

PARKPLACE

Grange meeting Saturday at one o'clock. There will be a good program. A lecturer will give an interesting talk on the wonders of electricity. There will be a musical program in addition.

Mrs. Porter of Gladstone entertained Mrs. Branton and Mrs. Burnett of Parkplace Wednesday. Mr. Pope took the ladies over in his machine and they had a very good time.

By the way, Mr. Pope has a new machine. We don't know and seem to be unable to find out what he did with his old one. If anyone finds rubber in his sausage he can tell where some of it came from.

Vera Hendricks, who has been employed in C. H. Dye's office for some time, is now working in Portland. She is employed by Wadhams and Kerr of Portland, and will come home Saturday afternoon and spend the week-end with her parents, who live here.

Mr. Radtke, who recently bought the Davenport place, is cutting down all those beautiful oak trees, and report has it that he will plant fruit trees there. They will do more good surely, but those oaks were beauties.

Mrs. Fellows returned to her home this week. She has been visiting her niece, who lives in Oswego.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown made a short visit to their home, coming on Sunday and returning Tuesday.

Mrs. Graves was an all-day visitor at the home of Mrs. Anna Rath Thursday.

Our singing school is progressing finely with 21 scholars.

Mrs. Lena Wallace and Mrs. Anna Rath and daughter were visiting friends in Portland late last week.

The Sunday school missionary of Salem preached at the M. E. church to a large crowd on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kandle entertained Mr. and Mrs. McNaught and daughter at dinner Sunday.

Attorney Smith of Spokane, Wash., was at the home of M. E. Kandle on business Saturday.

Miss Anna Schmidt of Portland was visiting at the home of her parents over Sunday.

KIDD LOSES SUIT

Extra Money for Fly Creek Job Will Not be Paid on Contract

W. B. Kidd, contractor on the Fly Creek cutoff road work for the county, Monday failed at an attempt to collect $876 from the county court for extra work on the contract. Kidd sued the county some time ago on a charge that plans for the work furnished to him by County Engineer S. A. Cobb were wrong and necessitated much extra work. District Attorney Hedges filed a demurrer to the complaint and Monday Judge Campbell sustained the demurrer and Mr. Kidd's case was lost.

In his argument to the court District Attorney Hedges pointed out that the county engineer had no power to contract without the authority of the county court and that such authority was not given for the extra work on the cutoff. The Fly Creek job is just south of Oregon City and is a part of the Pacific highway out of this city.

JAIL FOR PAIR

Denny and Sullivan Must Furnish Writ by Today or be Jailed

Larry Sullivan and Martin Denny, formerly proprietors of the Friars' club at Milwaukie, will pay $250 fines and spend 30 days in jail unless they can get a writ of probable cause from the supreme court by Thursday. Monday Judge Campbell sentenced the pair to jail and fined them following their conviction some days ago on charges of violating the prohibition laws through the sale of intoxicants at the Milwaukie resort.

One of the men mentioned to the court the judge's reputation for leniency. "I am lenient," Judge Campbell returned, "and in a $250 fine and a 30-day sentence you men are getting much less than you deserve. You have been good 'sports,' now take your medicine, for in your sporting parlance, this is one time you can't get away with it." The judge immediately denied the pair a writ of probable cause and they will be put in jail Thursday if the writ is not granted by the supreme court.

CHILD IS BUFFETED

Returned to Mother, Merle Blood is Claimed by Wettlaufer

After Merle Blood had been returned to his mother, Mrs. Elsie Barbur, on Tuesday by Clackamas county officials, the lad was claimed by his guardian, W. H. Wettlaufer, yesterday and was returned to the Wettlaufer farm at Clarks. The little boy was sent to the Boys' and Girls' Aid society from The Dalles some time ago. The society turned him over to Mr. Wettlaufer, a former minister. The lad ran away from the Wettlaufer home on Tuesday and was taken in charge by county officials, who sent for his mother and grandmother. Shortly after the boy had been sent back with his parent, Wettlaufer claimed him and not knowing her right to keep the boy the mother was forced to release him, according to her story. County officials will make further investigation in the case and may contest the claim of the Aid society.

PROPERTY UNTAXED

Assessor Everhart Finds Church Lands That Have Escaped

County Assessor W. W. Everhart and his force of deputies are busy with the annual reappraisal of county property and thus far have practically completed the reappraisal in and about Oregon City. County officials are in conference to determine whether to assess 40 acres of land owned by the Parkplace Baby Home which hitherto has been untaxed. The 40 acres are outside the site upon which the home itself stands and which, as a church building, is said to be legally exempt. Once before the 40 acres were assessed and the church took the matter to court, where the levy was set aside.

At Oswego it was found that the Holy Names Normal school has 30 acres of land which has not been assessed. Mr. Everhart has valued this tract at $50 and noted the assessment on his rolls for the year. Ten acres of the Holy Names property is exempt from taxation.

COAKLEY AND HARRIS FREE

Gratton Proprietors Pay Balance of $300 Fines and Leave

Upon payment of the balance of their $300 fines, Miles Coakley and Ed Harris, former Hotel Gratton hosts, were released from the county jail here on Saturday evening. The pair had been in jail since April 11, following the pleas of guilty in connection with charges of selling intoxicating liquors at the Hotel Gratton, Milwaukie. Coakley was released over one night, but failed to secure fine money after the bondsmen had surrendered them.

When Coakley and Harris were sentenced they paid $100 each on fines of $300 each, and were to pay the balance at the rate of $5 a week. The next day their bondsmen surrendered them and they have idled in jail ever since. The jail service counts at the rate of $2 a day on their fines and the amount of their service has reduced the total they had to pay for their liberty.

GERMAN WANTS PAPERS

Would Change Name and be Full Fledged American Citizen

"I've been an American since the day I arrived in the United States, but I have neglected to get my papers promptly," said Karl Schreckenebach yesterday when he applied in County Clerk Harrington's office for final certificate of citizenship. Schreckenebach arrived at Astoria from Hamburg, Germany, November 15, 1910, and has learned to speak English almost without an accent. He discussed freely with Deputy Clerk Miller the changes in government during the past seven years. His application asks that his name be changed to Carl Schreck, "so it will sound like real American," Schreckenebach explained.

Nis Jorgen Sandergaard, a native of Denmark, and Joseph Adamosky yesterday declared their citizenship intentions.

MYERS ACQUITTED

Marquam Farmer Found Not Guilty of Cruelty to Animals

The complaint of cruelty to animals placed against Fred Myers, a wealthy Marquam farmer, by a neighbor, came to nothing in Judge Campbell's court on Saturday when a jury found Myers not guilty. Myers was arrested some time ago when the County Humane society heard of the case.

An investigation is alleged to have disclosed the bodies of several animals that had died in the Myers farm from exposure and lack of feed. Myers said the deaths had been caused by some disease. His house is two miles from the barn. Myers told the jury, and it was difficult to keep track of the animals.

Church Services

"The Right and Wrong Use of Opportunity," is the theme of the morning address by the Rev. J. W. MacCallum at the Congregational church on Sunday. In the evening Mr. MacCallum will speak on "The Joyousness of Jesus." The junior chorus will sing at the evening service and the church orchestra will play.

MUST FACE TRIAL

Hundreds of Bankrupt Publishers Will be Avenged

The crisis in the news print situation has been reached in the indictment by the federal grand jury of seven men, who must now face trial on the charge of being the head and front of the price raising conspiracy that has crippled every newspaper owner in the United States and has driven hundreds of country publishers into bankruptcy and ruin.

Such a result has seemed inevitable for weeks. Despite the fact that there was on every hand evidence of the strongest possible character pointing to a flagrant violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, despite the fact that newspaper publishers, instead of pressing for prosecution, remained quiet and pleaded simply and only for relief from the intolerable condition, nothing was done to afford any such relief.

Day after day, as the situation developed, moves were made that obviously were intended to play for time. There was a good deal of backing and filling, indications were put out that prices "might" be lowered, that a new condition of affairs "possibly might" be brought about, but in the final analysis nothing actual was done, and the publishers stand today just where they were months ago—gripped by the throat.

Obituaries

Miss Bethel Smith

Bethel Smith, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Smith of Gladstone and a prominent young woman in her home community, died at Gladstone Monday night following a year of suffering from tuberculosis. The young woman was buried at Gladstone Thursday and services were held at the Gladstone Christian church at 2:30 by the Rev. Oliver L. Curtis. Miss Smith leaves a wide circle of friends in addition to her parents, one sister, Thora Smith of Gladstone, and four brothers, Frank, Harry G. and Guy, of Gladstone, and Vernon of Weed, Cal.

LIVESTOCK SUFFERS

Lip and Leg Ulcer Playing Havoc Among Hogs and Sheep

A disease commonly known as the lip and leg ulcer is playing havoc among the hogs and sheep of various sections of the state," says N. S. Robb, Lane county agricultural agent. "The disease confines itself to these two classes of live stock and is especially bad in sheep. It spreads much more rapidly in sheep than in hogs and unless its appearance in the flock is checked by the isolation of the victims the results are bad.

"The disease first appears in the form of lesions around the mouth and on the legs in the region of the hoof top. These lesions reach an excessive growth and develop a proud flesh condition. In lambs and young pigs the mouths are so affected that the animals can not suck and starving results."

LOOKING FOR "SUBS"

Lads Wander Far in Search of Boats On the Abernathy

"We were looking for submarines," Roy Hedlund and Robert McGraw told their rescuers Monday when they were found on the banks of the Abernathy creek more than three miles from their homes. Frantic parents started a searching party out as soon as the boys were missed and several hours later the four-year-old adventurers were found. Most of the territory between Fourteenth street and the spot where the boys were found was carefully searched by parents and neighbors. "We know the way home 'cause we hunt bears here," one of the babies told his father.

C. E. MEET AT GLADSTONE

Cyakamas County Endeavorers to Convene May 5 and 6

The young people of 17 Christian Endeavor societies of Clackamas county will attend the 2nd annual convention of the county Christian Endeavor union May 5 and 6. The place of the meeting will be the First Christian church of Gladstone.

Indications are that this convention will surpass the one of the preceding year, which was held at Parkplace, and was one of the most successful meets ever held in the state. The program includes most of the prominent Christian Endeavor workers of the state. A banquet will be served to the delegates on the evening of May 5.

The convention committee, of which Dr. Roy A. Prudden is chairman, has plans nearly completed, and confidently expect a large attendance.

SAVE THE TREES.

The White Pine Blister Rust and a Warning and an Appeal.

The American Forestry association has issued a warning and appeal for co-operation in fighting the disease known as the white pine blister rust that threatens the destruction of all the white pine and other five leaved pine trees in the United States.

This disease has already appeared in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Minnesota and in Quebec and Ontario.

There is no known cure for it. It kills the white pines infected, and it spreads steadily. The spores or seeds are blown from diseased pines to currant and gooseberry bushes. They germinate on the leaves of these bushes. The leaves then produce millions of spores or seeds of the disease, which are blown by the wind from the bushes to the pines, and these, even those several miles distant from the nearest bushes, are infected, become diseased and die.

The white pines in New England are worth $75,000,000, in the lake states $30,000,000, in western states $30,000,000 and in the national forests $30,000,000, or a total of $265,000,000. Unless the ravages of the white pine blister rust are stopped these pines will be destroyed.

The American Forestry association urges people in all the regions where the disease has been discovered to destroy at once all currant and gooseberry bushes, diseased pines and others exposed to infection. This will help stop the spread of the disease.

The great forests of dead and dying chestnut in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts stand today mute but convincing witnesses to the fact that such diseases must be checked, if at all, in their early stages.

The pine growth of this country is far more valuable than the chestnut ever was, and the damage the blister rust may do is accordingly greater than the injury that has been or can be wrought by the chestnut blight. But experience proves that the ravages of the blister rust can be, if taken in season, stopped much easier than the chestnut blight. In a number of places where started it has been nearly or entirely eradicated. May the pine forests of America be saved and not neglected as the chestnut until it is too late!—Tree Talk.

Musical Vibrations.

We can take the scale of vibrations, beginning with the shortest wave lengths that have been measured—the gamma rays given off by radium, which are only about one one-hundredth of a millimeter long—and ending with the longest known electromagnetic waves, 10,000 meters or more in length, and arrange them in a scale of octaves like the musical scale. In the Scientific Monthly Professor David Vance Guthrie of the Louisiana State university says they will cover just about forty-eight octaves, of which the rays that are visible to our eyes comprise but one.

BROWN TO BE TRIED

Parkplace Janitor Pleads Not Guilty to Serious Charges

Theodore F. Brown, indicted by the last grand jury on four separate counts, was arraigned for trial in Judge Campbell's court here Monday, following his plea of not guilty. The substance of the charges against Brown, who was until recently janitor of the Parkplace school, is contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Brown, who is an old man, will be tried some time in June, according to the district attorney.

When the officers looked for Brown before his arrest on the charges that involve 10 and 11-year-old girls in the Parkplace school, he had disappeared. He was located later at Sheridan in Yamhill county and was held at McMinnville for the local officers. Upon being returned to this county he provided bail and is at liberty.

Road Bond Essays

The teachers of the various district schools are asked by the Twelve Disciples of Road Efficiency of the Commercial club to help their pupils in the formulating of their essays, and to give them such other aid as possible after school if time will not permit during school hours.

The road question is one near to the heart of every child, for most of them walk long distances through the mud the entire winter to attend school, while some day, with permanent roads, every school will be on a paved highway serving as a walk as well as a road.

Potato Suit Settled

A jury in Judge Campbell's court Friday found a verdict of $82.50 in favor of O. P. Califf in his suit against C. Johnson for collection on potatoes sold to Johnson. In his complaint Califf charged that he had sold Johnson 5500 pounds of potatoes last fall and that Johnson would pay only $125 a hundred. The market price at the time, Califf said, was $1.50, and the jury allowed this sum over the objection of Johnson, who said that a contract price of $1.25 had been set.

Y. M. C. A. Workers Named

Chairman A. C. Howland, of the Live Wires committee in charge of the campaign here for raising the army Y. M. C. A. fund, Friday completed the selection of his committee, preparatory to an active campaign to advance the cause of the army associations. With Mr. Howland as chairman, the committee is composed of P. J. Houlton, H. A. Swafford, E. C. Brownlee and Percy Caulfield. The committee will meet soon to outline plans for its campaign.

Judging a Potato.

A good potato should be firm and crisp when cut, and a thin cross section when held between the eyes and the light should show a relatively uniform distribution of starch throughout its whole area, as opposed to a large, translucent, watery central area, which denotes a lack of starch in this portion of the tuber. The even distribution of starch insures greater uniformity in cooking and in texture of the flesh when cooked.

Useful Curtain Suggestion.

A good metal office clips so handy for keeping papers pinned together will be found exceedingly useful for clipping up the curtains at night. The advantage over pins in preventing curtains from blowing out the screenless windows at night is that the clips leave no telltale holes.

The National Hymn.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" is honored as the national air not by act of congress, but by regulations of the military services, which prescribe that it shall be played at colors and retreat.

Drops of dew refresh the faded flowers; so do kind words cheer the aching heart.
