

Between Ourselves

"one of the most reliable prophets I know of," said Josh Billings, "is a hen. She doesn't prophesy an egg until after it has happened."

The store that crows too soon, that prophesies sensationally "best for least" will not be completely trusted, after the people discover the hoax.

This store is not free from mistakes but it takes good care to avoid sensational statement in its advertising.

It wants the people to trust both its printed and spoken words.

It wishes to be relied upon for its veracity--it prophesies its values only after they have been tried out.

by the mayor, which inspired Templeton to say: "As a member of the council I object to sitting with Van Auker, and in justice to the other members I think he should withdraw." "I have a little money left," were Van Auker's next words, "and I am willing to spend it all in any proceedings that will clear me." If that could be done Metzner offered to shake hands with the defendant, who scorned the honor. At the suggestion of Moore that Shockley should have witnesses to his allegation, Metzner stormingly retorted that witnesses were not needed as the affidavit was truthful.

The by-play was about to be brought to an abrupt termination when Moore moved that the affidavit be laid upon the table, a motion that was seconded by Buckles, who had taken no active part in the battle, but the vote was delayed by Roake, who asked that the accused member be given a chance to vindicate himself. "Van Auker's word is as good as the other fellow's," said Roake, "and we should be as fair with him as we are with Shockley." When a vote was taken on the motion Templeton, Albright and Metzner voted negatively, while Moore, Roake and Buckles affirmed its passage. Andrews and the mayor did not vote, making the result a tie. In the meantime Templeton started discussion again when he said: "I tell you, gentlemen, I would not believe Van Auker on a stack of bibles."

At the repeated suggestion of Templeton that Van Auker should withdraw until his innocence had been proved Roake put in a speech: "There might be a nigger in the woodpile and the council is trying to put Van Auker out so that it can slip something over that he would not sanction."

After vote on Moore's motion Andrews defended his failure to vote by saying that he wasn't in the fight; that it was news to him. "However, I don't think Van Auker should take part in the meetings if he is guilty," he said. "I don't know what stand to take without legal advice. I don't know that Van Auker has been guilty of disorderly conduct that should cause him to be ousted, but I don't think the matter is settled by laying the affidavit on the table."

The final charge was put into the administrative gun by Mayor Hackett, who had been comparatively silent throughout the discussion. The mayor said that the proper course for Van Auker to pursue would be to retire at least until the next meeting, and attempt, in the interval, to vindicate himself. This suggestion was taken to heart by Van Auker and he took a seat at the side of the council chamber as the other members took up the business of the evening.

President O. D. Eby of the Commercial club waited upon the aldermanic body with a request for the use of the downtown streets in carrying out the program of the annual Booster day celebration which is listed for May 27. Permission to use the streets was granted.

Recorder Loder read the report on funding bonds, as prepared by the finance committee, showing that funding bonds valued at $270,000 had been sold to the three banking institutions of the city. The Bank of Oregon City was the heaviest purchaser of funding bonds, it being credited with purchases to the extent of $115,000.

The streets and public property committee report on road oiling was read, and showed the cost of oiling the streets of the city to be higher than the cost two years ago by approximately 15 per cent. The cost this year will be, including delivery and spreading, about $155 for each barrel. The report was referred back to the committee to report upon at the next regular meeting.

A communication from the P. R. L. & P. Co., relative to that corporation's part in repairing Main street was read. Fearing a misunderstanding of its obligations on the part of the company the council instructed the recorder to advise the company more fully of demands upon it.

The council ordered the purchase of as much rock as necessary from the Hawley Pulp & Paper company, at a rate of 25 cents a load, delivered, to make a fill on Seventeenth street junction with Abernathy road. It was estimated by City Engineer Miller that about 3,000 yards of rock would be required for the job. The price on the rock was secured from Mr. Hawley by Mayor Hackett.

Councilman Roake's motion that the Cross lot be donated as a site for the proposed Clackamas county armory, provided appropriations for the erection of a building be made by the county court and the state legislature, was referred to the finance committee, whose duty it will be to report upon the matter at the next meeting.

Chief of Police Blanchard was instructed to personally notify property owners in certain parts of the city to clean up the streets in front of their property where stones and dirt have been dumped. Along similar lines Mayor Hackett reported upon the findings of a personal investigation into the conditions of property in several sections of the city, where junk and debris has not been given the proper attention. Through the press the mayor requested that property owners be notified that the first three days of each month were designated as the time for putting debris in the street for collection by the city wagons.

SCHOOL BOARD IS DEFENDANT IN SUIT

cuit Judge Campbell to restrain the city school board from renewing the contract under which the city superintendent is working, and would join the board from paying the superintendent's salary for the remainder of the present year.

It is understood that the school board has already had the matter of the election of a superintendent for next year under consideration, and Mr. Beatie's action came at a time when the board had to dispose of the office. There has been opposition in several quarters to the reelection of Mr. Tooze, and this has recently taken such an active turn that State Superintendent Churchill has been taken into the council of war by Claude Miner, principal of the high school. In a recent communication to the state superintendent Mr. Miner is said to have asked for time to file a complaint against the city superintendent in case that official should attempt to secure a state teacher's certificate. Unprofessional conduct on the part of Mr. Tooze is also said to be an allegation contained in the communication of the high school faculty member. Mr. Miner is said to have invited public hearing of the charges he makes.

F. J. Tooze has been city school superintendent for a number of years, a position to which he was elected by virtue of a diploma from the University of Michigan, of which he is a graduate. The progress of the schools has been normal under his administration, and through his work here he has become well-known in the valley. The school board, including J. E. Hedges, chairman; G. A. Harding, J. O. Staats, H. A. Rands and O. D. Eby, was defendant to the action brought by Mr. Beatie.

TO MOVE THE COUNTY PAVING PLANT

the county in the matter of building permanent highways after the plan that is being carried out by the county court.

Although Mr. Busch has made the statement that in filing the injunction suit against the court it was not his intention to interfere in any way with the plans of the court, other than so far as necessary to protect his own property interests, the case will be given no further consideration. The suit will probably not be carried out either by Mr. Busch or the court since it has already been arranged by the latter to move the plant as soon as possible to the new site at Parklake.

"Because of the high water caused by the melting of the heavy snows in the foothills, it would not be possible to open a paving plant on my property until about the middle of July," Mr. Busch stated when his injunction suit was taken to court. "I arrive at this opinion as a result of the experience I have had as a resident on the same property throughout the past 28 years." This, Mr. Busch says, is one of the reasons why he was not willing to see the paving plant erected at the site originally selected.

To Exterminate Rabid Coyotes

The appropriation by congress in the urgent deficiency act of $75,000 for the control of rabies among coyotes in the west has enabled the bureau of biological survey of the U. S. department of agriculture, to put 5 inspectors and 190 hunters in the field, in addition to its existing organization. These men are to serve in Oregon, Nevada, California, and Idaho, and along the border in Utah. In addition to these measures the Nevada Rabies commission has signified its intention of expending a large sum of money under recommendations made by the biological survey, and it is probable that other states will do likewise. Stockmen and ranch owners are cooperating by furnishing horses and forage free of charge. The importance of preventing the spread of the disease is fully realized.

WHAT IS ART?

Question of Propriety of Picture to be Determined

The unveiled form of a woman appearing in "The Warning," a picture to be shown at the Grand theatre next Sunday and Monday, aroused a storm of protest when the film was exhibited in Portland, and echo of contention was heard in Oregon City, where the local press divided sentiment in regard to the picture.

Those who were interested at that time are to be given an opportunity now to pass upon the merits of "The Warning," which, is fashioned by Henry Kolker upon the same plan as Dante's "Inferno." It is a picture of the great white way, where the elements of humanity are sadly intermixed, and where the human equation makes some very peculiar plays in unraveling the mystery of life as it is there presented. In presenting the subject to picture show patrons the Equitable Film company has seen fit to inject into the story in several places the nude forms of several of the actresses, and it was this feature of the production upon which sentiment was divided.

Whether art is art or otherwise is the perplexing question to be decided to the satisfaction of patrons of the Grand at that theatre on Sunday and Monday.

A Twice-Told Tale

One of interest to our readers. Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of an Oregon City man is confirmed after three years.

James Wilkinson, 201-14th St., Oregon City, says: "Nothing gave me so much relief from pains in my back and other symptoms of kidney trouble as did Doan's Kidney Pills. I had to get up often at night and I couldn't sleep on account of the pains and aches all over. I was quite stiff in my limbs. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and I used some. I took several boxes and though I am in my seventies, I am now hale and hearty" (Statement given March 20, 1910.)

A Confirmed Statement

Over three years later, Mr. Wilkinson said: "All I have said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills before still holds good." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Wilkinson has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Surprise for Mrs. Dunn

A number of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. M. R. Dunn, Seventh and John Adams streets, on Friday afternoon and pleasantly surprised Mrs. Dunn on the occasion of her birthday anniversary. After the arrival of the guests members of the family arranged the rooms of the home in carnations and lilies and in this setting a delicious birthday dinner was served. Among the guests were Mrs. Thomas Spencer, Portland; Mrs. Edward Schmeer, St. Johns; Mrs. Sarah Galbraith, Portland; Mrs. M. D. Bingham, Mrs. Bernice Warren, Mrs. Alice Dwiggins and son, Robert, Mrs. Nellie Warren, Mrs. James McFarland, Powell River B. C.; Mrs. Charles Richardson, Hazel Schmeer, St. Johns; Miss Alberta Dunn and Miss Ione Dunn.

Pupils Appear in Recital

The pupils' recital at the home of Miss Louise Walker was a very pleasant musical event of last week and a number of guests greatly enjoyed the program, after which light refreshments were served. Miss Walker's pupils acquitted themselves admirably in a series of very difficult numbers and their work indicated the success of the public concert which Miss Walker plans to hold in the Congregational church in June.

Redmen Have Team

The local lodge of Redmen have a baseball team in the field under the management of L. R. Nobel that will start its onslaught upon teams in this part of the state against the Stafford tossers at that place on Sunday. The lodge nine includes a number of fast players, some of them having very favorable records on the diamond, and the pre-season outlook is very bright. Mr. Nobel is looking for out-of-town games and will communicate with interested teams.

Meeting of Camera Club

"Clouds" was the interesting subject of discussion at the meeting of the Oregon City Camera club held in the Commercial club rooms here on Monday evening. Several very good specimens of his work were used in illustrating a talk on photographic cloud effects by C. C. Chambers. Suggestions were entertained at the meeting as to the advisability of holding a photographic art exhibit in connection with the Clackamas county fair this fall.

Mrs. Sheldon Entertains

A delightful afternoon was spent on Thursday by the members of the Eureka club at the home of Mrs. Myron Sheldon. The afternoon was devoted to needlework and the hostess served dainty refreshments. It is planned to hold the next meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Ransom Pureful.

Basket Social at Clarkes

An interesting program has been prepared by the members of the Farmer's Union at Clarkes for the basket social which is to be held at the grange hall there on Saturday evening. The entertainment will be of a general nature, and musical numbers will be a prominent feature. The proceeds from the social will be turned into the treasury of the union.

Tell it to the printer at the Courier job department—he does the rest.

CASE ENDS PEACEFULLY

C. T. Tooze Accepts Settlement from Transportation Company

The peace that follows the storm has settled about the case in which the Willamette Valley Southern and Charles T. Tooze were principals and the suit will be dismissed as a result of settlement out of court. The case was to have been heard before Judge Campbell late last week, but at that time it was postponed and it is presumed that the final entry has been made in the litigation that has been going through the circuit and supreme courts for some time.

C. T. Tooze and George Griffith started action some time ago to force the Willamette Valley Southern off property on Water street south of Sixteenth, where the company had been granted a franchise by the city council for the erection of a trestle. The case was heard in the circuit court where a decision favored the transportation company. On appeal to the state supreme court the circuit court was reversed. Later the railroad company started condemnatory proceedings in the circuit court. Later a jury found a judgment of $125 in favor of George Griffith, with whom the company had offered to settle at that figure. The Tooze case was expected to be similar, but its culmination in court was prevented by the settlement made by the principals last week.

SALMON GO TO EUROPE

Oregon City Men Ship Fish in Ice to Rotterdam Market

Although the freight rates appear to be excessive Lawrence Ruonich and Harry Greaves of Oregon City have a reasonable assurance that the sale of Oregon City salmon will prove profitable in Rotterdam. On Saturday these gentlemen shipped to the old river here three salmon taken from the solid cakes of ice and packed heavily with sawdust to insure, to as great an extent as possible, their safe arrival. The shipment weighed nearly sixteen hundred pounds after packing and the freight rate alone would almost buy salmon for a regiment of troops. The fish were frozen in ice at the Oregon City ice factory.

If the shipment reaches Rotterdam in favorable condition it is probable that the shippers will be called upon to supply a regular demand through Rotterdam fish merchants. The fish will go to a select trade in that country, a trade which will not think of the heavy transportation cost in its desire to satisfy its appetite for Oregon salmon, and it is predicted that the next shipment, if the first proves the feasibility of the plan, will consist of a carload of fish bought and packed here.

JONES HAS MANY HEIRS

Settlement of Estate Will Probably Consume Three Hundred Dollars

Sixty-three heirs to the $300 estate of G. M. B. Jones, filed for probate on last Thursday, are no better off today than they were before the death of their relative. Felix Jones has been named administrator. Mr. Jones had no immediate family and his estate was to be divided among the children of nine brothers and sisters, of whom most are dead, but, according to John W. Loder, attorney, the claims against the estate will entirely consume its value, estimated at about $300. The principal property left by Mr. Jones is an unimproved tract of four acres on the Abernathy.

TRAMBITAS FIGHTS DRAW

Smoker Card Holds Several Interesting Bouts. Andrews Is Joke

Interest in the smoker at Busch's hall on Wednesday evening centered in the main bout, an event between Tuffy Winger and Alec Trambitas, which went through six rounds of fast milling to a draw. Tuffy Winger, perhaps, took the heaviest punishment, but he gained points enough to offset this disadvantage by being in the fight at all times and landing some very heavy wallops.

As a comic supplement the four round mix of Bill Gold and Adam Andrews was good, but as a fight it was fierce. Andrews, who is West Linn's brave battler, may have landed a blow, but it wasn't apparent to the audience. Referee Harry Worswick called the bout early in the third round when a stiff right to the jaw sent Andrews sprawling on the carpet.

In the opening bout Blacksmith Martin and Kid Warren went the full six rounds to a draw. Warren's weight not overcoming Martin's aggressiveness. Tony Alfa of Canemah, with advantage in height, reach and weight, was bested by Kid Nagle in their bout.

As a substitute on the program for Kid Zimmerman, Kelly was all that could be expected and his bout with Kid Brandon, known heretofore as Kid Weston, was the surprise of the card. Kelley mixed with Brandon in fast style for six rounds and lost the bout by Referee Worswick's decision. Ed Tracy refereed the main event of the evening.

Stafford Is Candidate

In listing the several candidates for nomination at the coming primaries The Courier last week omitted, unintentionally, the name of C. I. Stafford of this city, who is a republican candidate for the office of county assessor. Mr. Stafford is qualified as a candidate for nomination and promises to be heard from in the republican primary election.

Safety-First Meeting

George C. Brownell and A. E. Little, secretary of the central safety committee of the O. W. R. & N. Co., were speakers at an interesting safety-first meeting at mill F of the Crown-Willamette Paper company plant on Wednesday. Practically all the employees in that division of the plant attended the meeting.

Would Collect Bill

A suit filed in the circuit court on Monday by P. G. and F. W. Washer has for its object the collection of $189.50 alleged to be due from J. O. and Susie Wrenn. The plaintiffs ask for the principal and six per cent interest from January 2, 1914.
