CLACKAMAS COUNTY JUNIOR RED CROSS HAS ENVIABLE RECORD

Clackamas was the banner Junior Red Cross county of Portland Chapter, having 80 Junior Red Cross organizations among the schools in the county and 90 schools carrying on the Modern Health Crusade.

Clackamas County Juniors sent to the Chapter Headquarters, since Sept. 1918, more than 2000 articles, including bed socks, bedside bags for hospitals, property bags, knitted articles, and during the last month of school, the manual training departments of the Oregon City and Estacada high schools made chairs for a refugee order for overseas.

The fine record of Clackamas County was due to the fine cooperation of Supt. Calavan and his secretary, Miss Charlotte Pratt.

MIDGET MOVIE QUEEN WILL ASSIST FATHER BOSSING PLANTATION

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fordyce and daughter, Virginia, who have been in Oregon City for the past two weeks, where they have been visiting Mrs. Fordyce's mother, Mrs. A. Nelson, left Thursday evening for Memphis, Tenn., where they are to remain for some time. Mr. Fordyce has gone there to assist in looking after the property interests of his aunt, Mrs. J. M. Bennett, who owns a large plantation of 1000 acres, and another of 350 acres, besides a large apartment house.

While enroute to Tennessee they will visit at LaHarpe, Ill., where they will spend a week with Mr. Fordyce's mother, Mrs. Z. K. Knobs.

She was connected with the American and the Alisky Film company. The child made her first appearance on the screen when two years of age, and retired at seven. She has little desire to return to the stage, saying it is hard work, and she prefers to go to school and play with other children.

The child is unusually attractive and is now in her ninth year.

SALEM FRUIT EXPERTS ORGANIZE NEW FIRM TO DEVELOP FRUIT

SALEM, Aug. 29.—Growing importance of the fruit industry in the Willamette valley has caused the formation of another big, new industry, which centers in Salem and which is the first of its kind in Oregon. This is the organization by the Peary brothers of a firm for the development of fruit tracts and the sale of fruit lands. With the Pearys will be associated Frank Davey as office manager. Mr. Davey has resigned his position in the claims department of the state industrial accident commission and enters upon his new work September 1.

Wealthy fruit men who are able to push the development of lands they may purchase in the valley will be brought here by the new organization. Knight Peary and Harry Peary, both graduates of Oregon Agricultural college, and both scientific fruit experts, are the moving spirits in the concern. They purpose to make a soil survey of each tract of land handled and will develop the land for the buyer if he so desires. The first tract to be so developed is the Witzel tract in the Wald Hills, sold recently to a Massachusetts man, and which is to be developed by Knight Peary. Not only fruit but nut development, will be promoted.

Knight Peary is now in charge of the Skyline orchards for G. E. Noble of Chicago, and is making a remarkable success in the production of walnuts and prunes. Harry Peary has charge of between 1200 and 1400 acres near Amity, Yamhill and Sheridan, devoted mainly to cherries. Mr. Davey, who is to be office manager, has a thorough knowledge of the fruit industry.

MR. COMMON PEOPLE COULD HAVE TOLD HIM THAT A LONG TIME AGO

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 29.—No matter how high you make wages, living costs have demonstrated that they can climb as fast, in fact, take delight in so doing. This declaration was made here today by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

"The solution of the wage problem, not only on railroads, but in all other lines of business, lies in a reduction of living costs—not effectively in increased wages," Stone said.

SHARING OF PROFITS BY EMPLOYEES PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Establishment of a system of profit-sharing by employees is but one of the far reaching provisions of the bill for the restoration of the country's railroads to private ownership, which was favorably reported to the senate today by Senator Cummins (Republican) of Iowa, as chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee.

The measure provides for the repeal of the federal control act of March 31, 1918, and the return of the railroads on the last day of the calendar month in which it becomes a law.

Rates in force at the time the repeal takes effect are to remain in force "until changed by competent authority."

In many respects, the bill is extraordinary for the revolutionary changes and the sweeping changes in railroad ownership, management and operation incorporated in it.

The labor features, as summed up by Senator Robinson, Democrat, of Arkansas, a member of the committee, "Not only assures employees just, fair and reasonable hours, wages and working conditions, but it gives them representation on the boards of directors of the various railroad corporations and establishes an employees' welfare fund for the excess earnings which it is believed some of the railroads will derive from the rates to be established under the bill."

NEW LAW WOULD MAKE STRIKES AND LOCK- OUTS ILLEGAL IS AIM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—A law to prohibit strikes or lockouts of railroad employees and thus protect the public from transportation tie-ups was advocated by Senator Robinson, Democrat, of Arkansas, in an address today in the senate.

ALBANY, Aug. 30.—A new school of commerce, embracing a two years' course leading to the degree of certified public accountant, will be opened up at Albany College this fall. Professor J. J. McKnight, a member of the Ohio state board of accountancy, has accepted the chair of commerce and has moved to Albany ready to start the September term.

This year the course will include five hours a week in practical accountancy and three hours a week in business law. The latter will be taught by Attorney Carl E. Sox, of this city, who has made an exhaustive study of business law and supplemented it with practical experience. A commercial night school will also be instituted under the auspices of Albany college if there is demand for it.

LIEUTENANT VIERHUS REACHES HOME AFTER TWO YEARS SERVICE

Lieutenant Victor Vierhus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vierhus, of Twilight, has returned to the family home after being in the service for two years. Lieutenant Vierhus was in the aviation service, and was among the Clackamas county boys disappointed in not being able to go overseas. He has been stationed in the East visited his grandfather, James Lockie, father of Mrs. Vierhus, at Buffalo, N. Y. He also visited the former home of the Vierhus family in Ontario, Canada. He made the trip home over the C. P. R. R. through Northern Canada, and saw much beautiful country, but says there is no place like good old Oregon.

James Vierhus, who has been in France in the service for two years, is reported on his way home. He is with the 29th U. S. Engineers, and has been in France and Germany, having been stationed at Coblenz, Germany. He will receive his discharge at Washington, D. C.

THE LOWLY EVERGREEN, CURSED FOR YEARS, IS NOW MONEY-MAKER

The people of Clackamas county who are lucky enough to have evergreen blackberries growing on their property this year, which in former years have been considered a nuisance to many of the farmers, are receiving a good price for the berries. Many of the farmers have secured pickers and are sending the berries into the Oregon City market in large quantities. The canneries are paying eight cents per pound, the highest price that has ever been paid for these berries, and the pickers are receiving four cents, and are making good wages.

In the Lin's Old Mill settlement Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Stewart have employed pickers to harvest their berry crop, and are selling their berries to the Brady Mercantile Company in this city for eight cents per pound. The Mercantile company is shipping the berries to the canneries. Two children, aged about ten years, who walk to the berry patch, a distance of two miles, pick 75 pounds between them daily. Women are also getting their share of the money. Mr. Stewart brought 562 pounds of berries into Oregon City Friday, and thinks on Tuesday he will bring about a ton, as the berries are ripening rapidly. The berries are growing in a cool place, near the Abernathy river and the berries will continue to ripen until the frost arrives.

WATERSHED SAVING BILL OF REP. HAWLEY GAINS FAVOR IN HOUSE

Further consideration and favorable action on the H. R. 8028 bill, introduced by Representative Hawley for the reservation of government forest lands for the protection of the watershed and conservation of the water supply for Oregon City, are indicated in a letter recently received from Representative Hawley, with an enclosure from Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane.

In the enclosure Secretary Lane makes a formal report on H. R. 8023 to Hon. N. J. Sinoott, chairman of the Committee on Public Lands, and states that the new bill embodies all features of earlier legislation along the same general lines, with several amendments that are greatly beneficial to the tracts of land which Representative Hawley proposes to protect in his H. R. 8028, and the Secretary of the Interior submits the new bill to the Hon. Sinoott for his favorable consideration and that of his committee.

There is every indication that the new bill will become law in due course without being appreciably altered and that Oregon City may rest assured of ample protection to her water supply is now an almost assured fact.
