When we opened our mail
Yesterday afternoon
We found a letter
Which read as follows:
"Dear Mr. Editor and
Publisher—Will you kindly
Print in the columns
Of your paper
The following information?
How long did
President Wilson
Stop in Oregon City
And what time was it
When he spoke here
And what did he say
About
Oregon City?
And did he say
Whether or not
He would be back
Again some time
If you will print this
Mr. Editor
I will appreciate
It
Because I couldn't
Get out of the house
For two days
Cause Charley
Had the mumps.
Respectfully
O. Fergit."

COPY OF AUSTRIAN TREATY PRESENTED BY SENATOR LODGE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—After several futile attempts to obtain the Austrian treaty from President Wilson, Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, yesterday laid before the senate the copy of the pact presented to him yesterday by the Chicago Tribune. The senator stated that he owed the copy "to the kindness of the Chicago Tribune."

When Senator Lodge proposed to have the treaty read to the senate, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the administration leader, protested vehemently. The Nebraska senator insisted that the senate should give exclusive attention to the German treaty.

"I should like to ask the senator from Massachusetts what copy of the treaty this is and whence does it come?" interrupted Senator Williams, of Mississippi.

"It is a copy of the treaty brought here by a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune," answered Senator Lodge.

It is estimated that at the present rate of increase, both of consumption and of the output of petroleum, the known oil fields of the United States will be exhausted by the year 1935.

The British House of Commons possesses a post-office of its own, which handles over two and a half million pieces of mail—to say nothing of a tremendous number of telegrams—during a single session.

One hundred housewives in Winnipeg are financing a cooperative store which will handle all staple lines of food, without profit, to provide cheaper food for the homes represented in the concern.

A Swiss milkmaid with a musical singing voice obtains better wages than one who cannot sing, as a cow that is soothed with a pleasing melody during milking will, it is said, yield one-fifth more milk.

The Three R's

Many persons do not realize what an unmeasured blessing the public school system is, nor how much the people of this country owe to the free school, as we have it today. The development of the public school in Oregon may be calculated by the fact that Oregon had the highest percentage of illiterates of any state in the union in the selective registration during the war.

In Guilford county, North Carolina, 1000 men, who could neither read nor write, were registered. Probably many of these were colored men, but the fact remains that an illiterate colored person is just as dangerous, if not more so, to a community than is an illiterate white. Guilford county is not one of the mountain counties of the south where "poor white trash" abound, but is one of the richest counties of that state.

Thank God, Oregon has a strict compulsory education law, and that our boys and girls are not permitted, but required to attend school and form those thinking habits that make for better men and women.

Pershing Forgets He Is Grim War Hero When He Sights Sisters on Hoboken Pier

General John J. Pershing was almost as happy as any doughboy when he got his first glimpse of the Statue of Liberty from the Leviathan but his best smile was reserved for his sisters who awaited him at Hoboken pier. With the aid of field glasses he picked them out in the front row of the well-

FAILURE OF UNITED STATES TO ACCEPT TREATY HOPED FOR

BERLIN, Sept. 16—Many leaders of German thought now are beginning to voice emphatically the opinion that the best interests of their nation will be served through immediate ratification of the peace treaty by the United States.

For weeks men quick to express opinions have been more or less jubilant in picturing the possibility that the attitude of the senate might invalidate the peace treaty and open a way to more lenient terms but second thought probably will prevail.

This points out that without ratification by the United States one of two things will happen. Either the treaty will become effective through ratification by France, England and Italy and the United States will have no hand in its enforcement or in the conduct of the league of nations, or else the present "state of war" which every day is becoming more and more precarious in Germany, will be continued indefinitely with the almost certain result of bankruptcy and another revolution.

Honesty among Icelanders is so severe a faith that thefts are unknown, though locks, bolts and bars are never used. Of the only two acts of felony within the last eight or nine centuries one was committed by a German settler, who was compelled to make restitution to his victim, and then given the option of death or speedy emigration.

Probably the first women in America to hold an elective school office was Emma Willard, the famous educator, who in the early part of her career was elected superintendent of schools in the town of Kensington, Conn.
