

MILWAUKIE & NORTHERN CLACKAMAS

Budget Election Coming Soon

MILWAUKIE, Nov. 26.—A special election for the vote on a school budget has been called for December 15. The purpose of the budget is to vote enough money to pay the teachers a larger salary than they are now receiving.

Special gospel meetings are being held at the Evangelical church, Milwaukie, this week, Rev. Mr. Giel, the pastor, presiding, and Rev. Jacob Stocker of Portland, preaching. There has been a good attendance at the meetings.

A junior party was given at the home of Edwin Tapper on the River road Friday evening, the members of the Junior high school class being present and a delightful evening was spent with games, music and refreshments.

A degntrui school party was given at the home of Marvin Schrock on Lake road Monday evening. The larger number of the young people were present and games and music whiffled away the evening. Refreshments were served at a late hour to which all did ample justice.

The Woman's Work club will hold the regular meeting December 3 at the home of Miss Ella Rawie on East 20th, Portland. All members are invited. The bond election was a very quiet affair, resulted as follows: Ward 1, for bond, 62 against; ward 2, for bond and 61 against. All precincts in the north end of the county are reported to have gone against the bonds.

The Parent Teachers' circle held a meeting at the high school building Friday afternoon, November 21. Mrs. Skulaska, the vice president, presided. The attendance was rather small. The election of officers was held, and Mrs. Elser was elected president, Mrs. Skulaska, vice president; Mrs. Childs, treasurer, and Miss Minturn secretary.

The next meeting will be held in the evening of December 19, at the high school building.

Boy McCormick, light heavyweight champion of England, and Frank Farmer of Tacoma, holder of the Pacific coast title, slugged through 10 rounds of the fastest kind of milling to a draw in the main event of the initial card staged by the Milwaukie boxing commission Tuesday night.

The sparsely topped logger never weakened for a minute against the battling Irishman and landed enough on McCormick to put any ordinary boxer away for the winter with the bears. Round after round Farmer stiffened his long left on McCormick's chin only to be smothered with a whirlwind attack.

The men started off even, with Farmer finding a resting place for his trusty wallop. He took heart and in the second frame went after McCormick, taking a shade. The third round found the Dublin mitt wielder finding his bearing and holding Farmer even. The fifth and sixth rounds they battled, hammer and tongs, with McCormick edging up as the fight progressed.

AMERICAN LEGION MEN DEFEATED BY INDIANS

For the first time this year the local American Legion football team met defeat at the hands of the brawny warriors from the Chemawa Indian Training school at Salem on Thursday afternoon at Canemah park by the score of 7 to 0.

From the first blast of the whistle until the close of the game it was a battle royal and the several hundred lovers of the sport who braved the raw wind blowing from the north and east felt amply repaid for their suffering by the really fine exhibition of football which they witnessed. The game was full of bright snappy plays and while there were practically no individual stars it was replete with sensations which went a long way toward warming the chilled blood of the spectators.

At the start of the game the Indians kicked off to the Oregon City team. The locals soon lost the ball on downs and resorted to a punt to take the ball out of their territory. The Indians found the oval slippery and the service boys recovered the ball on a fumble.

The quarter ended with the ball in the possession of the Legion team and in the territory of the Indians. Near the end of the second quarter the Legion team worked the ball by straight football tactics down the field to within two yards of the goal line. They had one more down to make their yardage.

Kendall was sent over. He got the ball over but was thrown back with the ball lying within six inches of the line. The Legion team claimed a touchdown but Referee Niles refused to allow it. The Indians securing the ball with 15 seconds of the half to play at once punted out of danger and the half ended.

In the second half the Indians opened up with forward passes and end plays which were irresistible and soon the ball was put across in the center of the field. Without difficulty the goal was converted. This concluded the scoring.

In the fourth and last quarter the local team was working the ball toward their opponents' goal but did not have the strength to put it over in the allotted time. Within the last minute of play the Indians again secured the ball and by a series of fast plays and forward passes had the ball close to the Legion goal line when the whistle blew, thus saving the local team from being scored against a second time.

The Indian team is fast and played heady football throughout and in spite of the fact that the famous Houser, who years ago made the All American team as a tackle on the Carlisle Indian team, was one of their players, they outplayed the local team in practically every department of the game.

They had beautiful team work and their interference was well nigh impregnable. They had had the benefit of hard practice which it has been impossible for the local team to secure.

PERMISSION TO BUILD IS UP TO CITY COUNCIL

Chairman I. C. Bridges, of the council committee on fire and water, announced Thursday that a public hearing would be held Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock in the council chamber to obtain expressions from the public as to the application of Stevens & Howell for a permit to repair the building that was nearly destroyed by fire last week.

The committee, composed of Mr. Bridges, Councilmen Albright and Woodward and City Attorney Story, met a week ago and upon motion of Mr. Woodward, seconded by Mr. Albright, decided that a permit should be issued, and upon that vote work has been started by Stevens & Howell, who have a crew of men tearing down the debris and have announced their intention of placing a one-story frame building on the site. Material for the work has already been ordered.

No permit has been issued, however, although City Recorder Loder accepted Mr. Howell's tender of $5 for the document a few days ago. Mr. Loder has no authority to issue the permit, and on Wednesday evening Mr. Howell went to the home of Councilman Albright and requested his signature on a permit, but Albright referred him to Mr. Bridges, as chairman of the committee.

Mr. Bridges not only declined to sign the permit, but declared his opposition to the issuance of a permit, which he believes to be in violation of the fire limit ordinance.

Mr. Bridges said Thursday that no member of the committee voted on Woodward's motion except Woodward himself, and that he is of the opinion that the committee acted prematurely, as the ordinance distinctly recites that the applicant must first file in the office of the city engineer plans and specifications for the work, which has not been done.

Section 4 of the ordinance stipulates that a written permit must be obtained, and it would therefore appear that the vote of the committee is not sufficient to warrant the owners in proceeding with actual work.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS FARMERS BUSY WITH GRAIN

Scott Says Farmers All Over County Are Working Hard to Sow Their Fall Wheat

County Agricultural Agent R. G. Scott is at work now preparing his outline and plan for the ensuing year's work in the interest of better farming methods in this county. He states in his recent trips visiting the various sections of the county that the farmers generally are busy with their fall sowing of grain.

This fall, following a rather protracted season of dry weather the ground became too hard to plow and then when the rains did come they came too strong and the farmers had to wait until the ground dried out somewhat but within the last few days everywhere the seeders have been busy and now there has been planted an acreage amounting to about 70 per cent of last year's acreage.

The grain that has been planted is in good condition. There is little likelihood of winter killing unless the weather turns much colder. There are many fields in the county where the wheat is nicely up above ground and these fields are in especially good condition.

The crop of clover seed was exceptionally light this year with the result that farmers are being compelled to pay 60 cents a pound and even higher to get their supply for planting.

In some sections of the county, some of the farmers are preparing to test out the suggested program from the agricultural experiment station at Corvallis where recent tests have shown that the yield of alfalfa is increased to a remarkable degree through the use of sulphur as fertilizer on the soil.

Where this chemical is used the crop has been more than doubled and the color of the growing plants has been enriched to a deep rich green of very luxuriant character.

WET GRIDIRON FORCES TEAMS TO OLD GAME

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Nov. 27.—Eleven fighting athletes of the northland earned a decisive victory from California on Denney field today and 7 to 0 tells the numerical result. Fortune, backed by stellar football, brought the lone touchdown when the third quarter was 13 minutes old, and 18,000 spectators were changed at that instant to a like number of cheering maniacs.

The game developed largely into a punting duel, with Blake of the north holding the edge in yardage.

The game was played on a field surfaced with oozy mud. While the turf was hard and the thaw had brought water to the top and one minute after play was called the men of the opposing teams resembled 22 mammoth eels.

Two Fires Here on Thanksgiving Day

For the second time in the morning the fire alarm bell began clanging a few minutes after noon Thursday calling the department to the Pacific Highway garage on North Main street. The fire was an automobile owned by J. C. Davies of Vancouver, who had driven up to the gas tank to purchase gas.

Mr. Caulfield, the owner of the garage started to pump the gas into the tank which was situated under the cowl of the dash of the Davies car. Suddenly the gas ignited and covered the whole of the interior of the car and Mr. Davies, who had remained in the driver's seat, with fire.

Mr. Caulfield quickly beat the flames out on Mr. Davies clothing and the fire ladders soon extinguished the flames in the car but not until the upholstery and top of the car had been destroyed.

Mr. Davies was on his way through this city traveling to Salem. After the fire he left his car, a Buick, at the Highway garage and continued his trip to Salem by train. The car was badly damaged.

A third fire alarm within two weeks was sounded Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock. It proved to be a small fire starting in the cooking department of the depot restaurant, operated by C. Cox, the building owned by Mrs. Rosina Fouts Evans. The damage was slight.

The building is a frame structure and all buildings adjoining were of wood, and had the flames gotten much of a start would have done considerable damage. Fire Chief Lovier and the fire department were immediately on the spot and ready to give their assistance had it been necessary, but the flames were extinguished by the proprietor of the establishment and several patrons before the arrival of the department.

U. of O. defeated Multnomah by a score of 15 to 7 yesterday at Portland.

PRESIDENT SILENT ON CARRANZA'S REPLY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Mexico has replied with an argumentative diplomatic refusal to the American government's demand for the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, the consular agent imprisoned at Puebla.

The official note was delivered today but not made public. There is no reason to doubt that it agrees with the copy given out last night by the Mexican consul general at El Paso.

No comment was forthcoming to indicate how the state department regards the answer to what was considered one of the sharpest warnings yet sent to Mexico, and neither was there any indication of what the government's next step would be.

The Mexican reply, which, according to its text, was prepared at the direction of President Carranza, argues in the main that the Mexican government cannot order the release of a prisoner while his case is under adjudication in the civil courts of one of its states, and contends that the American governments demand for the consular agent's release had no foundation or precedent in international law.

THANKSGIVING OBSERVED HERE AS CUSTOMARY

Thursday was an ideal Thanksgiving day, with the sun shining brightly and the sky cloudless. Many took advantage of the day by attending the football game at Canemah park, when the team from the Willamette Falls, met the American Legion, of this city, and the football team of Chemawa.

Services were held in the several churches, and the pastors had appropriate subjects for their sermons. Rev. Chandler's subject was "A Thankful Spirit."

The only social event was the ball given at the Elks temple under the auspices of the Elks Wednesday evening, which was largely attended. The music was furnished by the Lil' Jazz trio.

A number of family reunions were held during the day.

All business houses, banks, court house, woolen mills, postoffice and mechanical departments of the newspaper offices closed for the day.

AMERICAN IS HELD IN SPITE OF DEMANDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—There was no word today from the Mexican government in answer to the sharp note from the state department demanding the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla. All day officials waited for a note they thought might be handed to them by the Mexican embassy here, in view of reports Sunday night that a long dispatch relating to the Jenkins case had reached the embassy from Mexico City.
