TRIPLE LIKE PURCHASE PRICE OF RAILROAD ESCAPES MEM. ORY ON STAND.

SAN FRANCISCO MAN TESTIFIES SALE MADE FOR ONLY MILLION

Then Multi-millionaire Is Shown Statement That Southern Pacific Company Gave $1,300,000 for the Coos Bay Railroad

PORTLAND, Ore., April 21.—What's a little matter of a couple of $300,000 to John D. Spreckels, the San Francisco multi-millionaire?

Such a mere bagatelle is $300,000, in fact, that Mr. Spreckels in Federal Judge Bean's court this afternoon couldn't remember whether the Southern Pacific company, back in 1906, paid him $1,300,000 or only a paltry $1,000,000 for the properties of the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern railroad and the Beaver Hill Coal company.

The question of the extra $300,000 came up while Mr. Spreckels was on the witness-stand to testify relative to the transaction whereby the interests of R. A. Graham were closed out by the J. D. Spreckels & Bros. company in default of payment by Mr. Graham of principal or interest on a note aggregating $523,000.

According to the complaint of Mr. Graham, who nearly 20 years after the foreclosure incident is suing the Spreckels company and the Southern Pacific company for an accounting of the affairs of the two companies, the Spreckels company sold all the properties of the two Coos Bay concerns to the Southern Pacific for $1,300,000.

Mr. McNabb read from Mr. Spreckels' testimony at an Interstate Commerce commission hearing in San Francisco in January, 1907, at which he testified to having been paid $1,300,000 for the properties at issue.

"You testified to that, didn't you?" inquired Mr. McNabb.

"Well, yes, I must have done so," admitted Mr. Spreckels. "But there must be some mistake. I don't remember that $300,000. I am sure we were paid only $1,000,000."

Mr. Spreckels testified further that he had never been in Coos Bay, had never seen the properties, and had left all details of their management and disposal to Mr. Samuel H. manager for the properties.

STORM CAUSES DEATH

PORTLAND, Ore., April 26.—Roland Doucette, aged 5, was killed almost instantly, and his cousin, Leotta Bonness, almost 4 years old, was injured at 6 o'clock tonight by a fire-place mantle, which had been loosened by the wind of this afternoon's storm and fell on the children as they were running by the fireplace to dinner in their homes at 507 Clay street.

The chimney on the Ohio hotel at Front and Madison streets was struck by a thunderbolt at 4:45 o'clock, and T. Sumida, who was stoking the furnace in the basement, was shocked severely. The hotel guests were thrown into a panic, but no serious injuries were reported.

Lightning hit the roof of the Westfall apartment, at Fifth and Hall streets, and ran down the elevator shaft. The elevator was put out of commission, but nobody was hurt. A small fire, starting on the roof, was quickly extinguished.

DON'T BE FARMER IN TOWN, WARNS WOMAN

AND IF YOU CAN'T SING OR PLAY BE THANKFUL, ADDS MRS. MARY MCCORMACK.

EUGENE, Ore., April 26.—When Mrs. Mary McCormack began her speech on "Farming and Country Life" at the closing session of the women's vocational conference, she said she meant to speak on both the practical and esthetic sides. But in the questions asked her, and in the speeches of the other women, practical problems seemed to dominate.

"Don't try to be a horticulturist in town!" advised Mrs. McCormack. "That isn't living in the country, and it may annoy your neighbors. You need a dog with a good bark and a bungalow with lots of windows. Make up your mind that you are going to be comfortable, but not wealthy. Lay aside a little every year, and don't fret. Have an avocation on the side, like photography or music, which can come to the rescue when weather spoils your prospects. But don't work fourteen hours a day and starve your town to have honoree for the building if you can sing or play thank God for it and make it a blessing to your neighbors."

Mrs. McCormack went into prices and profits. She agreed that any woman taking up farming for a living would need either to have some capital to start with, or to go into debt for the time. A year of physics, one of chemistry, and one each of botany and biology she thought should be taken as college preparation. A short course in commerce on marketing, and all a woman could learn about machinery she said would prove of great value.

Miss Jessica Todd, manager of the women's dormitory at the Oregon Normal school, talked briefly on house management. Domestic science courses were almost essential if a girl hoped to work into such an occupation, she said.

HUNTING PROSPECTS ARE DECLARED BRIGHT

CARL SHOEMAKER, STATE GAME WARDEN, OUTLINES PLANS FOR THIS SEASON.

EUGENE, Ore., April 22.—"There promises to be fine fishing and hunting in the state this year," said Carl Shoemaker, state game warden, who spent last night in the city.

"I have never seen so many Chinese pheasants in the field as I saw today, coming up the valley from Portland," continued Mr. Shoemaker. "They seemed to be thick all along the road. This means that the shooting will be good next fall."

Mr. Shoemaker started out from Portland in an automobile but became stalled in the mud at Sherwood and came the remainder of the distance on the train.

The warden said that the game department is getting ready to ship about 400 game birds from the state farm near Corvallis within the next two or three weeks. Those parts of the state which have few game birds at the present time will be stocked with pheasants, partridges and other birds raised at the farm. Shipments of trout will also be started from the state hatchery at Bonville by the first of May and every stream of importance in the state will receive its share of the fingerlings and older trout that have been hatched there. Between 8,000,000 and 10,000,000 of them will be sent out this summer.

Construction work is being rushed on Grants Pass sugar factory.

SALEM IS PLANNING BIG FOUR-DAY SHOW

SALEM, Ore., April 26.—A combination cherry fair, floral display and loganberry show as Salem's contribution to the big summer, was decided upon at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Salem Commercial club. June 30 and July 1, 2 and 4 were set as the tentative dates, depending mainly upon the time at which the cherry crop reaches its most showy stage.

Mrs. Edith Towner-Weathered was appointed manager of the floral part of the show and will at once begin to collaborate with Benjamin Brick, manager of the tourist, publicity and conventions department, to make the event a record breaker in the way of gala affairs.

The four day program has been tentatively arranged. Aside from a spanking fine program of parades that is being planned and races and a Fourth of July celebration at the fair grounds, most of the attractions of the four days will take place at the army. A pronounced sentiment was registered against street carnivals and none of the ordinary cheap attractions will be allowed to have any connection with the official events.

Friday and Saturday, the first two days, will be devoted chiefly to the fruit and agricultural displays. For Friday a baby parade is one of the features planned for the forenoon. In the afternoon, according to the tentative plans, the biggest agricultural and floral show ever held in the Willamette valley will be staged at the army, strictly set off by elaborate decorations of an appropriate sort.

LOCAL MAN RECOVERS STOLEN AUTOMOBILE

PORTLAND, Ore., April 20.—"I lost my auto last night," announced H. L. Martin, of 613 Main street, Oregon City, to Deputy Sheriff Beckman, today.

"Well, well, that's too bad. Where?" asked the deputy.

"In front of the Orpheum. Left it there last night when I went to the show and when I went to go home I couldn't find it."

At last the description was nicely typed, copies were made and circulated to the other deputies of Sheriff Hurlburt, and Mr. Martin departed. He was back again within five minutes.

"Say, what do you know about this?" he ejaculated, as he threw open the door.

"About what?" was the polite inquiry.

"I found my car," was the pleased response.

"Shucks! I suppose you found it where you left it—around the corner from the theater instead of in front of it," was the disgusted comment of Deputy Beckman.

"No, sir; someone brought it near your office so you wouldn't have any trouble finding it—it's half a block down the street, with the lights still burning."

True enough, the machine was there, headlights blazing wanly in the glare of day, driven up to the curb less than a block from the sheriff's office, on Fourth street. The auto was not damaged and had been used for some joyride.

D. M. DUNNE REGRETS MAX RAMSEY'S DEATH

FORMER COLLECTOR INTERNAL REVENUE HIGHLY PRAISES LATE MOLALLA MAN.

"A more competent, honest, loyal and true friend no man could have." This is David M. Dunne's opinion of Max Ramsey who died recently in Molalla. Mr. Dunne was collector of internal revenue in Portland for 15½ years, and Mr. Ramsey was one of his assistants during the greater part of that time. In a letter to The Enterprise, Mr. Dunne says:

"I received a message on Friday, the 14th inst., from Molalla from the Ramsey family informing me that Mr. Ramsey had died suddenly. I was shocked to hear same, as I received a letter from him a week previous, asking me to come out some time later on a fishing trip. When funeral took place unfortunately I was serving on jury and could not attend.

"I appointed Mr. Ramsey as field deputy a few months after I took my position as collector of internal revenue. He served in that capacity for several years and upon resignation of George H. Shinn as chief deputy (who resigned on account of his hearing), I appointed him in his place. He occupied that position until I was superseded from office. Revenue Agent Boulden took occasion to state after transfer was made, that the Portland office was at the head of list in Washington for efficiency. In replying I took occasion then to state that it was due entirely to the chief deputy and the splendid office force who were under him. A more competent, honest, loyal and true friend than Max Ramsey no man could have, during our close intercourse of fifteen years.

"I wish to take this method to extend to his good wife and son my heartfelt sympathy during their trouble. And for my old friend Max. None knew him but to love him; none knew him but to praise him."

BUSINESS STOPS AND COURT HALTS WHEN HAIL STORM BEGINS

FLAG POLE KNOCKED FROM BABY HOME ROOF AND WIRES CAME DOWN AS RESULT.

Business was suspended, people in the open were forced to run to shelter for protection and even the circuit court, where Mrs. Mary C. Wells is on trial, was interrupted for a few minutes Wednesday afternoon when hail, as large as marbles and driven before a fierce wind from the south, fell in this section of the county.

The hail was driven with such violence that unprotected windows on the south side of buildings were almost broken. Leaves were torn from trees and carried through the air.

In the circuit court room the crowd suddenly started to rush to the door, and order was restored only when Judge Campbell rapped loudly for order and several of the men in the room assured the crowd that there was no danger.

The flagpole on the Parkplace baby home was blown from the roof. Wires in several sections were blown down. Reports received here are to the effect that Redland, Clackamas, Molalla, Beaver Creek and other sections of the county were similarly affected.

One Clackamas man measured a hail stone and reported that it was an inch and a half in circumference and a half inch in diameter. Another citizen of Parkplace said that he found one almost as large as a 50 cent piece. The hail fell only for a few minutes and was followed by a heavy rain.

WOMAN CATCHES TWO FISH WHEN MEN FAIL

MRS. BRADLEY WOODWARD SUCCESSFUL SECOND DAY SHE IS ON THE RIVER.

While men were trolling for salmon Thursday with poor success, Mrs. Bradley Woodward, 502 Fourth street, caught two fish, one 25 pounds and the other 10. Thursday was her second day on the river.

Mrs. Woodward refused aid from others in the boat, and pulled the salmon in and gaffed them without help. She is proud of her success the second day on the river, particularly when the season is poor and many of the most experienced fishermen are having poor luck.

Kenneth Woodward, Mrs. Woodward's brother-in-law, went on the river in quest of salmon for the first time Thursday and landed a 40-pound fish. He is the son of H. E. Woodward, candidate for Republican nomination for county assessor, and is only 15 years old. The length of the fish almost equaled the boy's height.

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

Oregon City and Portland Markets

BEST QUALITY HOGS BRING $9.10 TO $9.30

PRICES AT UNION YARDS HOLD STEADY—ONE LOAD AVER—AGES 225 POUNDS.

UNION STOCK YARDS, Portland, Ore., April 21.—While the hog market at the Portland Union Stock Yards remains steady at $9, nevertheless there were two sales made during the forenoon of extra fancy porkers at $9.10 and $9.30. One load, that which brought the time over the market, was sent in by T. R. Johnson from Union county and went to Willard. The other load, averaging 255 pounds to the animal, came from the eastern Oregon experiment station in Union county and these brought the $9.30 price. It is said superior hogs have never been seen at the yards, even during show times.

Receipts for the day were 43 cattle, 1164 hogs, and 8 sheep, a total of 13 cars.

DEMAND FOR HOGS IS BRISK IN PORTLAND

UNION STOCK YARDS, Portland, Ore., April 24.—Such was the demand for livestock at the Portland Union Stock Yards this morning, especially for hogs, that by 10 o'clock several hundred head had been disposed of and the market had been established at $9.10 for best killers.

The cattle run was not as brisk and the market seemed, during the early part of the day, to be steady to easy.

The sheep that came in were mainly owned by the Union Meat company and therefore were not offered in the open market.

Receipts were 508 cattle, 42 calves, 2677 hogs and 204 sheep, a total of 47 cars.

FEW SHEEP ON HAND DISPOSED OF IN SHORT TIME—SUGAR MAKES BIG JUMP.

The top price paid for spring lambs was $9, the offerings being of inferior quality. Hogs were reported steady and cattle unchanged. Receipts were: 46 cattle, 289 hogs and 314 sheep, a total of 3 cars.
