LOWER HIGHLAND

"Grandma" Hinkson visited with Mrs. Dan Fellows recently.

Mrs. Ida Holmes returned to her home last Friday, after a visit at Gresham.

Everyone out this way is suffering with a bad cold and "their best friend" is their nose.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone called at the home of Dan Fellows last Sunday.

Mrs. Harvey Cresson (Nellie M. Bonney), and her small daughter, spent several days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dave Rutherford.

Mrs. Meeker made a trip to Oregon City Tuesday.

Ernest Ball is visiting at the home of E. S. Holmes.

Joe Fellows spent a few days in Portland this week.

We are all glad to hear that "Grandma" Rutherford is better. She has been on the sick list for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fellows and daughter, Nellie, spent Thursday at Joe Fellows' place.

SPECIAL NOTICE (REWARD)

Lost, strayed or stolen—team bay horses about 9 years old (wt. about 900 each) from "Geo. Poteet" ranch 2 miles south of Oregon City (on Molalla-Wilhoit road). Liberal reward for recovery. K. A. DeMaris (returned soldier) owner, care P. O. box 222, Portland, or phone W. J. Patterson, Main 1800, No. 209 Selling building, Portland.

EAGLE CREEK

Miss Grace Cahill and her brother, Robert, are ill with the influenza.

The whole Paddison family are ill with the influenza, but are getting better.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Udell and children, of Dover, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gibson on New Year's day.

Mrs. Roy Douglass, who was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Moehne, of Shubel, for a few days last week, returned home on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Naylor were entertained at dinner on New Year's by Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass.

Walter Douglass made a business trip to Oregon City last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Woodie, Mr. and Mrs. C. Murphy and son, Perry, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woodie last Wednesday.

Miss Frances Degertedt, the teacher of district No. 50, left Monday morning for her home in Portland, as she was feeling somewhat ill. She feared she was taking the influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Serranons, of Sellwood, motored out to their Deep Creek farm the other day.

Albert Affolter is on the sick list.

PARKPLACE

Mr. and Mrs. Blane Hansell, of Eastern Oregon, left for their home Sunday. They spent the holidays with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holmes.

Miss Laura Purcell plans to leave for her sister's home in Athens, Wash., some time the last of the week. She plans on remaining for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor, of Portland, recently visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holmes.

The "flu" is having its say these days in Parkplace. But a great many school children have defied the fates, and so school has been continued, though under a rather difficult situation. Two of our teachers, Robert Barnette, principal, and Miss Jane Barnette, teacher of the primary grades, have both been very ill with the "flu," but they are both getting better. Grace Barnette, who had come home for the Christmas holidays, and Mabel Barnette, also came down with this "popular" malady.

Most of our "flu" patients are getting better, and so we hope that this disease will soon die down, and all our sick folks get well.

REDLAND

The "flu" seems to have taken possession of our community, there being about eight or ten families down with it. Upper Logan also has a run of it, there being about five or six families down. The teacher telephoned that she would not be over—presumably she also has it.

Harding Grange passed a resolution asking for an appropriation from the legislature, sufficient to buy sacks for the state line plant, as it is figured that convict labor can sack the lime cheaper than the farmer. The mere fact that the lime is shipped in bulk has kept the farmers from taking hold of the proposition as they might. Another drawback is the roads. The proper time to get this lime is in the fall, when we can haul loads both ways or in spring, after the roads get dry. We hope other Granges in the state will take up this matter.

Fred Wilcox has sold out his interest in the Wilcox estate.

Mr. Journo's have moved over to their farm.

J. Hughes is hauling alfalfa hay, purchased in Eastern Oregon at $27.50 per ton.

Mr. Walvel and son, of Scotts Mills, are visiting at her cousin's, Mrs. Amelia Fischer.

ELWOOD

Willis Cox returned to Estacada after spending the holidays at his old home.

Den Stahlnecker and family, who have been living in Portland, have moved back on the farm. Stahlnecker's health being very poor.

Stella Snoloffski is staying with Mrs. Lula Dorles for a few weeks, at Estacada.

Miss Montie Cox is ill with stomach trouble, but at the present writing is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Emmon motored out from Portland one day last week.

A farewell party was held at the Granatki home Saturday evening, a large crowd was in attendance and everyone reports a very good time.

Joe, George and Barney are leaving for Portland, where they expect to find work. Joe's friends were pleased to see him looking and feeling so well after 124 days spent in the hospital at Vancouver, Wash., where he underwent three serious operations. He has been honorably discharged from the U. S. army. Luncheon was not discovered until several days later and is the source of much worry to the loser.

The Ladies' Aid entertainment and bazaar at the Community hall New Year's Eve, netted the Red Cross $40.00, and the society for other benevolent purposes, upwards of $20.00 additional. An unusually pleasant time resulted to a capacity house.

LOGAN

The influenza has got quite a start in Logan again. Mrs. J. C. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Feathers and three of the Stafford family have the disease at present, while Mrs. Jesse Cromer and Mrs. Young's little grandson, Melvin, who were taken down first, have not quite recovered.

W. H. Young, of North Logan, is reported to be on the afflicted list.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ward, formerly of Logan, now of The Dalles, have another son added to the family list.

L. Funk, assisted by Mrs. Mahala Babler, installed the new officers of Harding Grange on December 4th, and the campaign of 1919 is now on. Five applications were handed in, which looks like a good New Year's resolution.

Some fears are entertained that the freezing weather will injure fall grain.

A good supply of fuel in the woodshed is a satisfaction this kind of weather.

There was a New Year's Eve entertainment given by the young folks of Lower Logan on December 31st. The evening was started with a short program of recitations and solos, after which the floor was cleared of benches, and the games and amusements were enjoyed, even to pinning on the donkey's tail, for which prizes were offered for the closest and farthest away. Luncheon was served at 11 o'clock and then games were played until 12:30. There was an attendance of about 75 and all declared it one of the best times ever held in Logan.

TWILIGHT

Continued cold weather, with mercury hugging the freezing point the past ten days, but more moderate weather for the near future is indicated.

Three of the Scheer and five members of the Lester Montgomery family, late influenza victims, are improving.

G. W. Smith, of Mulino, a brother-in-law of A. H. Harvey, died at his home last Thursday, and was laid away in beautiful Mountain View cemetery the Saturday following. He was nearing his 75th birthday, and had been gradually declining for a year past. His widow alone survives him.

Harry Harvey, a member of the Spruce division, and now located at Vancouver barracks, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Harvey, his uncle and aunt. He is in daily expectancy of his discharge from the service. He says that the great anxiety of all the boys, is their prompt release and early return to civil life.

Some people unknowingly exert a good influence on others without any apparent effort. There is much of this goodly tendency in Mr. W. A. Dods, a member of this community, and now nearing his 73rd birthday.

He is a native of Ohio, dwelt in the distillery city of Louisville, Ky., for a good many years, reaching Oregon a decade later, where he is now residing with his son, Curtis Dods.

Possibly the fact that he is clean of speech, alluding always to others in a kindly way, his system of hand clasp, or his invariable smile as he greets you, accounts for it. Be that as it may, there is something in his presence favorably impressive, and which sends you away with a good taste in your mouth. Cannot more of us emulate this force of contact, in acknowledgement of a virtue that makes men wiser and happier, with the final assurance that the world has been bettered by their presence.

Mrs. Philip King, while in Oregon City Monday, December 30th, had the misfortune to lose War stamps to the value of $50.00. These stamps represented remittances from her son now with the aviation forces of our army in France. Her loss was not discovered until several days later and is the source of much worry to the loser.

The Ladies' Aid entertainment and bazaar at the Community hall New Year's Eve, netted the Red Cross $40.00, and the society for other benevolent purposes, upwards of $20.00 additional. An unusually pleasant time resulted to a capacity house.

STAFFORD

The holidays are now a thing of the past, with family gatherings, extra dinners, of course, and friendly calls over the telephone of "Happy New Year."

The freezing weather has not injured the grain as yet.

Carl Ellegren, who recently returned from Camp McDowell, is at work in the Tualatin saw mill.

Jack Ray, of Tualatin, who had the "flu" a couple of months ago, but has been driving Mr. Routledge's delivery wagon, was again taken with it, maybe a relapse, and has been confined to his room since Saturday.

There are other new cases in that community, but Stafford has escaped as yet.

The Red Cross met on Friday and finished the convalescent robes they had on hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Weddle were welcome visitors at the home of Mrs. Gage this week.

Rudolph Schrader was buried in the family lot on Friday, December 27th, and last Saturday the daughter of the late Ernest Bockman was laid to rest in the Lutheran cemetery by the side of her parents.

Mr. Nussbaum bought a gasoline wood saw of a man who has been engaged in getting out ship knees, and is clearing land and sawing a quantity of wood on the home place.

Mr. Oldham has been improving the frozen by-roads by hauling wood to the rock roads, where he can deliver it at most any place when the rains come. He has about a hundred cords hauled out and piled.

Dick Oldenstadt and August Delkar sold baled straw last week at $12 per ton.

John Gage and family, including his son, Walter, who was home on a 9-days' furlough, visited the old home Saturday, returning to their home at St. Helen's on Sunday. The son had to return to camp on Monday.

Mr. Milem will be obliged to rock his private highway from the road to his garage so he can use his machine.

Mr. Oldham has hauled a number of loads on to the lane leading to his garage, and put new planks in the bridge, to enable him to get out and in with his trucks.

Mr. Frenzel, who keeps the store on the corner, and goes to town every Tuesday, pays 70c per dozen for eggs.

UPPER HIGHLAND

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kandle and Miss H. Chase motored to Oregon City Sunday.

John Schram was in Oregon City Monday to do some repairing on his truck.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hanson and children have left for Washington, where Mr. Hanson works in a logging camp.

Private Albert Martin has received his discharge and has now come home to stay. He was formerly stationed in a spruce camp at Bay Center, Wash. This spruce camp was constructed under the supervision of the Warren Spruce Co. Miss Tillie Martin is visiting with her sister, Mrs. F. Wehrman, of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell motored to Oregon City Monday.

Mrs. L. Martin has been on the sick list for the past few days.

Private Lloyd Schram has received his discharge. He has been to different places while in the army, but most of the time in Vancouver, Wash.

A most delightful time was spent at the Kandle home Saturday evening when a surprise party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kandle, of Mist, Oregon. The evening was spent in dancing and games. Lunch was served at midnight. At a late hour the guests departed. If any one failed to have a good time, we didn't see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Kandle and Miss H. Chase had dinner at the Wallace home Monday evening.

There will be an entertainment and basket social at Upper Highland school Saturday evening, January 18, 1919. The proceeds go partly to the Red Cross and partly to buy a new desk for the school house. The program will consist of three plays: "How a Woman Keeps a Secret," by the 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th grade girls; "How Piggy Wig Built a House," by the 2nd and 3rd grades. There will also be singing and recitations. Everyone is urged to come.

Henriette Bieure is deputy sheriff now and is watching the Clear Creek mill.

The snow and frost are still here. Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kandle called on Mr. and Mrs. North Monday.

Belle and Bonnie McVey resumed their school duties Monday morning. Mrs. B. Rambo and Mrs. Meeker were Oregon City visitors Tuesday.

August Martin, "Grandpa" Wallace, Mrs. J. Wallace, Blanche Rogers and Mrs. B. Rambo motored to Oregon City Tuesday.

W. B. Rambo took some hogs to Oregon City Tuesday.

Ernie Gates and sister, Lorine, and Miss Edna Heft, of Beaver Creek, were the guests of Tillie Martin on Sunday evening.

CHERRYVILLE

Rather unusual weather for western Oregon—clear and cool in January.

Weather prophets, who go by the spleen in butchered hogs, say that the real stormy weather of the winter will be in February and March this year.

Henry Koeh, who lives a mile west of the postoffice, brought in a Gloria Mundi apple that weighed two pounds. These apples generally are quite large, but not of the best quality.

Probably the most extensive pheasant farm in the country is across the Sandy river near Marmot. The owner, Mr. Rapp, is an eastern Oregon wheat rancher, but is devoting his time now mostly in raising pheasants of all the best known varieties like the China Pheasants, Golden and Silver, Imperial, and Ring Necked. He has over 1100 birds on hand, but is shipping birds all over the country, and eggs in season. He lately had 18 tons of wheat shipped in from his ranch. It is well worth a person's time to visit this highly interesting bird farm and see this fine collection of pheasants.

Darwin's doctrine of the survival of the fittest finds good grounds for belief in the results of the Great War, as the old and brutal governments of Germany, Austria and Russia have been cast aside and the liberal, democratic and progressive governments of this country, England and France have been established a thousand times more firmly by the awful ordeal of the battles of the ages. Not only kingly but priestcraft got an awful jolt in the great struggle for equal rights, and the priest-ridden land of Austria, which was completely ruled by priests, is well nigh swept out of existence.

The writer received a pamphlet from Daniel Doan, city attorney of Milwaukee, Wis., entitled "The Failure of Regulation," in which the author proves quite conclusively that the efforts to regulate the trusts, although continued through a number of years and cost the taxpayers an immense amount, has really amounted next to nothing. It unscrambled the Standard Oil trust, but they are paying bigger dividends than ever, and are just as lawless.

It seems almost an endless job to unwind the red tape that holds our boys in camps where they are doing nothing, and are eating their hearts out with anxiety to get home.

James A. Odell sold six fine full-blooded Durham steers at nearly $100 each. They were three years old and stall-fed, and were about the best ever sold from this vicinity.

Mr. Odell has a fine ranch across the Sandy river from the Brightwood schoolhouse. He has a field of nine acres of artichokes, upon which he is wintering fifty-five hogs and shoats. These swine will require no other feed all winter.

And so Teddy has ended his strenuous earthly life. He had his faults like the rest of us, but he certainly was a sincere American and did all things and dared all things to help his countrymen to advance in their career of unparalleled honor and high renown. No one can deny him high courage, unbounded energy, and sincere love of country.

A Seventy-Year-Old Couple. Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Carpenter, Harrisburg, Pa., suffered from kidney trouble. He says: "My wife and I suffered from kidney trouble and had rheumatic pains all through the body. The first few doses of Foley Kidney Pills relieved us, and five bottles entirely cured us. Although we are both in the seventies, we are as vigorous as we were thirty years ago."—Jones Drug Co.

"HOLD YOUR BONDS" IS ADVICE OF OFFICIALS

One of the most important financial conferences ever held in the West has been called for January 17 in San Francisco by Governor James K. Lynch of the Federal Reserve Bank. The principal speaker will be Lewis B. Franklin, director of War Loan Organizations at Washington. Those who will attend the conference include Liberty Loan state chairmen, War Savings state directors and Women state chairmen from California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, Alaska, and Hawaii.

The government's financial program will be explained and particular attention will be given plans to curb the activities of bond brokers who are asking the public to sell their Liberty bonds. "Hold your bonds" is the appeal of the government, not only because selling them now means a sacrifice to original purchasers, but because the government is embarrassed by fall in price due to numerous sales. Sale of bonds of the first four loans will impair the success of the Victory Loan.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is planning a luncheon to honor Franklin the day of the conference.

Governor Lynch has announced the appointment of W. W. Armstrong as chairman of the Utah Liberty Loan committee to succeed Heber J. Grant, recently chosen president of the Mormon church. Armstrong is president of the National Copper Bank in Salt Lake City and chairman of the finance committee of the Utah State Council of Defense.
