

Between Ourselves

The successful angler patiently unspools his tangled lines—so must the successful business man. When the skein of our store service unwittingly becomes a little tangled, it is our patient and persistent purpose to unravel the knots. We go about it cheerfully, knowing full well that the best way to make sure of straightening out the "kinks" is to stop feeling sure that there are no "kinks" there. We cheerfully invite your criticisms to better the service.

FREE SOUVENIRS SATURDAY

A valuable and dainty souvenir will be given free Saturday to each lady who purchases any article advertised in this advertisement.

Parisiana Corsets $1

This is demonstration week of Parisiana Corsets; by special permit of the manufacturer we are selling all styles of the $1.50 models, high and low bust designs; reducing models, in plain or brocaded materials. All sizes offered at $1.00.

New Welworth Blouses Selling at $2

We have never seen prettier waists at any price than this week's shipment of "Welworths." Five distinct styles and each one a beauty. We have all sizes.

Bannon & Co.
SELL FOR LESS
MASONIC TEMPLE BLDG. OREGON CITY, ORE.

Stunning Suits For Easter $25 styles $18

Just arrived, 25 new Spring Suits that have more style, better materials than any shown at $25. Dressy Suits for economical women in all sizes and colors, and but one of a kind.

Sport Coats For Easter

A Wonderful Sale at $6.95

Smart and attractive styles in all colors and sizes for Women and Misses. They are all this week's arrivals. While the lot lasts, we offer them at $6.95.

LIGHT ON LIGHT.

What It Really Is and How Its Waves Affect Our Eyes.

How many of us could say what "light" is?

Could we explain why the gloom of the streets seems increased tenfold when we leave a well lighted room? And do we know why all of us suffer discomfort, if not actual pain, when from darkness we enter a brilliantly lighted place?

The discomfort on entering a lighted room after darkness is because the optic nerve which receives light just as the drum of the ear receives sounds, is suddenly burdened with light rays before the pupil of the eye has had time to contract to receive them. The pupils dilate very much in the dark in order to admit every ray possible, and a dilated pupil cannot, without discomfort, suddenly receive an abundance of light rays.

When the pupils contract there is an automatic adjustment to the quantity of light. When we "peer" we are really only adjusting our pupils. Going from brilliant light to darkness, the pupils do not dilate instantly. They remain contracted and cannot for a time collect what light there is. So the darkness appears intensified.

Cats, owls and other animals see in the dark because they have the power of enlarging their broad pupils and collecting light which is invisible to us.

Light itself is a fluid of luminous ether, which fills up the spaces in the air particles. It has an undulating vibratory movement, which strikes on the optic nerve, giving us the sensation of "light."—Pearson's Weekly.

THE HEART OF LONDON.

Where the Land Is Valued at Over $16,000,000 Per Acre.

There is an amazing price set upon the land of London. In the center of the English metropolis tiny lots have been sold for fortunes.

An acre there is the dearest in the world. Many a transaction over ground in the heart of the city has set the figure of $16,250,000 per acre. One square mile of London is valued at $750,000,000. The land beneath the Bank of England at low estimate is worth $35,000,000, and there are only three acres in that tract too.

There are places on Queen Victoria Upper Thames, St. Mary-at-Hill and Cannon streets where one square inch is worth $125. In Lombard street and King William street prices have ranged from $200 and $250 to $350 per square foot.

Cornhill property has been bought for more than $12,000,000 an acre. Threadneedle street land for $350 per square foot, and a church in Austin Friars, not such a large church either, was tempted with an offer of $5,000,000 for the land beneath it.

The steady lifting of London land in price has brought fabulous riches to the owners. Families have risen to prominence on no other ground than that they owned small bits of ground in valuable sections. Rents are high there, and sales have made owners permanently wealthy.—Philadelphia North American.

Odious Comparison.
A little girl from Brooklyn was taken to visit her maternal grandmother in Connecticut. During her stay the household made much of her, and on her departure she was hugged and kissed and wept over by each member of the affectionate family in turn. The scene made a deep impression on her young mind.

A visit to some Boston relatives followed. At the conclusion of it her uncle and cousins stood sunnily waving their adieus to the little one until she was out of sight.

The child's mother was beginning to wonder what made her so unusually quiet when a solemn little voice rang out from her corner of the car: "Not a tear shed!"—New York Post.

Pinched Him Financially.
An esteemed citizen went into a shoe store in a metropolitan town and asked to see some leather goods. Another minute and an obliging salesman was hauling out some boxes.

"That is a nice looking shoe," remarked the customer as the salesman pushed his foot into a shiny right and started to lace it. "What is the price?" "This pair is $8," responded the salesman as he finished the lacing and ran his hands across the vamp.

"Does it pinch you any?" "Well, I should say it does!" was the prompt rejoinder of the customer. "Give me something about $5 cheaper."—Kansas City Star.

How the Roughhouse Started.
They were talking about various things at the club, when a member not especially noted for his cleanliness remarked, "Would you call a bath a luxury or a necessity?"

"In your case," replied the man addressed, "it would be both—a necessity because you need it so badly and a luxury because you take it so rarely."—Boston Transcript.

The Cow.
"Johnny," said the teacher, "write a sentence containing the word 'contents'."

After a few moments' hard labor Johnny submitted the following: "The contents of a cow is milk."—Chicago News.

One of Its Uses.
"Willie, did you see my new shaving brush?"

"Yep. Mom is using it to paint the bird cage."—Columbia Jester.

The word "tomorrow" was invented for irresolute people and for children.—Turgeneff.

Tell it to the printer at the Courier job department—he does the rest.

There was a time when candidates would ask voters whether or not they would "have a drink." But this year the "drinks" are going to ask the candidates a somewhat similar question.

War being no longer popular, certain political boosters are telling us that T. Roosevelt is a peace-maker—that he ended the Russian-Japanese war and prevented war between the United States and Japan.

CHERRYVILLE

(Too late for regular page.)

With Easter over and past it is to be hoped the warm, clear Spring days will be on hand.

Stock is now doing fine on the range and it is the only chance to get feed, as the winter feed is gone. J. T. Freil, Sr., who has a fine home at Eugene, recently moved to his ranch, situated a short distance east of the P. I. Mr. Freil drove all the way in his conveyance, it being a single top buggy drawn by an old mare, 30 years old. This tough old animal, which Mr. Freil brought from Iowa—made the entire trip of 125 miles or better, in three days, and appeared none the worse for the trip. Can you beat it?

Many orchards, on account of disease and the low price of fruit, are being dug up in the valley, making a better chance for thrifty young orchards, especially at this altitude, where the orchards, especially the ones lately set out, and which have been cared for, are in fine condition. This is true of the splendid young orchard owned by Messrs. Read and Brownell on Cedar Creek, one mile west of the P. I., and also of Prof. Cooper's and Rev. Dr. Boyd's on the hill north of the P. I. Mr. Brownell is an old and experienced orchardist, having been in the nursery business for more than 40 years. He chose this location in preference to any other part of the state, not even excepting Hood River, which, he says, this excels in many ways.

The hotel here has lately been finished inside and is now ready for the season's trade. Mrs. Freil is an excellent cook and the location is an ideal one for a summer resort. Fine strings of fish have already been caught near here and as soon as the weather warms up a little better results will be obtained.

STAFFORD

(Too late for regular page.)

The Ladies' Circle will meet with Mrs. Grace Gebhardt on Thursday, the 20th.

Mrs. Ida Delkar, who was taken to the Oregon City hospital or treatment, is reported slightly better.

Mrs. Gage and Miss Ellingsen attended the wedding of Miss Lucille Holton and Selden Snell in Portland on Sunday the 16th. The bride had but recently returned from Minnesota, where she had spent the winter. The happy pair took the boat for Astoria, where they will make their future home.

Miss Anna Aden is able to receive company in the afternoons at present.

She has been a patient shut-in for ten or twelve years. Claus Peters sowed grass seed for Mrs. Nemes last week.

Quite an acreage of clover is being sowed this spring. The white clover seed bought by Mrs. Gage of the Routledge Seed Co., of Portland, a sample of which was sent to the Bureau of Plant Industry at O. A. C. for analysis, was reported back as 95.14 pure white clover, 3.79 inert matter, and only 1.07 foreign seed. It gives one a feeling of security to have seeds tested by an expert.

Let's all remember clean up day and begin now with our back yards.

WANTED—House Work by young lady 17 years old.—Address Jessie Brien, Bx. 140C, Rt. 2, Oregon City.

MARY PICKFORD COMING

Favorite Screen Actress to be Seen in One of Her Best Shows

At the Grand Theatre, Oregon City, on Thursday and Friday of this week, Mary Pickford, America's leading moving picture actress, will be seen in "Tess of the Storm Country," a romantic play in five reels. This drama is said to be the finest of all the plays in which delightful Mary Pickford has been filmed, and its incidents afford the bewitching actress every opportunity to display her skill.

Probably no other screen actress is as generally admired as Mary Pickford, and her fresh and spontaneous art daily makes her more and more acceptable to the American public. In Oregon City she has many admirers, and Manager Schram, of the Grand, assures them all that in "Tess of the Storm Country" Mary is at her best. There will be no advance in prices for this show; which has been played to packed houses everywhere it has been exhibited.

R. L. Holman and T. P. Randall, Leading Undertakers, Fifth and Main St.; Telephones: Pacific 415-J; Home B-18.

Easter at Congregation Church

The order of services for Easter Sunday at the Congregation Church is as follows: Sunday School at 9:45; special program by Primary Department at 10:45; morning worship at 11:00. Sermon topic, "Jesus Christ, the Guardian of the Future." Communion and reception of members. Christian Endeavor at 6:30, subject "Lessons of Our Immortality," leader Miss Edith Hutchinson.

There will be a Praise Service at 7:30, and the following special program will be given: Prelude, "Awake" ening of Spring"—Bach, Gustav Flechtner and orchestra; anthem, "Praise to Thee," choir; solo, "Beyond the Tomb," Albert Roake; quartette—Mrs. J. Roake, Miss Harrison, Messrs. Roake; offertory, "To a Star," by Renard, orchestra; anthem, "Praise to Our Risen King," choir and orchestra; solo, "Resurrection," by Sheldon, Miss K. Harrison.

The Courier—$1.00 per year.

SCIENCE OF NOSES.

In Size and Shape, It Is Said, Is Shown the Wearer's Character.

Nasography reveals the character, habits and inclinations of people by a simple inspection of noses. According to the system, and this is to be as long as possible, and this is a sign of merit, power and genius. Examples—Napoleon and Caesar, both of whom had large noses. A straight nose denotes a just, serious and energetic mind, the Roman nose a propensity for adventure and a wide nose with open nostrils is a mark of great sensuality. A cleft nose shows benevolence. It was the nose of St. Vincent de Paul.

The curved fleshy nose is a mark of domination and cruelty. Catherine de Medici and Elizabeth of England had noses of this kind. The curved, thin nose, on the contrary, is a mark of a brilliant mind, but vain and disposed to be ironical. It is the nose of a dreamer, a poet or a critic. If the line of the nose is re-entrant—that is, if the nose is turned up—it denotes that its owner has a weak mind, sometimes coarse, and generally playful, pleasant and frolicsome. A pale nose denotes egotism, envy, heartlessness. The quick, passionate, sanguine man has a strongly colored nose of uniform shade.—London Tit-Bits.

A Great Military Feat.
Nonza, in Corsica, is very proud of the story of a great military feat performed there long ago. It is told in "Romantic Corsica," by George Renwick.

The French in 1768 had subjugated all the northern cape with the exception of the tower of Nonza, which for a considerable time sustained a close siege. Attacking parties were driven back by a fierce fire, but at last the garrison agreed to surrender if allowed to march out with all the honors of war. This was conceded, and old Captain Casella appeared, staggering under a load of muskets and pistols. "Why is the garrison so long in coming out?" asked the French commander. "It is here, sir," replied Casella. "I am the garrison."

A help to you and a help to us—the Courier job department.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH OVER

Long Fight Against Stock Plague Now Ended

The long fight against the foot-and-mouth disease, is over. The Secretary of Agriculture has issued an order which on March 31 removed all foot-and-mouth quarantines and restrictions against the shipment and movement of live stock. The order signed specifically removes the quarantine from a small territory in Christian County, Ill., the last area which was under suspicion. Along with the removal of this local quarantine, the various Federal orders, restricting shipment of cattle are rescinded, so that dealers can now ship their cattle as before the first quarantine was imposed.

Upon notification that the United States is free from the disease, all foreign governments which have placed embargoes on American cattle are expected to remove these embargoes, so that cattle raisers will then be able to resume shipments to these foreign countries.

The magnitude of the work of eradication and control carried on by farmers, shippers, and the State and Federal Government is shown by the fact that before controlled the disease had gained a temporary footing in 22 states and the District of Columbia. The disease appeared and was controlled in 269 different counties.

The importance to the stock-raising industry of eradicating foot-and-mouth disease may be judged from the results of this plague in Denmark, where the disease appeared at about the same time that it broke out in the United States. The area of Denmark is approximately equal to that of the three New England States, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island. It is, however, a great dairy country, and it has been estimated that the losses in milk in one year caused by the foot-and-mouth disease have amounted to approximately one-third of the total cost of eradicating the pestilence in 22 states of his country. The Danish authorities were unable to carry out their former policy of slaughter, and were compelled to resort to such measures of control as could be established by quarantines and other restrictions.

As a result of a better understanding between the State and National Governments, representatives of the department believe that many of the obstacles which confronted the authorities in the past outbreak would not be encountered in dealing with any future occurrence of the disease. The veterinarians, however, will not abate their watchfulness for some time. Examination of animals and animal products offered for import will continue to be unusually strict. The department, moreover, particularly urges all farmers and cattle handlers to notify their State veterinarians and the department of any suspicious cases of sore mouth combined with lameness in their animals. Those in charge of the eradication work are confident that the disease is wiped out, but they wish to use every precaution to detect and control any sporadic cases that may develop in remote districts.

Sale Authorized

Circuit Judge Campbell Wednesday signed an order, authorizing Harvey G. Starkweather, as trustee, to sell lots 1 and 2, block 72, in reservation addition to Pendleton containing a two-story brick building known as the State hotel for $14,500. April 15 Judge Campbell authorized the sale for $15,000, but the deal was not closed because of the lease on the property which does not expire for a year. Outstanding mortgages and street improvement assessment with interest cut down the net sale price to $8794.43. The proceedings are in the case of John F. George M. and Charles F. Bunnell against James A. Bunnell.

"Clean up week" in Portland has been expanded to two weeks. Portland must either be very dirty or very lazy. And we hadn't noticed that it was very dirty.

WILD ALL THROUGH.

The American Bay Lynx is an Animal That Can't Be Tamed.

We call him the American wildcat, although he is of a different species from the wildcat of Europe. His real name is bay lynx, and he is closely associated with that other animal of America, the Canadian lynx. The European wildcat is really the ancestor of the domestic cat, but you can't domesticate the bay lynx of America. He is wild all the way through.

He gets his front name from his color, which is a yellowish brown or bay. His tail is short, which has given him another name—bobcat. Unlike most cats, he is a good swimmer, and his hind feet are partly webbed.

The bay lynx frequents mountain woodlands in the less settled portions of America, and sometimes he makes his presence dreaded by his raids on poultry. He is also a persistent robber of birds' nests, and he will eat both birds and eggs. He will also devour squirrels, rabbits, wild turkeys and anything that isn't too big for him to kill.

His appetite for animals has led people to fear him, although he will seldom attack human beings—only when he thinks he has to defend himself. He usually builds a nest of moss and leaves in a hollow tree.—Philadelphia North American.

Keeping a Lamp Clean.

Once in two months I separate the wicks from the burners and boil them in soda water. In about ten or fifteen minutes I take them out and clean them with an old toothbrush, rinse and dry. I lay the wicks straight to keep their shape. They will be white and pliable. Then fill the lamps with suds (not too hot) and let stand awhile until all discolorings have vanished. Drain, wipe out and refill with kerosene, adding a teaspoonful of salt to each lamp. Lamps treated this way give a beautiful bright light and there is no fear of an explosion.—Boston Post.

Sing Different Songs.

"Pa, you sing songs in the choir, don't you?" asked Bobby Smithers. "Yes, my son," replied Smithers. "And you sing soprano?" "That's right." "Well, there's one thing I don't understand." "What is it?" "Mrs. Tompkins says you sing mighty big in public and mighty small at home."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The New Chauffeur Era.

Old gentleman engaging new chauffeur—I suppose I can write to your last employer for your character? Chauffeur—I am sorry to say, sir, each of the last two gentlemen I have been with died in my service.—London Punch.

Good Reason.

"My pillow is awfully hard," remarked the star boarder. "They're stuffed with feathers from a tailor's gown," explained the confirmed idiot as he helped himself to another prune.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Both Mistaken.

Brown—Back to town again? I thought you were a farmer. Green—You made the same mistake I did.—Judge.

Ginseng in China.

For many years past foreign doctors in China have endeavored to convince the Chinese that there is little or no virtue in ginseng as a remedy beyond its having a slight tonic quality. But, although they have been successful in introducing foreign drugs and medicines, they have failed to reduce the use of ginseng, as the Chinese still have great faith in it.

Not Comforting.

"Did the minister say anything comforting?" asked the neighbor of the widow recently bereaved. "Indeed, he didn't," was the quick reply. "He said my husband was better off."—London Telegraph.

Churches of the Latter Day Saints are connected with wireless, and messages are flashed back and forth regarding business matters. This is what might be called making the church up-to-date.

FOREST NOTES

The increase in the demand for potash has resulted in a number of inquiries of Government officials concerning the amount of this chemical contained in wood ashes, which may be available at sawmills operating on National Forests.

The waste product of sawmills in the United States, including that fed to furnaces as fuel, is estimated to be 36,000,000 cords per year, and the equivalent of 2,880,000,000 cu. ft. of solid wood substance. About half of it has no use whatever, but is usually burned to get rid of it.

The annual losses of livestock on the National Forest ranges of the West, due to predatory animals, are over $500,000. An organized campaign is now on to exterminate these animals. Wolves are responsible for about 70 percent of the cattle losses, while bears cause most of the remainder. Approximately 75 percent of the sheep losses are due to coyotes, 20 percent to bears, and 5 percent to lynxes and wild cats. Mountain lions are charged with killing only a few head of cattle and sheep.

For burning brush without a permit last September, James Aigne, a farmer living near Leavenworth, Wn., was fined on April 12, $25 and costs. He was arrested by the local ranger and brought before Justice of the Peace P. H. Graham. The danger to the forest wealth of the Northwest from indiscriminate burning of brush and slashing during the dry season is so great that the State law prohibits it, and the Courts are strict in punishing offenders.

Needs No Lightning Rod.

A building 9,000 feet above sea level should be protected by lightning rods, one thinks, but the astronomical observatory at Mount Etna has not and does not need such protection. The observatory is near the summit of the volcano, and the stream of vapor constantly rising from the crater acts as a natural conductor, draining the electricity out of the clouds, so that lightning is seldom seen there.

If This Insect Had Wings!

You can excuse a child for calling a whale a fish, but listen to this youngster, who is reported in the Boston Transcript:

Child at natural history with a chapter devoted to whales is brought. The Child—Oh, I don't mean a book on the insect. I mean the country!"

Simple Directions.

"My dear," said she, "please run and bring me the needle from the haystack."

"I don't know which haystack." "Look in all the haystacks. You can't miss it. There's only one needle."—From "More Jonathan Papers."

Woman's Desire to Attract.

Owing to the system under which we live, where man is a valuable prey, woman has contracted the habit of trying to attract. Even aggressive insolence on her part may conceal the desire to attract by exasperating.—W. L. George in Atlantic.

Has to Be.

"Our alimony club is very economical." "Well, it goes without saying that an alimony club has to husband its means."—Baltimore American.

Classified.

"How would you classify a telephone girl? Is hers a business or a profession?" "Neither; it is a calling."—Christian Register.

Provide for the worst; the best will save itself.

You like suggestive printing don't you—something that has the "punch" to it? Try the Courier Job Department.

"Most original and attractive job I ever received," says one of the patrons of the Courier job department.

Don't fail to look over our vast showing of the fashion's newest in

Stein-Bloch, L System

and Clothcraft Clothes

Stetson and Mallory Hats

Florsheim Shoes, Manhattan Shirts

Owen's Neckwear, Etc.

Price Bros.
STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES
OREGON CITY, ORE.

"Where Clothes Fit"

6th and Main Streets

Oregon City, Oregon