

Fewer Eggs are required with ROYAL BAKING POWDER

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced with excellent results by using an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon for each egg omitted. The following recipe is a practical example:

Chocolate Sponge Roll

1/4 cups flour
1/2 cup hot water
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 squares melted chocolate

1 tablespoon melted shortening
1/2 cup hot water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder

The old method called for 4 eggs and no baking powder

DIRECTIONS—Sift flour, baking powder and salt together three times. Beat whole eggs. Add slowly sugar, then boiling water slowly; add next vanilla, melted chocolate and melted shortening, without beating. Sift in dry ingredients, and fold in as lightly as possible. Pour into large baking pan lined with oiled paper, and bake in slow oven twenty minutes. When done, turn out on a damp, hot cloth, spread with white icing and roll.

THE FASHIONS

Paris fashions have begun to arrive in New York.

Enough of these models have come safely through the perilous trip across the Atlantic to give us an idea of the Parisian decree as to what shall be worn this spring and summer.

Whether the silhouette would be straight, oval or "barrel" is the question that most women have been anxious to have settled. It would be so maddening to find that Paris had voted in favor of the barrel silhouette when you had finally decided upon a straight-line frock for Easter, and vice versa.

Fortunately, the French houses have been in favor of all three silhouettes, so the choice rests with the individual, and no one having elected to appear either slender or slightly puffed out around the hips will be in any danger of not being correctly dressed. Certainly, the fashions are most accommodating, in so far as they allow one the choice of so many different styles.

The soft drapery in skirts is a feature much in evidence among the new gowns. There are also some tunics, the lovers of this graceful style will be glad to know. Drapery is one of the means of accomplishing the oval silhouette with the skirt narrowing down at the hem and plenty of fullness about the waist and hips.

The Width and Length of Skirts
There is no rule about the width or the length of skirts, for they vary according to the caprice of the designer. Some skirts are as narrow as a yard at the hem, while others are as wide as three yards. It is just the same with the lengths of skirts. While some reach the ankles, the shoe-top length and even shorter is used in other models. Skirts for street wear are for the most part inclined to be narrow. In evening gowns, the puffed effect of skirts looped under to a narrower foundation is used to a great extent, and this same effect also appears here and there among the afternoon gowns.

Pockets have not been discarded by any means, nor is there any evidence of a lack of inspiration for new ways of fashioning them.

Embroidery is still the order of the day, and the more Oriental looking the more stylish it will be. Another form of decoration much in use is the heavy machine stitching applied either in rows upon rows or in fancy designs. This is such a simple trimming for women to copy that its popularity is assured. On woolen material, a heavy silk like that used for crocheting is used at the top of the machine with ordinary sewing silk at the bottom. The stitching should be as large as the machine will allow, and the needle must necessarily be very large. When this stitching is used on linen or heavy cotton fabrics, a heavy mercerized cotton is used instead of silk.

The Revival of Foulard

As to materials, it is particularly interesting to note the revival of foulard, an ideal silk for spring and summer. It is used very freely, especially in the dotted design so well known. Coin dots of all sizes and colors appear in many silks. Satin, taffeta, crepe meteor, chiffon and Georgette are the smart materials of the season for afternoon frocks, and the diaphanous tulle, nets and laces are used for the evening gown. Black-and-white combinations are used in the development of some of the most charming evening gowns.

For day wear the most prominent colors are sand, beige, navy blue and sulphur. There are many attractive combinations such as dark blue or black with red, tan with light blue or rose, and navy blue with green. The dotted materials, which are very prominent, are usually combined with a plain color matching the background of the dotted fabric.

The sketch shows a summery frock of fine white voile with flouncing forming the side tunics and the vest-like front of the waist. A ribbon girdle supplies the color note in this dainty all-white frock. A narrow ribbon of the same color as the girdle holds in the soft gathered puff of the undersleeve at the wrists. Cut machine stitching is the finish used for the collar and vest, as well as the edges of the sleeves.

Suit is Dismissed

G. M. Causey, suing under the name of the Pacific Soda works to collect a bill of goods delivered to W. E. Mumpower, Monday moved the dismissal of the action from Judge Campbell's court. The motion was granted without prejudice.

AMERICA READY IN WAR FINANCE

Experience of Europe Aids the United States.

WARRING COUNTRIES SOUND

Credit of France and England, In Spite of Severe Strain, Is Still on Solid Basis.

The United States, through the experience of the warring European powers, has acquired a tremendous fund of preparedness information. Americans who have served with the European armies and navies have made available to us their valuable experience in the world war.

In the less spectacular, although hardly less important, phase of the struggle, war financing, this country has also had skilled observers. It has not been necessary for them to visit the scene of the struggle. In a way the scene of the struggle has come to them. Much of the planning of the financial side of the war has taken place within shadow of Trinity Church in lower Broadway, New York.

America World Financial Leader.
By reason of America's newly acquired leadership in the world's finances, we know how Europe has financed herself to meet the strain of her tremendous struggle. Money is the sinews of war. We know how Europe has kept her sinews pliant and efficient. America, therefore, is in a much better position than we were at the beginning of any of the five wars which brought us face to face with weighty economic, financial and social problems.

The banks and trust companies of this country, through which Europe has conducted much of her war financing, are at one with the nation's industries, in affording the government the resources with which to meet the eventualities of war. For example, the Guaranty Trust Company of New York has recently reduced to book form its fund of information on war financing. In a pamphlet entitled "War Loans and the United States," there is some rather striking information. "The United States now holds approximately thirty per cent of the world's supply, it points out. This is an increase of thirty-six per cent over the amount held by this country in 1914, and upon us is thrown the obligation of employing it intelligently. We are discharging this obligation by using it as a basis for foreign loans and the extension of credit."

Warring Nations Financially Strong.
Facing, as we do, the possibility of floating in this country, not only European war loans, but also loans of our own, it is comforting to realize that the financial strength of Great Britain and France has not been affected in the slightest degree by the tremendous strain to which it has been subjected in the last two years and a half. The wealth and resources of both countries are so enormous that there is no probability of loss through loans to their governments. With all our tremendous resources and our present store of gold we may look upon the possibility of a bond issue to meet the expenses of war with much optimism.

SEED CLEARING HOUSE

Emergency Measures Taken and College to Distribute Oregon Seeds

The crop crisis has forced the Oregon agricultural college to undertake the collection and distribution of Oregon seeds suited to the late, wet spring. Planting is late and must be done with early maturing varieties if the crops succeed. These varieties are largely in the state but often not in possession of the farmer, who doesn't know where or how to get them.

The college, through cooperation with the press, hopes to be able to get this necessary information to them at once.

Farmers, warehousemen, market-associations and seed companies having seed of early spring wheat, barley, oats, rye, silage corn, grain corn or beans, or seed of buckwheat, kale or root crops, are urged to report to the college at Corvallis by first mail the variety, quality, quantity and price. Farmers and others unable to get the right seed from their regular dealers should report their needs to the college at once.

For western Oregon list Red Fife, Marquis, Red Houston, Minnesota Wonder and Defiance wheat; Hannah and Oderbrucker barley; Shadeland Climax, Three Grain and Victory oats; Minnesota No. 13, Oregon Dent, Pride of the North, Golden Glow, Hartman silage corn; Minnesota No. 23, Oregon Dent, Hartman and other early Dent varieties; Lady Washington, Mexican Tree or Mexican Wonder or any other early varieties of white or colored bean.

It is essential that every available acre be planted. With the lateness of the season and the extreme wet planting period, early varieties are especially in demand.

OREGON CITY LOSES

Next Sunday Pigeon Shooters Will Meet La Grande Team

The opening matches of the Columbia-Willamette Trapshooters' association were shot Sunday, and some mighty good scores were turned in by a majority of the clubs. The Woodburn Gun club led the field with 121 bluerocks out of a possible 125, and in making the record La Grande was defeated, 121 to 112.

Astoria's representatives who are battling for one of the Oregonian trophies surprised the wisecracks by breaking 117, and by so doing the Round-Up Gun club men of Pendleton were forced to accept their first defeat of the season by eight birds. Very little opposition was afforded the Capital Gun club of Salem in trimming the Canemah Gun club of Oregon City, 114 to 95. Oregon City men Sunday shot at 125 clay pigeons and broke 95 of that number.

The Oregon City delegation has not been able to get going as yet. Albany, the seventh member of the Columbia-Willamette Trapshooters' association, was idle, but the schedule calls for Astoria as the opposition next time.

Individual honors went to two Woodburn Gun club members. Charley Leith, who says that he has seven perfect scores left in his gun, and Peter Whitney, a teammate, each smashed 25 out of the 25 presented to them. All the bluerocks were difficult ones and the two nimrods expect to do just as well in registered tournaments this season.

The schedule for next Sunday calls for Oregon City meeting at La Grande, Woodburn vs. Salem and Astoria vs. Albany, with Pendleton remaining idle.

SUGAR BEETS URGED

Farmers in Many Parts of State Interested by Corporation

Alex Nibley, representing the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, operating a big factory at Grants Pass, with W. J. Olsen, field superintendent of the Willamette valley, and W. S. Campbell, local representative, were in Corvallis last week seeking to interest farmers in the raising of the sugar beet.

The company is prepared to pay a good price for beets, will furnish labor, in fact do anything the farmer wants done if he will grow beets. These men say beets are money makers, point to the record in Utah and Idaho, and even Holland, where they have 64 factories. The price is $6.50 a ton, and at least 15 tons can be raised to the acre.

A meeting was held by the visitors and many of the farmers are at least nibbling. At Independence they nibbled to the extent of 1200 acres. These men believe the valley bottom land will produce wonderful crops of good beets. Independence beets dug in January showed a 15 per cent sugar content.

Positive Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves Suffering.

Bridgeton, N.J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for inflammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terrible pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miserable that I could not sweep a room. I doctored part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt a change for the better. I took it until I was in good healthy condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedies to all women as I have used them with such good results."—Mrs. MILDRED T. CUMMINGS, 322 Harmony St., Penn's Grove, N.J.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence of the excellence of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the distressing ills of women such as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, backache, painful periods, nervousness and kindred ailments.

had the misfortune to suffer permanent injuries are still rendering acceptable service and earning better wages than they received before they were injured.

This interesting statement is issued by the Southern Pacific company as proof of the sympathetic consideration shown to members of its big family. It shows further that even in this era of strenuous competition for daily bread, a place of usefulness and happiness may still be found for the man who has his courage left to take advantage of the helping hand extended to him.

There are 308 employees of the crippled class now in the Southern Pacific company's service, and of these 43 or 144 per cent have risen in grade, and 115 or 37 per cent have retained their original positions in the service. There are 123 earning more pay than before injury, and 92 receiving the same salary. Most of the injuries caused amputation for arm or leg, though many brought impairment or loss of vision.

The railroad company's aim is wherever possible to retain an injured employee in service, thus encouraging his ambition and giving him the opportunity to continue as a wage earner and support those dependent upon him.

Song of the Railroad Man

We are the wings of the Eagle, spread to the scarlet sky.
Sturdy and fearless, we speed along, heading our Master's cry.
The Eagle's beak is the army—the navy its curving claws.
And both may fight through day and night, and the wings will never pause.

We are the wings of the Eagle and our steel-lined tips are spread from shore to shore where the oceans roar, from north to the Gulf stream's bed.

Let the soldier look to his rifle, and the sailor look to the sea, and what they need, with an eagle's speed be sure they will get from me.

We are the wings of the Eagle, flecked with our labor's foam; With freight and mail we blazed the trail for a mighty nation's home.

As in peace we have been your servant, so in war we will be your slave, And our wings will hum and our pulses drum till the flags of freedom wave.

We are the wings of the Eagle, eager to prove our worth, Fitted by skill to do your will with the best trained men on earth. Then load us up with the burden and fire the opening gun, And remember, Sam, the railroad man is ever your loyal son.

Remember the Good Roads Rally
Governor Withycombe and Highway Commissioners Benson, Thompson and Adams are included in the list of speakers for the state-wide good roads rally to be held in Portland, Saturday, April 28. The committee in charge of the gathering also plans to have five-minute talks by a number of mayors from various Oregon cities.

Representation at the meeting will be unlimited. Every club and organization throughout the state that is interested in good roads and is favorable to the road bond bill has been invited to send as many representatives as find it possible to attend the rally.

The railroads have granted a special rate of one and one third fare for the round trip, based on the certificate plan, for those attending the meeting. Reports from throughout the state indicate that the attendance will be large.

GRANGE REVERSES

Once Disapproved Bond Issue, Milwaukee Comes Back Approving

The Milwaukee grange has reversed itself on the proposed $6,000,000 bond issue and has gone against the grain of State Grange Master C. E. Spence in approving unqualifiedly the proposal. The last resolution says that a small number of the members of the grange met and disapproved the bond issue in defiance of the views of the majority so that the following resolution is taken as the sentiment of the majority:

Whereas, At a meeting of Milwaukee grange No. 268 held on the 17th day of March, 1917, a resolution was passed opposing the proposed $6,000,000 road bond issue, and

Whereas, There was only a small attendance present at the said meeting, and

Whereas, The said resolution was rather hastily considered and

Whereas, After a more thorough consideration of the matter, we are convinced that a favorable vote on the bond issue will be a step in the line of progress,

Therefore, Be it resolved that we favor the bond issue.

Machine Packs Silage

A machine for packing silage in a silo has been invented and tried out by an Iowa farmer. This mechanical packer, described in the May Popular Mechanics magazine, does away with the disagreeable task of tramping the feed down with the feet. It also does the work much more satisfactorily, for the machine weighs a ton and is able to pack the silage close to the wall as thoroughly as in the center. The looseness of the material around the edges, which often results when silage is packed by tramping, is a source of considerable loss because the air gets into the fodder and causes it to spoil. This machine is equipped with a heavy cone-shaped roller whose length is about equal to half the diameter of a silo. It is driven in a circular course by a gasoline engine mounted on the supporting frame. The packer can be quickly knocked down into parts, few of which weigh more than 100 lb., so that they can be lowered down the silo chute.

Daughter in Terrible Shape

Women bear troubles more bravely than men. They smile and suffer pain uncomplainingly where a man demands a doctor and nurse. A Mitchell, Bagdad, Ky., writes: "My daughter was in terrible shape with kidney trouble. I got her to take Foley Kidney Pills and she is completely cured." Aching back, sore muscles, stiff joints, shooting pains in sides, rheumatic aches, are indications that the kidneys are not working properly. Foley Kidney Pills correct bladder troubles.—Jones Drug Co.
