

ESTACADA TEACHERS INSTITUTE LARGELY ATTENDED SATURDAY

Number of Interesting and Instructive Papers Presented at Meeting of School Teachers

County School Superintendent Calavan said Monday that the local teachers' institute held at Estacada on Saturday was one of the best that have been held for the benefit of the county teachers. There were about 35 teachers in attendance when the gavel fell at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. A splendid program had been prepared and the instructors gave excellent papers and conducted splendid discussions of pertinent subjects.

Professor R. W. Kirk gave an excellent address on the topic "The advisability of devoting half of the recitation period to supervised study." This system is now being used with marked success in some of the schools and wherever possible is being adopted throughout the schools.

Mrs. W. A. Barnum, Professor L. H. Mallicoat and Miss Antonia Liese conducted a very interesting discussion of the subject, "The care and use of the school library."

Mrs. H. B. Carlidge gave an interesting and instructive paper on "The advantages of more oral English in the schools."

In the afternoon the institute closed with a meeting of the Clackamas County Teachers' association. The regular leader was not present and in his absence Professor Burns of the Estacada school acted as leader and led off in the discussion.

This association is an active organization among the teachers formed for the purpose of bringing the teachers closer together and for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the good of the teachers and their profession. The association takes an active part in such matters as proper legislation for the good of the schools. It is one of the most potent forces at work in the county looking to the improvement and progress of the county school system.

Molalla Man Works for Bonds

Walter Taylor, of Molalla, was in Oregon City Monday. He was on his way home from Portland, where he had spent Sunday. Walter, who is one of the boosters for the road bonds and worked untiringly in the campaign and during the election, and kept things somewhat lively at Molalla on Saturday, when a representative from Oak Grove visited the Molalla section posting circulars advising people to vote against the amendment, and as soon as these were posted, Taylor would get busy with his posters, urging the people to vote for the bonds. By the time the Oak Grove man had finished his posting, there was nothing to be seen but those Taylor had posted for the others were hidden by Taylor's.

Farm News To Be Free

The Clackamas County Farm Bureau News, a monthly paper devoted to the interests of the farmers of this county and edited by County Agricultural Agent R. G. Scott, made its appearance Monday. It was learned at the office of the publication that in the future the paper will be circulated among the farmers without any cost whatever and any farmer in the county will also be admitted without cost to the classified columns of the paper.

It is intended to make the paper self supporting through the avenue of display advertisements. The current issue is full of the news of the manifold activities of the agricultural extension work and the work of home demonstration and school work in the county.

Gresham Paper Gives Congratulations

The Oregon City Enterprise is approaching its fifty-fourth birthday and is getting ready to celebrate the event by moving into its new building which is modernly equipped for newspaper purposes. The daily edition started nearly to years ago. We congratulate our neighbor on its growth and achievement.—Gresham Outlook.

TEACHER'S FATHER KILLED

Rev. Gustav Johnson, of Portland, who was accidentally killed on Friday at the intersection of 62d street, Portland, was the father of Miss Esther Johnson, a teacher in the Oregon City high school.

Rev. Johnson was in an automobile when it collided with another car.

FUNERAL HELD TUESDAY

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Lucy A. Kimmel, who died at the Good Samaritan hospital November 22, from an operation for gallstones, were held from the Holman & Pace funeral parlors in this city Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Herbert Crocker, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated.

At the Mountain View cemetery, where the interment took place, the order of Eastern Star had charge of the burial services, and many beautiful flowers covered the grave.

Mrs. Kimmel, who was a former resident of Oregon City, had recently made her home at Estacada. She was 52 years of age.

IF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH EVER WAKES UP, LOOK OUT SATAN!—"BILLY" SUNDAY

And Now "The Episcopal Church is Awake" Says Dr. Stires, Eminent New York Divine.

"If the Episcopal Church ever wakes up—look out!"

Crouching grotesquely, his face close to the platform, shaking his fist in the direction of the nether regions, "Billy" Sunday, the Baseball evangelist, once bawled this warning to the Evil One, while thousands, crowded into a great tabernacle, watched.

"That moment is near—is here!"

This is the answer to "Billy" Sunday's implied challenge. It comes from the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas' Church, Fifth Avenue, New York; and one of New York's most noted preachers. He is a member of the Joint Commission directing the Episcopal Nation-Wide Campaign, and director of the Every Name Campaign, in New York.

A campaign to raise $25,000,000 in the Episcopal Church in one day—December 7; to recruit 1,500 new workers; to rouse every member to help the Church play its great part, greatly in this age of reconstruction by expanding every phase of its activity in the next three years—upon this, which is the purpose of the Nation-Wide Campaign, Dr. Stires bases his answer to the evangelist.

In effect, Dr. Stires says to the world:

"The Episcopal Church is awake."

"The Nation-Wide Campaign is urgent," says Dr. Stires, "because of the greatness of the need of this hour. I speak not of the missionary needs of the Church, but of the needs of all the world. The Church holds a position of power and influence. It must use its power to meet these needs. For the suffering, injustice and wrong of the past is still here today, crying out to us. Children are still being slain by cruel Herods."

solved by the teachings and the spirit of Christ; that the need for America is not for more machinery in the organization of capital and industry, but for the spirit of true religion in the hearts of the people.

"The zero hour is here for us of the Church, the hour of the Nation-Wide Campaign."

NO PERMIT FOR BUILDING IS ISSUED AS YET

H. C. Stevens and William H. Howell, owners of the Woodman building that was practically destroyed by fire last week, to rebuild the structure, according to a statement made today by C. Schuebel, who is investigating the situation on behalf of the Commercial Club Live Wires. The fire limit ordinance provides that plans and specifications of the proposed building must first be filed in the office of the city engineer, which has not been done.

It is understood that Councilman Woodward favors the issuance of a permit to restore the first story of old frame building, and that Councilmen Bridges and Albright, and other members of the committee on fire and water, prefer to give the interested public an opportunity to be heard, and it has therefore been announced that a public hearing will be held in the council chambers on next Saturday evening, at which time the fire and water committee is to listen to expressions and reach a final determination regarding the matter.

CHINA BUYS U. S. DOLLARS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Large purchases of silver dollars to fill rush orders placed by China were made here today to be forwarded by the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia, to sail from Vancouver, B. C., November 27, according to foreign trade experts.

UNCLE SAM READY TO ACT; ITS UP TO MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The new flareup over the Mexican problem growing out of the Jenkins case was given serious consideration today at a meeting of the president's cabinet.

There was no intimation as to what this government might do in the event President Carranza refused to answer the note from the state department demanding immediate release of William O. Jenkins, consular agent at Puebla, held on a charge of conspiring with bandits who kidnapped and held him for a $150,000 ransom.

No attempt was made to conceal the feeling that the situation was serious and that relations between the United States and Mexico were strained. Officials said the three departments, state, war and navy, were ready to meet any eventuality and deal with any situation arising out of a more defiant attitude by the Carranza administration toward the United States.

WHO LOST THEIR GOOSE?

"Who lost their goose?" is a question that was greatly troubling J. P. Kunt of 509 Third street Wednesday night. Late in the afternoon Mr. Kunt found a nice fat goose roaming aimlessly about his premises, looking as though it had lost its home. Mr. Kunt being of a kind disposition took pity on the bird and quickly took it into his keeping. Then he got to thinking that somebody would probably go without their Thanksgiving dinner, so he came to the Enterprise office and inserted an advertisement in this morning's issue to find the owner. So whoever lost their goose can secure it by calling on Mr. Kunt and proving property.

HAWLEY ASKS ANOTHER JUDGE IN AFFIDAVIT

What is believed to have been the first instance of its kind in Oregon occurred here today in the filing of an affidavit of prejudice and an application for a judge, other than Circuit Judge J. U. Campbell, to hear the divorce suit of Marjorie Hawley vs. Willard P. Hawley, Jr.

In an affidavit filed by Mr. Hawley it is set out that he believed Judge Campbell to be prejudiced in favor of the plaintiff. Under the law the court has no discretion but to grant the application.

The proceeding was filed under chapter 160 of the laws of the 1919 session of the legislature, and it is believed the application was based upon the action of Judge Campbell in allowing an attorney fee of $7500 for the plaintiff, $1000 of which must be paid by Hawley within 10 days from the date of the filing of the complaint and the balance before the final termination of the case.

Covey Motor Co. Files Suit Here

H. M. Covey, of the Covey Motor Car company, of Portland, filed suit Wednesday in the circuit court here against Ed Fortune, constable of the Oregon City district.

The complaint alleges that on November 17, this year, the defendant unlawfully took possession of a Ford roadster belonging to the plaintiff valued at $450 and that he has wrongfully retained possession of the car since that time. The suit is brought to recover possession of the machine. Joseph, Haney & Littlefield are attorneys for the plaintiff.

SUPREME COURT GIVES DECISION UPHOLDING CIRCUIT JUDGE HERE

Suit Decided Against Paper Company in Lower Court is Sustained in Higher Tribunal

Word was received here Tuesday that the decision rendered by Circuit Judge J. U. Campbell in the case of A. E. Joyner against the Crown Willamette Paper company for personal injuries sustained while Mr. Joyner was in the employ of the company has been upheld by the state supreme court.

The case was tried about one year ago in May and the jury awarded a verdict of $1500 against the paper company. The case was appealed and the decision of the higher court Tuesday upheld the verdict of the lower court.

The evidence in the case showed that Mr. Joyner was employed as a trucker of pulp with the company and in drawing a loaded truck over the worn floor the truck wheels broke through and threw the load of pulp against Joyner, thereby causing injury to his back. Mr. Joyner has since left the employ of the company and is now residing at McMinnville, Oregon.

W. C. Mangum, formerly of Oregon City, and at that time connected with the Brady Mercantile company's store, was in Oregon City Wednesday, where he visited friends. Mr. Mangum is now an engineer employed by the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, with headquarters in Portland.
