This matter came on at this time regularly to be heard on petition of Fred A. Zimmerman, Guardian of the above named wards, to sell the real estate of said wards, and it appearing to the Court from the petition, and otherwise, and the Court finds,

That on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1916, letters of guardianship were issued to our petitioner by this Court; that our petitioner thereupon duly entered upon the discharge of his duties as such guardian, and that such letters have not been revoked;

That on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1916, our petitioner duly returned to this Court a true inventory and an appraisal of all the estate, real and personal, of his said wards that has come to his possession or knowledge;

That the following is a description of the Real Estate of said wards and the condition of said estate, real and personal, to-wit:

East 1/4 of Northwest 1/4 Section Nine (9), Township Three (3), South Range One (1) East of Willamette Meridian, in Clackamas County, Oregon. Each an undivided one-ninth of the foregoing property, subject to the dower of their mother. (This property is inherited from their father, and is undivided).

That it will be for the benefit of said wards that their real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof put out at interest, or invested in some productive stock.

IT IS NOW THEREFORE ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the next of kin of the said wards, Hanna Streckenbach, Hannah Coelker, Margaret Thole, John Zimmerman, Louisa Zimmerman, Lena Eisele, Conrad Zimmerman and Fred A. Zimmerman, and all persons interested in the estate be, and they hereby are, directed to appear before this Court in the County Court Room at the County Court House in Oregon City, Oregon, on Monday, May 29th, 1916, to show cause, if any they or any of them have, why a license should not be granted to sell such real estate at private sale.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that a copy of this order be published at least three successive weeks in Oregon City Courier, a newspaper circulated in Clackamas County, Oregon, specified herein.

Dated, April 22nd, 1916.

PROSPECTS CHEERFUL

Committee Makes Favorable Report on Portland Meeting

Optimism predominates in regard to the possibility of the erection of a national guard armory for Clackamas county within the next year, as a result of a conference held in Portland recently between a committee appointed by the Live Wires and Adjutant General White of the Oregon National guard. The committee, consisting of George Randall, chairman, Christian Schuebel and George Harding, took the matter of the erection of an armory to General White more than a week ago, but reserved its report for the regular meeting of the Live Wires. Mr. Schuebel presented this report on Tuesday and it served to brighten the entire aspect of Company G, and the possibility of its material upbuilding.

According to Mr. Schuebel the adjutant general is enthusiastic regarding the work of the Live Wires and others interested in the maintenance of the national guard here. The statement of the adjutant general indicates that he favors the erection of an armory for this county and that he will do anything possible to bring about the successful culmination of the plans that are being framed for that purpose. National guard headquarters officials will take any part necessary in bringing the local company up to its proper position and will direct the reorganization of the unit if such a step is found to be advisable.

The plan discussed with General White by the Oregon City committee is substantially, to have the city council donate a block of ground as a site for the proposed armory and then to have the county court appropriate approximately $8,000 as its share of the cost of the structure. The county appropriation, according to the plans which will be worked out by the Live Wires, will be covered by a state appropriation at the next session of the legislature amounting, it is hoped, to $16,000. With the land donated by the city and $24,000 for the building, the Clackamas county armory should be a monument. The matter of the city's donation will be brought up at the next meeting of the city council and the committee behind the armory business will offer inducements that are expected to cause the city administrators to part with what is known as the Cross block, near the high school building. This property, surrounded by Monroe, J. Q. Adams Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, is an admirable site for the proposed building, and the Live Wire committee is confident that the building will be located there. The block at present contains a house, which will be moved when the proper time arrives.

NO INCREASE IN RENT

Owner of Busch Hall Imparts Pleasant Information

Good things are coming in bunches to Captain Blanchard and the members of Company G, O. N. G. The outlook for the company is becoming more favorable each day, and to add to any joy that is found in that information Mrs. Frank Busch, owner of the hall used by the guard as an armory, has decided that she will not increase the rent of the quarters.

Mrs. Busch recently announced an increase of $10 to the rental of the hall, for which the company has been paying $65 a month. This announcement put a mild degree of fear into the hearts of Company G men for they have been laboring under a heavy handicap of late, and even the slight increase in rental would have caused considerable inconvenience. The facts in the case were presented to Mrs. Busch last week by Captain Blanchard and the thought of extra rental was speedily dropped by the owner of Busch hall.

TAX PAYMENTS LIGHT

Collector Harrington and Helpers Labor with Huge Pile of Mail

Tax collections this year are somewhat less than had been collected at the same time last year, according to estimates made by George Harrington, who is in charge of tax collections. Taxes for the first half of 1915 became delinquent on April 5, but owing to the very great amount of mail matter on hand it was impossible to determine until late last week just how much of the first half tax had been paid before becoming delinquent. The total amount of the 1915 tax, according to figures from Mr. Harrington's books, is $819,145.79, and of this amount approximately 55 per cent, or $452,823.42 has been paid. This leaves an unpaid balance of $366,322.37, although payments are being made each day. Last year at the same time practically ten per cent more had been paid on the tax assessments of the county.

Since April 5 the first half tax has been delinquent and those unpaid are accumulating interest at the rate of one per cent per month. The second half taxes are due and payable and become delinquent on October 5, after which they also draw interest for the county at the rate of one per cent per month. Collector Harrington estimates that he and his helpers have handled close to 5,000 pieces of mail matter between April 5, when the penalty on the first half tax became due, and last Saturday, when the last of the mail payments was opened and recorded.

ATTEND TAX MEETING

Taxpayers' League Will Frame Measure for Fall Ballot

Harvey G. Starkweather and B. T. McBain of Oregon City were delegated by President O. D. Eby of the Commercial club to attend the meeting of the State Taxpayers' league, held in Portland on Saturday. According to the report of the delegates the meeting was enthusiastic and great good was accomplished at the session.

One of the important considerations was that of preparing for a constitutional amendment to fix a maximum limit to the increase of state, county and district taxes. The legislative committee, of which C. E. Spence, of this county, master of the state grange, is chairman, will prepare the proposed measure at once. It is considered advisable to limit increased taxes to a total of six per cent annually, without a vote of the people, and the proposed amendment will be framed accordingly.

BUSINESS GOING UP

Lumber Mills of Northwest Look for Continued Activity

The return to the lumber industry of a generally normal tone has served as a more encouraging antidote than anything that has transpired in the chief industry of the northwest county for more than ten years. It is conceded that the business today is on a more nearly normal footing than it has been for a number of years, and the fact that a large number of mills that have been idle for a period of years have resumed operations is one of the brightest features of the revival of the industry.

Large orders are awaiting execution at mills throughout the northwest, and particularly in this state, where many mills that have operated on an eight-hour a day shift have been running ten and twelve hour shifts and have orders that will maintain that course during the summer and fall months. Authoritative advice says that the total orders received by Oregon and Washington mills within the past ten days exceeds the possible output by eleven per cent, and in some localities mill operators are meeting their happy condition by running their plants day and night.

In general, however, mill men in Oregon are careful to guard against an over-production that would flood the market and ruin the present bright outlook in the industry. The market itself is steady at an average price for all mill products of $13 per 1000 feet.

BANKERS TO MEET HERE

Local Money Masters Will Be Hosts to Group One

Oregon City will be the scene of the spring meeting of group one, Oregon State Bankers' association, and the members will gather here on Saturday, May 13. The bankers of this city extended an invitation recently to the representatives of group one and this week the invitation was officially accepted.

A committee of bankers comprising E. C. Sammons, of Portland, L. D. Walker of Oregon City and S. L. Parrett of Newberg, will have charge of the program for the meeting and are preparing the details of the session. Tentative arrangements provide for a business meeting in the morning and a luncheon here. During the afternoon the guests will be taken on a trip to points of interest about the city, including the woolen mill and the paper mills. The members of group one are bankers in the eight counties in the northwestern part of the state.
