YOUTH IS DROWNED

Falls Into Water Near Ladder. Body Not Recovered

The waters of the Willamette just below the falls claimed toll in another life on Sunday evening when Harold Gladden, a 23-year-old Portland youth fell from a launch and was drowned.

The outing-party of which Mr. Gladden was a member and which came up the river from Portland to two power launches, was attempting to reach the foot of the fish ladder at the falls when one of the boats struck a rock, according to the statement of members of the party of young people. Two young men standing in the stern of the launch were thrown into the water by the force of the collision. Gladden did not appear on the surface again and all efforts to find his body were unavailing.

Gladden could not swim and to this his drowning is attributed. The other young man grasped a rope on the launch and was saved from the fate of his companion.

FARM STOCK.

If the horses are slow to shed their coats feed a little oilmeal or use the horse clippers.

Exercise in the open will cure and prevent thumps. Growthy active pigs never have thumps.

Blood always tells. Plan to breed your sheep flock up, not down.

The newly broken colt should not be worked too hard this spring. Too much work just now may ruin him.

Be careful in feeding the sow. Never give her ill smelling sour swill.

The man who is intelligent and painstaking can accomplish wonders with a nice flock of sheep.

VALUE OF CORN SILAGE AS A FEED FOR LAMBS

The purpose of a recent Nebraska lamb feeding experiment was to find out the comparative value of corn and alfalfa hay fed in various forms, with and without corn silage, says the Orange Judd Farmer.

The addition of corn silage to a ration of shelled corn and alfalfa hay increased the daily slight gain per lamb and increased the cost of production 5 cents per 100 pounds, but did not affect the net profit.

The addition of silage to ground corn and ground alfalfa did not increase the gain, but reduced the cost of 100 pounds gain 31 cents.

Whole grain and hay in conjunction with the silage was the more economical of the two rations. Lambs on ground corn and ground alfalfa hay made daily gains of 0.371 pound at a cost of $6.12 per 100 pounds, while those on shelled corn and alfalfa hay made daily gains of 0.396 pound at a cost of $5.11 per 100 pounds.

MULLAN CHARGED

District Road Supervisor Subjected to Hearing by Court

On Thursday of last week a petition bearing the names of 115 persons in road district number 1 was presented to the county court charging S. L. Mullan, defeated republican primary candidate for county commissioner, with political maneuvering in connection with his position as district road supervisor. In addition to this charge the petitioners assert that Mr. Mullan is guilty of a general neglect of duty and of misconduct in the position he holds. It is said that he has been negligent in regard to repairs when needed in his district.

The county court considered the petition and set Saturday, June 17 as the date for a hearing on the charges made by the residents in the district of Mr. Mullan's endeavors.

FEET ARE CRUSHED

Youthful Molalla Giant Suffers Beneath Car Wheels

Lionel Palmer, of Molalla, had both feet crushed as a result of trying to mount a moving Willamette Valley Southern train at Molalla Sunday night. He was taken to a Portland hospital, and both feet were amputated.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer, is 17 years old, a student of the Molalla high school, stands over six feet in height and weighs over 200 pounds. Either to show his ability to board a moving train, or because he missed the train at the station, young Palmer attempted to climb aboard as it crossed a country road. His feet slipped and both were caught under the wheels. Dr. Todd, of Molalla, dressed the wounds, and Judge Grant B. Dimick and Dr. Mount, of this city, later went to Molalla to offer his assistance.

Standard Bred Horses.

Thoroughbred is the name applied to the English running race horse and is the name of a breed. It is in no way associated with such terms as pure bred or pure blooded. The thoroughbred horse came from oriental stock and was developed into a definite breed about the year 1700 in England.

The standard bred horse is not strictly a breed, but includes animals which are bred to a standard of performance. They must trot one mile in 2:30 and must pace it in 2:25 or better. This breed, if it may be called a breed, was developed in Orange county, N. Y., and was more fully developed in Kentucky and California. Standard bred horses are developed largely from thoroughbreds, and both have been the foundation for much of the trotting stock in this country.—Farm and Fireside.

Feeder Lambs In Demand.

So keen are sheep feeders to buy feeding stock that they are now contracting for unborn lambs in the range territory, says the Kansas Farmer.

The contract prices for lambs delivered in the fall are from $7.25 to $7.75 a hundred. Ordinarily feeding lambs are not purchased until late in the summer. Last season they sold early as low as $5.50, the price gradually advancing until as high as $7 was paid, that being the record price of the season for feeding lambs. This seemed dangerously high at the time, but sheep feeders have made money this season owing to the high price they have received for finished stock.

Indiana Man's Experience

Frank Moseley, Moore's Hill, Ind., writes: "I was troubled with almost constant pain in sides and back and attributed it to weakening of my kidneys. I got a package of Foley Kidney Pills. Great relief was apparent after the first doses and in 48 hours all pain left me. "If you have rheumatism, backache, swollen, aching joints or stiff, painful muscles, why not try Foley Kidney Pills? They stop sleep-disturbing bladder ailments, too.—Jones' Drug Co.

WORKERS GET BONUS

Crown-Willamette Mills Pay Employees Ten Per Cent of Wage

Last Saturday was a cheerful day for the employees of the Crown-Willamette mills in this city and at Camas, Wash., for the company distributed at that time some $35,000 in bonus checks, covering 10 per cent of the wages paid since the first of the year.

On the first of the year the Crown-Willamette company announced that the usual quarterly bonus would be paid thereafter twice each year. Just recently, however, they announced a ten per cent increase in wages throughout their plant and therewith the discontinuance of the bonus plan. Therefore, the payment received Saturday amounts to the same thing as a ten per cent wage increase effective since January 1.

The men who left their work before Saturday for various reasons, including the strike at the Camas mill, will not receive a bonus.

It is planned to have the new building ready for its grand opening house warming by the first of next month.
