Oregon City News

Mrs. Albright, mother of Miss Mary Albright, of this city, who has been critically ill at her home near the head of Fifth Street, is slightly improved.

Henry O'Malley, formerly of this city, but now of Seattle, Wash., after spending several days in this city transacting business in connection with the government fish hatcheries, has returned to Seattle.

Mrs. Annie Snyder, who is spending the summer at Seaside, has been in this city for a few days, but will return to Seaside the latter part of the week to remain at the summer resort until September.

Jake Schultz who met with a painful accident while employed in the paper mills of this city when his arm was burned, is now seriously ill at a hospital in Portland. Mrs. Daniel Gunther and Miss Schultz have been summoned to their brother's bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Howell and son, Ervan, of this city, left for their farm up the Clackamas, where Mr. Howell is busily engaged harvesting the crop of peaches on the farm owned by himself and son, Orey, the latter of whom is in charge of the farm. The yield from the trees this year will be about 500 boxes, including Early and Late Crawford peaches, but there are many young trees that are not in bearing this year, and by next year Mr. Howell and son will have a much larger yield. Other varieties have been planted besides those of the Early and Late Crawford. At this time of the year the Howell farm is an ideal place, being located along the banks of the scenic Clackamas river, and where the purest water is found. Many campers have pitched their tents for the summer's outing nearby. There are 80 acres included in this farm, much of which is under cultivation and it formerly belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Hackett, well known Oregon pioneers and parents of Councilman E. C. Hackett, of this city.

Charles Schoenheinz went to Portland on business Monday.

John F. Jennings, of Jennings Lodge, was in this city Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fortune will leave Saturday for Willhoit, where they will spend several weeks.

Miss L. Priehal, of Astoria, teacher in the schools of that city, is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amrine.

On Thursday evening of this week the Paper Weights of this city will give a picnic, and the affair promises to be a most enjoyable affair.

Miss Clara Krummel and Miss Margaret Krummel will leave Sunday for Goldendale, Wash., where they will visit relatives for a year.

Charlie E. Nash, formerly of this city, but now of Eastern Oregon, arrived in this city Saturday, bringing a drove of horses that were in fine condition.

Mrs. Forsythe and daughter, Mrs. Albert Kyle, went to Camas, Wash., Friday, where the former was the guest of school friends whom she had not seen for 20 years.

Mrs. Annie R. Williams, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Boylan, of Seaside, Ore., has returned to Oregon City and resumed her duties in the county recorder's office.

Carl Church, of Portland, traveling auditor of the American Express Company, was in this city Monday transacting business in connection with the company which he is united with. He also visited some of his friends of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. House and little daughter of Missouri, who have been visiting relatives in Oregon City, started for their home Friday evening, regretting to leave Oregon, as they have become much impressed with the climate.

Mrs. Ed Fortune has returned to Oregon City from a two months' visit in the East, where she went as a delegate to the order of Royal Neighbors' Convention held at Rock Island, Illinois. She also attended the convention of the Modern Woodmen of the World held at Toledo, Ohio, when her brother-in-law, J. D. Bolz, was elected head banker of the order. Before returning to her home in this city Mrs. Fortune visited her mother, Mrs. C. L. Gilmore, of Covington, Kentucky, and also at Detroit, Michigan.

SOCIAL MATTERS

Last Friday evening a very delightful linen rush was held at the home of Mrs. Turner of Center Street, in honor of Miss Martha Leisman, whose marriage to Mr. John Reams occurred Wednesday of this week.

Miss Leisman, who lives in Willamette, was fairly showered with linen gifts by her many Willamette and Oregon City friends, who attended this enjoyable affair. The hostess also provided the guests with tea-towels, which were merrily hemmed during the evening, and then presented to the bride elect.

Mrs. Turner's home was decorated very prettily with carnations and smilax, a festoon of the greenery being arranged over the archway between the parlors. The daintiest of refreshments were served the guests by the hostess, assisted by Miss Mildred Reams, after an evening of pleasure was enjoyed. Those attending were:

Mrs. H. Leisman, Mrs. R. A. Junken, Mrs. F. Shipley, Mrs. L. P. Barnes, Mrs. B. Barnes, Mrs. J. M. Turner, Mrs. J. W. Thornberry, Misses Lena Story, Maude Lightbody, Nellie Lindquist, Fern Britton, Gertrude Wilson, Nan Lindquist, Mary Lindquist, Pearl Manning, Laura Gross, Pearl Brown, Ida Ellingsen, Clara Miller, Cora Hunt, Rose Miller, Florence G. White, Mabel Larson, Marian M. White, Esther Larson, Gladys Baker, Mildred Ream.

EQUITY REORGANIZATION

State Equity will Concentrate the Buying and Selling Ends

The State Equity Society met in Portland last Saturday. Delegates from all organized counties and Clark County, Washington, were present. Steps were taken to reorganize the business and concentrate the buying and selling. The State Board was empowered to make necessary arrangements to supply the wants and needs of the society.

In pursuance of this the State Board met in Portland Wednesday and interviewed several parties of good rating and much progress was made. In order to perfect arrangements another meeting will be called soon. Full information will be mailed to each local trouphout Oregon and Clark County, Wash., as soon as complete.

FOR SALE—Good span of mares, wagon and harness. Call at Walter's stable, G. W. Cone.

PARKER SOME SCRAPPER

"Painless" Dentist will give the Trust a Run for Their Money

The newspapers have had considerable to say about Edgar R. ("Painless") Parker of Portland, and his fight against the dental trust, and the scrap is being watched with much interest in Oregon.

It is very much along the lines of the van Brakle case in this city, and Parker is just as much of a scrapper as the Oregon City osteopath. Parker has a process of extracting teeth without pain and without the bad after effects of cocaine and other regular dental preparations. He has offices all over the country and has made a fortune from his discovery—hence the opposition of the "regulars."

New interest has been added to the case by Parker bringing a suit for $20,000 damages against the Portland Spectator for libel, that paper charging that he is without skill, incompetent as a dentist, a charlatan, quack and faker.

Parker says he is a graduate from the Philadelphia Dental college, has practiced for 22 years, and he gives a long list of states and Canadian provinces in which he has been admitted to practice.

The affair looks very much as if the dental trust was out to "get him." He is not "ethical." He runs his own business and is evidently running it to well to suit the "regular" practitioners. The little doctor is a game scrapper and he says he will take the dental association to the end of the line.

COUNCIL MATTERS

Brief Outline of Wednesday Night's Session of City Fathers

A petition signed by the business men of the city asking that the license of peddlers and fruit vendors be raised from $10 to $25 was laid on the table.

Ordinances for the improvement of East and Fourth streets were laid over, pending a legal point. The streets are in Falls View, and ordinances call for 15 feet macadam, and board walks.

Ordinance ordered draw for $1,000 appropriation for five dead sewers on Main street, in connection with the paving.

Willamette Valley Southern was given permission to build a switch in the northern part of the city. The company will build side tracks from Parkplace to this city, paralleling the P. R. L. and P. tracks.

Clackamas County Gas Co. was given an extension to January 1 to complete gas mains.

For the improvement of Fifteenth street the Oregon Engineering and Construction Co. bid $5,333.40 and J. W. Shea $5,480.25.

Chief Shaw reports three arrested in July for drunkenness; three for carrying liquor, burglary 1, vagrancy 1, fines $15.

RUSHING CARVER LINE

Work is Being Pushed on both Oregon City and Logan Lines

G. H. Magary, construction manager of the Carver railroad was in the city the first of the week, and he states that both the Oregon City and Logan lines of the Carver road are being pushed forward and that extra men will be put on next week.

Grading is completed and steel laid for about two and a half miles this side of Oak Grove, on the Portland and Oregon City line, with fifteen teams and forty men on the job, and that a larger force will be put on.

On the Logan line steel is laid for about two miles between Clackamas and Rock Creek, and the trestle at Rock Creek is being built.

It is expected that work in this city will be started soon.

REDLAND

Haying is now completed with a fair crop and the cutting of grain will be over the last of the week. The thresher can already be heard and from present reports oats are about 15 bushels per acre short, and wheat also is not filled as well as last year. Spuds are drying up and unless rain hits them soon, a short crop will be evident.

This warm weather seems to agree with corn.

Elmer Powers has gone to Haines, Ore., to work. Miss Ina has gone to Portland.

Miss Ella Vierhus has been hired to teach school in Dist. No. 75.

The Smith System of Heating will be installed in school dist. No. 75 and also in Dist. No. 8, besides other needed improvements.

Schwartz Bros. have purchased an auto truck and keep the same busy on the road hauling goods.

Mr. Kerr has about completed a contract for bridge timbers for the Carver road bridge at Rock Creek. Miss Hattie Gaskell has gone to Portland and will take treatment for rheumatism of Dr. Bruce.

Louis Fun has an over-supply of shoats for sale from 100 lbs up.

This spring an agent of the H. Angle Tailoring Co. of Chicago sold suits at $12.00 per, making all kinds of promises of satisfaction guaranteed, but since the goods came the agents have left, also some of the customers got left. Moral—don't patronize agents—trade at home and get your money's worth.

LOST—A heifer, yellow Jersey, about 1 1/2 years old—G. Amacher Box 21 A., Oregon City, Rt. 2.

FOR RENT—Two or three room furnished apartment, modern conveniences. Phone Main 2912.

Monument for Dr. W. E. Carl

In the new perpetual care addition to the Oregon City Cemetery, workmen are erecting a Vermont Marble monument in memory of the late Dr. W. E. Carl, who died in November, 1911. The marble bears the inscription:

A Loving Tribute From His Friends. Born, Chicopee, Maine, October 26, 1858; died Oregon City, Ore. November 29, 1911. Dr. W. E. Carl.

On questioning the man doing the work for the Portland Marble Works, no further information could be had than that the order was placed in the name of Trustees Monument Fund, Dr. W. E. Carl, men who had been appointed by the subscribers to the fund to handle the business for them.

The monument is a very nice work and will be one of the best and largest in the cemetery.

Long may the good works and deeds of the old doctor live.

Moonlight Picnic

One of the most delightful affairs during the past week was the moonlight picnic given in the banks of the Clackamas river Friday evening by the F. B. C. Class of the Presbyterian church. Miss Gertrude Hamilton, who is chairman of the entertainment committee of the class, was assisted by the young ladies of the class in serving a delicious repast, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all attending.

The evening was devoted to games, singing popular songs and telling stories around a huge bonfire. After one of the most enjoyable evenings spent by the members of this organization all returned to their homes in this city. Attending were: Miss Ruth Brightbill, Miss Beatrice Weeks, Miss Grace Spiger, Miss Schultz, Miss Margaret Huseelbe, of Tacoma, Wash., Miss Rose Spiger, Miss Helen Ely, Miss Edith Alldredge, Miss Gladys McCoy, Miss Stella Cross, Fred Meade, George Jewell, Ray Morris, Joe Alldredge and Elden Alldredge.

The Tabernacle Meetings

Lectures on the prophecies, doctrines, and precepts of the Scriptures are now in progress in the Cotton Tabernacle on the hill, Ninth and Washington Street. As the Bible is the only source of Christian truth; the only book that unfolds to us the realities of eternity, and it behooves us to give close attention to the interpretation of it. "The nations are angry and thy wrath is near to come," and "shouldst destroy them which corrupt the earth," was the subject of last evening's discourse.

In the voice of the seventh angel when he shall begin to sound the mystery of God (the gospel) shall be finished as he hath declared to his servants the prophets." In Revelation, chapters 8 and 9, the voice of the six angels were the wars that divided the Roman empire into the ten divisions of Europe, and terribly chastened them, who corrupted the earth.
