JAIL BARS SAWED; "SLIM" BROWN GONE

OFFICERS THINK OUTSIDE AID
WAS GIVEN MAN HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

C. L. Brown, known as "Slim" Brown, arrested about a week ago on a larceny charge, and who was placed in the county jail here awaiting the action of the grand jury, escaped some time during the night Friday from his cell, and is now at liberty. Two steel bars of the jail window were sawed, allowing him room enough to crawl through. Upon investigation of the officials Friday morning of the window, it is their belief that "Slim" was aided by companions from the outside, as the ground under the cell window showed plainly where the operator of the hack saw sat while sawing the bars of the jail.

Brown is a very elusive customer, and when a warrant was issued for him some time ago on the larceny charge, his friends got word to him before the sheriff could apprehend him. Later, Sheriff Wilson and Deputy Meades captured him in Portland, and brought him to this city, where he has been confined in the county jail up to the time of his escape. Brown, along with Lawrence Forsythe were arrested at the time for breaking into the garage of L. J. Uptgrove, and Forsythe is now out on $100 bail awaiting the action of the grand jury. Brown's bail, after his capture, was fixed at $250, which he was unable to furnish.

ALBRIGHT OUT AGAIN WITH JITNEY PETITION

A petition is being circulated by Jack Albright, formerly on the Oregon City council, asking the city council to call a special election to decide the jitney question, as to whether jitneys shall operate between this city and Portland. The present ordinance compels jitney drivers to put up a bond of $500 to operate between here and Portland. Some time ago, Albright circulated a petition round the city asking that this license be reduced. The license was put into effect some time ago by the city council to protect the jitney line to Mountain View, which the P. R. L. & P. company agreed to keep running if jitneys between this city and Portland would discontinue business. The general sentiment here is in favor of keeping the Mountain View jitney in operation and leaving the present city ordinance alone in regard to the license for jitneys to Portland.

LOWELL KENT DROWNS IN NEW YORK STATE

Mr. and Mrs. John Kent, of Park place, received a telegram Friday notifying them of the drowning of their son, Lowell Kent, in the East River, New York. The young man was stationed with the navy at the above place, and in the word received by the parents from the commanding officer, no particulars were given but stated that a letter would follow immediately giving the details. Lowell Kent was born at Mount Angel, and spent most of his life at Parkplace. He enlisted in the navy about a year ago, and was 24 years of age at the time of his death. At the time of the telegram being sent to the parents, the body had not been recovered. The young man is survived besides his father and mother, of Parkplace, by a sister, Mrs. Fred Steiner, of Gladstone.

SERGEANT KENT WILSON KILLS DEER IN GERMANY

In a letter received Saturday morning by Sheriff Wilson, from his son, Sergeant Kent Wilson, who is now in Germany with the U. S. forces, Kent writes that in one province in Germany, several officers and himself went hunting for big game on one of the game preserves near where they are stationed. He writes that he shot four big deer and one very large wild boar, the other officers getting about eight deer. Kent writes that they were accompanied by about ten Germans, who called the Americans "strikers." Kent has been in the service since the starting of the war, and has been transferred to many places in Europe since arriving on the other side.

Secures Judgment

Mary A. Brazell was given a judgment against W. L. Borthwick in the circuit court Thursday for $1,270 and $100 attorney's fees. A promissory note and a mortgage to secure it had been given by the defendants in May, 1913. The mortgage was ordered foreclosed and the property sold to satisfy the claim of the plaintiff.

ADDRESS BY PIPER POST- PONED FOR LATER DATE

The address to be given by Edgar B. Piper, managing editor of The Oregonian, to the mill employees of the Crown Willamette company at Mill A., today (Thursday), has been postponed on account of the death of H. L. Pittock, publisher of the Oregonian. The Live Wire organization from this city had intended to attend the address in a body, and will do so when Mr. Piper is able to fill the engagement at a later date.

Sues Creamery Company

Ross Nicholas, charging that he has never been paid for some cream sold the defendants, has filed suit here against the Clear Creek Creamery company. He claims that the cream, which was worth $49.76, was delivered between May 25 and June 27, 1918, and that he has never been paid by the company.

DR. CLYDE MOUNT HEADS LIVE WIRES

CHANCE FOR $60,000 FEDERAL BUILDING SOON, REPORTS
M'BAIN AT MEETING

At the meeting of the Live Wires Tuesday noon in the Commercial club parlors, an election of officers took place to serve for the next six months, according to the custom of the organization. Dr. Clyde Mount was elected "Main Trunk;" Dr. L. A. Morris, "Sub-Trunk;" Theodore Osmond, "Transmission Wire;" Raymond Caulfield, "Guy Wire;" A. A. Price, "Feed Wire;" Rev. W. T. Milliken, of the First Baptist church of this city, was elected chaplain of the organization.

B. T. McBain, who has been chairman of a committee from the Wires to secure a new federal building, made a report, and said that after seven years of active work by the committee and after having had four public building bills affecting Oregon City presented to congress "die on the way" to the executive mansion, some hope is now in sight for the new building. Congressman Hawley has introduced a bill in congress appropriating $60,000 for a building here, and now looks like Oregon City will finally get the building.

Some road matters were discussed at the meeting, and a report by Dr. Roy A. Prudden, chairman of the drive for funds for the relief of sufferers in the Far East, which will commence in this county February 17, was read. Dr. Prudden claims that all was in readiness for the drive, and that the committee expected to raise the quota for Clackamas county during the first few days of the drive.

PART OF MELDRUM PLACE SOLD TO PORTLAND WOMAN

A tract of land situated near Glen Echo and north of Fern Ridge station on the P. R. L. & P. line near here, was purchased by Mrs. D. P. Thompson, of Portland, from Mr. and Mrs. John W. Meldrum Friday. The land consists of 39.01 acres, and is one of the most beautiful tracts of land along the electric line between this city and Portland. It is the intention of the new owner to clear all of the small underbrush and rubbish off the land and beautify the grounds, later dedicating the tract for a public park. A children's play ground will be one of the features of the park, and the beautiful fir trees will serve as places for large swings and hammocks. A fine spring, which flows water the year round, is on the land, and lying as it does next to the public highway on the west side and the electric line on the east side, makes the grounds more than desirable for the park. The land is part of the old Peter M. Rinearson D. L. C., and is in township 2 South, range 2 East. Many purchasers have asked Mr. and Mrs. Meldrum, during the last few years, to sell this piece of land, but up to Friday it had always been the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Meldrum to erect a fine home on the grounds. Out of the entire holdings of the tract, Mr. and Mrs. Meldrum have retained 60 acres and their home, a large part of the reserved tract being along the Willamette river. Mr. Meldrum is one of the early Oregon pioneers, and the Meldrums have resided at Meldrum station for many years. According to the revenue stamps on the deed, $20,000 was paid for the 39 acres.

ASKS BRIDE-TO-BE FOR REFUND OF CAR FARE

Suit was entered here in the circuit court by Dmytro Mateczki against Katie Zelazkowski to recover the sum of $70, which the plaintiff paid in car fare from Toronto, Canada, to Portland. In the complaint, Zelazkowski alleges that the defendant promised to marry him upon his arrival from Canada, and in the event that the marriage did not materialize, she was to refund him the amount of railroad fare from that place. He claims that he came to Portland for this purpose, and that later she refused to enter into marriage with him, so he now asks the court to allow him the $70 paid out in railroad fare one way from Canada.

26TH ANNIVERSARY OF RED MEN TO BE HELD

The local order of Red Men are to hold their 26th anniversary in the near future, and plans are being made for one of the biggest celebrations ever given by the Wacheno Tribe. The great council from Portland will attend the affair. A committee to have charge of arrangements was appointed at a meeting of the lodge Thursday night, with W. L. Little, chairman, and Frank Koenig and L. A. Noble, Jr., as members.

HASTE URGED IN ARMENIAN DRIVE

DR. ROY PRUDDEN, CHAIRMAN,
ADVISED OF GREAT NEED OF EASTERN PEOPLE

COUNTY QUOTA IS $5,500

Armenian City Has 10,000 Starving
Women and Children; Drive
On From Feb. 17-24

Dr. Roy A. Prudden, chairman of the county committee for raising funds for relief of the suffering people in the Far East, is receiving many telegrams over the country urging the hasty canvas of the county, so that funds will be available quickly for the suffering people. The quota for Clackamas county is set at $5,500, and the committee claims that they will try to raise this amount the first day of the drive. The drive starts February 17, and ends February 24, but judging by former drives in the Liberty loans, this amount will be raised quickly in this county and the money dispatched immediately to the national committee.

Those informed as to the conditions in the Near East, claim that over 10,000 women and children in one city alone are suffering from want, and that their condition is pitiable. Telegrams and cablegrams are pouring into the national headquarters asking that the money to save the lives of the starving and destitute people of the Near East be raised quickly. It is authentically reported that in Asia Minor of 2,000,000 deported Armenians collected at railway stations hoping to return to their homes, only about 400,000 will survive from starvation. Most of them are practically unclad, both women and children unlike.

It is the duty of every citizen in this county, who has enough to eat and who lives in the land of plenty, to go down in his pocket and subscribe to this fund. Remember, what would you think if being in the same condition and no help was forthcoming from a civilized nation which had plenty and to spare?

Remember the date that starts the drive—FEBRUARY 17—and go down in your pocket and give as many dollars as you are able. If you receive no credit from your fellow man, your conscience will tell you that you have done the right thing.

ROOMER AT ELECTRIC ANNEX FALLS—INJURED

Ellis Donovan, a roomer at the Electric Annex at Sixth and Main streets here, met with a very serious accident Monday afternoon when he attempted to jump across a sky light of the J. C. Penney store below his room. Donovan had lost his room key, and in order to get into his room, made his way to the bath room of the Annex and attempted to make his way to the room across the sky light of the Penney store. He missed his footing, and fell through the glass to the floor below, lighting in the middle of the department store unconscious.

It being a very busy hour in the department store, Donovan created considerable excitement among the clerks and customers in the store at the time, when he crashed through the roof amid falling debris and glass. He was removed to the offices of Dr. C. A. Stewart, where, upon examination, the doctor found that he was suffering from a gash in the head and several other bruises. He is resting easily today. Donovan came to this city from Lebanon, and is employed in the paper mills here.

HIGH WATER ENDS RIDE OF PORTLAND COUPLES

A joy ride of two young Portland couples in a stolen Cole machine, was brought to a sudden end Thursday night when the car was driven into the four feet of water that covered the paved road between this city and Parkplace. The two men and two girls in the car, which was stolen from Dr. James Sprout, of Portland, started out early in the evening from Portland, and, unaware of the high water on the road near this city, drove into it and filled the car with water, stopping the machine.

The young people were forced to wade through the water on to higher ground. The two men, fearing that their theft would be discovered, deserted the girls, who went to the St. Agnes Baby Home nearby to ask permission to dry their clothes. The sisters at the Home took the girls to the interurban car line after their clothes were dried. The car was recovered the following morning by Deputy Sheriff H. H. Hughes, and turned over to the owner.

On account of the present epidemic of influenza, the debate between the Estacada and Oregon City high school debating teams scheduled at Estacada Friday, has been cancelled.

YOUNG MAN AGAIN IN REFORM SCHOOL

JOE HROVAT ADMITS ROBBERING OF ZEDIKER HOME AND BRADY'S STORE

Joe Hrovat, aged 15 years, was taken in charge by Sheriff Wilson and Chief Woodward Tuesday, charged with stealing jewelry and other articles from the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Zediker, of the Kansas City neighborhood, who reside close to the lad's house. The Zediker home was entered some time Monday night while Mrs. Zediker was confined in the hospital and Mr. Zediker was in Portland. Two gold watches and a number of rings were stolen from the house, and complaint was made to Sheriff Wilson and Chief Woodward. The officers suspected Joe Hrovat, as he has twice been confined in the reform school at Salem and later released on good behavior. Going to the Hrovat home, the officers inquired for Joe, and learned that the lad was away.

Shortly after leaving the place, the officers met the boy on the street, and after questioning him, were convinced that he had the right party. The officers and the lad returned to the Hrovat home for the purpose of searching the premises for the stolen goods. Upon entering the house, they were met by Mrs. Hrovat, the lad's mother, who called the officers vile names and otherwise abused them. After a search of a few minutes, the officers found under the lad's bed the stolen jewelry, besides many packages of tobacco and cigarettes. The lad was brought before Deputy District Attorney Burke, where, upon close questioning, he confessed to the robbery of the Zediker home, and also to the robbery of the Brady Mercantile company's store a few nights ago, when a quantity of cigars, tobacco and cigarettes were stolen. The lad claimed that he entered the Brady establishment through the chicken house at the rear of the store in the night, but did not remember the time of night that he entered the Zediker home Monday night.

He was committed to the state reform school at Salem Wednesday, along with Donald Brown, who was a former inmate of the school. Other boys of this neighborhood are implicated in the Brady robbery, and the officers claim that they will have them rounded up by the end of the week.

BOYS CAUSE TROUBLE; SENT TO REFORMATORY

Joe Hrovat, arrested a few days ago for burglary, and Donald Brown, both former inmates of the reform school, were again committed to that institution by the authorities here yesterday. Donald Brown had been in trouble with the city officers before, and Tuesday night he was ordered off the streets after curfew had sounded, but later appeared and was taken up by the officers, along with George Murphy and George McGinnis, who had been warned to go home the same evening. All of them were placed in jail over night, when they made their second appearance on the streets the same evening after the warning. It being the first offense for Murphy and McGinnis, they were released. The officials here are resolved to clear the streets at night of young lads who are continually making mischief, as many petty robberies have occurred during the past month, which have caused the officers considerable trouble. They warn all young men to see that they are in their homes when the curfew rings, at 8 o'clock at night.

MILWAUKIE SCHOOL DONATES $31.46 FOR BELGIAN RELIEF

A check for $31.46 to aid in the Belgian and French Baby Relief work has been received by Mrs. Rosina Fouts Evans, chairman of the Women's Division of the State Council of Defense for this county, from the Milwaukee grammar school. The money was obtained at an entertainment given by the school under the direction of Mrs. Emilie Shaw and the other teachers. Clackamas county has turned over $550 for this relief work, most of which has been collected in the bottles placed around town.

JUDGE SEIVERS TAKES DOWN WITH THE "FLU"

John N. Seivers, justice of the peace for this district, was taken suddenly ill with influenza yesterday, and is now confined at his home in Gladstone in a critical condition. Mr. Seivers, accompanied by C. W. Robey, visited the former's ranch near Sandy last Sunday, and upon arriving at the ranch, found that the caretaker of the place had been down with the disease. It is thought that the judge contracted the disease at that time.

Forfeits Bail

A man, giving his name as John Doe, arrested here Saturday night for drunkenness by Night Officer Surflus, failed to appear for trial Monday and forfeited his $20 bail.

INFLUENZA RULES GIVEN IN DETAIL

STATE HEALTH OFFICER SEELY
TELLS HOW DISEASE
MAY BE SPREAD

PATIENT MUST BE ISOLATED

Eating and Drinking Utensils Factors in Carrying Disease; Thorough
Boiling of These Necessary

In a bulletin sent out by A. C. Seely, state health officer, to the county and city health officers of the state, the following recommendations are made, and also showing how the disease acts and its cause. The state health department has made an exhaustive study of the epidemic, and in the bulletin tells how the spread of the disease can be prevented to a certain extent. The letter to all county and city health officers follows in part.

"A careful analysis of all data obtainable in regard to the present epidemic shows the following striking features, from which most valuable deductions can be drawn in considering control measures:

"Three days after an unusual gathering of people there is an increase in the number of cases reported. Thus, every Tuesday is high following Saturday and Sunday minglings; the 28th of December was high following Christmas; the 3rd and 4th of January were high following New Year's festivities. Therefore there should be no unnecessary or unusual gatherings. Of gatherings, dances constitute the greatest number of cases. Dances therefore should be prohibited during the epidemic.

"The waves of the epidemic run in about three week intervals. A study of the causes of this and the matter of carriers, indicate that many cases remain carriers for a period of two or three weeks. The greatest number of severe cases during a wave are able to be up and around in about three weeks and are unconsciously spreading disease, causing the next wave. Therefore, in addition to the ten days quarantine, each recovered case should wear a mask for a period of two or three weeks in the presence of unexposed persons, and all persons coming in close contact with the sick should wear masks. Masks, to be effective, should be sufficiently large to completely cover the nose and mouth. They should have at least eight layers of gauze and should be sterilized after three hours use. Sterilizing is easily accomplished by dropping the mask in boiling water for ten minutes.

"It has been discovered that the disease is being spread to a greater extent than has been realized by utensils used in eating and drinking. Therefore all dishes, cups, glasses, knives and forks, etc., used in eating or drinking in all public places, and in all private homes or public institutions wherever there are cases of influenza, should be thoroughly sterilized by boiling 15 minutes.

"The modified quarantine, in addition to the mask provision and the sterilization of utensils, consists of a strict isolation of the patient and attendants for a period of ten days following the resumption of normal temperature. Members of the household NOT in contact with the sick are not quarantined. The house must be placarded. Release from quarantine is only by direction of the health officer. The matter of closure is left for each community to decide for itself, except in the matter of dance halls and such places of amusement or public gatherings that are not properly ventilated."

LAWRENCE MARTIN FORD DROWNS IN IDAHO LAKE

News of the drowning of Lawrence Martin Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Ford, of this city, and a resident of this city until three years ago, has been received here. The young man was fishing on January 15 in the Pen D'Oreille lake, near Bay View, Idaho, and was accidentally drowned. He was born in Clackamas county, October 16, 1884, and lived here until 1915, when he moved to Idaho, where he was married to Miss Josephine Boyd, of Kellogg. He leaves his widow, of Idaho; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Ford, a sister, Miss Mabel Ford; two brothers, Eugene and Elmer Ford, all of Oregon City.

It consists of every printed article that he has been able to secure on the subject of the Spanish-American war. These articles have been bound into books, and the work of collecting them has been carried on for many years by Mr. Thompson, and his late mother, Mrs. M. M. Thompson. Mr. Thompson has more than 100 volumes of the articles now, and considers his collection as priceless.

H. L. PITTOCK ONE OF OREGON'S BIG MEN

DEATH OF VETERAN PUBLISHER OF OREGONIAN MOURNED
THROUGHOUT STATE

With the passing away of H. L. Pittock, veteran publisher of The Oregonian, Tuesday evening, Oregon loses one of its best citizens and brilliant business men. He came to Oregon in the pioneer days when a young man, and after years of effort and close attention to business, built up one of the country's foremost dailies—The Oregonian—recognized over the state as a real upbuilding factor for the betterment of Oregon.

Henry L. Pittock died at the age of 84 years, and died with the fine record of being 65 years in harness. He learned the printer's trade in his father's shop, and lived in Pittsburgh at the time. He was attracted to Oregon when a young man by letters published from Oregon in the Pittsburg Leader, a paper established by his brother, John W., at that time. The letters told of wonderful opportunities in Portland, and in the summer of 1853, at the age of 18, he joined an immigrant party for Oregon, accompanied by his brother. After many efforts to get employment, he was finally engaged by Thomas A. Dryer, then publisher of the Weekly Oregonian, for six months' trial, the compensation being his board and clothes. After the six months, Mr. Pittock so demonstrated his ability that he was given a steady situation at a salary of $900 per year, later getting the printers' scale.

During the campaign of 1860, Mr. Dryer became a candidate for president elector, and the paper was turned over to Mr. Pittock under a lease. Later, Mr. Pittock bought the paper and started the first daily then on this coast, The Oregonian. Many times during Mr. Pittock's career as publisher of the Oregonian, he was hard pressed to make the paper pay, but today the result of his early efforts and "stick-to-it" trait of his character has not only made him financially independent, but also covered him with glory and reward.

Mr. Pittock was interested in many business ventures—he was one of the first organizers of the Crown Willamette Paper company of this city, and later helped to organize the mills at Camas, Wash.

At the time of his death, he was surrounded at his bedside by his family and many loving friends. The whole of Oregon today is saddened by the passing away of Henry L. Pittock, successful business man, an up-builder of Oregon, and a kind and generous man.

HIGH WATER CAUSES SOME LITTLE DAMAGE

Owing to the recent heavy rains, the Willamette river at this place has risen to such an extent that over 300 men employed by the Crown-Willamette Paper company have been thrown out of employment. Most of the workmen were employed in the pulp and wood mill. The mill proper is still in operation, but the water is so high that it is dashing against the building. The river raised Friday night about 12 inches, and it was believed that the water would raise still higher. Mill A. of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company has been closed, and although the water was quite high around the plant, the foundation of the building withstood the pressure. In many places, especially around Gladstone and Parkplace, the river overran the banks and flooded the surrounding territory. The road leading from Parkplace to the Abernathy was flooded with water and travel was suspended along this route. In some places, the water was over the fences along the road. Many homes in this territory had basements flooded, and in many cases surrounded with water. The water at this writing has receded and travel has been resumed on the Oregon City-Parkplace road.

TWO COMMITTED TO STATE ASYLUM FROM THIS CITY

Carl Erickson, of Falls View, was committed to the insane asylum and taken to Salem Monday after an examination by Dr. C. H. Meisner. The man suffers from the delusion that strangers are following him and hypnotizing him. J. Norgreen, taken into custody Saturday by Night Officer Surflus, was also taken to the asylum Monday. He escaped from the institution early in the month and has been in Washington since that time. He asked for a bed in the jail, admitted that he had escaped from the asylum, and told the officer that he expected that he would have to go back.

In Probate

Letters for the administration of the estate of Roy A. Hussey have been filed by James Hussey in the probate court here. The estate consists of real property in this county, and the petitioner wants it sold at private sale. Frank Thebo filed for probate the estate of Corn E. Thebo, Thursday. The estate consists of real property in Clackamas county, and is valued at $8,000. There are several heirs.
