

Cut the Cost of Living!

A plate of hot biscuits or muffins, a fresh, home-baked cake, a loaf of brown or nut-bread, rescues any meal from the commonplace, and more expensive things are never missed.

With K.C., the double acting baking powder, good results are doubly certain. There's economy too, in the cost of K.C.

PREMIUM ON DANCES

Campaign Idea Evolved by Live Wire Committee

Those who would have the honor of dancing tomorrow evening with Miss Rose Uptegrove, the young lady who will probably be queen of the Rose Festival in June, will have to carry their small change handy to pay the price. Dances with the candidate are to be auctioned by the campaign committee and the highest bidder for each number will have their names on Miss Uptegrove's program.

At the beginning of the dance at Busch's hall tomorrow evening the committee will divide the candidate's program and will auction half of the dances. Later in the evening the remaining numbers will be sold in the same manner. All money from this unique source will be turned into the fund with which the campaign committee is buying votes for the Clackamas county candidate.

Company G. O. N. G., lessee of the Busch hall, is doing its utmost to aid the campaign and has donated the use of its drill hall for the dance.

Another donation that means a great deal toward the success of the event, and toward the campaign that is being conducted on behalf of Miss Uptegrove, is that of the Moose orchestra, which will provide music for the dancers free of cost to the committee. These arrangements have been made by the dance committee, consisting of Kent Moody, Dallas Armstrong, H. A. Swafford and Lee Shannon.

The floor managers, wearing Fall-sarian uniforms, will be members of the Live Wires, and will be appointed today. There will be no free admissions to the dance, according to an ultimatum of the managers, who have been so stern in their decision that they have bought tickets for themselves and guests. The only detail left to insure the absolute success of the dance is that of filling the hall to overflowing. The purpose for which the dance is given is presumed to be sufficient to guarantee such an attendance as has not been seen on a ball room floor in years.

WANTS BRIDGE REPAIRS

Plans to be Submitted to County Court by County Engineer

Plans for the practical reconstruction of the county suspension bridge that crosses the Willamette river at this city will be prepared and presented to the county court in the near future by County Engineer S. A. Cobb, according to that gentleman's statement this week. The structure has been in constant use during the past 26 years and certain elements are badly in need of repair. The total cost of the reconstruction, as estimated by Mr. Cobb, will not exceed $12,000, whereas, a new structure, which would be necessary in case the proposed repairs are not made, would cost approximately $175,000.

With the execution of the repairs that are to be suggested to the court by the county engineer that official believes that the bridge could be put in such condition that it would serve the demands upon it for many years more and the great saving to the county is a matter which he believes will induce the court to authorize the necessary work. The engineer has had in mind for some time the reconstruction which will be outlined in his plans, but the recent break in the stress guy wire on the north side of the bridge has made it necessary to hasten plans for the work. The stress guy wire was repaired early this week.

Among the important suggestions to be incorporated in the engineer's proposal to the court will be the substitution of steel towers at each end of the bridge for the frame structures in place at present. New supporting struts on each side of the bridge are also necessary improvements, according to Mr. Cobb's statement. One advantage of such improvements would be the possibility of erecting, on each side of the bridge, sidewalks to accommodate the pedestrian travel. This would not only be a great convenience for that class of traffic, but would allow more space for the use of vehicles crossing the bridge. Mr. Cobb sees some little difficulty in carrying out this phase of his plans because of the fact that it would be troublesome to avoid interference with traffic on Seventh street and at the same time bring the bridge walk to a level with Main street.

His Age Is Against Him

"I am 52 years old and I have been troubled with kidneys and bladder for a good many years," writes Arthur Jones, Allen, Kas. "My age is against me to ever get cured, but Foley Kidney Pills do more good than anything I ever tried." Many people suffer from kidney trouble who need not suffer when they can get Foley Kidney Pills. Mr. Jones, in a later letter, says if it was not for them he would never be able to work in the hay field. Rheumatism, aching back, shooting pains, stiff joints, all have been relieved.—Jones Drug Co.

Convention at Parkplace

The annual convention of the Clackamas county Christian Endeavor societies will be held at Parkplace on May 6 and 7 and delegates from practically all the societies in the county will be in attendance. It is estimated that at least 150 delegates will be appointed before the time set for the convention and a program that is arranged to interest all is being prepared. The thirteen societies in Clackamas county will be represented by delegations.

Endeavor society workers throughout the county have been preparing for the convention for several weeks, and as a result of their efforts several very important features have been arranged for. On Saturday afternoon, the first day of the convention, Clarence H. Sprague, E. E. Feike and G. Everett Baker, all of Portland, will address the meeting. An interesting feature of the plans is a "Millionaire Banquet," to be held on Saturday evening, May 6. At this meeting county officers will be elected to supervise the work of the societies during the coming year. The delegates will participate in a long walk on Saturday afternoon and on Sunday morning a sunrise service will be held.

WOULD HOUSE TEACHERS

Several Organizations Cooperate to Work Out Plans

Believing that the greatest problem for the farmer today is the proper education of his children and the making of his country life attractive by proper educational facilities, the General Federation of Women's clubs, the American Civic association, the Rockefeller foundation and last, but not least, the United States bureau of education, have joined hands in a plan to build a teacher's home for every rural school in the United States.

If every rural school were to have a teacher's cottage as outlined by this great group of social service workers there would be spent over $200,000,000 in this great work, for there are 200,000 rural school districts in America, and a cottage for each would cost about $1000.

But there is no plan to make this colossal expenditure at once. It will be a campaign of many years' duration, a campaign in which the officials of the rural school districts, 200,000 of them, will have to be educated, one at a time, to the need of their community.

A recent survey of the nation shows there are more than 200,000 rural school districts in the United States, and over 16,000,000 children of school age who either live in the country or in towns of not less than 2500 population. In a large number of these districts it is absolutely impossible to get and keep teachers with initiative, leadership, experience, high ideals, character, broad sympathy and education. Practically one-third of the rural teachers in the United States have had no professional preparation for their work. An examination of the conditions quickly shows the reasons for the acknowledged failure of rural education to keep pace with the progress in city schools.

NEW ROADS READY

Roadmaster Announces Completion of Links in Highway Chain

Under the direction of County Roadmaster T. A. Roots the improvement of the South End road, in the southern part of the county, was completed on Monday. The South End road traverses a very beautiful portion of the county and in its improved condition will make not only an admirable trip for motorists, but will be of decidedly more value to the farmers in that section. The road was rocked and thoroughly rolled.

Improvement on the Calvin hill road is practically completed, making an excellent highway as far as the Marion county line and adding materially to the chain of modern roadways that is being created in Clackamas county. Work on the Willhoit Springs road is nearing completion and Roadmaster Roots is directing the energies of a good crew in the work there.

WOULD BE ASSESSOR

Candidate for Nomination is an Expert on Values

In asking for the support of republican voters at the primary election, at which he hopes to gain the nomination of his party to the office of county assessor, R. E. Woodward presents, as an essential qualification, the fact that he is thoroughly familiar with real estate values in Clackamas and other counties by reason of his many years experience in the real estate business. Through this experience Mr. Woodward believes he is competent to serve the voters fairly and impartially and to render true valuations of all property.

Impartiality is one of the strong claims made by Mr. Woodward. He promises absolute fairness in his work and says that between the most wealthy and most humble taxpayer there will be no favoritism, if he is elected to office. Strict business methods will be employed in the conduct of the business of the assessor's office, and the voters are promised a correct and prompt accounting of all office expenses.

Personal profit is not a reason for the candidacy of Mr. Woodward. He has lived in this county the greater part of his life, and he is well and favorably known by a great many people here. He seeks the honor of the support of these friends, and in return for their confidence believes that the tax income can be increased under his direction without adding to the burden of taxation.

Mrs. Thomas Wants Divorce

The couple was married at Marmot on October 8, 1905. There are two minor children to the union and of these the mother would have custody.
