during this canning season, and put up a little extra to ship to the Louise Home and the Albertina Kerr Nursery Home, where we are caring for abandoned mothers and babies, and we assure you that whatever you can do in their behalf will be greatly appreciated. Why not form a club in your town and ship a barrel of canned fruit or canned vegetables at Thanksgiving.

Address correspondence to Gen. Supt. W. G. MacLaren, 195 Burnside St., Portland, Oregon, for shipping instructions.

Two Women and One Man All Charge Desertion

Maggie A. Mitchell, in a divorce complaint filed Thursday charges James W. Mitchell with desertion. They were married in Hawkins county, Tenn., in September, 1906. There is one child.

E. M. Sanders filed suit for divorce from M. G. Sanders Thursday. She charges desertion. They were married in Vancouver, Wash., September 29, 1896, and have one child. She asks $30 a month permanent alimony and $50 attorneys' fees and the custody of the child.

E. M. Butler wants a divorce from Jennie M. Butler. He charges desertion. They were married in June, 1913, and have no children.

ROBBER COMES ACROSS

When Told to "Come Across" by Woman He Did, Without Parley.

Mrs. Viola Tait of Canemah is brave when it comes to tackling a robber as was shown yesterday afternoon, after she had seen a stranger reach into a window of her daughter, Mrs. Gustave Griebel's home, adjoining her own, and take something therefrom. Mrs. Tait gave chase to the man and overtaking him accused him of taking a watch. The fellow made signs on his fingers, whereupon Mrs. Tait told him to cut out signs and talk English. He did by saying he hadn't taken anything, but the belligerent nature of Mrs. Tait convinced him that he had better make his getaway, which he did after he had thrown the watch toward Mrs. Tait.

REV. LANDSBOROUGH RESIGNS

After 12 Years of Service Here Pastor Accepts New Charge

After 12 years of service as pastor of the Presbyterian church here, Rev. J. R. Landsborough has resigned to accept a call to the Mt. Vernon Presbyterian church, of Portland. Rev. Landsborough will preach his farewell sermon in the church here Sunday, August 26, and will take up his new charge September 1. In the 12 years that Rev. Landsborough and his family have resided here they have made a host of friends and have taken keen interest in the welfare of the city. Many besides the members of the local church regret the pastor's decision to leave.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.
