COURT APPOINTS JUVENILE OFFICER

MRS. CHURCH GETS OFFICE; CONSTABLE-FORMERLY HAD OFFICE FOR 6 YEARS

Mrs. M. E. Church, who for the past two years has been court matron, and actively engaged in juvenile work during that time, was appointed Monday by the county court as juvenile officer for Clackamas county, succeeding D. E. Frost, who has resigned. Mrs. Church was appointed by the court for the reason of her long experience in juvenile matters, and her active interest in this work. D. E. Frost, formerly constable and also juvenile officer for the past six years, turned over his star to the newly elected constable, Ed. Fortune, Monday. Mr. Frost has not as yet announced his plans, but it is understood he will accept the stewardship of the Moose lodge in this city. Mr. Fortune, the new constable, is well known over the county and state, having for years been connected with county fairs and politics. Mr. Fortune was defeated for the office two years ago, but was elected by a big majority at the last election.

CHAS. WICKLUND SUES A. T. BOARDMAN FOR $3,500 NOTE

Charles Wicklund has entered suit against A. T. Boardman to collect on a note for $3,500 given October 28, 1911. The note was given to Wicklund by C. A. and Susan Rosecrans with a mortgage on Clackamas county property to secure it. It was to run five years with interest at five per cent. At the end of that time Wicklund and Rosecrans agreed to extend the time two more years with interest at six per cent. The property was sold to A. T. Boardman by the Rosecrans in November, 1916, with the understanding that Boardman was to assume the mortgage. Wicklund claims that nothing has been paid on the note except interest, and he asks a judgment for the $3,500 and interest from October, 1918, when the note was due. He asks also $350 as attorney's fees.

PROMINENT CANBY COUPLE MARRIED MONDAY NIGHT

Surprising their many friends, Mrs. Mabel Bair, of Canby, and John Eid, a hardware merchant at the same place, were quietly married Monday night at 7 o'clock. Mr. Eid, who is a city councilman, failed to appear when the council met for the first meeting of the year Monday night. As a quorum was lacking some of the members went after Mr. Eid, and when he arrived at the council rooms he made no announcement of the wedding, which had just taken place. He was elected president of the council during the meeting. The next day the Eids told the news of their quiet wedding, and messages of congratulation are being sent them.

LETTER RECEIVED FROM BOY THOUGHT DEAD IN FRANCE

Mrs. Trullinger is a brother of McCubbin, and feared that he had been killed, since he had written frequently up until September, when nothing more was heard from him. He has been on the firing line all the time he has been in France with the exception of only nine days. He is with the 101st Infantry, 26th Division, which was in some of the biggest battles, among these being Argonne Forest and Chateau-Thierry. McCubbin is the son of Mrs. Laura McCubbin, of Logan.

The American Red Cross has written Mrs. L. E. Hoffman, of Sandy, informing her that the Edward Hoffman reported badly wounded and a prisoner at Metz when the armistice was signed, is not her son Edward. Sues to Quiet Title

Suit has been entered against E. N. Pearson by J. W. Ogilbee, executor of the estate of Mary A. Pearson, deceased, to quiet claim on the property involved in the suit. Ogilbee had orders to sell the property to clear up a claim of $2,800 against the estate, but the defendant has claimed the property as his, and interfered with the sale of it. The plaintiff is asking that this be cleared up.

Another Robbery Monday

Robbers broke into the Price Bros. department store late Tuesday night, breaking a window and entering from the south side of the store. In the opinion of the officials, it is the work of boys, as the entrance made for the robbers would only admit a man of slight build or a boy.

NEW COUNCIL HAS FIRST MEETING

LOWERING OF JITNEY LICENSE IS REFERRED TO STREET COMMITTEE

CURFEW LAW TO BE ENFORCED

Residents at End of Center Street Want Light; Sale of City Property Discussed

The first regular meeting of the new Oregon City council was held last Wednesday night with Mayor Holman presiding, and Councilmen Albright, Green, Kelley, Woodward, Tobin, Kruger, Scott and Recorder Loder present. Before the business of the council was taken up, Mayor Holman addressed the members for a few minutes, asserting that good feeling was manifest among the members, and that good work ought to be done for the year 1919. Bills against the city of $747.42 were read and allowed, which had not been turned over to the old council before the expiration of the term. A petition was submitted to the street committee for a light at the foot of Center street. The petition was signed by many residents of that district.

The matter of lowering the license for jitneys operating in the city, and also to change the city charter in this respect, was also turned over to the street committee.

Representatives of the W. C. T. U. of the city were present, and asked the mayor and council to have the curfew law enforced more strictly. They also asked to have the city lavatory repainted and cleaned up. The curfew matter was turned over to the chief of police, and the other petition turned over to the health committee.

It was recommended that the street committee change the rules of collecting garbage in the city other than the first of each month, as this date does not give the residents time to collect the garbage and place it on the street corners for the collecting wagon.

Much discussion on the matter of disposing of some of the property owned by the city, took place, but nothing definite was said on this matter.

GERMAN LUTHERAN CHURCHES GIVE NEAT SUM TO RED CROSS

The Oregon City branch of the Red Cross has been presented by the members of the Lutheran church at Frog Pond with the neat sum of $27.25, and also the German Lutheran church at Colton has donated to the association here the sum of $32.47, which amounts were raised by socials held by the churches in the above neighborhoods. W. B. Eddy, of the Eddy department store here, has also presented the Red Cross with $5.00.

About 25 pounds of wool is on hand at the Red Cross rooms here, and the secretary has made the announcement that those desiring to take some of this wool and make sweaters can call and receive the material from the Red Cross rooms, the sweaters to be given back to the association. After this wool is exhausted, no more sweaters will be made for the Red Cross. Three hundred pajamas are also needed and the material for these is here, and will have to be finished in 15 days, according to word from the headquarters. It is requested that those wishing help on this work call at the Red Cross rooms in the Masonic building.

LEGISLATURE MAY BE POSTPONED

160 HOMES QUARANTINED AT CAPITAL CITY FOR "FLU" EPIDEMIC

According to the report of Salem officials, the convening of the 1919 legislature at Salem next week might possibly be postponed on account of influenza in the capital city. Mayor Albin, of Salem, has made the statement that he believes that it will be hazardous for the legislature to meet and continue in session while the epidemic is raging in Salem. The mayor is quoted as saying that while he has no control over the meeting of the legislature in that city, he thinks that when the legislators arrive and find out the conditions as they are at present, they will be in favor of postponing the legislature until the epidemic moderates in the city. Other state officials express the same opinion, although the governor claims that he sees no objection to the meeting of the legislature as per schedule.

The governor advocates the limiting of visitors to the state capital during the session, thereby eliminating the risk to a certain extent, of spreading the disease. The city council of Salem is now sitting for the first time as a city health board, and is adopting the strictest ordinances to curb the epidemic. Already over 100 homes there are quarantined on account of influenza, and the new cases reported by physicians are over 35 per day.

COUNCILMAN BRIDGES' SON INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

The little 7-year-old son of Councilman Bridges, Edwin, was run over by an auto on Molalla avenue Tuesday about 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon, and is now under the care of physicians with a fractured skull. The machine was driven by a young man by the name of Heater, and it is alleged that he was driving very fast at the time of the accident. At the council meeting, Councilman Bridges called the attention of the council to the fact that auto speeding on Molalla avenue should be stopped, and as it happened, his own son was the first victim of one of these speeders.

"WIRES" AGAINST JITNEY CHANGE

COMMITTEE NAMED TO MEET WITH CITY COUNCIL AND PROTEST

WANT WEST HIGHWAY FINISHED

Claim County Court Is Slow to Act in Grading West Side River Highway

The first meeting of the Live Wires of the Commercial club took place Tuesday noon in the Commercial club parlors, after two weeks' adjournment for the holidays. At this meeting, a committee composed of Main street business men—W. A. Huntley, A. A. Price, Raymond Caulfield, George Bannon and William Andersen—was appointed to investigate the rumor that the new city council would modify the present jitney ordinance affecting the jitney operated by the P. R. L. & P. company to Mountain View from this city. It was brought out at this meeting that the P. R. L. & P. Co. would take the jitney off the run if the ordinance was changed in any way, as it was the understanding at the time that the company would operate the jitney as long as they were protected by an ordinance keeping jitneys off the run between this city and Portland, competing with the street car line.

The "Twelve Disciples of Road Efficiency" committee, appointed by the Live Wires during the $80,000,000 road bond campaign some time ago, has again been appointed by the organization to get in active duty on the question of grading the Pacific highway between Oregon City and Portland on the west side of the Willamette river. At the last budget meeting of the county court, an appropriation of $35,000 was voted for the purpose of grading this highway in preparation for the laying of hard surface by the highway commission. It is alleged by the Wires that some of the county court members have never been very enthusiastic over the proposition, and the committee was appointed to see if the work by the court can be rushed in order to take advantage of the offer of the commission to pave the loop after the grading.

The Highway commission has again offered to hard surface the highway between these two cities, if the county court will get busy and do the grading, and the commission has promised that the work will be completed this year. Another committee was appointed to investigate why Oregon City has not paid fire department, and the old committee, composed of C. W. Robey, A. A. Price and George Bannon, was reappointed to take the matter up with the new city council immediately.

AUTOS MUST CARRY 1919 LICENSE BY SATURDAY

According to Motorcycle Cop Meads, all autos in this county must have the 1919 license on by Saturday, January 11th, or the owners will be brought into court. Plenty of time has been allowed for auto owners to get their new license from Salem, and on and after the above date autos appearing in the road with the old 1918 license will be apprehended, and the owners subject to a fine of not more than $50, according to the law. It will behoove all automobile owners to take heed and see that their cars or car, carries the new 1919 license by Saturday.

FIRE DESTROYS RESIDENCE AT MT. PLEASANT SATURDAY

The old Vance place in Mt. Pleasant, owned by L. H. Andrews, of Portland, and occupied by Mrs. Cullison, was destroyed by fire early Saturday evening. The blaze originated from some unknown origin, and the fire department was unable to check the blaze, the entire house and its contents burning to the ground. Mrs. Cullison went to Portland earlier in the day, and arrived home just in time to find the house in flames. As far as can be learned, there was no insurance.

Johnson, and later transferred to Robert & Ewing, of Portland, has been started in this city by the latter firm. SHERIFF WILSON WINS IN RECOUNT

GAINS 9 VOTES OVER FORMER MAJORITY OF 52; CASE TO BE DISMISSED

Sheriff W. J. Wilson

Although it was predicted that the recount of votes, as demanded by Henry W. Koehler, defeated democratic candidate for sheriff of this county, would take several days more, the work was finished late Friday night, and Wm. J. Wilson, present sheriff, won out by a majority of about 61 votes. The reason for the completion of the work so soon was on account of the judges being seldom interrupted during the day, and as very few mistakes were found, the work of counting the votes went on rapidly.

Outside of a mistake in Harmony precinct No. 1, which gave Wilson an additional majority of 19, very few errors were found, although Koehler gained several votes during the count. The original majority of Wilson was 51 votes before the recount was demanded by Koehler, and after the judges summed up the counting, and additional 10 votes were awarded according to the ballots, to Wilson, making him the winner by 61 votes. The attorneys for Koehler announced that they would enter a motion to dismiss the case immediately.

NORTH END OF CLACKAMAS BRIDGE TO BE PROTECTED

Due to the good work of the committee appointed by the Live Wire organization, and also the willingness of Roadmaster Roots, the long sought protection for auto drivers in making the turn at the entrance of the north end of the Clackamas river bridge, on the Gladstone side, has come to pass, and the railing will be built some time early next week by the county officials. Many people have requested that something be done to protect an auto driver at night at this point, as the entrance to the bridge is so abrupt at the north end, that one driving an auto at night would have to be very careful in order to keep from driving over the bank into the Clackamas river.

It is understood that the protection at this point will be made of heavy timbers, strong enough so that if an auto should skid toward the bank, or the driver miscalculate the distance, it would keep the wheels of the machine from traveling over the bank. The railing will also be painted white, similar to that of the Southern Pacific signs on the road, and which can be seen for quite a distance.

CONSTABLE OF OSWEGO AND YOUNG SOLDIER "MIX"

Constable McVey, of Oswego, and a soldier by the name of Jack W. Doane, "mixed it considerable" Wednesday at the above place, when the soldier was passing down the street with a couple of young ladies. It is alleged by the soldier that when he arrived opposite the constable, the officer stared at them so much that the soldier made the remark that "he hoped he would get an eye full." Thereupon, a fight started, in which the soldier was pretty badly beaten. McVey, the constable, alleges that the soldier insulted him. No complaint has been entered by either party as yet.

BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE IN HONOR OF ROOSEVELT

All business houses closed for five minutes Wednesday morning from 9:45 to 9:50, in memory of Theodore Roosevelt, whose funeral was held at his home in Oyster Bay, N. Y., at 12:45 eastern time, Wednesday. Mayor Holman issued a proclamation Tuesday afternoon calling for the closing of business houses in this city for the five minutes, and also ordering all flags in the city at half mast in memory of the great statesman.

Married

A marriage license was granted Monday by the county clerk to Mabel Bair and John Eid, both of Canby.

ALFALFA ADVICE IS GIVEN BY FARMER

IDAHO MAN, FORMER RESIDENT IN COUNTY, THINKS CROP WOULD BE GOOD HERE

AGRE SHOULD YIELD 4 TONS

Deep, Sandy Soil, Well Irrigated, Gives Best Results; Recommends Roots for Starting

John J. Wallace, formerly of this county, but now of Caldwell, Idaho, has written THE COURIER the following interesting letter on what the farmers are doing in that country. Mr. Wallace claims that alfalfa can be grown in Clackamas county just as well as in Idaho, and in the letter below, tells how he thinks it can be done. He is perfectly familiar with climatic conditions here, as he farmed successfully in this county for a good many years. The letter follows:

"I tried growing alfalfa, also sweet clover, without success, but being acquainted with some parts of Clackamas county, believe it can be grown there with success. I am satisfied it will produce 4 tons per acre. It makes four cuttings, and its growth is over 12 feet a year. The ground must be prepared, ditches, feed ditches, corrugated, so that it can be watered. Alfalfa was as hard to kill as bluegrass here. If I was going to try it I would get on some bottom; deep, sandy soil. The roots have been known to grow 30 feet deep. I would prefer roots to start with. Planted like cow kale, it would give results quicker. Little ditches 1 1/2 to 3 inches deep, about 18 inches across, will do to irrigate. Through your county agent and ours, you may be able to get the roots where someone has sown some, never gotten a stand, and plowed it up. Gophers have never bothered me over 24 hours after located. A little piece of steel 1 1/2x12 inches, with a hole in it about the size of a dime, forms the trap. Cut out on main run so that trap runs just even with his run. As a rule, I get them inside of 30 minutes. Sheep men are just beginning to feed here. Our last rain was on our fourth cutting. Snow is 1 1/2 inches, and frost is 6 inches deep. Duck hunting is good. The hotter it gets the more hay we grow up here."

TWO YOUNG MEN ARRESTED; BREAK INTO BUILDINGS

Acting on a warrant Tuesday, Sheriff Wilson brought into court Lawrence Forsythe, charged with breaking into a garage of J. L. Updegrave, about five miles from this city, and also charged with breaking into a dwelling of Mr. O'Malley, in the same neighborhood. The warrant called for the arrest of both Forsythe and a young man by the name of C. L. Brown, but Brown made a "get away" before the officers could apprehend him, and has not been caught up to date. Forsythe was released on $150 bail to appear for a preliminary hearing in Justice Siever's court some time this week.

WILL RESUME PRACTICE HERE AFTER 17 MONTHS IN THE SERVICE

Captain W. E. Hempstead has returned to this city after being mustered out of the service, and will again take up his duties as practicing physician here. He has secured offices in the Barclay building. Captain Hempstead enlisted in the service about 17 months ago, and at the time of his enlistment, was coroner of Clackamas county. He was first stationed at the Vancouver barracks, and after being transferred to several camps, finally was permanently stationed again at Fort Stevens, where he was mustered out of the service. Captain Hempstead was first given a lieutenantcy, but later was promoted to captain. Capt. Hempstead claims that he is glad to get back in the harness once more in civilian life, although glad to serve his country while the big fight was on. He resides in Gladstone, where his family has lived during his absence.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE WHEN A COUNTY HAS AN AGENT

There was no county agent in Rankin county, Miss., last year, and the farmers individually could not successfully market their produce. In fact, only one carload of potatoes was shipped out of Star during the season. Conditions at present are very different. Rankin now has a wideawake agent, who believes in co-operative shipping, as is evident from this information received by the United States Department of Agriculture:

"This year our county agent organized a co-operative club and looked after the marketing of our produce. Also he gave us information as to treating seed and necessary fertilizer. This year our agent marketed 22 cars of potatoes co-operatively for us and secured the top market price. Some of the farmers in this community made over $100 per acre. This increase of 21 cars is due to the efforts of our agent, as we could not market our produce alone at a profit."

"Mr. Burk's information given on the proper use of fertilizer has been worth many dollars to me alone. We have secured over 100 bushels of seed wheat through our agent to be planted this fall."

BURGLARS ENTER DOWNTOWN OFFICES MONDAY MORNING

Burglars early Monday morning, broke into the office of the Williams Transfer company and the Hub Barber shop on Main street here, entering the building from the rear. Officers this morning found a chisel, which the robbers had left. At the Williams transfer company offices, nothing was taken as far as can be learned, but the safe, which is always kept unlocked, was locked Monday morning, and it is thought that the burglars tried the combination, thinking that the safe was locked. W. F. Schooley, who has desk room in the Williams office, had his desk broken open, and contents scattered over the floor, but only a flash light, which was in the desk at the time, was missing. The robbers took the light, but left another one, of inferior quality, in its place. Nothing was taken at the Hub barber shop. Chief of Police Woodward is working on the case.

SATURDAY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. L. ADAMS

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES' AID GIVE FINE ENTERTAINMENT

An entertainment provided for the elderly ladies of the Presbyterian church of this city, given by the Ladies' Aid Society, in the church parlors Friday afternoon, was well attended. Dr. Seeman, pastor, gave a brief address and a program was given. A vocal solo by Miss Alice Holman and musical selections by Miss Ruth Andersen, were also enjoyed by the audience. A committee composed of Mrs. E. L. Shaw, Mrs. A. O. Pace and Mrs. M. McGeehan, had charge of the arrangements, and also the decoration of the church.
