

Leave Your Watch Repairing With Us

We clean your watch exactly as it is done in the best watch factories. We take the movement apart, clean each wheel, cog and pivot separately, assemble and regulate it--and when you get it back you can depend on it being in "perfect running condition."

Our work is guaranteed to give satisfaction

Burmeister & Andresen
Oregon City Jewelers
Suspension Bridge Corner

COUNTY AND CITY LOCALS

A defective flue at the home of Mrs. Gibbons on south Main street caused neighbors to send in a fire alarm on Monday afternoon. The blaze had been extinguished before damage had been done and before the fire department arrived.

Miss Verle Trimble, who is attending school in Portland, and her aunt, Mrs. Jack Davis of Portland, were week-end visitors at the home of Miss Trimble's parents in this city.

O. D. Eby spent several days recently at the bedside of his father, who called for his son when he feared that a complication of ailments was about to take his life. The elder Mr. Eby lives at Cottage Grove and is 86 years of age.

Mrs. Robert Beattie, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Beaver Creek, spent Saturday in Oregon City with her sister, Mrs. L. P. Williams. Hot shot for worldly church members at Methodist church Sunday night. Hear sermon.

John Ferguson, of Wilhoit, was a business visitor in Oregon City on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davies of Beaver Creek were visitors in this city on Saturday.

William F. Miller of Carus, transacted business in the county seat on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gladden of Portland, visited early this week at the home of Mrs. R. M. C. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robertson entertained Joe Robertson of Dundee, and Harry and Ben Robertson of Portland, all brothers of Ray Robertson, on Sunday. The gentlemen enjoyed a profitable fishing trip on the river here.

Lowell A. Thompson, of Oregon City, spent Saturday and Sunday in Salem, where, on Saturday, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Thompson celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. The happy event was attended by about 250 friends of the couple, which is well-known in Oregon.

Samuel Roake, of Clackamas, was a county seat visitor on Saturday.

Mrs. Sarah A. Nichols returned Thursday from Portland, where she visited her daughter on Wednesday. The latter was a recent guest of her mother in this city.

Fever Thermometers

Something no household should be without.

I handle the famous "Tyco" thermometers, used by most of the professional men on account of their accuracy.

Prices $1.00 to $2.00.

COMPASSES

Guaranteed to be accurate; from $1.00 to $3.00.

Everything optical.

Wm. A. Schilling

Optometrist & Optician
617 Main Street,
Oregon City, Oregon

Mrs. Hyke of this city made a business trip to Portland Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellridge and family have arrived in Oregon City from North Carolina and have taken apartments at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Myers, 9th and Monroe street.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins and family, from North Carolina, have arrived in Oregon City and expect to make their future home here.

C. E. Maskrey, of San Francisco, was in this city on business Monday.

Mrs. Annie Smalley and daughter have taken up their residence on Monroe street near Seventh.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roppell have moved from Fifth and Monroe streets to their new home recently purchased, on upper Fifth street.

Neal & McClatchie Jewelry Store is five doors west of elevator.

Mrs. Fred Bullard, who resides on May street, Mountain View, is very ill at her home.

The two sons and a daughter, Mrs. G. D. Baker, were called home Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. H. Wettlaufer and baby daughter have been moved from the Oregon City hospital to the rooms of her daughters, Violet and Pansy, and will return to their home at Clarkes the latter part of this week.

Word was received last week from Condon, Oregon, that a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Couture of that vicinity. Mrs. Couture was formerly Miss Effie Dillman, who is well known in Oregon City.

"Are You Worldly?" Question answered in short talk at Methodist church Sunday night.

Mrs. W. B. Wiggins, of Portland, who has been attending her mother, Mrs. James Wilkinson, during that lady's recent illness, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pratt left yesterday for Gearhart Park, where they will be guests at the seaside home of Mrs. Minnie McCracken of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Brightbill, of Oregon City, are enjoying a visit from their daughter, Mrs. Lionel Gordon of Marshfield. As Madge Brightbill, Mrs. Gordon is well known in this city. She will remain here for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Niles expect to leave late this week or early next week for Kaukaee, Ill., where they will spend some time with their daughter, Mrs. A. E. Anderson.

W. B. Heylman, Estacada postmaster, transacted business in the county seat on Monday.

Carey Herman, of Molalla, spent Sunday with friends in Oregon City.

Miss Nomina Klemson and Miss Christina Blum were guests of Miss Lizzie Schoenheinz at Washougal, Wash., on Sunday. Miss Schoenheinz is visiting her brother, Edward, at Washougal.

Neal & McClatchie make a specialty of repairing watches, clocks or anything pertaining to the jewelry business.

Mrs. L. Adams, Mrs. G. E. Gibbons and Miss Frances Cochran, all of Hillsboro, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Krummel in Oregon City.

C. H. McCulloch, prominent attorney of Baker City, Ore., was a visitor in Oregon City on Monday. While here Mr. McCulloch called upon his good friend Fred Johnson, democratic candidate for county assessor. Mr. McCulloch is the father of State Senator Claude McCulloch.

Hear sermon on "Worldliness" at Methodist church Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tabor will leave here on Saturday for Cannon Beach, where they are to open again this year the popular Sylvia Park Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Tabor plan many improvements about the inn this season and these will be started as soon as they arrive at the beach. They look forward to a very prosperous season at the sea side.

A beautiful Vermont marble monument has recently been placed upon the grave of the late Karl Kehnhofer in the New Era cemetery by the Otto Schumann Granite and Marble Works of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cooke, of Damascus, were guests of the former's brother, Postmaster Cooke on Tuesday.

George Meeks of Canby was a business visitor in Oregon City on Tuesday.

W. B. Wiggins of Portland, formerly a resident of this city, was a business visitor here Tuesday.

Lee Eckerson, cashier of the Canby bank, came to Oregon City to transact business on Tuesday.

The Rev. G. N. Edwards returned early this week from Billings, Mont., where he spent several days.

Fred Schaffer, of Molalla, was in this city on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Young and little daughter, who have been visiting relatives here, have gone to Portland to make their home. Mr. Young has been assistant manager of the Crown-Willamette mills at Camas, Wash., but will now take up duties in the Portland offices of the company.

Webb Burns of Camas, Wash., has returned to his home after spending several days here with his mother, Mrs. Charles Burns, whose condition is said to be improving. Mrs. Webb Burns returned to Camas several days ago.

H. C. Seymour, former superintendent of Polk county schools, and present leader of industrial club work for the extension division of the Oregon Agricultural college, was a visitor in Oregon City on Monday. Mr. Seymour will return to conduct work in this county with Superintendent Callavan.

Gerald Wilcox of Eagle Creek transacted business in Oregon City on Saturday.

Miss Evelyn Harding and Miss Hazel Tooe, former University of Oregon students, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schuebel on a motor trip to Eugene where they spent Sunday. The hosts to the party visited their daughter, Miss Roberta Schuebel, who is attending the university.

If you want to keep informed about politics—election is near—subscribe for the Courier now. $1 a year when paid in advance.

SWAYED BY THE WEATHER.

Some Persons Are Greatly Influenced by Climatic Conditions.

Weather influences on man may be roughly divided into two classes—viz, those which are direct and obvious and those which are the more or less indirect and obscure. The influences belonging to the second class have been during the past decade or so the subject of immense research.

Some persons are pronounced "meteoropaths," abnormally subject to "weather neuroses." Friedrich Nietzsche was one par excellence. Such persons, as a rule, are more specifically "cyclonopaths." The passage of cyclonic depressions accompanied by certain characteristic types of weather is reflected in their sensation and in the mode of operation of their bodily and mental functions.

The gross change of barometric pressure pertaining to a cyclone, or "low," is not in itself an important factor in producing these manifestations since it never exceeds that experienced in the ascent (without the effort of climbing) of a good sized hill. Indeed, many "lows" do not expose us to greater pressure of changes in the course of twenty-four hours than we experience in a couple of minutes in riding to the top of an average office building.—Baltimore American.

A GREAT DESTROYER.

One That Is Actively at Work Every Minute of the Day.

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world. I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the world. I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns. I steal in the United States alone more than $300,000,000 each year. I spare no one, and I find my victims among rich and poor alike.

The young and old, the strong and weak, widows and orphans, know me. I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadows over every field of labor from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every railroad train. I massacre thousands on thousands of wage earners in a year. I lurk in unseen places and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not. I am relentless.

I am everywhere, in the home, on the streets, in the factory, at railroad crossings, on the seas. I bring sickness, degradation and death, and yet few seek to avoid me. I destroy, crush or maim. I give nothing, but take all. I am your worst enemy. I am Carelessness.—Holyoke Transcript.

Nations That Left No Sign.

There are two great nations of antiquity whose inscriptions cannot yet be read—the Etruscans and the Hittites. The Etruscans occupied a part of Italy corresponding roughly to what is now known as Tuscany. The Hittites at one time occupied a part of Palestine and united with the Canaanites to resist the invasion by the Israelites under Joshua. The Etruscan and Hittite inscriptions have thus far resisted the attempts of scholars to decipher them, though no one knows when some one may stumble on a bilingual inscription which will serve as a key, just as the Rosetta stone, discovered in Egypt in 1799, served as a key to the Egyptian hieroglyphics. In the new world the so-called Maya inscriptions, found on the ruins in Yucatan, are also a puzzle to scientists.—Christian Herald.

Not An Epicure.

One afternoon a sad eyed hobo rambled up the garden walk of a suburban home and meekly tapped on the back door.

"Lady," said he in a tearful voice to the woman who answered his knock, "I hain't had a thing to eat since last week. If you would only give me some bread or—"

"Marry," suddenly interjected the woman, addressing some invisible person, "bring Tower out here at once."

"All right, dear lady," said the hobo in a resigned voice, "even dog meat is better than starvin' to death."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Laughter.

Laughter begins either with the mouth or the eyes. Then come the other muscular groups, and then come the vocal expressions of laughter, such as brays, cackles, sniggers, stimpers, giggles, snorts, grunts, fohorn rumbles, yells, shrieks, guffaws, trills, chuckles, snuffles and all sorts of peculiar bird notes and musical sounds.—Exchange.

Coroners in England.

In early times the coroner in England was a revenue officer of the crown, and his business was to find out the criminals, extort their confessions and confiscate their goods to the crown. From records it appeared that King Alfred had a predilection for hanging his coroners because they did what was unjust.

The Great Condo.

The great military genius Condo was a precocious boy. At eight he understood Latin, and at eleven he gave out a treatise on rhetoric. When fourteen he had become thoroughly conversant with the principles of warfare and of all military tactics.

Disagreeable.

Aunt—I can tell at a glance what other people are thinking of me. Niece (absentmindedly)—How very disagreeable for you, auntie!

He who feedeth the hungry refresheth his own soul; thus saith wisdom.—Nietzsche.

Christmas Romance Fails.

Etta N. Snoddy and Charles B. Snoddy, married at Vancouver, Wash., on Christmas day, 1914, bid fair to bring their Yuletide romance to an end in circuit court here very soon.

Mrs. Snoddy has filed complaint against her husband, alleging that he deserted her on April 15, 1915. There are no children nor property rights and Mrs. Snoddy asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Miss Etta N. Beamen.

SCHOOLS OBSERVE MAY DAY

Pretty Dances and Much Music are Features of Celebration

May day was the occasion of a very pretty celebration at Eastham school on Monday afternoon and the following afternoon interesting exercises were held at the Barclay school, under the direction of principals, teachers and music supervisors. The exercises consisted of May pole and folk dances, songs, drills and games, and in each case were held just before six o'clock so that more of the parents might have a chance to witness the work of their children.

The following program was rendered Monday afternoon at Eastham school: May pole drill, (grade one), Miss Harris; song games, hornpipe and Dixie dances, Miss Ballinger; flag drill, grade two, Mrs. Anderson; Danish dances of greeting, grades three and four, Miss Neilson; butterfly and bleeking dance, grade five, Mrs. Hull; Mendelssohn's Spring Song drill, grades six and seven, Mrs. Scott and Miss Crooks; N. W. Bowland, principal; Miss Kirkup, music supervisor.

The following program was given at the Barclay school grounds Tuesday afternoon: (A)—drill, "Apple Blossoms," grades one and two, Miss Holsworth; (b)—May pole dance, grade four, Miss Yoder; (c)—Blue bird drill, grade two, Mrs. Theroux; (d)—Butterfly drill and song, grade one, Miss Burns; (e)—Crowning May Queen, grade one, Miss Wilson; floral drill, grade seven, Mrs. Salisbury and Miss Clifford; "Strasak," (Bohemian folk dance), grade five, Miss Schultz; chariot folk dance, grade six, Miss Miller; drill, (special), boys of seventh grade; flag drill, grade eight, J. R. Bowland, principal; Miss Kirkup, music supervisor.

Methodist Church Notes

The Gospel team recently organized is doing most excellent work, and is growing in popularity. Twenty members went by auto truck to Redlands last Sunday afternoon, where a large audience greeted them and entered heartily into the service. Next Sunday the team will go to Jones' Mill for a second meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the official board was held Monday night. Reports showed progress in all departments, finances are in exceptionally good condition. Steps were taken for the extension of the work outside of the local church by releasing the pastor for a ten day meeting in an out-of-town appointment.

Tuesday afternoon the Woman's Foreign Missionary society met at the church parlors. Reports from the Annual District meeting held at Forest Grove were made by the returned delegates, Mrs. Blanchard, Miss Nettie Conover and Mrs. Malissa Osborne. Twenty members were present and three new members enrolled. Mesdames Wathen and Osborne were hostesses and served refreshments. The society will meet next month with Mrs. U'Ren, of Gladstone.

The monthly business meeting of the Epworth League was held in the pastor's study Tuesday evening. Stearns Cushing, the president, is an exceedingly good favor with the young people. The society has more than doubled in membership since the first of the conference year, which began the first of October. All departments are active and alive. Some of the undertakings for the month of April were as follows: Street meetings sunrise prayer meeting Easter Sunday, the observance of a week of self denial, a happy social, and visits to sick and shut-ins.

The pastor meets a bible study class on Wednesday evenings to which he gives a special invitation to visitors.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jubb, at their pretty Lawton Height's bungalow, was celebrated by more than forty friends on Friday evening.

The evening hours sped swiftly for the guests and the happy couple, and all greatly enjoyed a delightful musical program and social time. At eleven o'clock, with the tones of a wedding march played by Miss Elsie Vowel, Mr. and Mrs. Jubb renewed the pledges of years ago and were commanded by their many friends to spend twenty-five years more as happily as they had spent the past.

The ceremony was followed by the presentation of a beautiful set of silver spoons, which Mr. Jubb received with a touching expression of thanks. Dainty refreshments were served late in the evening and the guests promised to attend the golden wedding anniversary which it is hoped Mr. and Mrs. Jubb will celebrate twenty-five years hence.

N. C. Maris Visits Schools

Together with School Supervisor Vedder, N. C. Maris, field worker for the state educational department, visited a number of schools about the county last week and accomplished a great deal toward interesting the pupils in the work they can do in connection with industrial club projects. A week filled with meetings was concluded with a lecture on project work at the Clairmont school on Friday night.

Among the schools visited by Mr. Maris and the county supervisor are: Wichita, Ardenwald, Parkplace, Oak Grove, Mt. Pleasant, Bolton, Willamette, Twilight, Beaver Creek, Carus, Maple Lane, Henri, Gladstone, Milwaukie, Estacada, Canemah, Clackamas, Mulino and Clairmont. Illustrated lectures were given at evening meetings held at Gladstone, Estacada, Beaver Creek, Canemah and Clairmont.

Clackamas Teachers Elected

At a meeting of the Clackamas school board recently teachers for the ensuing year were elected. They are: Miss Lettie Osborn, principal; Miss Anna Backmann intermediate and Miss Winifred Osborn, primary.

FREAK NOTES SENT TO A GOVERNOR

Many Letters Invade Wisconsin Executive's Office.

ASKS BOUNTY FOR TRIPLETS

Mother Seeks $500 From the State For Children—One Writer Wants Governor to Collect a Bill, Another Submits Poetry For Criticism, and Another Sends a Threat.

Madison, Wis.—Freak letters always are interesting even though they sometimes bring a message of pathos that gives us pause. Badger executives seem to be recipients of an undue proportion of such missives, but Governor Philipp, since he has filled the office, has sought to read them with consideration whenever possible. Some of them, however, are impossible. For instance:

A man up in Clark county says a widow living next door with six children allows them to stone his cow and wants the governor to put an end to such outrages. Believing the state allows a bounty of $500 for birth of triplets, a Grant county mother is out for the money. Writing to Governor Philipp, she makes known her quest, stating she believed she was the only woman in the state to bear triplets. Dr. C. A. Harper pointed out that in 1914 four cases of birth of triplets were recorded and an equal number last year, while in 1913 there were twelve such births. The governor referred the letter to Dr. Harper.

Photo by American Press Association. GOVERNOR PHILIPP.

A Milwaukee dentist wants the governor to collect some of his uncollected bills. The executive referred him to the courts for relief.

A chap in New York referred two poems, one on neutrality and the other on evolution, to Governor Philipp for "poetic criticism" and such changes as the governor's poetic mind might suggest. The latter, it is understood, turned them over to his literary adviser, Executive Clerk Charles Stewart, the well known Shakespearean scholar.

A Mormon from Salt Lake City wasted 8 cents in the coin of the realm to send Wisconsin's political head a copy of a song set to music "for correction." The title was "For Our Uncle Sam." It is understood the governor shifted the burden of reply on Lawrence Willet.

"As one of the elect chosen by God, Jan. 1880, and as a lineal descendant of Elijah," a Kansas asks that the mixed marriage law, prohibiting marriage of brothers and sisters, fathers and daughters and sons and mothers, be repealed and that the governor give his aid to the movement. He says he has written about twenty governors, whom he specified, asking for their cooperation. He also sent his message to McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson and complains they withheld their cooperation. He says this marriage law is responsible for the war in Europe, which is a case of God visiting his punishment upon mankind for creating such statutes for man to observe.

A lunatic in an asylum wrote that if they let him out he will be able to expose a score of murderers. A blackmailer's letter threatened the governor if he did not do certain things and hinted at a "box" to be left in the executive office. The governor answered that he would be prepared for the mysterious box and intimated that undoubtedly it would contain nitroglycerin. He thanked the crank for his advance warning, which gave him opportunity for preparation for the higher life. The letter was turned over to the authorities.

Two Families, Twenty-three Children. Alameda, Cal.—In one block in Alameda there are two families which have a total of twenty-three children. Mrs. W. T. Bonney several days ago gave birth to twin sons, the twelfth and thirteenth children in the family. Two of the progeny have passed away, leaving eleven. Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Cavanaugh, whose home is a stone's throw from the Bonney domicile, are the parents of twelve children. Bonney is sixty-three and his wife thirty-seven.

High School Has Ball Team

B. E. Tatro is selecting eligibles from a squad of thirty candidates for the Oregon City high school baseball team, which is to play its first game on Saturday.

The school will be represented by a fast nine and Coach Tatro is confident that the other towns of the county will have to show solid ability to get into the ring of contenders for honors on the diamond.

How are you fixed for letter heads and envelopes?—Courier.

The Little Paint Man Says:

Don't take any chances these days on poor quality paint. You know when paint material advances it's a great temptation to many paint dealers to reduce the cost by reducing the quality. Better stay with the old established brand like Sherwin-Williams where the quality never changes. A few cents per gallon advance amounts to very little on an ordinary job—possibly a dollar or two; but the covering capacity and wearing quality make up many times over.

Much of our stock of paint was bought before the recent advances in price and you will find we have many good bargains.

See our paint man. He knows his business and will be glad to help you any time.

Huntley Bros. Co.

The Rexall Store

Fire Department Meeting

A meeting of the city fire department is to be held at the Fountain hose company's house tonight, as a result of the call sent out by Fire Chief Harry Bradley. The department is planning a benefit entertainment or smoker for A. Dahlke, a member of the Mountain View company, who suffered a broken leg and was forced to remain in the hospital for a number of months as a result of a fall received while in service.

Arrested for Assault

Charged with assaulting his stepdaughter, Frank J. Phelps of Oregon City, was hauled before Justice of the Peace Sievers on Tuesday for examination, which he waived. Phelps was arrested by Sheriff Wilson after a complaint had been sworn to by his wife, Gertrude O. Phelps. Judge Sievers bound the prisoner over to the grand jury. Phelps posted bonds of $250 and was released.

Coming from a biweekly journal, as Hugh Hume, the litterateur of The Spectator, would say, the suggestion may be as opprobrious as a sinapism, but we respectfully submit that if Portland devoted as much energy to the discovery of the persons who are breaking the backs of her taxpayers and businessmen as she does to the solution of the mystery of "who broke the neck of the white swan," that fair metropolis would be vastly and materially better off.

You can get the Courier for one year for $1.00—if you pay in advance.

If You Want Public Business Run to Suit You, Take a Hand in Running It

O. W. EASTHAM
Republican Candidate for District Attorney

I have openly and repeatedly charged the district Attorney's office with FLAGRANT EXTRAVAGANCE AND WASTE OF PUBLIC FUNDS. The time and the place and the proof have been set forth. My primary competitors avoid the subject studiously, seeming to fear that they may offend samby-samby voters who are horrified at HAVING THE LIGHT TURNED ON A PUBLIC OFFICIAL'S RECORD. You may set it down that the fellow who will not get out in the open and "CALL A HOE A HOE" is not going to make a telling or successful fight at the fall election against the deplorable manner in which this office has been conducted.

I am sure it is possible to HAVE ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY in the District Attorney's office and to make it, at the same time, A PRO-NOUNCED FACTOR IN MAINTAINING THE MORAL TONE OF THE COMMUNITY. That is my proposition.

I make no appeal to passion or to prejudice and deplore the fact that such appeals often have won temporary success in public life.

My personal friends may not always understand why I do not take them by the hand and ask them "to do what they can for me." It is because their duty of citizenship requires them to do what they can for the public good, and it is their business, and not mine, to determine the proper exercise of their franchise.

EVERYONE WHO IS HONEST WITH HIMSELF WILL BE FAIR WITH ALL OF US, AND THAT WILL MAKE GOOD GOVERNMENT.

(Paid Adv. by O. W. Eastham.)

Printing that has "the Punch"

THE COURIER has one of the best equipped job offices in the state. Our exceptionally modern facilities, augmented by skillful workmanship and constant study of the printing art, enable us in every instance to merit the slogan:

"Printing That Has the Punch"

Give Us a Trial on Your Next Order

Both Phones: 51
Courier Building
Oregon City, Oregon