TENT CITY STARTS AT GLADSTONE PARK

Already the vanguard of the tent city inhabitants is making reservations for tents with Secretary Cross. An indication of a most remarkable year is the fact that although the opening day is more than three weeks away, some fifteen tents have already been reserved at headquarters. During the next three weeks the reservations will continue to come in and it is probable that there will be more than a thousand people camped on the grounds throughout the assembly. Gladstone park is never more beautiful than right now and during the next two months will be the most picturesque spot in Oregon.

To add to the comfort of the big army of campers, several hundred dollars have been invested in additional sanitary conveniences throughout the park and no stone will be left unturned to make camp life at the 1916 chautauqua ideal in every way.

The season ticket sale will open next Monday, when the "book plan," always popular in former years, will again be inaugurated. Five hundred season tickets were turned over to the Bank of Oregon City today with instructions to sell the same in books of ten at $2.00 per ticket. The individual season ticket is $2.50, so by organizing a book party among your friends, a saving of 50 cents on each ticket or $5.00 on the book is made. The only condition is that the "books" must be obtained from the Bank of Oregon City prior to the opening date July 7. After that the regular price will be charged. There are but 500 of the "book" tickets in existence and these will be disposed of to the first who call. After the 500 are gone $2.50 will be charged everybody. Already requests for books have come in from the Molalla, Beaver Creek and Estacada localities.

The feeling is generally prevalent that the 1916 program will be the biggest and best ever given at Gladstone.

Flattering press notices are being received daily by Secretary Cross from almost all the big attractions. The program is by far the most expensive and the directors feel confident in saying it will be the best.

Among the various attractions noted on the program are the following: New York Marine Band, Witpeckie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra, the Ionian Serenaders, the Gullatto Trio, the Lyric Opera Company, Kekuku's Hawaiians, the Comus Players, the Kaffir Boys' Choir, the International Operatic Company, the Skibinsky Quartette, the Ring Sisters and the Mawson Antarctic Motion Pictures. In the lecture department will appear Lou Beauchamp, Victor Murdock, Sylvester A. Long, Judge R. M. Wamaker, Dr. Ernest J. Sias, Wood Briggs, Dr. Elliott A. Boyd, Frederick Vining Fisher, S. Platt Jones, Frederick J. Halton, Charles Zuehl, Dr. W. A. Hunsberger, Robert Parker Miles, Dr. Sutcliffe, Harriet Gunn-Robertson, and Ruth Meeker.

STARK GETS HEAVY JUDGMENT IN SUIT

cuit court had deliberated upon the evidence a little more than two hours Tuesday afternoon.

Sensational testimony revealed the truth of the charges made by Mr. Stark against Goodman and he had evidence to show that the latter had been unduly friendly with Mrs. Stark and had taken her to Portland hotels, where they were found together by Mr. Stark.

Neighbors of the family testified at the trial as to the friendly relations between Mr. Goodman and Mrs. Stark. In his own defense Mr. Goodman testified that the registration on the Tourist hotel register as Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jones was an act of indiscretion and in his behalf Mrs. Goodman's testimony maintained that her husband could not be guilty of the acts attributed to him without her knowledge and she claimed no knowledge of any of the actions. Mr. Goodman said the visit in the hotel was purely of a business nature and that business was the sole topic of discussion.

The jury found in favor of Mr. Stark, however, and a judgment of $1000 was asked from Goodman, who had been sued by Stark for $15,000. The jury comprised W. H. Bair, D. B. Fox, W. A. Garner, Solon Kinzer, Seth Young, A. G. Phelps, John A. Riddings, George H. Brown, John J. Hattan, J. T. Evans, W. H. Graessle and John Wise. Plaintiff was represented by Brownell and Sievers and counsel for the defense was W. M. Stone.

W. O. W. HAS SERVICE

Annual Event Held at Methodist Church on Sunday

The annual memorial service held by the Woodmen of the World, in tribute to the memories of departed comrades, was held at the Methodist church in Oregon City on Sunday evening and for the occasion the Rev. J. K. Hawkins selected as his subject "The Life Beyond."

A large number of lodges occupied a section reserved for them in the church and opened the service with their own ritualistic ceremony. The Aldridge brothers male quartette sang during the service and a tenor solo by Homer Hollowell was very popularly received.

The scriptural foundation for Mr. Hawkins' sermon was found in Job, XIV, 14, "If a man die will he live again?" In his discussion Mr. Hawkins pointed to the truth that appearance is against immortality.

"Although atheists bring back a voice of gloom regarding a life beyond, the theistic philosophers affirm the answer to the question in such a way as to offset the testimony of the other class. The best proof of immortality is in the scriptural revelations. Old testament testimony is strong, but was made in the twilight of revelation. The new testament proof, however, comes from a full light, because of Christ's resurrection."

PICNIC ON RIVER

Baptist Sunday School Children and Friends to Have Outing

Indications point to a record-breaking attendance at the picnic to be held under the auspices of the Oregon City Baptist Sunday school at Bonneville, on the Columbia river, tomorrow. A special train has been chartered and reservations made by friends of the church and children from all sections of the county.

An inspection of the Columbia River highway and the wonderful scenic attractions in that vicinity, will be a feature of the excursion. Seven hours will be spent at the beautiful park on the banks of the Columbia river. The train carrying the picnicers will leave Oregon City on Friday morning at 8:20, from the Southern Pacific depot and will arrive back in the city at 8 o'clock in the evening. Stops will be made en route and returning, at Parkplace, Clackamas and at East Morrison street, Portland. Twelve coaches have been ordered for the train and 600 people are expected to make the trip.

C. E. Society Meets

On Monday evening the new cabinet of the Methodist C. E. society met at the home of Stearns Cushing to select leaders for the Sunday evening devotional service for the next six months.

TRANSIT COMPANY FACING TROUBLES

P. R. L. & P. CLAIMS LOSS OF REVENUE THROUGH JITTERY COMPETITION

COMMISSION INVESTIGATES

Commissioner Campbell Supports Contention of Public Service Corporation

A new freight franchise, covering practically the same conditions as did the former franchise was granted on Monday evening to the P. R. L. & P. Co., by the Oregon City council. There are slight exceptions made in the new franchise, one of which is its life, being for 10 years rather than for 25 as requested. The other exception is that the company agrees to keep the streets, upon which its tracks are laid, in repair between the tracks and to the edge of the ties. Heretofore the company has been responsible for the condition of the street only one foot outside its rails.

The meeting on Monday evening was attended by Franklin T. Griffith, president of the P. R. L. & P. Co., and took active part in the discussion regarding the franchise for his company as it was being read. Mr. Griffith pointed to the low revenue being made by the company under present conditions of traffic and competition and asked that the council place the annual franchise payment as low as possible.

The aldermen voted to continue the new franchise payments under the terms of the old for the first five years of its life. That is, the company is to pay $1000 annually for its privileges in Oregon City. After five years the council may raise its price, not to exceed $1200.

That part of Main street between the Abernathy bridge and Seventeenth street will be repaired and hard surfaced within the next year, according to Mr. Griffith, head of the company which owns this section of street. The county court may be called upon to bid upon this improvement work by the transit company.

A request from certain residents of the Mount Pleasant district, presented to the council by Ward W. Lawton, asked for the improvement of Halme lane, which is partly within and partly outside the city limits. The council held that no budget allowance had been made for such an undertaking and took no action in the matter.

Another improvement request was presented by Walter A. Dimick, who asked that the city and property owners find a mutual basis for work in oiling streets on the hill. Mr. Dimick stated that property owners stand ready to do their financial share in this work. No action was taken.

A surprise was sprung upon the meeting when the council resurrected the tenth street sewer assessment business, which was tabled until 1917. The city attorney was instructed on Monday evening to prepare papers necessary to legalize an immediate assessment on the property included in the Tenth street sewer district. Mr. Schuebel's paper in this matter will no doubt provide for the city's collecting for this work so that outstanding warrants can be called in.

A part of the 15 per cent. guarantee held by the city from the payment of the Standard Paving company for its work on Main street, will probably be released at a meeting of the council in the near future to pay bills outstanding against the company. These bills amount to approximately $1800. The council will make the paving company's bonders responsible for the maintenance of the street if the other action is taken.

CHILDREN AT PICNIC

Methodist Sunday School Members Have Delightful Outing

An excellent outing was enjoyed by more than two hundred members of the Methodist church, Sunday school and their friends and relatives, who spent Wednesday in the grove at Schoover's park. The youngsters and older folk were imbued with the spirit of the occasion and to a person participated in the gay program that had been arranged for the day and which was very capably carried out.

An extended program of sports was successfully carried out under the direction of the Rev. J. K. Hawkins, who utilized many original ideas for fun making. A race for ladies without holes in their hosiery was a feature event. Prizes were awarded to the winners of each of the novel events. Long tables were spread during the day with the bountiful luncheon that had been provided and 16 gallons of ice cream, together with 20 gallons of lemonade, furnished from the Sunday school funds, were distributed.

DAVID EBY PASSES

Father of O. D. Eby, Died at Home in Cottage Grove Monday

David Eby, father of O. D. Eby, Oregon City attorney, passed away at his home in Cottage Grove on Monday. Mr. Eby of this city was at his father's bedside during his last hours. A son, Benjamin, died at Goshen, Ore., last week, and in addition to O. D. Eby the father is survived by a third son, F. G. Eby of Sacramento, Cal. Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday and interment was in the Harrisburg cemetery.

Mr. Eby lived for some years with his son in Oregon City and was well known here. He was a pioneer of this state, and during his life was prominent in many worthy activities.

Mr. Butler Speaks at Monmouth

The annual alumni address at the Monmouth Normal school on Tuesday was delivered by J. Dean Butler, Oregon City attorney, who selected the subject, "Educational Conditions in the Philippines," a topic with which he is well acquainted because of having lived in the islands. Mr. Butler was graduated from the Normal school before he took up the study of law, and throughout his career there was prominent in student affairs. Mr. Butler was raised in Polk county, near Monmouth, the home of the Normal, and one of his brothers is a professor in the institution.
