Bert Cota, of Timber, Ore., visited his father several days this week.

E. E. Washburn made a trip to Portland Monday.

Several of the neighbors here attended the telephone meeting held at Hoff, Monday.

Nellie Glover and Ruth Carlisle visited Vera Holmes Sunday.

ELWOOD

Monday morning finds the community in general enjoying health and the bright sunshine.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ginther and daughter, Gertrude, were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Ginther's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Vallen.

Harley Freeman, who has been at the home of his sister, Mrs. Rowan, in Colton, caring for the family, who have been ill with influenza, has returned to the home of his mother, Mrs. Freeman, for a few days' stay before going away to work.

George Devore was down from the homestead Sunday, and took dinner at the L. N. Vallen home.

Walter Cox delivered a dresser hog in Oregon City Friday and L. N. Vallen sent six to Portland Wednesday.

Mrs. M. M. Surfas, of Estacada, is visiting a few days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dan Stahlacker.

The party that traded for the Mrs. Annie Anderson place, moved in last week. The neighbors extend them a hearty welcome, and wish them well in their new location.

PARKPLACE

Grange again, week from Saturday, so don't forget. There was a splendid program last month, and there will be a good live program again this month. The new officers will be installed, so don't miss it.

Several ladies enjoyed a nice quilting party at the home of Mrs. Mack Rivers last Friday. Those present were Mrs. A. M. Brayton, Mrs. Witsie, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Babe Moore, Mrs. Coffey and Harriet Davis.

Harriet Davis, of Camas, Wash., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Coffey. She will probably stay for several weeks.

Reva Jones is recovering from the influenza. Mr. Jones had the "flu," but lightly.

Mr. Barnette is moving back to the farm, about a mile and a half from Parkplace. The family has lived on Mr. Brown's place for the past several months. The sick folks are getting better now, and Robert Barnette and Jane Barnette are again teaching.

Mrs. Rayburn took Miss Barnette's room for a week, during her absence. Miss Helen Johnson took the primary room for the second week of Miss Barnette's absence.

EAGLE CREEK

The Woodie Hill road is being cross-laid, which will make it easier to travel over during the rainy season.

All those who were ill with the influenza are improving. Bob and Grace Cahill have returned to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Walter Douglass.

Mrs. J. W. Cahill called on Mrs. Linda Hoffmeister Monday afternoon.

H. S. and R. B. Gibson were Estacada visitors one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douglass and daughter, Florine, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Duns, of Garfield, on Monday.

The Douglass Mutual Telephone company held its annual meeting on Monday evening. The following officers were elected: President, J. P. Woodie, re-elected; vice-president, Walter Douglass; director, Will Douglass, re-elected; secretary and treasurer, H. S. Gibson, re-elected.

Will Douglass, having received word that his brother, Carl Douglass, who has been stationed at Fort Stevens for the past two months, was accidentally killed on Sunday, went to Portland Monday evening to assist his brother-in-law, H. S. Jones, with the removal of the body on its arrival in Portland.

Mrs. Ray Woodie visited with Mrs. R. B. Gibson Monday evening.

MACKSBURG

During the cold spell the pupils of our school have been treated with "hot lunches," and, as it has proved to be successful, they have decided to continue this for the remainder of the term.

Rudolph Etzel has come home after entertaining the "flu" for one week at the St. Vincent's hospital at Portland.

Miss Louise Krause, of Castle Rock, Wash., has returned to the home after working there for some time.

The many friends of Rev. T. Lucas will be glad to hear that he is on the road to recovery and perhaps will be able to take up his duties at the church next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Ganske spent Sunday evening visiting with Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Potratz.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walsh and daughter, of "Paradise Corners," visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kraxberger Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch and son, Arnold, motored up from Oregon City last Sunday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Kraxberger.

Mr. Toba, of Canada, returned to his home after spending several weeks at the Ganske home.

Hans Zenger, of Oregon City, visited with his folks over Sunday.

We are all glad to know that we have the "flu" on the run in our district. At present we have no cases.

UPPER HIGHLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Dane Rutherford were greatly surprised on Saturday evening when a large number of their friends came, laden with various articles, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rutherford. Mr. Dane Rutherford's house having burned during the fore-part of the week, the people had a donation party. Everyone had a pleasant time, old and young. About 45 people were present.

Mrs. Brady Rambo spent Monday with Mrs. C. C. Kandle.

Plans for a good time Saturday evening, January 18, 1919, are progressing in the community. The school children are busy with their parts for the playlets, which are to be presented. The mothers and older sisters are preparing the basket which will sell to the highest bidder. The men are terribly busy earning enough money to purchase the baskets. The time is 8 o'clock, Saturday night, at Upper Highland church.

A number of friends of the Wright family enjoyed a pleasant evening at the dance at the Wright home Saturday evening.

Mr. Hanhart and Mr. Matt Kandle were in the city Monday.

Spring is here, or else it is a false alarm. The pussywillows are showing their faces, the grass is sprouting, the turtle doves are here and in a few days—perhaps months—the radishes and lettuce and onions will be on the tables of the farmers—if it doesn't snow.

Sam Martin is home from the army, honorably discharged.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kandle and the "schoolma'am" spent Sunday evening with the Henry Moehke family at Schubeel.

Rev. R. B. Mason organized a Sunday school here recently.

August Martin and John Martin motored to Oregon City Monday evening.

STAFFORD

The back of the cold spell was broken by Saturday and a little rain has fallen and we realize we are still in dear old Weeford land, and thankful we have lived through the Arctic weather, when the mercury went down to 20 degrees above. We think we hear some denizens of the frost-covered East laugh, thinking we are tenderfeet, but we are surely glad to see the sun shine again, and hear the bees humming.

The "flu" has left the immediate neighborhood of central Stafford severely alone until last week, when several families, among them the Shatz's and Nussbaum's, became ill.

Mrs. Wm. Schatz is afflicted with tonsillitis, which may develop into the dreaded disease, and the son, Will, has it.

The school is again closed, and the rooms are being fumigated.

Mr. Millem and little daughter, on the Hayes' place, are also down with it.

Homer Nussbaum has a bad cold. He and his sister are students at the high school in Willamette, boarding at home, but they are now staying at home on account of the "flu" in the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilke are recovering from the dread disease. Mrs. Holton stayed with them a couple of days last week.

The Red Cross met last Friday and made pajamas.

Carl Elligen strained his side while working at the Tualatin lumber mill, and had to quit work.

Route No. 5 people are all glad that Chester Toozie is back on the route, after a week's sickness.

Mrs. Clark and husband, and Mrs. Gilbert and husband, came from Portland Saturday and visited at Mr. Weddle's, returning to their homes on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Clark is Mrs. Weddle's sister. Members from Stafford attended the Oswego Grange last Saturday and report a pleasant and profitable time. It was their first meeting since October, as the "flu" flew over Oswego, scattering its unwelcome germs, and the little "berg" was closed.

CHERRYVILLE

Mid-winter and no winter yet. Very little hay has been fed to range cattle up to now.

Work has been discontinued at the Brightwood mill on account of the "flu." The mill has gone "floopy."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wall have begun the erection of a new house on their ranch, 5 miles east. This house will be two stories high and is 36x42. Mr. Fray, of Dover, is building it.

War, pestilence and famine seem to be boon companions, as they travel in company. Still, there are some wise statesmen who oppose the ideas of a league of nations and the noble efforts which are being put forth to end all wars. If a couple of neighbors fell out about a line fence and went after one another with machine guns, poison gas, airplanes, etc., people would say they were insane. War is a very stupid and brutal way of settling difficulties. One reason—and the main reason—why wars are started, is that vast fortunes are made out of them and some military men become famous and even the poor survivors are maintained at public cost for killing their fellow-men. One thing we can be proud of is that we have never engaged in a war that we could avoid and our great president is now doing his utmost to do away with war.

The republicans are now boasting that they will sweep the country in 1920. They made the same boast in 1916. If their money holds out they are liable to get in power again as a lavish use of funds will accomplish wonders. Every voting precinct will have a captain with plenty of funds and literature to convert the wavering and doubtful.

Pennsylvania, the Keystone state, founded by the wisdom and benevolence of Wm. Penn, is misrepresented in the U. S. Senate by a couple of hirelings of the U. S. Steel Corporation, Penrose and Knox, who are now doing their best to hinder the idea and league of nations to do away with war—a relic of the dark ages—because they want to go on making guns, war stuffs and shot and shell.

Sin is another name for trouble and nations, like individuals, cannot escape the consequences of their own actions. Germany, having pursued a course of brutality and crime for the period of the war, transgressing all the laws of civilized warfare, must now pay the penalty with a huge indemnity and the loss of a lot of their empire, and the respect and sympathy of mankind.

Ross Marsten, of Gresham, has been visiting with his wife's people, Mr. and Mrs. David Douglas, the past few days. Ross says his father, who also lives in Gresham, has a flock of 500 white, Leghorn hens, from which he is clearing $150.00 a month above all expenses.

Tom Galarneau, who has been employed at a ship yard in Astoria the past season, returned to his claim south of town, this week.

TWILIGHT

There is but one way to maintain friendly relations with your neighbor, treat him justly, which means fairly and honorably. Nothing unreasonable about that.

The new dance hall when erected, will contain a platform or stage projecting out from one side of the building, leaving the entire floor space unobstructed, except by the feet of the dancers.

The lowest temperature noted in this district during the late cold snap was 22 degrees above, which is quite frosty for Oregon.

Ninety per cent of the Huns would not at this time acknowledge defeat, if their hearts could be probed. The failure of the Allies to enter Berlin, reeling off a path of desolation as did the Kaiser, when pressing through Belgium, may yet prove an unfinished procedure.

Mrs. P. S. King and daughter, Rachel, spent Saturday and Sunday with Portland friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bentley paid their respects to Mrs. Blackley, of Oak Grove, the latter's mother, Friday last.

Bert Harvey, a sailor boy from this vicinity, left Mare Island December 14th on the U. S. S. Willamette, arrived New York via Panama, January 9th, as indicated by a telegram received by his parents the 10th.

We have in our neighborhood a man of 55, honest and upright, but slightly peculiar, living alone, unwed, unloved, with no known relatives. A 16-acre ranch oozes out a satisfactory livelihood, and from external indications no worry or trouble, or other burdens weigh him down. If there is anything missing in his past, it is not observable to the average person. This recital is not intended to give rise to dissatisfaction among Courier readers, but rather, to convince old maids that they are not the only pebbles on the beach.

When the absence of certain people at a funeral is noted, it gives rise to a positive proposition, that they will have to knock off a day sometime from their regular task, to attend their own obsequies.

The growing friendship among the Allies is the best evidence of peace. Neither jealousy or avarice ever accomplished much good in a neighborhood.

The Meindl family spent Saturday and Sunday at the old home.

What is more disagreeable than a sock with a hole in the toe.

E. M. Blackley, an uncle of Mrs. L. E. Bentley residing in Vancouver, Washington, was a visitor at the Bentley home over the Sabbath.

Miss Dorothy Dodds has been slightly ailing the past ten days.

The new warden of the penitentiary after but a few days in office, would, from his ravings, believe that building but a fire trap, an Andersonville as to sanitation, and a cold storage of the latest design. My advice to the legislature is, let him forget it. Most prisoners now of our state, enjoy better surroundings than many of our citizens outside.

Mrs. Clara Scheer, wife of Henry Scheer, died in the early morning of January 7th at her home, of influenza, evidently contracted from her two sons, John and Louie, whom she had nursed to almost complete recovery at the time she was attacked. In addition to the above, she leaves another son, Albert, now in France with the army of occupation, and a daughter, Pearl, who faithfully ministered to her mother's comfort through her short illness, and her husband, Henry Scheer. After a short service at the Holman undertaking parlors, the remains were interred at the Canby cemetery Thursday afternoon, January 9th.

Of Local Interest

Some People We Know, and We Will Profit by Hearing About Them.

This is a purely local event. It took place in Oregon City. Not in some faraway place. You are asked to investigate it. Asked to believe a citizen's word. To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at home is more worthy of confidence than one you know nothing about, endorsed by unknown people.

PRINCE ALBERT
the national joy smoke

SAY, you'll have a streak of smokeluck that'll put pep-in-your-smoketomorrow, all right, if you'll ring-in with a jimmy pipe or cigarette papers and nail some Prince Albert for packing!

Just between ourselves, you never will wise-up to high-spot-smoke-joy until you can call a pipe by its first name, then, to hit the peak-of-pleasure you land square on that two-fisted-man-tobacco, Prince Albert!

Well, sir, you'll be so all-fired happy you'll want to get a photograph of yourself breezing up the pipe with your smokethrottle wide open! Talk about smoke-sport! Quality makes Prince Albert so appealing all along the smoke line. Men who never before could smoke a pipe and men who've smoked pipes for years all testify to the delight it hands out! P. A. can't bite or parch! Both are cut out by our exclusive patented process!

Right now while the going's good you get out your old jimmy pipe or the papers and land on some P. A. for what ails your particular smokeappetite!

You buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Toppies red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidor—and that classy, practical round crystal glass humidor with sponge moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

ADKINS' SAW MILL TO START IN NEAR FUTURE

The saw mill in the north end of this city, known locally as the James Adkins Lumber Mill, will probably be started up again after a year's idleness. O. A. Jackson, a lumber man, was in this city Monday making arrangements for the opening of the mill. The sawmill is located on the Willamette river, near the lines of the Southern Pacific, the Willamette Valley Southern and the Portland Railway, Light & Power company. The mill was operated until a year ago by the late James Adkins, who was killed at Canby by an engine.

Petition

A petition for letters of administration has been filed by Daniel H. Purcell in the estate of Mary L. Purcell, deceased. The estate, which is valued at $800, consists of property in Parkplace. There are several heirs to the estate.
