THE FASHIONS

For true sport, the vacation girl must dress the part, whether her outing be a tramping tour, a camping trip, a mountain climb, or just the conventional round of tennis, golf and boating. This annual week or two of freedom, open air and sunshine must carry us through another year, so let us make the most of our outing.

Sport Shirts and Sport Skirts

Perhaps the most comfortable general outfit for the girl who likes a long cross-country tramp, is the short skirt of corduroy, with heavy tan boots, not too high, well oiled to prevent wetting through, a soft tan flannel shirt, made on the order of a man's with pockets, and soft roll collar, and a soft felt or Panama hat, which is light of weight and wide enough of brim to keep the face from burning. Dogskin or wash chambray gloves may be worn if one has the patience for them, and desires to keep the hands smooth and white. These sport shirts are being used generally for even the most conventional sports purposes. They are developed in many suitable materials, ranging from flannel to the elaborately colored, checked and striped silk shirtings.

of crushing the frock; and they are quite the usual thing to wear over the lingerie dress, either for daytime or evening.

There are many effective blouses, cut Russian or modified middie fashion, developed in these soft silks, linens, and novelty fabrics, and commonly called sport blouses, but being appropriately worn for the various daytime occasions aside from sports. An especially pretty design is shown here, combined with a skirt of white serge. This model slips on over the head, and is made of the new glove silk in black and white stripes; the blouse is smartly trimmed with collar, cuffs and girdle of the serge. Such a costume is charming and sensible for the girl who plays tennis and indulges in similar sports, and it may be worn quite as appropriately by the girl who merely looks on.

Sporting and Walking Shoes

Whether it is the influence of the sports fad, or just a natural reaction from uncomfortable heels and pointed toes, one sees numbers of sensible shoes worn by smartly dressed women these days. Of course there is the distinct sports shoe for tennis, or golf, with rubber sole and heel, and the heavy tramping or hunting boot. But there is another shoe, a typical walking shoe, which is beginning to be seen on the street, worn with the smartly tailored suit of serge or linen; this shoe or tie has a broad heel, a round toe and is generally sensible, smart appearance. One of the most charming low shoes of the season, worn for the street, with a tailored suit, is of patent leather with heels which resemble closely the old fashioned spring heels of the child's shoe. These are smart, new, and comfortable. For those who find the backward tilt of the low heel rather uncomfortable at first, there comes an air cushion or inside heel which may be slipped into the shoe, adding to the comfort and giving the same effect as the outside heel of rubber.

White buckskin and canvas shoes, with leather trimmings, or plain, are popular for general sports wear, with the white or colored linen suit; the plain black or tan walking boot is favored for rough wear. Silk stockings are seldom worn for sports purposes; a good heavy hosiery or cotton is preferable.

VETERANS IN CAMP

Meade Post, Ladies and Spanish American Veterans Attend

Twenty-five members of Meade post, G. A. R., a number of Spanish-American war veterans, ladies of the G. A. R., and members of the Woman's Relief corps, went to Eugene yesterday morning from Oregon City and other parts of the county to attend the three-day encampment being held there.

Eugene was in gala attire to receive the veterans of the wars and the ladies and the business section of the city and all public buildings are decorated with the national colors and large pictures of Lincoln and other heroes of war days.

Yesterday the opening feature of the encampments was a patriotic parade in which the visiting delegates, who it is estimated will number between 1200 and 1500, civic organizations, lodges and loyal Americans generally took part.

Colonel Creed C. Hammond, commander of the Coast Artillery corps of the Oregon National Guard, acted as grand marshal. All participants marched on foot except a few of the older veterans of the Civil War, who rode in motor cars.

Delegates from the north arrived by special train over the Southern Pacific and Oregon Electric at noon. They were met by members of the entertainment committee and taken to their quarters.

The first encampment session was held at 2:30 o'clock, when the council of administration of the Grand Army of the Republic and the credentials committee assembled.

All the visiting delegates and residents of Eugene attended the flag day ceremonies of the Elks in the evening.

WIRE THIEF CAUGHT

Alfred Collins Taken by Portland Deputy Sheriffs

Caught as he was in the act of selling 150 pounds of trolley-wire, Alfred Collins was arrested last Saturday night by Deputy Sheriffs Phillips and Beckman and he is now in the Multnomah county jail.

The wire in his possession was cut from the Southern Pacific company's Oswego line. The wire was taken from the Southern Pacific line when it was carrying a high voltage of electricity.

The deputy sheriffs came near catching Collins last Thursday night when they followed him in an automobile to the place where he had the wire hidden. When Collins stopped his machine the deputy sheriffs drove about 200 yards past him and before they could turn Collins had jumped out of his car, grabbed the wire and started back for town, evading the officers.

So Saturday night, when another bunch of wire was to be sold, the officers took no chances and grabbed their man.

"He was selling the wire to my friend," said Deputy Sheriff Bob Phillips, grinning over the wire he had caught Collins "with the goods."

HOLD-UP PARDONED

A conditional pardon was issued by Governor Withycombe on Tuesday, in compliance with the recommendations made by the parole board, by which Virgil A. Perrine, serving a term in the penitentiary for robbing the Milwaukee, Ore., bank, gained his liberty. Perrine held up the cashier of the bank in 1913, and pleaded guilty at the hearing following his arrest. The pardon makes Perrine's release condition that he go to St. Louis, Mo., where he is to live with his parents.

Says She Was Saved From Operating Table

Brother and Sister Both Relieved by Simple Remedy Available to Any One

In her gratitude for a remedy that saved her from the possible necessity for an operation, Mrs. Carrie Hefflin, of Coats, Kans., writes: "Had it not been for Fruitola and Traxo I might have been on the operating table by now. It relieved me of at least one hundred and fifty gall stones. It surely does work wonders. My brother also had suffered for years and has been greatly benefited by Fruitola and Traxo."

Mrs. Carrie Hefflin

Fruitola is a powerful lubricant for the intestinal organs, softening the congested masses, disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and expels the accumulation in an easy, natural way. Traxo is a splendid tonic, acting on the liver and stomach with most beneficial results and is recommended for use in connection with Fruitola to build up and restore the weakened, run-down system.

Fruitola and Traxo are prepared in the Pinus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., and arrangements have been made to supply them through representative druggists. In Oregon City, Portland, Canby and Hubbard they can be obtained at Huntley Bros. Co.'s drug stores.

ONIONS STUFFED.—Use for this dish large onions, peel and par-boil for ten minutes. Drain, cool and with a pointed knife remove the center of each onion. Fill the cavity with a mixture of chopped meat, using either beef, chicken or veal. Add buttered breadcrumbs, season with salt, paprika and a little finely minced parsley. Put onions close together in baking dish and add just enough water to keep them from burning. Bake for twenty minutes and serve with hot corn bread.

Baked Parsnips.—Take as many parsnips as are needed and skin, wash and cut down center. Boil until almost done and then put in dish. Cover the parsnips with small pieces of butter and sprinkle a little pepper over them. Add a few drops of hot water and bake until brown. You would be surprised what a difference in taste this makes.

Escalloped Mushrooms.—When you have used the tops of mushrooms for garnishing the stems may be utilized in a very good dish of escalloped mushrooms. Cut the stems into small pieces and cook until tender. Put in small buttered baking dish in alternate layers with breadcrumbs, pour white sauce over them, dot with butter and crumbs and bake until brown.

Curried Beans.—Half a pint of haricot beans should be soaked for twenty-four hours. Cook them in a slow oven with water until they are soft; then grate or chop up one onion, one apple and half a carrot. Melt a tablespoonful of butter and fry the prepared vegetables in it for five minutes. Remove them, put a dessertspoonful of flour and curry powder, mixed, into the pan and stir well. Add a quarter of a pint of the water in which the beans have been boiled. Boil this up well, stirring all the while to prevent sticking and then add the beans. Serve with a border of boiled rice with a fish dinner.

Baked Eggplant.—Peel the eggplant, cut a piece from the top, take out the seeds, fill the cavity with a dressing as for ducks, replace the top piece and bake one hour, basting with a spoonful of butter in a cupful of hot water, afterward dredging with flour. Serve immediately.

GIRL PROPHECIES

Maple Lane Miss Sees Classmates Many Years From Now

The class prophecy read at the graduation exercises of the Maple Lane school last week is a very creditable production from the pen of Junia Schmidt, a fifteen-year-old girl and a member of the eighth grade class. It is the expression of the imaginative picture in the mind of a little girl, forecasting the fates of her classmates fifteen years hence. The prophecy follows:

Well, here I am at dear old Maple Lane again after an absence of 15 years. As I stepped from the W. V. S. car I looked around to see if I could recognize any familiar land marks and, behold! the first thing that met my eyes was—

The dear old school house by the road; The bare-foot boy still sunning; Around it still the fir trees grow; The cars still by it running.

It is a little more weather beaten and a few more panes of glass are missing than when our class graduated in 1916. The flag pole which was erected that year stands lonesome and forgotten, and the wood shed that

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol.

● Scott & Borne, Bloomfield, N. J.

once was there, is now replaced by a tent.

As I stood ruminating on the past the children came trooping out, not more than 20 in all, and I wondered if the district had been divided again.

There were six in our 1916 graduating class and one P. G. pupil. Mr. Ginter was our teacher and with what skill and patience he labored with us. Great credit is due to him for his untiring efforts. Right here I will say that he has progressed, and at present is judge of the circuit court.

Marion Ginter, our P. G. pupil, is the leader of the celebrated Metropolitan orchestra and, as I remember, he always did love to play on his cornet.

Harold Lindahl is now a professor in the normal school at Pendleton; he always was a studious boy and I am glad to know he has succeeded.

James Stewart, after graduating, took a special course in animal industry at the agricultural college at Corvallis and is getting wealthy raising blooded stock—both cattle and hogs—on his large farm in Mexico.

Herman Jessor entered a furniture store in Portland and by diligence and strict attention to business he advanced step by step until now he is part owner in the business.

Ralph Gage is a noted astronomer and has received the reward of $20,000 offered by Pierre Guzman to any one who would converse with the planet Venus. Ralph invented a machine with which to accomplish the great feat.

I had the great pleasure of visiting Lorena Kleinsmith (that used to be), on one of my journeys to Washington D. C. She is the wife of a senator from Oregon. She has a beautiful home and two lovely children, and seems as happy as most mortals are permitted to be.

As for myself, I have entered the political arena and at present am traveling around electioneering in the interest of a woman who has aspirations for the presidential chair.

Thus our 1916 class has fulfilled the prophecy of their youth, each following their chosen vocation and making good.

After a lapse of 15 years I can truthfully say that my school days were my best days, but, alas, we all must grow up and take our places

In the world's broad field of battle, In the bivouac of life, Be not like dumb, driven cattle— Be a hero in the strife.

Let us then be up and doing With a heart for any fate, Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor and to wait.

(Ed. Note—Mr. Ginter, teacher at Maple Lane for the last four years, has finished his last and most successful year in that district. Mr. Ginter will retire to his farm at Shubel for the summer and next fall will take up teaching duties at the Beaver Creek school, where he presided over rod and rule 18 years ago. It gives Mr. Ginter much pleasure to realize that next year he will be teaching the same lessons to the children of those whom he taught many years ago.)

TALKS CLUB WORK

Extension Worker Cooperates with Local School Officials

Notwithstanding the fact that the schools of the county were closed for the year, Monday was a busy day for Superintendent Calavan, Supervisor Vedder and H. C. Seymour, leader of industrial club work for the extension department of the Oregon Agricultural college. These gentlemen visited eight of the schools of the county on Monday and Mr. Seymour, who until recently was superintendent of Polk county schools, addressed gatherings of pupils in an effort to interest them in club projects in connection with their school work.

The college extension department is behind the campaign to install club projects in every school, for participation in which the pupils are allowed regular credits. Mr. Seymour spoke to the children on the plans and purposes of this movement and enlisted their interest.

The following schedule was carried out on Monday: Canemah, 8:30 a. m., Bolton, 9:30 a. m., Mount Pleasant, 10:30 a. m., Twilight, 11:15 a. m., Clairmont, 1 p. m., Henrici, 2 p. m., Beaver Creek, 3 p. m., and Carus 4:15 p. m. Tomorrow the officers, together with Mr. Seymour, will conduct similar meetings at Gladstone, Jennings Lodge, Oak Grove, Milwaukie, Ardenwald, Harmony and Clackamas.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Oregon City

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Oregon City evidence of their worth. James Wilkinson, retired farmer, 201 Fourteenth St., Oregon City, says: "I had to get up often at night as I couldn't sleep on account of the pains and aches all over me and was quite stiff in my limbs. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and today, although I am in my 70th year, I am hale and hearty." (Statement given March 29, 1910.)

Still Praises Doan's

On April 17, 1916, Mr. Wilkinson said: "I am ready to back up every word of my former statement recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever my kidneys get out of order, I take them and a few doses does the work."
